Output Window

This is the small window which will appear in the lower right hand corner of your screen.   You never type anything here.   It merely reports errors and actions from the driver.   It will tell you when your syntax is wrong for a playnote() call or when you reach the end of a track or of a mix, etc.