

About the Author - Jordan Pinsker

I am currently in my second year of medical school at the Albany Medical College in Albany, New York. I plan to get my M.D. and eventually go into medical programming/engineering later on. So if you run a medical programming company and if you are looking for internship candidates with a medical background and who have done previous work in cross platform programming, please feel free to contact me at jpinsker@payplaysoftware.com.

I am also very interested in getting feedback on the Ultimate Label Printer Pro. If you have any comments, suggestions, or bug reports, please send me a note at the above address. The new features and interface of this program are the direct result of user feedback over the last two years.

About Blue & Cyan Electronic Publishing's Pay&Play Software

Blue & Cyan has pioneered the Pay&Play concept. By making the purchase of software instant and effortless, Pay&Play allows shareware authors to sell their programs as commercial offerings, again, effortlessly.
