Revert to Saved

File -> Revert to Saved

This command restores the form and content of your worksheet as it was the last time you saved it. This command is especially useful if you want to undo the changes you have made since the last save and to start over from a known point.
Note that when you save a worksheet, Mesa automatically creates a backup copy with the same name but with the extension Mesa~. You can open this backup file if you need to return to an earlier version of your work.
