

This is a simple example of a JPEGView 3.2 script. It simply accepts any number of image files dropped onto it, and writes a one-line summary of information about each image into a new untitled document in the Scriptable Text Editor. Original script by Aaron Giles.