

Editing and Adding Web Pages

You can add and edit web pages in each group, using the dialog listed below. The web page URL must be in standard format (<http://your.company.com/>).

You should also type a description for the web page, as this may be easier to understand than the web page URL itself. If you don't type in a description, the web page URL will be used instead.

The "Use Current URL" button will use the page of the current URL in our web browser, if one is running.

Moving Web Pages Between Groups

You can move web pages between groups by selecting them, and then cutting (or copying) them from their original group and pasting them into your new group.
