Introduction

Welcome to the SKV Speaker's Encyclopedia of Alternate Dictionary, Jokes, Proverbs & Quotations, Puns, and Riddles. With thousands of entries conveniently listed by over 1600 topics, it is intended to be the one source for material for speakers preparing for an engagement. Whether you are addressing a small group or making a toast in front of a large audience, you will surely find an appropriate joke or quotation for the subject at hand.

To help you with your research, this encyclopedia, as its title implies, is divided into five volumes. Entries in each volume are listed alphabetically by topic. You can use the Index function to quickly go into a topic in any volume. You can also use the Search function to look for specific text in any one volume or across the entire encyclopedia.

To open a volume, simply move your mouse over it until the cursor changes into a pointing hand. Click your mouse to go into the volume. To go back to the main screen, click on the Contents button near the upper left corner of your screen.

Should you need additional assistance, you can get on-line help at any given time by selecting Contents in the Help Menu.

How to Contribute

We are constantly looking for new material for our next edition. If you would like to submit material for us to consider, send it to us at the address below. Please make sure your handwriting is legible. If your handwriting is not legible, we suggest you use your printer. Include your name and address, and the source, if the material is not original.

A story, or joke, once told, tends to take a life of its own. Through the years, it gets to be told and retold, in various forms and ways. Most anecdotes circulating today are simply variations of older ones. That is not to say no new ones are being created. Obviously there are and it is these new ones we would like to see.

Although we do not compensate for contributions, we do acknowledge the sender when we include the submitted material by publishing the sender's name, city and state, or country, in the case of foreign contributions.

Frankly, because we have so many contributors sending in countless material, you would have a better chance of having your submission included if it is an original one. Avoid sending material you have seen in print. Chances are we would have seen that or heard a variation.

We also tend to receive contributions that are quite similar, if not identical. In such cases, should we decide to include the material in our next edition, we will acknowledge only the sender of the first one we receive.

Lastly, we reserve the right to edit submissions. We do not acknowledge receipt of contributions nor do we return them.

Absent-Minded

Asked to strip to the waist by the doctor, the man took off his pants.

A waitress went to her gynecologist for a check-up. As he was examining her, he was surprised to see a tea-bag. He showed it to her. She gasped, "Oh, no. I wonder what I served my last customer..."

And then there was the absent-minded professor who undid his vest, held his tie, and pissed in his pants.

A nurse stopped a doctor walking down the hall, "Doc, why do you have a thermometer behind your ear?"

The doctor grabbed the instrument, looked at it, and exclaimed, "Some asshole got my pen!"

A man went to his office and bumped into one of his assistants. He looked up and muttered, "My God! Look at you. You've lost weight. You've dyed your hair. You've replaced your glasses. You have even grown taller, Mike!"

"Sir, my name is not Mike," replied the assistant.

"My God! You have even changed your name!"

Accent

A guest in a Montreal hotel turned on the bathroom shower and got scalded. "This is ridiculous," he complained to the manager over the phone, "the knob was marked C."

"Oui, C stands for chaude. It's French for hot. You are in Montreal after all."

"But the other knob is also marked C!"

"Of course. C stands for cold. Montreal is bilingual."

His friend asked, "Are you choking?"

"No, dammit, I'm serious!"

A Southern belle entered a stationery store up in the north and asked the clerk, "Ah'd like to buy some rotten pepper, pu-leeze."

"We don't sell pepper, ma'am. The store across the street might have some," replied the help.

"Thank y'all," said the lady as she started out.

"Ah-miss!" cried out the clerk. "Just curious. Can you tell me why you want rotten pepper?"

"It's fo' rotten letters t' m' folks back home."

Looking up from his homework, a Jewish boy asked his dad, "What is a vacuum?"

"A vacuum is a void."

"I know that, but vat's dat void mean?"

An engineering firm hired three international consultants to work on a project. The American was assigned the responsibility of building the foundation, the German, the logistics, and the Japanese, the supplies. They were flown to the project site where the American started his work, while the German coordinated all the tasks. A week later, the project lead visited the site. He inspected the work in progress and inquired about the Japanese, whom he hasn't seen. Both the American and the German said they haven't seen him since they arrived. A search was immediately initiated. Finally, someone thought of searching the supplies room. The group entered the room to find it pitch dark. Suddenly the door closed on them and the Japanese leaped behind them and yelled, "Supplies!"

Rodrigo decided to try a new Mexican restaurant near the border. The waiter who served him was clearly not Hispanic yet spoke fluent Spanish. Engaging in small talk, he discovered the waiter has just migrated from China only a few months ago. Rodrigo was astounded.

After paying his bill, he told the owner, "Your food is excellent, your waiter even more so. He speaks excellent Spanish!"

"Please---keep your voice down," whispered the owner, "He thinks we're teaching him English."

California's Napa Valley is well-known for its vineyards, where a lot of French-sounding wine are made. One day, a lady called to place an ad in the classified section of the local paper. She told the ad taker she has what sounded like well-aged Caumaneur. The ad taker, though familiar with the many French names, was not sure about this particular name, so she asked the lady to spell it out.

"You know, C-o-w m-a-n-u-r-e."

Jokes

Accident

A cop pulled over a motorist and informed him, "Mister, your wife fell out two miles back!"

The man sighed and said, "Thank goodness! I thought I have gone deaf!"

According to statistics, most accidents happen either at home or on the highway. To be safe, leave home and sell the car.

Impatient with her boyfriend's slow driving the girl told him, "Listen, every time you speed up another ten miles, I'll take off part of my clothing." Her boyfriend agreed naturally and started to accelerate immediately.

He reached thirty miles per hour, so she took her sweater. He reached forty, she took off her stockings. Fifty, her blouse came off. Sixty, her skirt went. Seventy, her bra came loose. Eighty, she took off her panties. Her boyfriend got too excited and lost control of the car. The car careened down the side of the road and turned upside down, pinning all of her boyfriend except his legs.

The girl managed to crawl out. She looked around and couldn't find any of her clothes so she grabbed one of her boyfriend's shoes, held it in front of her private part, rushed back to the road and flagged down a trucker.

"Help me!" she begged, "My boyfriend is stuck!"

The trucker took one look at her and said, "Lady, your boyfriend is way in too deep for me to help him!"

Jokes

Accountant

Be wary of shy, retiring accountants. Their accounting typically is a few million dollars shy, which is why they are retiring.

The accountant told his client, "The good news is last year was the best you've ever had."

The accountant couldn't sleep, so he started counting sheep. Then he found out he made a mistake and spent the night looking for it.

Jokes

Actor

The actor really moved his audience. Everybody left at the end of the first act.

An actor entered a run-down restaurant and ordered a cup of coffee. He noticed another actor cleaning the tables. "What is this? A man of your talents, slaving away in a joint like this?"

"At least I don't eat here," the waiter answered back.

An out-of-work actor had lost just about everything he ever had. His girlfriend had dumped him months ago when he ran out of money. His prized car has been repossessed. His house was next. Desperate, he decided to end it all by jumping off the bridge. As he was about to leap off, he heard a voice said, "Stop! Don't do it, my handsome one."

He looked around and saw a witch emerged slowly from the fog. She was the ugliest creature he has ever seen. Her nose was crooked, her face full of warts. Her long hair was a mess, her ill-fitting clothes filthy and reeked strongly.

"Don't despair. I can give you a new beginning. I can get you starring roles that you have dreamed of only. I can give you anything you want!" continued the witch.

"Really?" asked the actor.

"On one condition."

"What's that?"

"You must take me home and make love to me all night long."

The actor looked at her. She seemed uglier by the minute. He could even smell her foul breath from the distance between them. But then he decided what's one night of suffering compared to being rich and famous. He told the witch it's a deal. So he took her home where they spent the night in each other's embrace.

The next morning, as the actor finished showering and was dressing up, the witch sat up from the bed, and asked coyly, "How old are you, my handsome one?"

"Twenty-nine."

"Aren't you a little too old to still believe in witches?"

The Shakespearean actor was so bad, the audience started to groan a few minutes into the first act. He tried harder but they only began to talk back to him. It only worsened as they started throwing things at him. The actor finally step forward and recited dramatically, "What is it do you want from me? I am not the one who wrote this crap!"

Drunk actors are the ones who can not handle their boos.

Said the waitress to the actor, "You look familiar."

The actor replied, "You may have seen me at the movies."

"That's possible. Where do you like to sit?"

Jokes

Adam and Eve

The only indispensable man ever was Adam.

Eve (to Adam): "After we eat the apple, we're going to do what?!"

Eve was the very first person to eat herself out of the house.

Adam's favorite season was autumn, because that's when the leaves fall.

In Sunday School, a little boy was asked to name the first man. He answered, "Adam." The teacher then asked him to name the first woman. He thought about it for a while, closing one eye first, then the other, wincing all the while, and then looked up and answered hesitantly, "Madam?"

Adam and Eve just made love for the first time. As Adam lay exhausted, God decided to pay him a visit.

"So, how do you like it?" the Lord asked Adam.

"Incredible. I never knew such sensation existed!"

"How about Eve?"

"She seems very satisfied."

God look around and asked Adam, "Where's she?"

"Oh, she went to the river to wash up."

"Oh, no!" cried the Lord, "Now I'll never get the smell out of the fish!"

The Sunday School teacher asked, "Who can tell me the story of Adam and Eve?"

A little girl raised her hand and was promptly called by the teacher. She replied, "God created Adam. Then He took one look at him and thought he could do better. So He created Eve."

Eve to Adam: You've been unfaithful!
Adam: With whom?

Adam was walking with his sons Cain and Abel when they passed by the ruins of Eden. One of the boys asked, "What's that?"
"That's where your mom ate us out of the house," said Adam.

Eve asked Adam, "Do you love me?"
Adam looked around and turned to her, "Who else?"

Adam and Eve were strolling by the seashore, hand in hand. He suddenly stopped, looked out at the sea, and pronounced eloquently, "Roll, roll on, mighty sea of God!"
She looked at the water roll back and forth and exclaimed, "Oh, Adam, you can perform miracles, too!"

Jokes

Addict

Two addicts shared a flat in a high-rise until one day, one of them was found dead in the alley behind their building. Quite obviously, he had fallen down. The police questioned his friend, who told them. "We were having a few, you know, when he suddenly jumped up and shouted he wanted to go to Mexico. So he opened the window and took off."

"Why didn't you stop him?" asked the policeman.

"Man, I was so sure he could make it."

A husband came home in the middle of the night. As he was undressing quietly, his wife woke up and saw that he didn't have any underwear on him. So she asked, "Where's your underwear?"

The man looked down and cried, "Oh my God! I have been robbed."

"Mommy, do people go to heaven feet first?"

"No, dear. Why do you ask?"

"Because last night the maid kept screaming, 'God, I'm coming!' She was kicking so hard, if daddy weren't on top of her, I thought she would have."

The jubilant octogenarian bristled with joy as the doctor came out to the waiting room to announce that his nineteen year old wife had just given birth to a healthy bouncing boy. He mused out aloud, "I wonder if I could do it again?"

A father-to-be next to him answered, "What makes you think you did it the first time?"

A man went to his secretary's place to have a good time and fell asleep. Waking up, he found out it was 2:00 in the morning. Thinking quickly, he picked up the phone and called home. When his wife answered, he said, "Honey, don't pay the ransom. I escaped!"

A farmer, with his son in tow, went to the local fair to buy a sheep. He saw one to his liking and proceeded to examine the animal. Finally, he massaged the sheep's rump so that he could gauge the fat. The son asked, "Why are you doing that?"

"This is what you do so you will know if you want to buy or not."

"Really? I think our neighbor Mr. Vascoe wants to buy mother."

A man caught his wife in bed with another man. He got his gun and shot his wife. His lawyer asked him, "Why kill your wife? Why not her lover?"

"I kill my wife. That's the end to it. I kill her lover. I'll have to kill the next one, too."

Two business colleagues were walking down the street when they saw two women walking towards them. One of them turned pale and turned around, "I can't believe! It is my wife and my mistress together!"

His colleague turned around also, saying, "Jesus! Mine, too."

A couple and his war buddy were stranded in a small town and had to share a motel room. As the husband fell asleep, his wife went over to his buddy's bed and asked him to make love to her. His buddy asked, "What about your husband? He might wake up."

The wife replied, "No, nothing wakes him up. See for yourself. Pull a hair from his ass. He won't wake up." The buddy did and the husband still remained asleep. Satisfied he started to make love to his wife.

A half-hour later, the wife wanted more. So the buddy pulled another hair to make sure. Then they made love again. The wife was insatiable. So the buddy ended pulling a hair to make sure each time before they make love.

Finally the husband woke up. Turning, he said, "Buddy, I don't mind your screwing my wife. Just don't use my ass as a scoreboard!"

The traveling salesman wasn't feeling up to par so he decided to visit the doctor, who asked him, "How often do you make love?"

"Every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday."

"I suggest you take Wednesday off."

"I can't. That's when I'm home."

Bob went home and saw his wife wearing a mink. He asked her where she got it. She replied, "I won it playing bingo."

The next night, he saw his wife wearing a brilliant diamond ring. So he asked her where she got it. She replied, "I won it playing bingo."

The third night, he saw a brand new Cadillac parked in their garage. So he asked her where she got it. She replied, "I won it playing bingo."

Later that night, his wife told him she wanted to take a bath and asked him if he could be so kind as to draw her bath. "Sure," Bob replied.

A few minutes later, his wife went to the bathroom and to her dismay, found only an inch of water in the tub. So she asked Bob, "I thought I asked you to draw my bath."

"You did. But I wanted to make sure your bingo card does not get wet."

A man was visited by a lawyer, who told him, "I got good news and bad news for you. Good news is that your wife found a picture that is worth a quarter million dollars. Bad news is that it is of you and your secretary."

The short-tempered husband went home unexpectedly and saw some obvious signs his wife was with somebody. So he searched the house but couldn't find anything. As his anger grew, he began throwing and smashing things in the house. Finally, he got out of control, lifted the refrigerator and threw it out of their window.

Shortly after, two guys were in line to see St. Peter. Remarked the first, "Life's really full of surprises. I was just walking, minding my own business, when suddenly, this refrigerator came crashing down on me." Then he turned to the guy behind him. "What about you? How did you get here?"

"Me? I'm not sure...I was just sitting inside a refrigerator..."

A man went home and found his wife in bed with his best friend. He looked at the couple, shook his head, and cried, "Paul, I gotta do it. But you?"

The wife finally confessed about an affair. "Who was it? Must have been my friend David," asked her husband.

"No, it wasn't David."

"My pal Jimmy then. Or if not, my buddy Paul."

"No, it wasn't either of them."

"A-hah, it was my friend Peter!"

"Will you please stop guessing? Don't you think I got some friends of my own?"

"Well," asked the wife, "did you find anything?"

The detective replied, "I followed your husband to a bar, then to a club, then to a motel."

"Good!" the woman smiled, "We got him then."

"I don't think so. He was following you."

The priest's sermon during Sunday Mass was on adultery. When he came to the part about not coveting your neighbor's wife, a man suddenly stood up and headed for the door. The priest called him and asked him where he was going. He replied, "I just remembered where I left my coat."

Fred: Thank god. My wife finally left me.

John: What happened?

Fred: She disappeared with my best friend.

John: What's his name?

Fred. I don't know. I've never met him before. But I thank him from the bottom of my heart.

"Hey, Bubba, I see you got yourself a new shirt and some new pants."

"Yeah, it's from my wife."

"A surprise, eh?"

"Sure was. I come home and they're on the bed in the bedroom just waiting for me!"

Margaret was sleeping next to her husband when she had a wonderful dream about a handsome stranger bringing her to ecstasy. She moaned and heaved in passion in her sleep when suddenly she cried out loud, "Oh no...quick, it's my husband."

Her husband jumped out of the window.

Mary: If my husband were any bigger, I swear I wouldn't be able to handle it.

Anne: Me, too.

A woman was complaining about her husband's late night outs. "He never comes home before midnight!"

"You know, my husband used to be that way. But he has changed." replied her friend.

"What made him change?"

The friend smiled. "Well, whenever he comes home late, as he opens our bedroom door, I would sweetly call out, 'Is that you, Hank?' "

"So?"

"His name is Scott."

Woman: Do you talk to your husband when you make love?

Friend: No, but I could do that. I have his office number.

A man came home to find his wife in bed with the milkman. His wife asked, "What are you going to do?"

"I'll let you know. I'll leave you a note in the milk bottle."

Peter was complaining to his friend, "My wife is now limiting our sex to once a week."

His friend replied, "Don't feel too bad. I know a guy she stopped having sex with completely."

A wife and her husband's secretary were having lunch. Said the wife, "I have a feeling my husband is having an affair with our next door neighbor."

"I think you are saying that just to make me feel jealous," coyly replied the secretary.

Two friends were parting ways at a boarding gate in the airport. One remarked, "Hey, thanks for your everything. Food was terrific, your hospitality much more. And thanks specially for letting me sleep with your wife. She was the best I have had."

Soon boarding was announced, so they said they hugged and said good-byes, and the guy went inside the plane. After he was comfortably seated, the gentleman next to him asked him, "Pardon me, I couldn't help overhearing your conversation with your friend. Did I hear right? That he let you sleep with his wife and that she was the best you ever had?"

"Oh yeah, my friend is really terrific but I didn't want to hurt his feelings about her."

A man came home to find his wife in bed with their next door neighbor. He told the guy, "I'm going over next door to your house and make love to your wife."

His neighbor replied, "Go ahead. You look like you can use the rest."

Paul: Did you know James discovered Brad in bed with his wife and shot him?

Chuck: It could have been worse.

Paul: How is that?

Check: It could have been me the day before.

Two men were undressing in the locker room. One started to unhook his, well, girdle.

The other stared and smirked, "Since when did you start wearing a girdle?"

"Since my wife found it in the back seat."

Larry got sick and had to stay home for the day. He was pleasantly surprised to find out how much his wife adored him. In fact, his wife was so thrilled to have him home that day, when the mailman arrived, she ran out yelling, "My husband's home! My husband's home!"

The end of the world finally came and an endless line to St. Peter was formed. Suddenly there was a loud roar from the front. A guy towards the back asked, "What are they cheering about?"

A lady in front replied, "He is not counting adultery."

A man came home to find his wife in bed with another man. He angrily demanded, "What the hell are you doing?"

The wife glared at him, turned to her companion, and said in disgust. "See, isn't he stupid or what?"

Richard was on his way home to his wife when he bumped into a gorgeous nympho who invited him back to her place. There they made passionate love hour after hour until both fell asleep from exhaustion.

When he awoke, Richard looked at his watch and aghast to discover it was very late. He quickly dressed up to go. But before he left, he asked the girl for some talcum powder, which he then placed on his hands.

When he got home, his wife greeted him icily at the door as he entered with his hands behind his back, "Where have you been?"

Richard proceeded to tell her about his encounter with the nympho. His wife cut him short, "You expect me to believe that! Show me your hands." He slowly extended his hands.

"You s.o.b.!" his wife exploded, "You have been bowling again!"

A man and a woman were busy making love when they heard the front door open. Said the woman, "That must be my husband. Go faster, I'm coming."

Replied the man, "Kiss my ass. I'm going."

Asked the puzzle wife, "Dear, I know you are cheating on me. I know with whom. I know where. What I don't know is with what."

Affair

Christine said she'd would anything for a mink. Now she can't button it.

The boss gave his secretary a mink coat, not to keep her warm but to keep her quiet.

Boss to secretary: I know we had an affair but I never told you that you could report to work only when you will like working.

Secretary: No, you didn't. But my lawyer boyfriend did.

A wife came home to find her husband in bed with a gorgeous blonde. "What's going on here?" she demanded.

He replied, "I saw her hitchhiking, so I gave her a ride. Turns out she hasn't eaten in two days, so I brought her home for a meal. While she's eating, I noticed her old, tattered clothes, so I gave her your blue, embroidered blouse, the one you haven't worn in years. I also gave her your black jeans, the one you grew out of. Then I noticed she was barefooted, so I gave your red sneakers, the one you haven't used because you thought it was too bright. She was so happy with what I gave her, she asked me, 'Anymore thing your wife doesn't use anymore?' "

An senior couple went to the doctor and asked him to watch as they have sex. Though puzzled, he consented. Afterwards, the doctor said, "There is nothing wrong with the way you make love." Nevertheless he charged them forty dollars. For the next few weeks the couple went back to the doctor and repeated the routine. Each time the doctor would charge them forty dollars. Finally, unable to contain his curiosity he asked, "Just what is it are you trying to determine?"

The man replied, "It is like this. She's married, so we can't go to her house. I'm married, so we can't go to my house. HoJo charges seventy, the Hilton charges eighty. We do it here for forty and I even get back thirty from Medicare."

Two men sat next to each other in a bar and started small talk. The first explained that he just got married. In fact, being a small town, he was sure his new friend would know his new wife, the baker's daughter.

"Know? Listen, friend, you must be crazy to marry her. She has been had by just about everyone else in town. I used to fuck her on my lunch hour!" exclaimed the new friend.

The newlywed called the bartender, "Another round for this man here. He's a friend of the wife."

"I'm having an affair."

"That's nice. Who's is the caterer?"

The general suspected his wife of having an affair but could find no ways to prove it. One day, he called home while he was on an out-of-town trip. At butler answered.

"I want to talk to my wife."

"I'm sorry, sir. She gave explicit instructions not to disturb her."

"Why, where is she?"

"She's in the bedroom with a male visitor."

"I see. Now, listen carefully. Go into the den. Get my shotgun. Load two bullets in it. Go upstairs. Open the bedroom door and shoot both of them."

"Master, I can't possibly do that!"

"You better do and do it right now, or else, I'm coming back this instant to kill them and you!"

"Yesss, master," the butler groaned.

"Now go and do it while I wait."

The butler put down the phone. A few minutes later, the general heard the creak of a door, followed by two shots and quick footsteps toward the phone.

"Master, it's done."

"Good, now I want you to clean up the bedroom. Bring my wife downstairs and dump her into the swimming pool---"

"Master, we don't have a swimming pool!?"

"Is this 555-1002?"

"Sorry. You have the wrong number."

Two partners in a firm share the favors of their receptionist, who got pregnant. The day of the her delivery, one of the partner went with her. He called the other guy and said, "She had twins. Mine died."

Two married women were gossiping about a male friend. Said the first, "He dresses so well."

Said the second, "And so fast, too."

The owner of a small company began leaving the office at exactly 3:00 P.M. everyday. Catching on, some of the employees started to leave early, too. One of the salesmen waited a few minutes before leaving for home. He saw the boss' car parked in his driveway. He looked inside the bedroom window and saw his boss making love to his wife. Unsure of what to do, he went back to the office.

The next day, after the boss has left, everyone got up to leave also, except the salesman. The secretary asked him, "Aren't you going to leave early?"

"No. I almost got caught yesterday."

Jokes

Airplane

After a particularly bumpy flight, a passenger stopped before embarking and told the purser, "If I were you, I'd tell the captain to stop turning on the red light. Every time he does so, it gets bumpy."

A society matron became ill with motion sickness, and unable to contain herself, threw up at the sleeping man seated next to her. Waking up from the commotion, the man was surprised to see himself covered with vomit. The matron turned to him and asked, "Do you feel better now?"

Jack saw his friend at the airport and waved to him. The friend shouted back, "Hi, Jack!" and was promptly arrested.

A man came up to the ticket counter and said, "Give me a round-trip ticket."
The agent asked, "Where to, sir?"
He replied, "Back here, where else?"

The plane was cruising at 35,000 feet when it suddenly shook violently. One of the passengers looked out the window and exclaimed, "My God, an engine blew up!" Just then, a second engine blew up. The passengers started to panic and the flight attendants were barely able to maintain order. Suddenly, a tall and swaggering figure appeared from the cockpit and, in a commanding voice, assured everyone things are in order. His demeanor had a calming effect as he walked down to the back of the plane and retrieve several packages, which he handed out to the crew. An alert passenger asked him, "Aren't those parachutes?"

The man answered they were as he and the rest of the crew strapped them on.

The same passenger asked, "But I thought you said everything is in order."

"Yes, everything is in order," said the man as a third engine blew up, "We're going to get help, just in case."

The captain forgot to turn off the public address system and was overheard by everyone as he told his co-pilot, "I'm gonna take a leak first, then I am gonna give the new girl a feel." On hearing that, the new flight attendant rushed forward to the front. A little old lady by the aisle stopped her, "What's the rush? He hasn't been to the restroom yet."

One hour into a flight, the captain announced, "Ladies and gentlemen, we'll need to slow down because one of our engines has stalled." A few moments later, a second engine conked out. The captain made another announcement. He had to slow down the plane some more. A few more minutes passed and the third engine died. The captain came on the air and said he has to really slow down the plane. A passenger then remarked, "Man, if the last engine goes, we will be up here all day."

Control tower: What is your height and position?
New pilot: I'm 6'2" and in the cockpit.

A commercial flight crash-landed into the ocean a few hundred feet from shore. The captain, in a very reassuring voice, spoke on the public address system: Those who are know how to swim, please exit through the left side of the plane. Those who don't know, please exit through the right side. Now, those on the left side, start swimming towards the shore. Those on the right side, on behalf of my crew, I would like to thank you for flying with us. Good day.

Archeologist

An archaeologist is the perfect spouse. The older the wife gets, the more interested he becomes.

Three amateur archaeologists exploring a temple deep in the jungles were captured by the natives. They were brought before the chief, who said, "You have defiled the temple of our fertility goddess! As punishment, we will cut off your manhood."

He looked at the first man and asked, "What is your livelihood?"

The man answered, "I'm a butcher." So they chopped off his penis.

Next, the chief asked the second man, "What is your livelihood?"

The man answered, "I'm a firefighter." So they burned off his penis.

Finally, the chief asked the third man, "What is your livelihood?"

The man smiled and answered, "I'm a lumberjack."

Two archaeologists were caught by the natives stealing statues from a sacred temple. They were brought before the tribal chieftain who said, "You must be punished for what you did!" Turning to the first, "I'll let you choose your punishment, death or masa-masa. What will it be?"

The first said, "I don't know what masa-masa is, but surely it ought to be better than death."

So the natives tied his whole body up, poured honey all over it, and dumped a bucketful of ants on him. The archaeologist squirmed and rolled over all the place, shouting for help as the ants stuck to him, biting him all over. By the time they untied him at sundown, he was already a babbling insane man.

The chieftain turned to the second man and asked him to choose. Having witnessed the horrible suffering his partner went through, he said, "Death, at least it will be swift."

The chieftain replied, "So be it." Turning to his men, he announced, "The prisoner has chosen death by masa-masa!"

Armed Forces

During a war, a sergeant yelled, "Fire at will!" A soldier answered, "Which one's Will?"

The commander asked the all-girl entertainment band, "Would you like to mess with the enlisted men or with the officers tonight?"

One of them answered, "Either one is fine, but we would like to eat first."

Wonder why recruiters are having a hard time? It is hard to convince someone a place can be that good if the kitchen is a mess and the bed is a bunk.

An officer asked an enlisted man, "Do you have change for a five?"

The soldier replied, "Certainly, my friend."

The officer was taken aback by the casual reply and said, "That is not the right way to address an officer. Let's try again. Soldier, do you have change for a five?"

The soldier snapped to attention and replied, "Sir, no, sir!"

During camouflage exercises, a man disguised as a tree suddenly began screaming as he threw off his leaves and branches. Naturally the general was incensed and demanded an explanation.

"Sir, it didn't bother me when a woodpecker started pecking at my chest. Nor did it bother me when a dog used me like a hydrant. But sir, when the squirrels ran up my pants and said, 'Let's eat one now and save the other one for winter...'"

The new recruits have just been issued uniforms. The sarge queried one, "How is the uniform, soldier?"

"Coat is fine, sir, but the pants are a little loose around the armpits."

"General, the troops are revolting."

"If you don't mind my saying, so are you."

A general was due for a morning visit, so the lieutenant told the guard to look sharp. An hour passed and the lieutenant returned, asking, "Has the general arrived yet?"

"No, sir!" the guard replied sharply.

The lieutenant left and came back after another hour. "Has the general arrived yet?"

"No, sir!"

The lieutenant muttered a few angry words before leaving.

Finally, around sunset, the general arrived in his limousine. The guard stopped the car and asked, "Who goes there?"

The driver replied, "It's the general."

The guard snapped back, saluted and said, "General, you're late. And you're going to get it from the lieutenant!"

Said the tough drill instructor to the new recruit, "And I suppose when I die you'll want to spit on my grave."

"Sir, no, sir! When I am out of here I'll never stand in line again."

A new paratrooper was about to make his first jump. As he prepared, he mentally went through the procedures his officer had told him: Count to ten and pull the ripcord. If the chute doesn't open, pull the reserve. That should work. After landing, proceed to the truck that will be waiting there.

His turn came and he jumped. He counted to ten and pulled the ripcord. Nothing happened. He pulled the reserve. Still nothing happened. As he accelerated downward, he remarked, "I'm sure the goddamned truck ain't there, too."

A soldier was about to come home from a year long tour. He wrote his wife, "Honey, I'll be coming home this Monday. I think it is best if you reserve a hotel room nearby. I missed you so much!"

The wife wrote back immediately, "Dear, I'll be there. You better be the first guy off the plane."

Artist

An artist finished a giant painting in a day and thought nothing of it. Problem was nor did anyone for that matter.

A painter was showing off one of his works. "This here is supposed to represent a bird flying gracefully up into the sky."
A lady asked, "So why doesn't it?"

The painter was tired so he told the model he wanted to rest for an hour. So she dressed up and sat down with him for a glass of wine. Just then, his wife knocked on the door.
"It's my wife! Quick, take off your clothes."

A famous painter's failing eyesight was restored by his eye doctor to perfect health. In appreciation, he painted a huge wall mural in the lobby of the doctor's building. The artwork resembled a huge eye with a full-figure portrait of the doctor standing in the middle. Excited at such an honor, the doctor showed the painting to his wife, who remarked, "Thank goodness you're not a gynecologist."

"And how much am I overdrawn?"

"$6,206.18, ma'am."

"Well, sir. Don' you worry about it. I'll make out a check right this minute."

You give your money freely to the bank but if you want it back they have to check if you are good for it.

Said the woman to the teller, "I want you to withdraw the money from my husband's half of our joint account."

A bank has been hit for the third time by the same robber. The investigator asked the teller, "Notice anything special about the robber?"

"He seems better dressed each time."

Banks do business in a funny way. They won't lend you the money when you need the money but will offer it to you when you don't need it.

A clerk asked another, "Did the boss say 'retire a loan?' "

Replied the other, "Not if I can help it."

A lady tried to cash her check in the bank but had no identification on her. Just then the security guard realized he knows her and confirmed her identity. After the lady is gone, the teller asked the guard how long he had known the lady. He replied, "Oh, maybe six seven months now. Ever since I caught her stealing in my other job at the department store."

Pepito, the sombrero manufacturer, went to see his banker for an extension of his loan. He was turned down. So, he asked the banker, "Do you know anything about making sombreros?"

The banker replied, "No, why?"
"That's too bad. Because now you are in the sombrero business."
Mercedes Dy, Evanston, IL

Bankers tend to be an optimistic lot. They always put in more teller booths than they can afford to hire tellers.

A man went to a bank and borrowed a thousand dollars for a week. A week passed by and he wasn't able to come up with the money. So he went to another bank to borrow a thousand dollars to repay the first bank. The following week he borrowed from the first bank to repay the second bank. This went on for a few weeks. One day, the man saw the loan officers from the two banks having lunch together. He approached them and said, "I've got an idea. Instead of me playing the middleman here, why don't you pay him a thousand dollars this week and he will pay you a thousand next week. You just pay each other from now on. You don't need me anymore, so I'll say out of it, okay?"

Jokes

Bar jokes

An obviously uncouth man entered a bar. He looked around and saw a woman sitting alone. He sauntered to her and asked, "Hey, douchebag. Wanna keep me company?"

The woman glared at him and turned to the bartender, "I've never met such a disgusting creature in my life."

All the other patrons in the bar agreed so the man was thrown out. After the place quieted down, the bartender told the woman, "I'm sorry that had to happen. Let me pour you a drink on the house."

"That's nice of you. I'll have vinegar and water."

Two tough-looking burly guys entered a bar.

"Quick, give me a double---before the trouble starts," the first told the bartender.

"Double for me, too, before the trouble starts," grunted the second.

The bartender quickly poured their orders. The two finished their drinks in an instant. "Who's--who's paying?" the bartender gingerly inquired.

"Uh-oh," the first guy looked at the bartender, "Looks to me trouble has started."

Two women went barhopping in the hopes of picking up a man. They went to several bars and well into the night but was flatly unsuccessful. They were down to the last bar in town when they saw an unkempt man sitting alone.

One of the women approached him and started a conversation with him.

"My, you don't look too happy," the woman chirped.

"I just got out of prison today. I was in for twenty years."

"Why were you in prison for so long?"

"I hacked my wife to pieces and fed them to my pet crocodile."

"I see," the woman said cheerfully, then turning to her friend, yelled, "He's single!"

A teenager walked into the bar and asked the bartendress to pour me one. She looked at him and said, "Scram, kid. You want to get me in trouble."

The kid looked at her and said, "Maybe later. All I want now is just a beer."

A lovely lady went to a bar and ordered a Bud Light. She liked it so much she kept ordering it till she passed out. A group of male patrons who have been watching her decided to take advantage of her and brought her to the backroom. The next night the whole routine was repeated. This went on for a week. Finally, one night, she came in and ordered a Miller Lite instead. The bartender asked her, "Why the switch?"

"Bud Lite makes my pussy hurt."

A horny grandmother entered a bar with a parrot on her shoulder. She announced, "Whoever can guess the bird's weight can fuck me!"

A drunk yelled, "One ton!"

"Close enough!"

Two men met at a bar and had a wonderful time together. So they promised to see each other exactly one year later. On the appointed date, one of them showed and was elated to see the other in the same spot.

"When did you get here?" asked the first.

"Why, who left?"

Joe bumped into his friend Wayne just as he was leaving a bar. "Hey, Wayne," said Joe, "I got a hot one for you. That bartender there is so absent-minded. He doesn't remember a thing. Whenever he asked for my money, I just told him I've already paid. He believed me every time!"

So Wayne went into the bar and ordered a drink. When the bartender came back and asked him for the payment, he replied, "Hey, I have already paid you. In fact, I've been waiting quite a while now for my change."

A regular patron enters a bar and orders a martini with olive. He gulps that down and orders another. After the tenth, the concerned bartender asks him, "Don't you think your wife will get mad?"

"No, she won't. She was the one who sent me out for a jar of olives."

A man with a dog walked into a bar. The man told the bartender, "I'll bet you five dollars my dog can talk."

The bartender gave the dog a once over, slapped down a five on the counter and said, "It's bet."

The man turned to the dog and asked, "What's the opposite of on?"

The dog barked, "Arf!" as the man pocketed the bill.

The bartender thought about it and slapped down another five, "Bet you five dollars he can't answer another question."

The man nodded, turned to the dog and asked, "What is 50% of 1?"

The dog barked, "Arf!" as the man pocketed the second bill.

Wising up, the bartender said, "Okay, I'll bet a hundred dollars he can't do it again. And this time I'll ask the question." Without waiting for the man to reply, he slapped down a hundred dollar bill on the counter, turned to the dog, and asked, "Who's the best quarterback ever to play in the NFL?"

The dog replied, "Montana?"

Jokes

Barber

David was having his haircut and was perplexed to see the barber's dog staring at him. He remarked to the barber, "Your dog seems obsessed with haircuts, eh?"

"Oh, no. It is not that. You see, once in a while, I lose control and snip off an ear or so."

A man and a kid entered a barbershop. The man told the kid to sit down and look at the old magazines. He sat down on a chair and told the barber to give me the works: haircut, face massage, shave, etc."

A good hour passed before the barber completed everything. The man turned to the boy and said, "Son, it's your turn now."

He then said to the barber, "While you cut his hair, I'll go next door to buy some beer."

When the barber finished the kid's haircut, the man has not returned. He asked the boy, "Kid, what's keeping your father?"

"Oh, he is not my father!"

"Then who's he?"

"I dunno. I was playing on the sidewalk when he asked me if I would like a free haircut."

A salon and a barbershop are engaged in a fierce competition for customers. The barber put a sign that said, "Don't waste your money on $30 hair-cuts. We do it for only $6."

The salon countered with a sign that said, "We repair $6 haircuts."

A man walked into a barber shop and demanded, "Part my hair ear to ear. I'm tired of looking just like everyone else."

After the barber had cut his hair accordingly, the man tipped him generously and left. Later in the afternoon, the same man came back and told the barber, "Make it the way it was."

Puzzled, the barber asked why.

"I'm tired of people whispering in my nose."

"How do you like it?" asked the barber.

"A little longer in the back," replied the customer.

Barber, shaving a customer: Did you happen to have catsup for lunch?

Customer: No.

Barber: Uh-oh. I must have cut your throat.

Frank moved into a new town and visited the barbershop. There he asked for a shave and a manicure. The manicurist was quite attractive and Frank couldn't resist. "How about me and you going out tonight?"

"I don't think that is a good idea. I'm married."

"Well, I don't think your husband would mind, would he?"

"Why don't you ask him. He is shaving you."

Dan's barber suggested an exotic ointment for his thinning hair. After six months, Dan was still bald. But he now shaves his hands everyday.

Jokes

Baseball

The company's baseball team was so uncoordinated. During their last game, one of their players slid into home plate and he was just coming to bat.

During spring training, a horse walked into the field and asked to try out for the team. The manager, who sorely needed players said, "Why not?" and told the horse to hit a few.

The horse trotted into position. No matter what trick the pitcher resorted to, he was able to hit every single ball. The manager got a little excited. He told the horse to grab a glove and catch some grounders. The horse did and, once again, was able to catch every single ball. Now the manager was really excited. "Okay, okay. Let's see how fast you can run."

"Run?" the horse replied, "If I could run, don't you think I would be in the Kentucky Derby instead of trying out for your awful team?"

The game was already into the fifth inning when a young tardy couple arrived. As they took their seats, the young lady asked the man next to her, "What's the score?"

He replied, "Oh, there's no score yet."

"Good. We didn't miss anything."

A baseball team was in a serious batting slump. The manager scheduled frequent batting practices that didn't produce the desired results. His players either hit the ball weakly or just plain missed it. After watching the misery, the manager grabbed a bat, stormed to the field, and announced, "I'm going to show you what I want to see." He got into position and motioned the pitcher to throw the ball. He hit air. After a half-dozen more wild misses, he threw the bat and said, "That's what you morons have been doing. Now, I want to see you hit the ball!"

Jokes

Bathroom

A kid bragged to his teacher, "Jesus uses our bathroom everyday." So the teacher asked him how he knew. He continued, "Well, everyday, my dad would kick on the bathroom door and yell, 'Christ, are you still there?' "

Q: Did you take a bath?

A: Why, is there one missing?

Jokes

Bear

A bear bumped into a hunter in the woods. Said the bear, "You must be looking for a nice fur coat."

"Sure I'm," replied the hunter.

"Well, I'm looking for a hearty breakfast. Why don't we go into my cave and negotiate?" the bear invited. The hunter agreed. Soon afterwards, the bear had his breakfast and the hunter was in his fur coat.

A bear just finishing shitting when a rabbit hopped in front of him. He asked the rabbit, "Do you have problems with shit sticking to your fur?"

The rabbit said, "No."

The bear replied, "That's good," and grabbed the bunny to use as toilet paper.

"I got caught in a badminton game."

A lady went to a pet shop and asked for some birdseed. "For which kind of bird?" asked the shop owner.

"Doesn't matter. I just want whichever grows the fastest."

A woman entered a pet shop in search of an exotic bird. The owner suggested a monstrous-looking bird with a giant beak, "This here is the Crunch Bird."

"Why do you call it the Crunch Bird?" the woman asked.

The owner motioned her to watch. Turning to the bird, he commanded, "Crunch Bird my trash can."

With a chilling squawk the bird flew straight to the can, and using its massive beak, bit hard on it until there was nothing left of it except pieces of aluminum scraps.

The woman was delighted and bought the bird. That night her husband came home and saw the huge bird. He asked his wife about it.

She replied, "Oh, that's a Crunch Bird."

"Crunch Bird?" he asked, then looking at it with disgust, he said, "Crunch Bird my ass!"

Said the cannibal, "My wife makes delicious soup, but I'll miss her."

The dream party invitation for a cannibal: "We're having my mother-in-law for dinner."

A cannibal said, "I really can't stand my wife."
His friend replied, "Just drink the soup then."

A cannibal chief and his son went hunting in the jungle. They came upon a beautiful maiden bathing under a gentle waterfall. The maiden was simply a picture of perfection: her eyes were tantalizing, her skin glistening as droplets of waters danced around, her body that of an angel. The chief's jaw dropped in admiring amazement and began to fantasize. But his son interrupted him as he said, "Poppa, we've found our meal!"

"Oh, no. We will not eat her."

"But I'm starving."

"No. Help me capture her. Then when we get home, I'll cook your mother for you."

A missionary was captured by a cannibal tribe. Aware of his pending fate, he asked chieftain, "I supposed you are going to eat me."

"But of course," replied the chieftain.

The missionary took out a pocketknife, cut a piece from his left calf, handed it to the chieftain, and said, "I don't taste good. Here try it for yourself."

The cannibal chief took one bite, and spat it out just as quickly.

The missionary not only survived but stayed on and eventually converted the cannibals. That's a pretty amazing feat for a man with a wooden leg.

Asked cannibal chief, "What do you do?"

"I am the editor of a newspaper," replied the unfortunate journalist.

"Good. Tonight you become editor-in-chief."

The cannibal chieftain wrote to the leader of the Missionaries:
Please send more messengers from the Lord. The last three have been delicious.

A cannibal asked his friend, "Have you seen the dentist?"

"Oh yes. He filled my teeth."

An anthropologist just came back from a visit to a South Pacific island inhabited by backward tribal people. He filed this report: "...interestingly enough, they play some form of Russian roulette with their prisoners. But instead of using guns, the prisoners are stripped down and led to a room with half a dozen beautiful kneeling women. They get to choose who among the women will give them a blow job. The catch is that one of these women is a cannibal..."

Jokes

Car

His is the type of car that should not stop on the road. Otherwise people would think it has been in an accident.

Said the body-shop guy to the customer, "Here, let me give you the good news. Your stereo is still in good shape."

The car he got was so much of a lemon it peeled when he drove it through the carwash.

An extremely dilapidated car slowly made its way to the bridge's toll booth. As it approached, it sputtered and clanked incessantly. Finally, it got to the collector.

The collector looked at the car and then at the driver and said, "Five dollars."

The driver replied, "Sold."

The difference between a good car and a lemon is gunning. With a good car, you gun the engine. With a lemon, you gun the salesman.

Jokes

Cat

Frustrated at just being able to stare at the young kitten on the other side of a particularly high chain link fence, the tomcat decided to jump over. He moved as far back as possible, then went into a fast sprint, before hurtling himself over to the other side. Impressed, the kitten sashayed over.

"That was impressive. Wanna go someplace and cuddle up?"

"Probably later, the tomcat said with a grimace, "The fence was higher than I thought."

Kitten to scolding mother cat, "Why can't I just live one of my own lives?"

Said the tomcat to his girlfriend, "I would die for you."

"How many times?"

An old lady brought two dead cats to the taxidermist, who asked, "Would like them mounted?"

She replied, "No, just side by side. They were only good friends."

The old lady's cat constantly spent nights howling as he made love to one female after another. Finally the neighbors got fed up with his disturbances and forced the old lady to have the cat neutered. A few days later, one of the neighbors bumped into the old lady and asked about the cat.

"I'll bet he is now leading a more low-keyed, slow paced kind of life," said the neighbor.

The old lady replied, "Oh, no. He is still out there every night. But he is now only a consultant."

Jokes

Cemetery

A widow put the following inscription on her husband's tombstone: Rest in peace - till we meet again.

In a cemetery, an American placed a bouquet of flowers on a grave. A Chinese arrived, and proceeded to place fruits and other goodies on a grave nearby. The American laughed and asked the Chinese, "So when is the dead coming up to eat?"

Without batting an eye, the Chinese replied, "Same time yours come up to smell the flowers."

A man passed by another man crying quietly over three graves and asked him, "Your relatives?"

"Actually they are my first three wives. The first died from eating poisoned mushrooms. The second died from eating poisoned mushrooms. The third died from a fractured skull."

"How did she fractured her skull?"

"She wouldn't eat the poisoned mushrooms."

Jokes

Centipede

The female centipede crossed her legs and said, "No, a hundred times, no."

A man was in a car accident and ended up with both his legs crushed. His friend, an optimist, visited him at the hospital. On seeing his condition, the friend told him, "Aren't you lucky you are not a centipede?"

Jokes

Chain letter

The following letter was started by a woman:

This letter was started by a letter like yourself in the hopes of bringing aid and relief to women all over the world who are just as tired and discontented. What makes this chain letter unique is that it won't cost you money.

Simply pack your husband or lover and send him to the woman whose name appears at the top of the list. Then remove that woman's name and add your name to the bottom of the list. Send a copy of the revised letter to five of your best friends who are just as tired and discontented as you are.

When your name appears at the top of the list, you will receive as many as 16,877 men. One of them is bound to be a lot better than the one you shipped out.

Please have faith and do not break this chain.

One woman broke it and got her own s.o.b. back. A personal friend of mine has already received 214 men as of this writing. She was buried this morning. But it took the undertakers 48 hours to swipe the smile off her face and another 48 hours to get her legs together so they can put her in the coffin.

Again, have faith.

Children

Small boy to girl next door, "Are you the opposite sex?"

As kids see it, the person in charge of the schools is the Super-Nintendo.

Children - no mother should be without them.

As kids see it, the Pope lives in a vacuum.

Kid, describing her crochet-loving aunt, "She is a happy hooker!"

Asked her age, the little girl replied, "Seven at home and five on the bus."

Overheard at the opera, "Why is the fat lady screaming?"

A child is a creature who knows all the questions at six and all the answers at sixteen.

Children should be seen and not had.

A kid had just swallowed a penny and was crying uncontrollably as he was sure he was going to die. No amount of persuasion could convince him otherwise. Finally, the paramedic got a penny and pretended to pull it out of the kid's ear.

The kid stopped crying and looked up in delight. Suddenly, he snatched the penny from the paramedic's hand, swallowed it, and cheerfully said, "Please do it again, sir!"

A kid was explaining how a new bathroom scale affects his mother's mood, "All I have to do is to turn the dial a bit each morning, and my mom becomes nicer all day."

Said the son to his father, "Dad, you know the homework you helped me with last night?"

"Yes, what about it?"

"Your answers well all wrong."

"Really? I'm sorry."

"Oh, that's okay. None of the daddies got it right, anyway."

A young boy and his mom came home from the doctor's office. His concerned little sister asked him, "So, what's wrong with you?"

"Asthma."

She turned to their mother, "Ma, what's wrong with him?"

A mother admonished her little daughter, "You mustn't talk all the time."

"When will I be old enough to?"

A naughty little boy asked his mother for a bike. She promised him one if he could behave for a week. The very next day he ended up breaking a neighbor's window. His mother reminded him of his promise, telling him she wouldn't buy the bike if he doesn't improve his behavior. The boy began to cry. Taking pity on him, his mom suggested he write a letter to God to help him behave so that he can get his bike. The boy agreed and immediately went to his room to write.

He sat down and wrote, "Dear Lord Jesus, if you give me a bike I promise I will behave for the rest of my life." He thought about it, figured that was too much, and crumpled the sheet.

Next he wrote, "Dear Lord Jesus, I promise I'll behave for a year..." Once again he thought it was beyond him, so he crumpled the paper.

He tried again, "Dear Lord Jesus, I promise I'll behave for a month..." He stopped, knowing even that was beyond him. Then, an idea came to him. He went to his mother's room, took her statue of the Virgin Mary, brought it back to his room, and hid it under his bed.

He got his pad and wrote, "Dear Lord Jesus, if you ever want to see your Mother again..."

Asked the son, "What is a sweater girl?"

The father pondered the question for a moment and then replied, "A sweater girl is a girl who works in a factory where she makes sweaters." When he didn't get any reaction, he sighed a bit and asked, "Where did you come up with that question, anyway?"

"Forget the question. Where did you get that answer?"

The little girl solemnly studied the display in the candy store and declared, "I want a chocolate Easter Bunny --- boy."

"A boy?" laughed the owner, "Why, there isn't that much difference between a boy bunny and a girl bunny."

"But there's one---and it makes for more chocolate."

"Mom, is that dinner I smell?"

"It is and so do you."

Mother: "Why did you fall into the puddle with your new suit on?"

Junior: "There was no time to take it off."

The little girl watched her mother apply some facial cream and asked, "What's that for?"

Her mother replied, "That is to make me look pretty."

A few minutes passed and the mother takes off the cream.

Her little girl looked at her and asked, "Didn't work, huh?"

Small boy, to his mother: Where were you born?

Mother: Connecticut.

Small boy: Where was daddy born?

Mother: Florida.

Mother: California.

Small boy: How did we get together?

A kid's prayer: Dear God, please take care of yourself. Because if something happens to you, we will all be in a big mess."

A little girl ran into the house and asked her mother, "Can little girls have babies?"

The mother emphatically, "Of course, not!"

"Good!" the girl said, then as she ran out the door she called to her playmates, "We can play that game again!"

Mother: "Your grandmother isn't going to kiss you with that dirty face."

Junior: "That's what I'm hoping for."

Little Amy was brought along by her mother to an all-ladies' luncheon. While her mother was in the ladies' room, one of her friends remarked to the others, "The kid's not too P-R-E-T-T-Y."

Little Amy answered, "No, but very S-M-A-R-T."

"Who gave you the black eye?" a father asked his bruised son.

"Nobody. I had to fight for it."

A young girl went to the farm to buy a watermelon. She asked the farmer for the price for a particularly big one. The farmer said, "That's three dollars."

"All I got is 40 cents," replied the girl.

The farmer pointed to a very small watermelon in the field and told her, "For 40 cents, you can have that."

"I'll take that. But leave it there. I'll be back in a month for it."

Alex's sister and her boyfriend came home and went to the den where they began groping at each other. He watched wide-eyed as they began undressing each other until his sister spotted him from the corner of her eye. Scared that Alex will tell on her, she asked him, "What do you want for your birthday?"

"I wanna watch," replied the young kid. So let him.

The kid asked his dad, "Who gave me the computer last Christmas?"

His dad replied, "Santa Claus, of course."

"Well, Santa was here this morning. He wanted his money."

A father brought his kid to the zoo. Just as they were looking at the monkeys, a couple of the primates started making love. The kid turned to his dad and asked, "How long does it take them to make a baby?"

"Huh? Ah, nine months, I think."

"So why are they in such a hurry?"

"How do you your new house?" an aunt asked her niece.

"It's great, I have my own room. Johnny got his own room. Even little Suzie got her own room. But poor Mommy still has to share with Daddy."

"Hey, I see God sent you another brother."

"Yes and He knows where the money is going to come from. I heard my daddy say that."

Little girl to teacher, "In my family everyone marries relatives."

The shocked teacher asked, "How is that so?"

"My daddy married my mommy, my uncle married by aunt, my grandfather married my grandmother."

A little boy keeps on making ugly faces at his classmates. Finally the teacher warned him, "Jonathan, when I was a child, I was told that if I made ugly faces I would stay that way."

The little boy looked at her face and said, "It must be true."

"Your big sister is spoiled, huh?"

"Oh, no. It is the perfume she's wearing."

The five year old boy came back from the beach all tanned and golden. A few days later, his skin started to peel. Worried, he rushed to his mother and cried, "My body is wearing out!"

Teacher: If you had four apples and I asked for one, how many would you have left?

Boy: Four.

No matter what his mother says, Tony likes to use profanity. Finally she told him, "One more bad word from you, and you're out of this house." No sooner had she finished her threat, Tony let out another bad word. So she threw him out. Sunset came and Tony's mother became concerned. She went outside to look for him and saw him seated on the front porch. She said, "I see you have decided to change your bad ways and came back."

Tony said, "Where the hell could I go?"

Father: "Our son must have gotten all his brains from me."

Mother: "Must be. I still have mine."

The young girl was bawling, "I want that!" pointing to her nude brother's thing.

Her mother tried to calm her down. "If you're a nice girl, you'll get one when you grow up."

Her brother interjected, "Yeah, and if you're bad, you'll get a lot of them!"

A young boy came home with a twenty dollar bill. His mother asked him, "Who gave you the money?"

"Oh, no one. Someone lost it."

"Are you sure it was lost?"

"Yes, I even so the old lady looking for it."

One winter, a man went to his neighbor and complained, "I have had it with your son pissing in my yard. Look at that. His name is written in the snow!"

"C'mon," said the good neighbor, "Is that really a serious matter?"

"You bet it is. That's my daughter's handwriting!"

Overheard at the train station, "Auntie, there's no rush. Daddy set the clock a whole hour ahead."

Jonathan and Melissa, both six, decided to get married, so he decided to tell his dad about their plans.

"I see," said the dad, "and how do you plan to support her?"

"I get my allowance and so does she."

"But what if you have a baby?"

"Well, we have been lucky so far!"

Every time Johnny gets hurt, he would run to his mother, who'd kiss it to make things better. When he cut a finger playing with his toy train, he ran to his mother, who kissed it and bandaged it. When he scraped his knee falling off his bike, he ran to his mother, who cleaned it and bandaged it. Then he got into a bully's path and ended up getting a kick in his private parts. He ran to his mother. His mother looked at him and said, "Son, you're becoming to act more and more like your dad."

Two kids went visiting at their aunt's place. The aunt brought out two apples, one large and shiny, the other small and withered. Said she, "Now, I want to see which one of you has good manners."

The elder kid grabbed the big apple and said, "He does," as he pointed at his smaller brother.

Five year old Edward went to see his older sister perform in a ballet dance. He watched as the girls danced around in their toes. He turned to his Mommy and asked, "Why don't they just get taller girls?"

The six year old was telling her mother about her visit to Grandpa at the retirement house. "I got to talk to a man who was 101 and a woman who was 105. I also saw a woman who was 103!" exclaimed the youngster.

"And how did you know how old they were?" asked the mother.

"Mom," said the kid impatiently, "It said so on their doors!"

A mother saw her son playing quietly beside his daddy. She remarked, "Oh, it is so wonderful to see you play so quietly while Daddy is sleeping."

Replied the kid, "Oh, I'm waiting for his cigarette to reach his finger."

A father decided to take custody of his three sons from his ex-wife, whom he has accused of being to lax with the kids. The next morning, the father began preparing breakfast. He asked the eldest what he wanted. He replied, "I'll have some fucking cereal." On hearing the cuss, the father slapped the kid, sending him to the floor. He then asked the same question to the middle son, who replied, I'll have some fucking cereal." Again, the father slapped his kid, sending him to the floor. He then turned to the youngest and asked the same question.

The youngest replied, "You can bet your sweet ass I ain't gonna have those fucking cereal!"

The young boy woke up in the middle of night and wanted to make peepee. His mother rushed over and said, "Here, I'll take you."

"No, I want Grandma."

"Why do you want Grandma?"

"Her hand shakes."

Church

A parishioner was so impressed with the priest's sermon, the man approached the clergyman after mass and said, "You sure gave a hell of a sermon."

The priest answered, "I thank you for your thoughts but I certainly do hope you can refrain from using profanity."

"No problem. But I gotta tell you I was so inspired by you that I gave a check for a thousand dollars."

"Holy shit!"

The new priest was preaching about birth control and the evils of the Pill. A member of the congregation yelled, "Father, if you don't play the game, please, don't make the rules."

After Easter Sunday mass, the pastor stood by the church door, talking to his parishioners as they leave. A man who the pastor haven't seen in a long time passed by. The pastor told him, "I wish we could see you more regularly."

"What do you mean more regularly? I always attend Easter Sunday mass!"

Asked to address a group of young couples, a minister decided to talk about sex. When his prudish wife learned about the subject matter of his talk, she recommended a subject matter that's more wholesome, such as family picnics or outings. Not wanting an argument, he told her he will go with that, despite his plans to proceed with his original topic.

A few days later, his wife met a couple of the young wives who were in attendance.

One of them exclaimed, "My, your husband gave a very insightful talk the other day."

The minister's wife replied, "I'm glad you found it informative. After all, he's not quite that experienced in that subject matter. The first time we tried it he got bored. The second time we went for it he had to stop and ask for directions."

The new pastor was nervous about his giving his first sermon and talked in a soft voice. A parishioner yelled from the back of the church, "We can't hear you from here. Can you speak up?" The pastor tried but still talked in a soft voice. The parishioner yelled again, "We still can't hear you." The pastor tried again but couldn't muster a voice loud enough for the back to hear. So the parishioner yelled again.

Finally a parishioner up front turned around and said, "What are you yelling about? You ought to just sit down and be thankful. Otherwise I will change places with you."

How late he sleeps on Sunday mornings depends on the length of the sermon.

The new priest forgot the name of the couple scheduled to be married the following weekend, so he announced before the conclusion of the service, "Those wishing to be united in holy matrimony please see me afterwards."
Half a dozen old maids showed up.

Noticing a man has fallen asleep, the preacher called the deacon aside and ordered him to wake up the man. Replied the deacon, "You put him to sleep. You wake him up."

Just before the mass ended, the pastor announced, "There will be a meeting of the Board immediately after mass." As instructed, the group gathered at the back for the meeting. To their surprise, a stranger was in their midst. The pastor asked him, "Do you know this is a Board meeting?"

The stranger replied, "Oh, I thought you said it was a meeting for those who got bored listening to your sermon."

Pastor, after surveying the day's collection: "The best way for the government to help the church is to stop printing one dollar bills."

A minister, a rabbi, and a priest were discussing how they divide up the money they collect from their respective congregations.

The minister said, "I draw a line on the ground and I throw the money up in the air. What falls down to the left of the line, I give to God. What falls down on the right, I keep."

The rabbi said, "I draw a big circle on the ground and I throw the money up in the air. What falls inside the circle, I give to God. What falls outside the circle, I keep."

The priest said, "I just throw the money up in the air. What stays up, I give to God. What falls back down to the ground, I keep."

The minister's sermon dragged on and on. Finally his voice cracked, prompting him to comment, "What more can I say?"

A bored parishioner replied, "Amen."

A rabbi asked a priest, "Have you tasted pussy?"

The priest was horrified, "Absolutely not! That would be like you eating ham."

The rabbi smiled, "That's true. But there is simply no comparison."

Asked the preacher of his wife, "How many great preachers are there in the world?"

The wife replied, "I'm not sure, but certainly one less than you think."

The priest was teasing his rabbi friend. "When are you going to eat pork, my friend?"

The rabbi replied, "At your wedding. And that's a promise."

The pastor had resigned and was comforting a inconsolable parishioner.

"Don't worry. I am sure the next pastor will be far better than I have been."

The parishioner cried even more, "That's what they said the last time."

A shy but very beautiful young girl went to the priest to confess a sin. She was so embarrassed about it that she could hardly talk. "Father, I have a very serious problem. I..." the girl tried to explain.

The priest said, "Here, why don't you sit down and tell me about it," offering her a seat. As the girl sat down, her dress rode up, exposing her luscious thighs. She was too unsettled to notice but the priest looked on lustfully. The girl started again, "Father, I went out with a very gorgeous classmate of mine and..." the girl stopped and covered her face with her hands.

"Let me see if I can help you along," said the priest as he put his hand on her lap, "Did he do this?"

"Yes, and more."

The priest put his hand under her dress and tug at her underwear. "Did he do this?"

"Yes, and more," as the girl continued sobbing.

The priest pulled down her underwear. "Did he do this?"

"Yes, and more," she nodded.

The priest stood up and took off his clothes. "Did he do this?"

"Yes, and more,"

He took her by the hand and lay her down on the floor and began making love to her. "Did he do this?"

"Yes, and more."

"More?"

"Yes, he gave me herpes."

Coma

A man had an accident and fell into a coma. He didn't wake up until forty years later. First thing he did was to call his bank and asked for his account balance. The banker said, "Your current balance is $4,345,444.23."

The man couldn't believe it. He was ecstatic. Just then the operator interrupts and says, "Your three minutes are up. Please deposit one million dollars."

Jokes

Comic character

Superman was flying around, looking for trouble on the make, when he espied Wonder Woman lying nude on her back on the patio of her penthouse. He flew down and quickly covered her with his body. Wonder Woman opened her eyes in a look of surprise. Superman asked, "Surprised, huh?"

She replied, "Not half as much as the Invisible Man."

Danny Ha, San Jose, CA

"Mr. Mouse, the doctor's report shows that your wife is perfectly sane. As such, I can not grant your divorce on grounds of insanity."

"Insane?" Mickey squealed, "No one said she was insane! All I said was that she's fucking Goofy!"

A man sat glumly at the end of a bar, beer bottle in hand, head looking down at the dirt on the carpet. A handsome, muscular, bespectacled, and slightly drunk man approached the miserable one, "I just know the thing to cheer you up. This building we're in has a secret. Because of the way it was designed, the wind comes through the back as a powerful updraft. Anyone who jumps off its rooftop gets thrown back up. It is kind of like bungee jumping but without the rope."

There was no response from the miserable guy, so the charming man continued, "Why don't you follow me up and I'll prove it to you." At that the guy stood up, smiled, and replied, "Let's go."

So the pair went up to the rooftop where the bespectacled man threw himself into the air. True enough, just as he neared the street twenty floors below, he suddenly came rising back to the rooftop. After he has landed, he told the miserable one, "It's a wonderful sensation. You ought to try it."

So the miserable guy spread his body, flung himself out into the air, and promptly landed with a fatal thud on the street below.

The other man went back to the bar, where the bartender reprimanded him, "The problem with you is that you turn into an asshole after only a couple of drinks, Superman."

Commercial

Said the midget, standing next to his normal-height girlfriend, "Gee, your hair smells."

"My boyfriend has dandruff."
"Give him Head and Shoulders."
"How do you give shoulders?"

Said the man to the girl in the brothel, "You sure bring good things to life!"

His story is one of perseverance. Imagine all the success he'd miss out had he stopped at Preparation G.

Ditto for the guy who went beyond 6-up.

And more so with the person who didn't stop at Formula 43.

Computer

The tech support guy was not able to diagnose the customer's problem concerning some files contained in a diskette. So, as a final recourse, he asked her to make a copy of the disk and send it to him. Eager to have her problem resolved, she told him she would mail it overnight. The next day, the tech support guy indeed got her package. Inside was a photocopy of a diskette.

Customer to tech support: The computer says to press any key to continue. But my keyboard is missing the Any key!

Computers come in two models: prototype and obsolete.

On reaching its flight altitude of 32,000 feet, the airplane's P.A. system came on:

Good morning, ladies and gentlemen. Thank you for flying _____ Airline. We are currently flying at an altitude of 32,000 feet at a ground speed of 550 miles per hour. We would like to take this moment to let know this plane we are on is the latest and most computerized model in the world. All its functions are controlled entirely by high-powered computers to provide the ultimate in safety features. A fail-safe back-up system guarantees that nothing can go wrong---nothing can go wrong---nothing can go wrong...

The perfect computer is one that, on making a mistake, will automatically put the blame on another computer.

Said the computer salesman, "This computer will do half your job for you."
Said the customer, "Fine. I'll take two."

The assistant replied, "I can't say for sure. I've known him for only 75 years."

Jokes

Confession

A man carrying a turkey went to confession, "Father, I have stolen this turkey for my family. Would you please take it to atone for my sins?"

"I can't do that, my son. You must return it to the person you stole it from."

"Father, I tried to but he refused to accept it back."

"Well, if what you are saying is true, then you can keep it for your family."

After receiving absolution, the man thanked the priest and left.

Later, on coming home, the priest found out someone had stolen his Thanksgiving turkey.

A young female gymnast had her first sexual encounter during the national competition. On returning to her hometown, she went to confession. She was so relieved on receiving absolution, she did cartwheels down the aisle to the door.

An old lady awaiting her turn, gasped to her friend, "See what the priest is giving for penance? Of all the days for me not to wear my panties.."

Said the drunk to the priest inside the confessional box, "Excuse me, you got some toilet paper over your side?"

Court

The judge was incensed by the acquittal and did not bother to hide his disgust. "What evidence could have possibly convinced you on acquittal?" he confronted the foreman.

"Insanity," replied the foreman.

"All twelve of you?"

"Order, order in the court."

"I'll have a BLT."

Several matrons were hauled to court after being involved in a fracas that started in a party they were attending. They continued their loud arguments in court, all talking simultaneously, each accusing someone else of starting the trouble. Finally the judge said, "I can't understand any of you if you all talk at the same time. I'll hear the oldest first."

The case was dismissed for lack of evidence.

The prosecuting attorney asked the defendant, "Where were you between five and six?"

He answered, "I believe kindergarten."

A train crashed into car, totally demolishing it. Fortunately no one was hurt. However the driver still sued for compensation.

During the trial, the engineer was asked to testify. He proceeded to give a very detailed account of how he gave sufficient warning by waving his lantern back and forth for at least a minute. He even reacted his movements to the jury. So convincing was his story that jury readily believed him. The suit was dismissed.

The defense lawyer was impressed and told the engineer, who replied, "Yeah, but I sure was worried when they started asking me questions."

"Why is that?"

"We would have lost the case if they had asked if the lantern was lit!"

If you stop to think about it, our court system is, indeed, difficult for foreigners to comprehend. Here we lock up the jury at night and let the defendant go free.

The good judge was trying to clear his backlog. So as much as possible, we would encourage the parties involved to settle out of court. "Can't this case be settled out of court?"

"Your honor, that's what we were trying to do when we got arrested."

A man was hauled into court on charges that he was a Peeping Tom. He hardly looked the type. He was well-dressed, very scholarly looking, and very proper. Yet he was caught red-handed at his window, peering at the girl across street with his expensive binoculars.

"How do you plead?" asked the judge.

"Not guilty, Your Honor," he responded.

"But you're caught in the act."

"I'm a bird watcher in my free time. I study birds."

"And you just were testing your binoculars and just happened to focus them on the girl when she was changing."

"Your Honor, the girl is a girl, but you should see her gorgeous parakeet."

A man cried before the judge during an alimony hearing, "As God is my judge, I do not owe that crazy woman a cent!"

His Honor replied, "He isn't. I am. You do."

A twelve year old kid was being charged in a paternity suit. To prove his point, the lawyer unzipped the boy's pants and revealed his flaccid penis.

"Look at this undeveloped organ," the lawyer said, while gently caressing it, "Look at it. Do you honestly think he could have fathered a baby?"

The boy suddenly whispered from the corner of his mouth, "Pssst. You better stop holding it or we're gonna lose this case big time!"

Jokes

Cruise

A pretty young girl went on a cruise by herself and was invited to the captain's table. The captain, an unscrupulous being, took a liking to her and said, "If you don't let me make love to you, I'll sink the ship."

The next day, we called her mom and said, "Momma, I just saved seven hundred people."

The cruise ship struck an iceberg and was sinking fast. So the captain decided to abandon ship. He called his crew and asked, "Does anyone know how to pray?"

One religious soul stepped forward, "Aye, Captain. I pray everyday."

"Good, you pray. The rest of us will put on our life vests - we're one short."

The cruise ship hit another ship and began sinking. A man rushed to the lifeboats and was stopped by a fellow passenger, "What about the women?"

He replied, "Screw them!"

"You think we got time?"

Aboard a cruise ship, a little boy slipped and fell overboard. Almost immediately, someone went after the child and saved him. The captain was most grateful and told him, "Is there anything we can do for you?"

"Just point out to me the person who pushed me!"

Jokes

Date

Mary's very upset because she thinks she is a jinx date. Every date she has had, had run out of gas.

A young woman was complaining about her date. He not only ran out of gas, his van had an inflatable mattress.

Dating is a hit-or-miss proposition for women. You gotta be a hit or you remain a miss.

He got beaten fighting for his date's honor. She was intent on keeping it.

She keeps insisting she hated staying out late, but her dates always made her.

At the beach, a young man was smitten by a girl. He brazenly asked her for a date.

The girl replied, "I'm sorry I don't date perfect strangers."

He smiled and said, "That's good. I'm the farthest thing from being perfect!"

On their first date, as the couple drove away from her house, the young girl said, "I had a breast reduction surgery. Wanna see where?"

The young man excitedly replied, "Yes, why not?"

So she pointed out the clinic as they drove past.

"How are you doing with your dream date?"

"I'm getting some encouragement."

"How so?"

"Last night, she told me she was saying 'no' for the last time."

The screen went blank for a moment, leaving the theater pitch dark.

Suddenly, a young girl was overheard asking, "Did you just kiss me?"

Her date replied, "Of course not!"

"I guess it must be the guy seated next to me."

"Why, I'll teach that guy a lesson."

"Just sit down, you couldn't teach him a thing."

All night long the young man was puzzled by his date's repeated request, "I want you to weigh me." Nevertheless he obliged her every time she asked. They would stop at the nearest drugstore where he would put her on the scale and let her weigh herself. It wasn't after he has brought her home and asked her how she felt and she answered, "Wousy," did he realized his mistake.

The young man was bragging to the cab driver, "I met this gorgeous girl at the mall today. We hit it off right away. And I can tell she has the hots for me, that's why she invited me to her place. She lives with her folks but that shouldn't be any problem. Her parents are going out as soon as her dad comes home from work. That means, we will have the apartment all to ourselves. You know what that means," he said as he winked as the cabbie.

The cab reached the building and the young man hurried inside. Once there, he spent time talking with his date in the den while they eagerly waited for her dad to arrive and leave with her mother. Soon after, the parents entered the den. "Well, we'll be going to the ballet now," the mom said.

The young man suddenly stood up and said, "I've an idea. Why don't we come with you?"

The mom smiled and said, "That would really be nice. I'm sure we can get two more tickets."

On their way out, the disappointed girl asked the young man, "Why didn't you tell me you like ballet that much?"

The young man replied, "Why didn't you tell me your dad drives a cab?"

Her daughter was about to go on a date with a well-known man about town, so the mother warned, "Remember, when a man tries to do something with a girl, a girl's best friends are her legs."

Her warning went unheeded as the mother found out a couple of months later that her daughter was pregnant.

"Didn't I tell you that your best friends are your legs?"

"Yes, mama," the daughter replied, "But even the best friends must part sometime."

"How come you are dating her?"

"She's different from the rest."

"How so?"

"She is the only who will go out with me."

Man, to neighbor: I noticed your daughter didn't come in until four this morning. Mine was home by midnight.

Neighbor: That's true. But my daughter walked home.

"Will I see you pretty soon?"

"Why, am I not pretty enough now?"

The shy and very inexperienced young man gathered all his courage and gently placed his hand on his date's knees and said, "I think...I love you."

The girl put her hand over his and with a knowing smile, said, "Higher."

So he repeated what he said, but this time, in a falsetto voice, "I love you."

A widow went on a blind date with a ninety year old man. When she got home, her daughter asked her about it. She said, "I had to slap him three times."

"Why?"

"I thought he was dead."

Jokes

Deaf

Two friends bumped into each other in the street. They haven't since each other in years. Frank, who's deaf, signed, "It's is good to see you again!"

James, who's also deaf and has only one arm, signed back slowly, "That's easy for you to say."

Three friends, all hard of hearing, met at the park.

The first asked, "Isn't it windy?"

The second replied, "No. Thursday."

The third chirped in, "Me, too. Let's go for a drink."

"Did you hear? The smartest guy in the world is going deaf."

"Really?"

"What?"

After she gave birth to her twelve child, the weary mother told her doctor she wants to stop having kids so she wanted a hearing-aid.

"I don't see the connection," replied the doc.

"It is like this. Everyday as we get into bed, my husband would ask me, 'Do you want to watch the news or what?' I can't hear him well, so I'd answer, 'What?' And that's how we got the kids?"

The guy was hard of hearing but couldn't afford a hearing aid. So he got some wire and shaped it to resemble a hearing aid and placed it behind his ear. A friend noticed it and asked, "Does that really work?"

"No, it does not work like a hearing aid. But you know what, everyone talks louder to me. So it still solves my problem."

Jokes

Death

According to obituaries, people are dying in alphabetical order.

A man was shocked to read his obituary in the local newspaper. So he called the editor, a friend, and asked, "Who told you I was dead?"

The voice on the other line went silent, and slowly responded, "Where are you calling from?"

Two friends always wondered about the afterlife. So they made a pact. Whoever goes first would try his best to come back and tell the other what it is like. Shortly after, one of them died. A few nights later, he visited his friend and woke him up.

"Bert, this that you?"

"Yes, Ernie, it's me."

"So, Bert, what is it like? Tell me."

"Well, on waking up in the morning, we eat breakfast. Then we spend the rest of the morning making love. Come noon, we get our lunch. Then we make love again till sundown. Then we eat dinner and make love till bedtime.

"Jesus! I can't wait to go to heaven then!"

"Heaven?" No, Ernie. I came back as a rabbit in a farm."

The old patriarch knew it was near his time so he called his three sons to his deathbed. The sons watched as he lay there, silent and seemingly dead. Not wanting to waste time, they decided to discuss the funeral plans. The eldest wanted to bury him in a plain cheap coffin. The second preferred a pine box. The third suggested a sack. All agreed there was no reason to spend a lot of money.

Suddenly the old man opened his eyes. He motioned them to approach him. "I need to tell you one thing. Your mom and I never married."

"You mean we're--"

"Yes, and cheap ones at that."

A new policeman was assigned to break the bad news to the victim's widow. Not knowing how to approach it, he asked the woman, "You bought your husband a new hat, right?"

"Yes."

"It was ruined this morning."

"How?"

"Well, a safe fell on it."

Jokes

Dentist

Said the Marquis de Sade to his dentist, "Pick any."

Said the dentist to his seductive patient, "We can't go on meeting like this. You got no more teeth left."

A couple entered the dentist's office. The man said, "I want to have a tooth pulled. But we are running late for the recital. So skip the anesthesia and just get to it."

"You certainly are a brave man," replied the dentist.

"Okay, honey. Open your mouth and point out the bad tooth for the dentist to see."

Patient: Flossing is sure a pain in the butt.
Dentist: Then you must not be doing it right.

"Doc, how much do you charge for pulling a tooth?"

"Seventy dollars"

"For a few minutes' work? Isn't that too much?"

"Well, I can pull your tooth out very, very slowly."

The moment she settled into the dentist's chair, the old lady grabbed him by the balls.

"What are you doing?" asked the perplexed dentist.

She smiled sweetly and said, "We're not going to hurt each other, are we?"

A patient just had a new set of dentures made. He went back and complained to the dentist, "My new teeth don't fit."

The dentist examined him and said, "Everything seems fine. They fit perfectly."

"No, they don't. They don't in my glass!"

As a kid, Larry's mother used to tell him about how women have teeth in their most private parts. Larry so believed his mom he lived the straight road all his life, just as his mom had hoped.

Larry grew up to be a dentist and a fine one at that. He then met the girl of his dreams and married her. On their honeymoon night, his bride wondered why he wasn't making any moves.

Finally, Larry told her, "I'm scared. You got teeth in there."

She laughed and said, "Of course not." To prove her point, she undressed and showed him.

As Larry inspected, he said, "You're right. You do not have any teeth in there. But you seem to have some serious gum infection."

The dentist examined a woman and told her she needs a lot of work done. She replied, "I'd rather have a baby."

He said, "Make up your mind before I finish adjusting this chair."

Fred was running late for his dental appointment. So he decided to call to let them know. "I'm running about 20 minutes late. Will that be a problem?"

"Not at all. I just won't have time to give you an anesthetic," replied his dentist.

Fred was on time.

The dentist was having a difficult time reaching a tooth and kept telling his patient to open her mouth wider and wider.

Finally the lady asked, "Are you planning to work inside?"

Southern dentist to patient who's a lawyer, "Now, open your mouth...Repeat after me, Aaah....will not sue."

Jokes

Desert

A traveler got lost in the great desert. He wandered aimlessly for several hours until he saw a man in the distance. Fatigued and extremely thirsty, he half-stumbled, half-walked towards the stranger, whispering hoarsely, "Water. I need water."

The man replied, "I'm sorry, I don't have any water. I sell ties. Would you like to buy one?"

"Ties! What do I need a tie for!?" shouted the traveler, as he continued on. The sun grew hotter and he grew thirstier. Just when he was about to give up, he saw a restaurant in the distance. He crawled in that direction and to his relief, found out the restaurant was real and not just a mirage. He picked himself up and started to walk in. The doorman blocked his way.

"I'm sorry. You can't go in. Ties are required."

Jokes

Determination

Eric was of a slight build but he kept badgering the foreman for a job at the docks. Finally, just to get some peace, the foreman gave him a job of helping unload a steamer carrying heavy machinery. The parts were packed in boxes that each weighed almost 143 pounds. But Eric was unfazed. He grabbed two boxes, one under each arm and started across the gangplank. As he reached the center, the gangplank gave way, and he fell into the water. The other workers rushed over and saw Eric's head bobbing in and out of the water. As he came up again, he spat out water, yelling, "Rope. Throw me a rope."

The workers stood in shock and didn't move. Eric kept yelling for a rope. Finally, he yelled, "If I don't get a rope, I may have to drop one of these boxes!"

The man angrily grabbed the stone from Peter and wrote, "You idiot! I'm drowning!"

Jokes

Divorce

His wife won't grant him a divorce until she can find a way of doing it without making him happy.

Divorce has given a traditional lament a new twist: Always a bride, never a bridesmaid.

Statistics now show that one marriage in two ends in divorce. The other one fights it out to the bitter end.

He suffered a pain the neck for years, so he finally divorced her.

The reason why he didn't want to divorce his wife is that he didn't want to make her happy.

It is funny how some couples maintain separate bedrooms, take separate vacations, dine out separately in an effort to make their marriage work.

The old wife filed for divorce due to poor health and exhaustion. In other words, she was sick and tired of her husband.

The definition of a modern sentimental young woman is one who would like to get divorced in the same dress her mother got divorced in.

A man was explaining to his friend why he wanted a divorce, "You see, my wife has a twin sister. And when she came for a visit, I accidentally ended up making love to her. So now I've decided to get a divorce."

"I don't get it. Surely there must be some difference between them."

"There is. That's why I am getting a divorce."

It was their silver wedding anniversary, so the millionaire took his wife down Rodeo Drive. "Why don't you get a fur coat?" he asked.

"Thank you, but I already got four coats."

"What about a nice diamond necklace?"

"I already have two."

"A new Rolls! To match the color---"

"No! I don't need a new Rolls."

Exasperated, the husband asked, "What is it do you want?"

"A divorce."

"A divorce? No, that I can not afford!"

A man met his ex-wife at a cocktail party. After a while, the drinks began to take effect and he said to her, "Why don't we go back to my place?"

She replied, "Over my dead body."

"I see you haven't changed a bit."

The couple was in court for divorce. The judge was able to divide the assets despite of the hostility between the two. However he was unable to bring them to terms on the custody of their three children. Finally the judge said, "Go home and stay married for another year. Hopefully you'll have another child and then you can have two each."

The husband sneered, "What if we end up with twins?"

The wife retorted, "What twins? If I had depended on you, we wouldn't have any kids!"

"On what grounds are you filing divorce for?"

"Five acres."

"No, what I meant is do you have a grudge?"

"Yes, Your Honor. It fits three cars."

"You don't understand. Does he beat you up?"

"Very seldom. I get up a full hour before him to go jogging."

"I'm sorry but I just do not see why you want a divorce."

"Your Honor, we do not understand each other all."

Jokes

Doctor

If laughter were really the best medicine, our doctors would have been charging us ever since they discovered it.

He used to be just sitting but after he was given a very strong laxative by his doctor, he is now sitting pretty.

A family doctor is one who treats yours and you support his.

Three women went to see the same doctor for their physical check-ups. The first went in, undressed, and laid on the table. The doctor was surprised to see a 'H' imprinted on her chest, so he asked her about it.

"My husband went to Harvard. He likes to wear his Harvard sweatshirt whenever we make love." The doctor examined her without further incident, told her to dress, and called in the next woman.

The second woman undressed and laid down on the table. She had a 'C' imprinted on her chest. The doctor asked her about it.

"My husband went to Cornell. He likes to wear his Cornell sweatshirt whenever we make love." The doctor smiled, examined her without further incident. When he was done, he asked her to dress up and called the third woman.

She, too, had a letter on her chest, the letter 'M.' The doctor looked at her and said, "Let me guess. Your husband went to Michigan. He likes to wear his Michigan sweatshirt whenever you make love."

The woman blushed and said, "Don't be silly. He went to Wisconsin."

And then there was the doctor's wife who gave divorce hints to her husband by giving him an apple a day.

A doctor told a patient she was diabetic. She wanted a second opinion. So he told her she was ugly, too.

Doctors have the best job. They get a woman to undressed and then send her husband the bill.

Said the nurse to the doctor, "Better take a sedative. 44-24-36 is here for a physical."

"Doc, if my left foot hurts because of old age, how come my right foot does not hurt?"

The surgeon told his patient, "I got bad news and good news for you. Bad news is we amputated the wrong leg. Good news is your bad leg is getting better."

A doctor was strolling down the street with his wife when a voluptuous blonde in a sexy outfit greeted him. Curious, his wife asked him who the girl was.

"Just someone I know professionally," replied the doctor.

"Your profession or hers?"

"Doc, I broke my leg in two places!"
"Don't go back to either one, then."

Two doctors were having lunch at the park when they saw man approaching their way. His hands were clenched in tight fists, his knees pressed together towards the middle, "

Said the first doctor, "Must be arthritis."

Replied the second, "More like cerebral palsy."

By the then the man was in front of them. He asked, through clenched teeth, "Excuse me, do you know where the nearest rest room is?"

A man came home, weary from work, decided to take a nice, hot bath. As he was just becoming comfortable, the doorbell rang. He got out, put on his bathrobe, and answered the door. It was a young kid selling magazine subscriptions. He told the kid, "Thanks but no thanks." and closed the door.

He returned to the bath. No sooner had he lie down, the doorbell rang again. Putting on his bathrobe, he answered the door to see two missionaries, dressed in identical white shirt and ties. He slammed the door on them. On his way up the stairs, he slipped and came crashing down. Hurting all over, he dressed himself and drove to the nearest hospital. There, a doctor examined him and said, "Nothing was broken. But you looked awfully stressed out. Why don't you go home and have a nice, hot bath?"

A doctor was explaining to his patient about a mix-up with his test results, "I am not sure what happened. All I can tell you is that you either have Alzheimer's disease or AIDS."

"Oh, my God!" the patient cried, "What should I do, doc?"

"At this time all I can suggest is that if you are able to find you way home, don't make love to your wife."

A heavysset lady rushed into the office and asked, "Doc, what's wrong with me?"

The man placed a hand on his chin and looked at her. "Well, for one thing, you're overweight. You also stink. And your breath smells bad. One last thing."

"What?"

"You can't read. This is a pet shop."

A man was trying to make an appointment with a particularly busy doctor.

"I'm really sorry. The first available date would be next month," the receptionist said.

"I could be dead by then!"

"That's no problem, sir. If your wife lets us know at least 24 hours before your appointment, we won't bill you for a no-show."

A patient called his doctor, "Doc, I'm returning your call. What's up?"

"Where have you been?" the doctor screamed, "I got bad news and terrible news!"

"Bad news and terrible news?" the patient asked.

"That's what I said. The bad news is you have only forty-eight hours to live!"

"My, God! That's really bad news!" cried the patient.

"No, it's worse. The terrible news is that I have been trying to call you these past two days."

A patient said, "Doc, remember how you told me to take a vacation from my business, to have a wild time and fool around with some girls?"

The doctor replied, "Yes?"

"Doc, I need another advice. How do I get my business back?"

The doctor told his patient, "I have bad news for you. You could go anytime."

His patient replied, "Good, I haven't gone in a week."

Doctor: "How did you get here so fast?"
Patient: "Flu."

Dim-witted Marie went to see her doctor, who prescribed her some medicine, "Take three teaspoons after every meal."
"But, Doc, I only have two teaspoons."

The old man told his doctor, "My problem is that I can't pee!"
The doctor ask, "How old are you?"
"Ninety-five."
"What are you complaining for? You have peed enough!"

Doctor: "Do you suffer from arthritis?"
Patient: "Of course! What else do you do with it?"

A man went to see his doctor about a problem. After examining him, the doctor said, "This is weird. It is the first case of syphilis of the foot I have ever encountered."
"Is it rare, doc?"
"Not as rare as the athlete's cunt case I had this morning."

A doctor prescribed some pills to an old patient to help him with his sexual energy. He told the patient to mix it with his soup. The next day the patient called, "Doc, there's a slight problem. The noodles won't lie still."

The doctor told the pretty young woman, "I believe you have acute bronchitis."
"Thank you, but what is wrong with me?"

A woman told her doctor, "I got a problem. Every time I sneeze, I get an orgasm. Do you have anything for me?"
The doctor replied, "Black pepper."

"I just came from the doctor."
"Which doctor?"
"No, general practitioner."

The expectant father was so nervous he came on pacing frantically. When the doctor passed, he grabbed his arm and told him, "I'm so nervous, doc. This is my first baby."

"Tell me about it," replied the doctor, "This is my first delivery."

A young man with a severe lisp went to the doctor for help. After a thorough examination, the doctor determined the problem was caused by the man's extremely large penis. Its extra weight was affecting the alignment of his tongue. An operation to reduce the penis was necessary to correct the lisp. The man gave his okay, and the doctor operated on him.

A few months later, the young man went back to the doctor. "My lisp is gone. But so is my sex life," the young man lamented, "I want my penis back."

The doctor glared at him and said, "Threw you."

A woman with a very deep voice called her doctor, "I think you gave me an overdose of the hormone pills."

The doctor reassured her, "Don't worry. A deep voice is just a side effect. It will last a few days."

"But hair has started growing on my chest."

"Hmmmh. How far down does it reach?"

"All the way to my balls."

"Doc, will I be able to read with my new glasses?"

"Why, of course."

"Great! I never could read before."

Doctor, to young lady, "Well, I got good news. You can tell your husband you're pregnant."

"I am not married."

"Tell your lover then."

"I never had a lover. I'm still a virgin."

"In that case, go home and look up in the sky tonight. A bright, shining star will appear in the east."

A patient who was in for his annual physical was told by the doctor to stand by the window facing out, and stick out tongue. After a while, he asked the doctor, "Doc, what will this tell you about me?"

"Nothing. I just don't like my neighbors."

A woman was telling her friends how her doctor cured her hemorrhoids.

"Naturally he had me bend over, then he placed a hand on my left shoulder and then he stuck his other hand up my,... Wait a sec," the woman tried to recall, "Yeah, I think that's it. He placed a hand on my right shoulder and then he stuck his left...Wait a sec!" The woman paled and then gasped, "He had both hands on my shoulder!"

A doctor was so smitten by the lovely but naive young patient that he just have to have her. Telling her he needed to take her temperature, he had her strip naked and put his penis into her.

Just then her husband walked in. "What the hell are you doing to my wife?" he shouted as he saw them.

"I'm just taking her temperature. That's all," replied the doctor.

Grabbing a scalpel, the husband said, "The thing better have numbers when you pull it out."

"Doc, doc, I've an upset stomach ever since I ate oysters last night."

"Was the meat fresh?"

"I'm not sure."

"How did the meat look when you opened the shells?"

"You're supposed to open the shells?"

The doctor lost his practice. Not knowing any other trade and desperate for income to sustain his high living, he decided to rob a bank. Unfortunately for him, the teller couldn't understand his handwriting.

"Doc, how short a time do I've left?"

"Let me put it this way. I wouldn't start watching any soap operas if I were you."

A patient who was in for his annual physical was told by the doctor to strip naked and stand by the window facing out. After a while, he asked the doctor, "Doc, what will this tell you about me?"

"Nothing. I just don't like my neighbors."

Doctor, to patient's husband: "I don't like the looks of your wife."

Husband: "Me neither. But she is really good in bed."

A man had problems moving his bowels, so he went to see his doctor, who prescribed a powerful laxative and told him to come back in two days.

Two days later, the man came back. "Well, have you moved yet?"

asked the doctor. The man said no, so the doctor told me to double up the dosage and come back in another two days.

Two more days passed, the man came back and told the doctor he hasn't moved. So the doctor doubled up the dosage again and told the man to see him in yet another two days.

Yet two more days passed, and the man came back. This time he was smiling. So the doctor assumed, "So you have moved?"

The man said, "I had to. My house was full of shit."

Doctor: You know, if you just walk 30 minutes it would improve your sex life.

Patient: Why, who do you know lives 30 minutes away from me?

Then there was the doctor who told his beautiful young patient to keep undressing because he couldn't find a thing wrong with her.

"Doc, what do you suggest for flat feet?"

"A foot pump."

Doctor, to patient, "The best thing for you is to quit smoking, stop drinking, and abstain from sex."

"What's the next best thing?"

"Doc, what do I do with the ringing in my ear?"

"Don't answer it."

"Doc, what should I do if I'm run down?"

"Get the license number."

"Doc, I think I'm becoming a nymphomaniac."

"Why don't you lie down and tell me about it."

"Doc, are apples really healthy?"

"I have yet to hear one complain."

Martin's doctor is a very kind man. He gave Martin three months to live.

When Martin couldn't pay his bill, his doctor gave him three more months.

Doctor: Your check came back!

Patient: So did my bronchitis!

A doctor was treating a patient who believed he was dying. He told the doctor, "Doc, if you can save me from this, I'll give you a million for your new hospital."

The patient eventually recovered and went back to attending his financial empire. Months passed and the doctor decided to call him. "I've been thinking about what you said, about the million for my hospital," the doctor told his patient.

"What million?"

"The million dollars you promised me if you pulled through."

"I promised? Doc, that goes to show how sick I was."

A doctor examined his wife and told him, "I'm not too thrilled about your wife's looks."

"Neither am I."

A well-dressed gent in a fancy restaurant started to choke. A doctor happened to be eating there as well and performed the Heimlich on him. The bone popped loose. The grateful man asked his saver, "How much do I owe you?"

"I'll gladly settle for half of what you were willing to pay when you're choking."

An elderly man just won the state lottery. As he has a bad heart, his kids were afraid to tell him the good news. So they decided to consult his longtime doctor.

"Let me handle it," he offered.

So he went to the family's house and was shown to the old man's room. He engaged in small talk with the guy and in a most casual way, inquired, "Say, I heard you play the lottery."

"Oh, yes. All the time."

"What if, despite the odds, you win the jackpot, how much do win?"

"Oh, well. Four or five million dollars, I guess."

The doc laughed gently. "That is surely a lot of money. Have you thought of what you'd do if, just in case, by some miracle, you win?"

"Sure, sure. It goes to my family. But I want to pay you back for taking care of me. If I win, half goes to you."

The doctor dropped dead.

Patient: I think I need a second opinion.

Doctor: No problem. Come back tomorrow.

Jessica, to her doctor, "Doc, I found a way of paying your old bill. I just spent some time with my banker. But now I got another problem."

The doctor recommended a running schedule of ten miles a week for a patient. After a week, the patient called, "Doc, I'm seventy miles away now. What should I do now?"

"I just went to see my doctor."

"Which doctor?"

"He has been called a lot worse than that."

A patient described a pain in his stomach. Asked the doctor, "Did you have this pain before?"

The patient answered in the affirmative. Said the doctor, "Well, you got it again."

Jokes

Dog

My bulldog was a German Shepherd before he ran right into a wall at full speed.

A dog started to lick her belly so the nymphomaniac ordered, "Down, boy."

"What's your name?" a dog asked another.
"I think it's 'Down, boy.' "

"Does your dog have fleas?"
"Don't be silly. Dogs have puppies."

A man was bitten by a dog and was rushed to the hospital. The dog was captured and brought to the city pound. A few hours later, the city pound called the hospital and told the man, "We got bad news. The dog's mad."
The man replied, "What a dog! He's the one who bit me and now he's mad."

The veterinary professor asked, "Why do dogs lick their balls?"
A student replied, "Because they can."

A man was cruising along the back roads when he ran over and killed a dog. The owner's dog, carrying a rifle, saw everything.

"I'm sorry I ran over your dog. What if I give you $50 for compensation?"

"I am not sure--"

"A hundred."

"I don't know--"

"A hundred fifty. That's all I got."

"Okay."

So the driver handed over the cash to the dog's owner and went back to his car. As he was about to drive off, he said to the other guy, "I'm sorry I ruined your plans to go hunting."

"Naw, I wasn't going hunting. I was going out to the woods to shoot my stupid old dog."

"This here is a police dog."
"Funny, he doesn't look like one."
"Of course, not. He is in the secret service."

There was this pit bull that was so vicious he has practically turned the neighborhood into a war zone. Finally, the neighbors gave the owner an ultimatum. Either he puts his dog to sleep or have him castrated to make him docile.

The owner wouldn't bear the idea of putting his beloved pet to sleep, so he chose castration. On the appointed day with the vet, he started to walk the dog to the animal hospital. As they neared their destination, the pit bull espied an old man crossing the street. With the roar, the dog pulled away and attacked the old man, knocking him down.

It took a while for the owner to pull the dog away from the old man. After tying his pet, he went over to help the poor man. Afraid the victim might press charges, he begged, "Please don't call the police. I'll pay for everything - your medical bills, your glasses, everything. Just don't call the police. Besides, I was bringing him in to be castrated. He will become as quiet as a pussy cat. Please."

The old man looked at the dog and turned to the man, "Castration? Forget it. Take out his teeth instead. The instant I saw him I knew he wasn't coming on to me to mate!"

Elizabeth Tiraña, Newark, CA

A man got marooned in an island with a dog and a pig. Every time he tries to get near the pig, the dog would bark at and try to bite him. Then, one day, a very beautiful woman comes ashore and says to him, "I will do anything for you."

"Good. Why don't you hold that stupid dog for me?"

Johnny's dog loves to play poker and whenever Johnny's friends are short, they would ask the dog to play with them. One day, a new guy was invited to play. Since they were still short a man, they got the dog to play. Asked the new guy, "Johnny, your dog must be really smart?"

Johnny replied, "Oh no, he is not a good player. Whenever he gets a good hand, he wags his tail."

A blind man was standing in the street when a dog came along and bit him on the leg. He got a candy out his pocket and held it for the dog to chew. A bystander remarked, "You're certainly one of a kind. The dog bites you and you feed him."

"I'm not feeding him. I'm just finding out where his front end is so that I can kick the hell out of his back end."

When Johnny was a young boy, his parents gave him a dog. He was sort of naive then, so he named his dog Sex. Johnny grew up to be a young man and Sex started giving him trouble. One time, he was walking Sex when Sex ran away. He was in the park around midnight when a cop asked him what he was doing. He replied, "I'm looking for Sex," and was promptly arrested.

They also discovered he doesn't have a license for Sex, so he was asked to get one. At the city hall, he told the clerk, "I'd like to get a license for Sex."

The clerk laughed and said, "I'd like to have one, too."

Johnny replied, "You don't get it. This one is a dog."

The clerk laughed again and said he doesn't care how she looked. So Johnny tried to explain, "I don't think you understand. I had Sex since I was a little boy." The clerk became hysterical and said he must have been a precocious young lad.

A few years later, Johnny got married. But it turned out his wife couldn't stand Sex and asked him to choose between her and Sex. He chose Sex. To spite him, his wife sued for custody of Sex. At the trial, Johnny testified to the judge, "Your Honor, I had Sex before I was married."

The judge replied, "So did I."

Dream

A college basketball coach was relating a dream to his assistant. "In my dream, I was in this small town where I meet this gorgeous All-American girl. We went out on a date. All throughout the night she would look me in the eye and smile sweetly. Then she would reach out and caress my hands. She also played footsies with me. God, I felt like I was almost in heaven. Then she invited me to her place. I couldn't wait."

"Some dream you have, coach."

"Wait, there's more. When we got to her place, guess what? She introduced me to her kid brother. He is 6'9", plays all five positions, leads his team in points, assists, steals, and rebounding. And he agreed to play for us next year!"

Two friends were talking about their recent dreams. Said the first, "I dreamed I was playing poker in Las Vegas and was winning every deal."

"That's a wonderful dream but not as wonderful as mine. Man, I dreamed I was cruising down Westwood and picked up three drop-dead gorgeous girls."

"Why didn't you call me?"

"I did. But your mother said you were in Las Vegas."

Jokes

Drinking

Some men don't drink to their wives, they drink because of their wives.

Men drink to forget the problems that drive them to drink in the first place.

Jokes

Driver

A driver was stopped by a highway cop for speeding. She explained she was doing 70 because that's what the signs say. The officer suppressed a laugh, "Those signs? They tell you the number of the highway."

"Really? Am I glad you didn't see me at the 110."

A man was driving with his wife seated next to him and his mother-in-law in the backseat. The two women were constantly telling him what to do.

"Slow down."

"Don't take your eyes off the road."

"You're going too slow."

"Watch the car in front of you."

"You're veering to the left."

Finally, the man lost his patience and turned to his wife, "Who's driving - you or your mother?"

The lady driver said it all when she said the one thing she hates the most about parking is the noisy crash.

Drunk

Two drunks passed by a man siphoning gas from a car. Said one to another, "That man must be real thirsty."

Two drunks were weaving along a railroad. Said one to another, "I have never seen so many steps in my whole life."

There's a new club for people who want to give up drinking while driving. It is called AA AAA.

Problem with him is if he is not drunk, he is sober.

His friends never knew he drank till they saw him sober.

The guy drinks so much, he's over two thousand swallows ahead of Capistrano.

The drunk saw a sign that says: Drink Canada Dry. So he went.

Said the society matron to her husband at a cocktail party, "Winston, dear, don't you think you ought to stop drinking now?...Your face is beginning to look blurry!"

A drunk happened by a man doing push-ups. He told the man, "I hate to let you know. She have slipped away."

A drunk used his cellular phone to call 911. "Fucking bastards ripped my car apart. They took everything! The stereo. The glove compartment. My steering wheel. Even the dashboard!" he babbled on as the operator took down the information and dispatched a police car.

A few moments later, the drunk called again. "Forget it. I found out I was in the backseat."

Two drunken construction workers were at the jobsite of a half-finished high-rise. Said one, "Bet you ten bucks I can carry you to the top."

"You don't have the nerve. Make it twenty bucks and it's a bet."

"You're on."

So the guy put his friend over his shoulders and staggered up the structure. As he reached the top, he slipped a bit and the two almost fell to the ground a hundred feet below. "I won!" exclaimed the first one.

"Yeah, you did. But I had high hopes when you slipped!"

The bar owner has just got home when his phone rang. A drunken voice asked, "What time do you open your bar?"

"I just closed and won't open again till noon tomorrow!" the owner answered angrily and hang up.

Not one minute has passed when the phone rang again. It was the same drunk with the same question.

"I just told you noon. Don't you understand?" the owner shouted angrily and slammed the phone down.

The phone rang almost instantaneously. The owner grabbed the phone and yelled, "Noon. Noon. Noon. Why the hell do you want to into my bar so early?"

"In? Who said about going in? I want to get out!"

And then there was the drunk who turned to the bottle as a replacement for women. He got his penis stuck in one.

Four friends met in a bar and got drunk. One of them suddenly fell dead to the floor. One of the drunks volunteered to break the news to the dead man's wife. When she answered the door, he said, "I'm sorry to tell you your husband died an hour ago."

"No!" was all the widow could say.

"Well, why don't you go to the back and see for yourself who they're dragging in."

Two drunks were stumbling around on a street corner at high noon. Said one, "Man, I think we should just go to the sun."

"We can't. We'll burn up when we get near."

"Don't be silly. We'll go at night."

A drunk look half-dead as he clung to a lamppost by the street. A passerby asked, "Why don't you take the bus home?"

"Me missus will never let me keep it."

A drunk rushed into the doctor's office, yelling, "Doc, doc. You gotta help me put my penis back."

"Where is it?"

"It's right here in my pocket," said the drunk, as he fished it out.

"That is not your penis. It's a cigar stub."

"Oh my God. I have smoked my penis."

A rambunctious drunk entered a bar and was promptly bounced out. After a while, he reentered the bar and was again promptly tossed out. This went on and on. Finally the drunk asked the bouncer, "Do you worked in every bar in this town?"

A drunk asked the bartender, "Do you have lemons with wings?"

"Don't be silly. Of course we don't," replied the bartender.

"Ooops. I must have squeezed your canary into my drink."

A drunk was pulled out of a burning bar by a fireman, who then asked him, "Any idea how the fire started?"

"Nah! It was already burning when I went in."

At a bar, a drunk was stumbling around when he came up to a lady and belched out loudly. Her companion shouted at him, "How dare you belch before my girlfriend?"

"I'm sorry. I didn't know she wanted to go first."

A drunk stumbled upon a man roasting a chicken on a barbecue spit and remarked, "Not only can't I hear what you are playing, your monkey is also on fire."

Two drunks got thrown out of a bar. One stared at the full moon and said, "Why don't we just go to the moon?"

"How?"

"Here, I'll shine a flashlight towards the moon and you just walk on the beam."

"Great idea--wait a second, what happens if you turn off the flashlight?"

A drunk asked a man for the time. The man replied, "4:00"
"I'm must be going crazy," said the drunk, "All day long I keep on getting different answers."

A Good Samaritan happened upon a drunk lying by the sidewalk. So he offered his help.

"Do you live near here?" asked the kind soul.

"Second floor." the drunk appointed upwards.

So the Samaritan carried the drunk up the stairs, opened the door, and pushed him in.

When he came back to the street, he saw another drunk on the street, groaning and moaning, "Help..."

"You want to go upstairs, too?"

"Yesh---"

So the Samaritan carried the drunk up the stairs, opened the door, and pushed him in.

When he came back again to the street, he saw yet another drunk. Slightly annoyed but true to his nature, the Samaritan proceeded to lift the drunk when suddenly the inebriated guy wrestled free and jumped into the middle of the street to stop a car.

"Help! he shouted, "That fucking bastard keeps hauling me up the stairs and pushing me down the elevator shaft!"

The drunk gawked as a pair of identical twins entered the bar. One of the twins explained automatically, "Oh, we're twins."

"All four of you?"

An alcoholic's wife was at her wit's end trying to stop her husband from drinking. A friend suggested frightening the daylight out of him. So she dressed up as the devil and waited for him to come home. That night, as he stumbled in, she pounced on him and cried, "Boo!"

"Who are you?" asked her drunken husband.

"I am the devil!"

"Really?" he said as he shook her hand, "I married your sister."

A cop stopped a stumbling drunk in the street and asked, "Where do you think you're going?"

"Home. I just came from a New Year's party."

"New Year's was over a month ago."

"Uh-huh. That's I best be going home."

A drunk asked a man for the time. The man replied "3:00."

"Is that morning or evening?"

Jokes

Drugstore

A young girl rushed into a drugstore and said, "Quick, I need tampons, please! And thank God!"

A man enters a drugstore and asks, "What do you have for hiccups?"

Without warning, the pharmacist slapped him. The man yelled, "What's that for?"

"Well, you don't have the hiccups now."

"No, but my wife out in the car still has."

A man went to the neighborhood drugstore and asked for an aphrodisiac.

"I got two sweet young ladies coming tonight," he told the pharmacist with a wink.

So the pharmacist gave the man the most potent stimulant he had, saying, "It takes two hours for it to take effect. Make sure you provide ample time."

The man laughed, "Well, I better drink it now," and opened the bottle and drank everything.

The next day, he returned to the drugstore and asked the pharmacist, "Do you have anything for sore flesh?"

Recognizing him, the pharmacist asked, "For your private parts?"

"No, my hand. The girls didn't show."

A man hailed down a taxi in Las Vegas, asked for the fare to the airport, and was taken aback. The driver said, "Tell you what. Let's flip it for double or nothing."

The man agreed and called heads. Heads it was. The man turned and slowly walked away, "I guess I have to walk."

One hot summer, two workers were digging a deep ditch while their foreman stood under the shade of a tree. One asked the other, "Why is he just standing under the tree while we're down here under the hot sun?"

The other replied, "I don't know but I sure will ask him." So he went to the foreman and asked the same question.

"Intelligence," replied the boss.

"Intelligence?"

"Here, I'll show you. I'll put my hand on the tree and you try to punch it as hard as you can," said the foreman. The worker put out his hardest punch but the boss removed his hand on time and he ended up hitting the tree.

"That's intelligence," said the foreman. The worker nodded and went back to the ditch, where his friend waited.

"So?"

"Intelligence," replied the worker.

"Intelligence?" asked his friend.

"Here, I'll show you," said the worker as he placed his hand on his face, "Hit my hand with your shovel."

A man gave two hitchhikers a ride at the back of his pick-up truck. Just as he was making a turn around a cliff, a tire blew, causing the truck to go over and into a lake. The driver managed to get out of the truck and swam ashore, where he waited for his two passengers. After a few minutes, the driver concluded they must have drowned. As he began to walk away, the two hitchhikers surfaced, coughing out water as they waded to the bank.

"What took you so long?" the driver asked.

Gasping for breath, one of them said, "We had trouble getting the tailgate down."

Larry is a simple-minded man who often falls prey to the jokes his co-workers play on him. One of them would greet him everyday with a conversation that went like this:

"Hi, Larry. Have you seen Ben?"

Larry would reply, "Ben who?"

"Ben' down and kiss my ass!"

Even though the guy repeats the joke every single day, Larry keeps on falling for it. Taking pity, a nice co-worker told him, "Next time you meet, ask him if he's seen Eileen. Naturally he will ask 'Eileen who?' That's when you say, 'Eileen over and you kiss my ass!'"

Larry repeated the script until he memorized the lines. The next day, he saw his tormentor. Without waiting, he scurried over and asked, "Have you seen Eileen?"

"No," the man replied, "She ran off with Ben."

"Ben who?"

A man went to a party with both ears shining bright red. His friends asked him about it. "I was doing some ironing when my girlfriend called and I picked up the iron by mistake."

"What about the other ear?"

"She called back to ask what happened?"

Bert and Ernie are two lifeguards at the beach. Neither has a face that could launch even a single girl, but each sunset, Bert would leave the beach with a girl while Ernie would go home empty-handed. Ernie finally decided to seek Bert's advice.

"It's simple. Wear a pair of tight trunks and put a cucumber in it," Bert advised.

Ernie did exactly what Bert suggested. Still, after three days, he was still alone at the end of each day. So he went back to Bert.

Bert took a look at him and said, "Trunks are fine but try putting the cucumber in front."

Two friends were at a bar watching the 11:00 news. A report came on about a man threatening to jump from a hotel's 10th floor.

The first guy said, "Hundred bucks, he will jump."

Second guy answered, "It is a bet."

The man jumped. So the second guy took out a hundred dollar bill from his wallet. The first guy refused to take it and said, "I can't take your money. I saw the 6:00 news."

"I saw it, too. But I didn't think he was that stupid to jump twice."

A father was teaching his dumb son to pee. "Just follow these steps. One: Take your thing out of your pants. Two: Pull back the foreskin. Three: Pee. Four: Push back the foreskin. Five: Put your thing back in your pants."

His son nodded to show he understood. But the next day, the father was awakened by his wife early in the morning. "Your son has been in the bathroom for hours! He won't come out."

"What's he doing?"

"I'm not sure. But I keep hearing him count, 'Two-Four', 'Two-Four', 'Two-Four'..."

"Well, underneath, it said 'Lye.'"

Three friends tried to squeeze into a small bed but it was so crowded none of them could sleep. Finally, one of them decided to sleep on the floor. So, he got out and laid on the floor. As he was about to fall asleep, one of his friends said, "Hey, I think you can come back up here. There's a lot of room now."

A truck driver and his friend were on his semi going down the highway when they came to a tunnel. The sign states: "MAXIMUM HEIGHT: 11 FEET." The driver stopped, took out a tape measure and found out his truck was 13 feet high. His friend looked around and turned to him, "I don't see any cops. Let's go for it."

Two hit men were hired to kill a potential state witness. For days, they kept watch as they studied his schedule. Soon, they determined the best time was at exactly 1:00 in the afternoon, when the man would go out to his patio and light a cigarette.

The killers then set up on a hill overlooking the safehouse. They prepared their rifles and waited. Their watches ticked to 1:00. No one came out. Fifteen minutes passed by. Still no one. Another fifteen minutes passed by. Still no sight of the man. Finally, one of them turned and remarked, "I sure hope nothing happened to him."

On his way out to lunch, the boss handed his new secretary the day's bills and asked her to total them. He added, "Make sure you're right. Check your addition three times."

When he returned from lunch, the secretary proudly handed him the documents plus a cover sheet of figures. "I'm all done, sir."

"Good. Did you review your work like I told you?"

"Yes, sir. Three times like you told me."

"Good. Thank you."

"Sir, on the bottom part, you'll see all three answers."

Wife: Oh, it must be that stuck-up Mrs. Robinson in Apt. 205.

One morning, Bob, a railroad engineer, overslept by an hour. In his rush, he decided not to shower nor shave. He put on his rumpled uniform and started to go down the stairs. He stumbled and fell the rest of the way. His butt smarting, he limped to his car. But his car couldn't start. So he flagged down a taxi whose driver overcharged him. At last, he got to the cabin of the train and but had a difficult time starting it. Just when the wheels began to turn, he noticed another train on the same track heading towards his direction at a very fast speed. He frowned, shook his head and turned to his fireman, "Ever had one of those days?"

Two friends were debating the law of physics as applied to a slice of bread. Tony insists a slice of bread will fall with the buttered side up. His friend Gerry insists it's butter side down. So they decided to test it.

Gerry buttered a slice of bread and Tony flipped it up in the air. The bread came down buttered side up.

"I win!" exclaimed Tony.

"That's only because I buttered the wrong side," retorted Gerry.

Donald rode a taxi in New York City. The friendly driver, a rare one for that matter, gave him a riddle: "This person has the same father and mother I have but is neither my brother nor my sister. Who can it be?"

Donald thought and scratched his head and finally gave up, "I can't figure it out? Who is it?"

"It's me!" the driver smiled.

Donald mulled that over and laughed. Two days later, at a party, Donald announced to his friends, "I have a puzzling riddle. I know someone who has the same father and mother I have but is neither my brother nor my sister. Who can it be?"

All his friends began thinking, looking inquisitive and scratching their heads. Finally, one spoke, "Donald, we've to admit we are stumped. Who is it?"

Donald laughed out aloud and said, "Well, a taxi driver in New York.

Jeff was walking down Market Street when suddenly two muggers attacked him. He fought back like a wounded animal but to no avail as the two thugs broke his nose, pinned him down, and kicked him in the ribs. Writhing in pain, he wasn't able to stop them from getting to his wallet.

They jubilantly went through it only to find a couple of dollar bills. They then turned his pockets inside out but found only a quarter and some dimes.

The two muggers looked at each other in astonishment. "You some kind of lunatic? You put up a hell of a fight just for two bucks?" one yelled at Jeff.

"I thought you were after the three hundred in my socks!"

Feminists

Feminists complained about the name of the Boston Pops. So now they are changing it to Boston Pops and Moms...

A college professor was fond of telling sex-oriented jokes in class. Unable to take it any longer, a group of his female students decided to stage a walk-out with his very next joke. During the next class, true to form, the professor began to tell a joke, "I hear there's an extreme shortage of whores in Paris---"

The group members looked at each other and stood up en masse to leave the room. The professor looked at them and said, "Girls, why the rush? The next plane out doesn't leave until tomorrow morning."

A male colleague in the office was such an obnoxious chauvinist that some of his female co-workers decided to teach him a lesson. Later four of them met to discuss what they have done.

The first said, "I installed a virus in his computer. He should have fun recovering his data."

The second said, "I changed his message in the voice-mail system. His customers will have a laugh at his expense."

The third said, "I did the best thing! I found some condoms in his desk's drawer, so I punched tiny holes in all of them."

The fourth fainted.

Figure

She wore a bra, out of hope.

She worn out her training bras.

She was so flat-chested, she had "This Side Front" tattooed on her chest.

She is lucky there's no laughing bra.

Head to feet, she was cute. In between, it was a mess.

She was so flat-chested she had to use suspenders for her bra.

She was a perfect 10. 10-10-10 in vital statistics, that is.

She has what you'd call a Supreme Court figure - no appeal.

Jokes

Fishing

Two friends went fishing and were surprised to catch to a lot of fish. After they had enough, they decided to go back. Said the first, "Wait. Let's mark the spot so that we can come back."

His friend agreed and marked a big X on the bottom of the boat.

After they have returned the boat and were on their way home, the first suddenly frowned and turned to his friend, "I just realized we made a stupid mistake."

"How's that?"

"How will we find the spot if we do not get the same boat the next time?"

Dr. Quintin L. Uy, Honolulu, HI

Spotting a man fishing without license, the warden casually approached and asked, "Fishing?"

The man replied, "No. I'm drowning my worms."

Two buddies were fishing under the bridge when a funeral procession passed by. One of them took off his hat and placed it over his chest. Remarked his friend, "Mighty nice of you to show respect."

He replied, "Least I could do. We could have been married 23 years this month."

A man was telling his friend about the fish he caught the week before. "Hell, it took me at least half an hour to land it. But then I saw it was too small, so me and my three buddies threw it back."

Two friends were out on the lake fishing. One was wasn't catching anything, the other one had them biting by the minute. The first said, "I don't get it. My equipment is a lot better than yours. I use better bait as well. Yet you are doing much better than me,"

"I guess it all boils down to position," replied his friend.

"What position?"

"Well, when I wake up in the morning, I check the position of my wife. If she's lying on her right, I fish out of the right side of the boat. If she's lying on her left, I go to the left."

"What if she's on her back?"

"I don't go fishing then."

Two friends went fishing on opposite ends of the lake. At the end of the day, they met at the cleaning shed. One carried a giant marlin, the other had a dozen tiny fish. The one with the small fish looked at his friend and remarked, "Caught one only, eh?"

Florida

A real estate agent was worried. He has sold a man from out-of-state fifty acres and the man was flying into town to check on his purchase. The man was bound to find out his fifty acres are underwater and the agent just didn't know what to do. So he asked advice from his manager, who suggested, "As soon as he finds out of his property, sell him a yacht."

Jokes

Foot in the mouth

David just paid $350,000 for a small house on a cramped lot along a dead-end street in one of California's high-priced residential areas and was seeking reassurance during a party. "Did I get a good price for it?" he asked the hostess.

"Certainly. There is no way you can lose around here. Why, if my word is not good enough for you, why don't you ask Jim over there. He's one of the top real estate agents in this area."

So David introduced himself to Jim, told him about his purchase. "I'm kind of worried I paid too much."

Jim laughed heartily, "Listen, friend, you will be able to sell it off at a much higher price. Why, just yesterday, some sucker shelled out $350,000 for a small house on a cramped lot along a dead-end street."

Woman, to a friend: My God! What did you do to your hair? It looks like a wig!

Friend: It is a wig.

Woman: Really? I could never tell.

Bob was extremely shy, so when he was late for church and saw the only seat left was between two ladies, he just stood by the door. The usher came to him and said, "Don't be shy. Just go there, sit down and be friendly. Ask them if they are married and if they have any children. They will surely open up to you."

So Bob took his seat, turned to the lady to his right, smiled timidly, and asked, "Got any kids?" She replied, "Oh, I have two." He continued, "Are you married?" She looked away.

Bob turned to the one on his left and asked, "Are you married?" She replied, "No." So he asked, "Got any kids?"

Asked the tourist in the antique shop, "So, what's new?"

A man got into a serious accident and was hospitalized. Being in serious condition, he wasn't allowed many visitors. That didn't deter a young lady who simply marched straight inside his room. She was blocked by an elderly woman dressed like a senior volunteer, "I'm sorry. No outside visitors are allowed in this room."

The young lady replied, "Oh, that's okay. I'm his sister."

"Oh, really? I'm his mother."

Sam was always late for his morning commutes, which consisted of taking the bus to the pier and then taking the ferry for the transbay ride. One morning, Sam woke up to find he has slept over a hour too long. Without showering, he put on his clothes, rushed out and hitched a ride to the pier, having totally missed the morning express bus. As they neared the pier, Sam saw the ferryboat already moving. So he quickly thanked the driver, jumped out of the car and raced to the pier. As he reached the end, with all his might, he hurled himself across the water. He landed on the boat with a loud crash but picked himself up proudly, and looked around for approval of his feat.

A guy looked his way and asked, "What's your hurry? We are coming in, anyway."

Mike got promoted and finally got his own office. He couldn't help be impressed at his own success as he sat down on the big black leather chair. As he swiveled around, he heard the door opened. Wanting to impress whomever it was, he quickly picked up the phone and said, "...that's no problem. I have called Tokyo yesterday, HongKong this morning and will be in touch with Munich by today's end. You can rely on me, as far as I'm concerned, the million dollars are in the bank!" He gently then put back the receiver. He swiveled back to the front and asked the visitor, "What can I do for you?"

"Oh, I just came to hook up your phone."

Two men, a young guy and an older one, sat next to each other at a bar. Quipped the young man, "You know, the student population at the university consists of hookers and football players."

Replied the older one, "You should know my daughter goes to the university."

"Oh, really? What position does she play?"

Jokes

Football

A future Hall-of-Famer wide receiver happened upon an apartment building on fire. A woman was leaning out of a third floor window with her baby in her arms. Flames could be seen all around her. The player called out to her, "Throw me the baby. I can catch it!"

"No! It's three stories down!" she screamed back.

"Don't worry. I will catch your baby. I do it for a living!" he reassured her.

The woman looked inside. The hot flames were drawing nearer. Reluctantly, she wrapped her baby in a thick blanket, and threw the baby in the player's direction. Unfortunately, she miscalculated his position and threw short. The player scrambled to get into place, and had to lunge with stretched hands to catch the baby at the last second. The crowd cheered.

He stood up, regained his footing, let out a cheer back, and spiked the baby.

Jokes

Fortune teller

A fortune-teller was reading a customer's palm. She told him, "You will live to be ninety."

He replied, "But I am ninety."

She smiled triumphantly, "What did I tell you?"

"If you're for real, you should be able to tell me the score of the Super Bowl before it starts."

"Sure. The score before the game starts is 0 - 0."

Fortune teller: My fee is a hundred dollars. For that, you get three questions.

Client: How much?

Fortune teller: Three hundred dollars.

Client: Isn't that too much?

Fortune teller: No. Now, what is your last question?

A customer asked the fortune-teller, "Am I going to die?"

She replied, "That's the last thing you're going to do."

Jokes

French

A Frenchman went to the United States for a brief visit and went back to his country. He told his friends, "America is the land of the free. You can dine in the best restaurants for free. You can drive an expensive car for free. You can even live in a mansion for free!"

"Is that what happened to you?"

"No, it happened to my sister."

Jokes

Frog

A man with a frog entered a bar and sat beside a pretty young lady. Smiling, he told her the frog's special.

"How special?" the lady asked.

"Well, he eats pussy."

"You expect me to believe that?"

"It's up to you to find out, isn't it?" the man continued his charming ways.

The girl decided she doesn't have anything to lose, so she agreed to go back to the man's place. There she took off her underwear and spread her legs. The man then placed the frog into position and commanded him to start. Despite the man's repeated requests, the frog sat immobile. Finally the man sighed and said, "This is the last time I'm going to show you..."

Jokes

Funeral

A fairly long funeral procession was going through the town's main street. As it did, it held up traffic. A driver in one of the blocked cars asked a bystander, "Whose funeral is it?"

"The guy in the first car."

A family friend was uncontrollable at a woman's funeral. They had carried an affair for so long he was unable to stop crying pitifully. Things got so bad, the husband approached him and said, "Don't worry, Bob. I'll marry again."

An atheist died and a Catholic friend went to his wake. The friend looked at him lying in the casket, shook his head, and said, "You're all dressed up and nowhere to go."

Asked the funeral director, "Do you want your mother-in-law buried or cremated?"

The man replied, "Let's not take chances. Let's do both."

A very wealthy man died. During the funeral, a bystander cried inconsolably. His friend asked him, "I didn't know you're related."

"We're not. That's why I'm crying."

A well-dressed lady was next to an empty seat, watching the football game intently. The usher asked about the vacancy.

"Oh, it's my husband's."

"So, where is your husband?"

"He died."

"Didn't anyone else in the family ask for his seat?"

"That's what I couldn't understand, too. Everyone wanted to attend his funeral."

Jokes

Gambling

As a gambler would say, so it came to pass.

The only time he gets good poker hands is when he plays bridge.

Tony just lost his life's saving in a casino. Desperate, he went to a bridge and thought about ending his life. As he started to climb over the rail, a soft voice whispers, "Go back to the casino." He looked around, saw no one, and hesitated. "Go back," said the voice. So he did.

Back at the casino, the voice told him to go the slots. So he took out his pocket change and played. To his surprise, he kept on winning. Soon he was up thirty dollars. The voice spoke again, "Now go to the blackjack table." He did and in less than thirty minutes, he had won five hundred dollars. The voice whispered again, "Go to the roulette table." Tony obediently did. And sure enough, he started winning. When he had won twenty thousand dollars, he thought about quitting. But the voice insisted, "Let it ride. Go double or nothing." So he did, and he lost it all. The voice went silent. Then it slowly said, "I think it is best if you go back to the bridge now."

Gay

The new gay church has a peculiar ritual - only every other member kneels.

The gay chess player decided to give up the game once and for all. He couldn't stand the idea of sacrificing his queen.

His dad wanted a son, his mom wanted a daughter. They both got what they wanted.

A gay took a job at the sperm bank and was fired the next day for drinking on the job.

Two gays were driving home when they rear-ended a truck. The gay driver went down to check the damage and to talk to the trucker, who told him, "You stupid asshole! You drive like a maniac. Fuck you!"

The gay driver sighed and hurried back to his companion and said, "Good news. We might be able to settle out-of-court."

Two gays passed a dog licking his balls. One asked, "Do you think you can do that?"

The other replied, "Maybe. Do you think he'd let me try?"

Two women were having lunch together. The discussion turned to their sons. "How's your son?" asked one.

"Oh, he's doing great. He is a plastic surgeon in Beverly Hills and earns over a million a year. What about your son? How's he?"

"He's still a bum. He's always living off someone else. Worse thing is that I just discovered he's gay."

"I'm sorry. That's really terrible."

"Oh, no. It is actually not that bad. He is seeing some plastic surgeon in Beverly Hills who is making over a million a year."

Two gays went to the circus to see the lion tamer kissing and hugging the animals. The performer even put his head inside one lion's mouth. One asked the other, "Do you think you could do that?"

"Why not? Just get the animals out of there and I'll try it."

A cop patrolling an isolated highway came upon a naked man tied to a tree, his bare butt exposed to the world. He got out of the car and asked the man, "What happened?"

"I picked up a young girl. She turned out to have a gun. She forced me to stop here and told me to undress. Then she tied me to this tree. She left with my car, my wallet, and even my clothes."

Unzipping his fly, the cop smiled, saying, "Your poor soul, today just isn't your day."

A party consisting of six sexy women and a man was stranded in an island. Everyone's libido was quite strong, so the man made a schedule. He would spend one night a week with each of the women and would take Sunday off. At first, everyone was contented, but after several weeks, the man began to get bored and tired. It was the same routine, in and out, every week. He began wishing for another man to help him out.

His prayers were answered one day when another man was washed ashore. The man ran to him and welcomed him with a big hug, saying "You don't know how glad I am to see another man."

The newcomer stood back, and with a pronounced lisp and very feminine tone said, "Oooh! I think I'll like it here."

The man shook his head and said, "There goes Sunday!"

A very gorgeous lady of the night passed by two gays on the street. Said one, "Women like that sure can make you wish you're straight."

A retired pro football player went to a bar and sat on the only available stool next to a perfume-laced gay. Annoyed at the smell, he turned to the gay and told him, "Just looking at you makes me sick. You're a good-for-nothing little shithead!"

The gay was indignant. "That's bullshit. I'll bet anything you can't beat me at bar football."

"Bar football? What kind of game is that?"

Instead of explaining, the gay ordered a beer, chugged it down in one gulp, shouted, "Touchdown!" Then he stood up, dropped his pants, farted, and shouted, "Extra point!"

The pro sneered, ordered a beer, chugged it down in one gulp, shouted, "Touchdown!" He then also stood up and dropped his pants. But before he could fart, the gay rammed his penis into the pro's butt, shouting, "Blocked kick! I win!"

Jokes

Genie

After a thousand years of being imprisoned, the genie was finally freed by a scavenger who happened to find his lamp and accidentally rubbed it. He celebrated his freedom by stretching to his mighty fullest and yelling out a booming "Free at last!" Then he looked down at his rescuer and said, "Thanks." With that, he started to walk away.

"Wait a minute," the scavenger called out, "Aren't you going to grant me a wish?"

"You gotta be kidding. If I could grant wishes, do you think I would have been inside that lamp all these years?"

A man with a head the size of a softball entered a bar. Curious, the bartender asked him what happened to him. He replied, "I was down by the beach last night when a lamp washed ashore. I picked it and wiped it. All of a sudden a genie appeared. The genie was not your ordinary genie. She was the most beautiful woman I have ever seen. She granted me a wish. So I told her I wanted to make love to her. She said it was against regulations and told me to make another wish. So I asked her, 'What about a little head...'"

A genie told the flat-chested girl who's just released him from the lamp that she can have a wish. She immediately wished to have larger breasts but was unsure about the size.

"Okay, here is what I will do," said the genie, "every time someone says 'excuse me' to you, your breasts will grow. At the end of a week, I'll be back to see how you're doing." The girl agreed and thanked him before he disappeared.

Walking home, she was accidentally bumped by a gentleman who promptly said, "Excuse me." In an instant, her breasts grew an inch. Later, another gentleman bumped into her and also said, "Excuse me." Her breasts grew again.

Delighted, she stopped by the Chinese restaurant to order some take-out. As the waiter handed her the food, he accidentally dropped the bill. Picking up, he said, "A thousand excuse me."

The next day, the headlines read, "Chinese waiter killed by torpedoing breasts."

As long as their friends can tell, Mike and Wayne had always been in stiff competition with each other. When Mike bought a Ferrari, Wayne went out and got two. When Wayne got a mistress, Mike hooked up with twins. It went on and on. Then one day, Mike found a magic lamp. He rubbed it and, sure enough, a genie popped out. Said the genie, "You get three wishes. Except..."

"Except what?" asked Mike.

"Except that because of your exceptional relationship with Wayne, the mighty spirits have ruled that whatever you ask for, Wayne will have double."

Mike thought about it for a long time and then said, "Fair enough. For my first wish I want a hundred million dollars."

Poof! Mike got his money. Wayne, of course, became $200 million richer.

"Next, I want to have ten beautiful women at my command."

Poof! Mike got his harem. Wayne, naturally, got twice as many.

"And for my last wish," said Mike, "I want you to make one of my balls disappear."

Three men have been marooned on an island for almost a year. Then, one day, a magic lamp washed ashore. They hurriedly picked it up and rubbed it. A genie appeared and said, "Each of you get one wish."

Said the first, "I want to be with at home with my family." Poof! In an instant, he was gone.

Said the second, "I want to be back at work." Poof! He, too, disappeared.

Said the third, "Gee, it is kind of lonely without my friends. I wish I were with them." Poof! Poof! His friends reappeared.

A man found a magic bottle and took off the cork. A genie appeared and granted him a wish. "I want my dick to touch the floor!" said the man.

"That's easy," said the genie and promptly shortened the man's legs.

A man hosted a party. For entertainment, he had pianist who enthralled his guests all night long with his magnificent playing. That the pianist was a midget who stood only 12 inches high added to the rapture he held over his audience.

A guest remarked to the host, "He's simply magnificent! Where did you find him?"

"He was actually a gift from a genie who had a hearing problem."

"Hearing problem?"

"That's correct. I told the stupid guy I wanted a foot-long penis."

The genie told the young man who has just liberated him, "I hereby grant you a wish."

Without stopping to think, the young man replied, "I want to be inside a hot, wet pussy."

So the genie turned him into a tampon.

A young man rubbed a magic lamp he has picked up and a genie appeared, saying, "To you who has given me my freedom, I hereby grant you two wishes."

Without skipping a beat, the young man said, "I know what I want. I want to be always hard and to get all the ass I want."

"That's easy," replied the genie and promptly turned him into a toilet seat.

A young kid came upon a magic lamp. Playing with it, he rubbed it by chance, and poof! came out the genie. "My boy," said the genie, "I grant you three wishes. You can wish for anything you want?"

"Three?"

"Yes, three wishes."

"Okay, I want all the candies in the world." The genie waved his wand and an endless sea of candies appeared. The boy rubbed his eyes. He couldn't believe what he saw.

"Next, I want all the toys in the world." The genie waved his wand again and a towering mountain of toys appeared. The boy's eyes really widened.

Getting excited, the boy said, "Now, for my last wish, I want a million more wishes."

Jokes

Genitals

Three friends were discussing the shape of the penis.

Said the first, "The head is there to give a man more pleasure."

Said the second, "No. It is there to give a woman more pleasure."

Said the third, "Nonsense. It is there to keep your hand from slipping off."

Don and Paul were changing in the locker room when Don noticed his friend's penis was quite long. He asked Paul about it.

"Oh, this," Paul replied, holding his manhood, "I butter it up every morning."

So Don followed his friend's advice. But after two weeks, his penis was still very small. So he asked Paul.

"What have you been using?"

"Crisco," replied Don.

"Stupid. That is shortening."

Jokes

God

Two goldfish were swimming around in their tank when one told the other he no longer believed in God. His companion paused, swam a circle and looked at him, "You don't believe in God, that's your business. But let me ask you. Who do you think changes the water?"

Jokes

Golf

Golf is so popular with men because it lets them spend the whole day with hookers without their wives getting mad.

Funny how pushing a lawn mover is considered work and pushing a golf cart is considered fun.

Golf is like taxes. You drive hard to get to the green and then wind up in the hole.

The reason he likes to play golf is that he gets to hit the ball more often than anyone else.

The golfer's sex life was terrible because of his unusually short putts.

A zoologist spent a year teaching an ape how to play golf. Finally the day came for him to test the primate. He brought him to the course. The ape teed off and hit the ball four hundred yards. The ball came to within a foot of the cup. The ape looked at the ball, studied his position, and promptly hit the ball another four hundred yards.

"I'd move heaven and earth to break a hundred."
"Try moving heaven. You've moved enough earth today."

Two friends were playing golf. One hit his ball into a buttercup field. As he started thrashing away at the buttercups, looking for his ball, a heavenly young woman, dressed in a flowing white gown, appeared and asked him, "What are you doing?"

Getting frustrated at not being able to find his ball, he raised his voice, "What the hell do you want?"

She replied, "I'm the guardian fairy of the plants and flowers here. For what you have done to my buttercups, from hereon, anytime you eat butter, you will become very ill for a week." With that the woman vanished.

Startled, the golfer scrambled back, yelling for his friend. His friend replied, "I'm over here in the pussy willows. I'm looking for my ball."

The golfer screamed, "Jesus, stand still and don't do anything stupid!"

Said the pro to his student, "Now, go through the motion of the swing without hitting the ball."

"That is exactly why I'm taking lessons."

Said the newlywed to his bride, "Dear, I have to confess something. I'm a golf fanatic. You'll never see me on weekends during golf season."

She replied, "Well, honey, I got to confess to you, too. I'm a hooker."

"No problem," grinned the guy. "Just keep your head down and keep your left arm straight."

The bride-to-be, in all her wedding gown, kept on following her groom, dressed for golf, as he played. Together they made for a rather incongruous sight. Finally, he stopped and said, "I told you - only if it rained."

The man had just shot a hundred and fifty-something. Seeking consolation, he asked his caddy, "Am I the worst you have caddied before?"

Replied the tactful caddy, "How do I put it? Let me just say I have been in some spots on the course today that I never knew existed."

A man was late for his foursome. Finally he showed up, panting heavily from rushing. "Sorry guys. I was so swamped with work, it was a toss-up between staying behind or coming here. Playing golf won on the fifty-third toss!"

Two overweight men took up golf to shed some fat. As they teed off, the first guy said, "I don't think I can last that long."

"Okay. We stop as soon as one of us hits a hole in one."

A man was marooned on an uncharted island somewhere in the South Pacific. One day, just like in the beer commercials, a sexy woman emerged from the water.

"Been here long?"

"Too long."

"How long has it been your last cigarette?"

"Ten years."

So the goddess unzipped a sleeve pocket on her wet suit, pulled out a pack of cigarettes, lit one up and put it in his mouth.

"And long has it been since your last drink?"

"Ten years."

With that, she unzipped the other sleeve pocket and pulled out a flask. He took a long sip and looked at her in awe.

"Now," continued the siren in her seducing voice, "how long has it been since you played around?"

"Ten years," replied the man longingly.

She started to slowly pull down the front zipper of her wet suit, all the way, maintaining eye contact with him.

"Don't---don't tell me you got a set of clubs in there?"

Dr. Lucky Pukimo, Honolulu, HI

After a game, a man complained to his friend, "I'll never play with Fred again."

"Why not?"

"He lost his ball and then found it a foot from the green."

"So?"

"Not when I had hidden the ball in my pocket."

A man was struck by a ball and told the golfer, "I'll sue you for five thousand dollars."

The golfer replied, "I said 'fore.' "

"Okay. I'll settle for that."

Jokes

Good Samaritan

A Good Samaritan was walking down a street when he happened by a kid trying to reach for a doorbell. The little guy was jumping up and down and stretching himself all to no avail. The man told the kid, "Here, let me help you." He then lifted the kid so that the little guy could ring the door bell.

"Thanks, sir," the little guy grinned as the man put him down. "Now let's run."

A Good Samaritan happened upon a lady struggling with a particularly big stroller on a flight of steps in front of a house. He rushed to her aid. They pushed and pulled but the stroller was so really huge and unwieldy. The baby, having been bounced around, started to cry. The good soul paused, looked at the stroller, scratched his head and said, "I can't quite figure out why we can't get this down the stairs."

"Down?" exclaimed the lady, "I was trying to get it up."

Jokes

Gorilla

A gorilla was found in a tree in a plantation, so the game warden was called. He arrived holding a shotgun in one hand and the leash to which a ferocious-looking pit bull is tied. He approached the owner and said, "I'll climb up the tree and wrestle the gorilla. When he falls, the dog will automatically bite him in the balls and make him unconscious."

"What's the gun for?" asked the owner.

"If I fall down instead of the gorilla, shoot the dog."

Jokes

Gossips

What goes in one ear and in another.

It is information given by someone who can not use it to someone who will not.

Said the gossip, "Listen carefully, because I will say this once only. I promised not to repeat."

She talks like a revolving door.

Gossip flows both ways.

She went to the beach and got her tongue sunburned.

The only way to shut her up is for her to get lockjaw.

She has a voice that is extremely hard to extinguish.

Her doctor just called her. Her spare mouth is ready.

She has a mouth big enough to sing duets.

A gossip turns an earful into a mouthful.

A gossip is a slight-of-tongue artist.

Five friends were bored hanging out, so one of them suggested they do a little soul-searching and confess their faults to one another. The others agreed.

The first said, "I shoplift from time to time."

The second added, "I beat up my kids."

The third said, "I drink too much."

The fourth sobbed, "I masturbate too much!"

The last whispered, "I like to gossip."

Jokes

Government

A government contractor was trying to bribe his way into a contract. "What do you say about owning an exotic foreign convertible?" he asked the buyer.

"I can't accept an expensive gift like that. It would constitute a bribe."

"Well, what if I sell you the car?"

"For how much?"

"Say a dollar."

"Well, in that case, I will take two."

Jokes

Gullibility

In the Sioux country, a tourist stumbled upon an old-timer who tells him about this legend of the nearby caves: Many, many years ago, some of the beautiful maidens of the tribe hid in the caves to avoid the white men. Since then, they have never been seen. But if a man is lucky enough to hear a "woo-woo" call from one of them, he should strip off all his clothing and rush into the cave to where the sound came from. An unparalleled sexual experience awaits him deep inside the cave.

The tourist thought it was a joke and laughed it off. But that night, while he was exploring deep inside one of the caves, he heard a faint "woo-woo." He thought about it and decided he didn't have anything to lose. So he stripped and rushed towards the sound.

The next day, the police didn't know what to make of the nude body in the cave that was run over by a train coming through the tunnel.

Jokes

Gynecologist

Asks the old lady, "Does your mommy know what you do for a living?"

A young woman was being examined by her gynecologist, who asked, "What exactly happened?"

Blushing, she said, "Well, my boyfriend had his face down there. He got so excited his glasses fell in."

"His glasses?"

"Yes," she confirmed.

"I can't see anything in here," the doctor said as he peered inside.

"That's funny because I can see you clearly."

A gynecologist was examining his patient. As he finished, he told her, "Everything looks okay." A few seconds later, the patient heard him say it again. She told him, "I heard you the first time. You don't have to repeat it."

"I didn't."

"So why do you want to be a gynecologist?"

"I heard there are a lot of openings."

Contrary to popular men's beliefs, gynecologists do not have a wonderful job. Most of the time, by the end of the day, they are bushed.

A young wife went to see her gynecologist, saying, "Doc, we've been trying to have a baby for a year now. Can you tell me what's wrong?"

The doctor replied, "Well, let's see what we can do. Why don't use undress and lie down?"

"Okay," said the young lady, "But I really would prefer to have his baby."

A blushing woman confessed to her gynecologist, "My vibrator is stuck inside."

The doctor said, "Don't worry, I'll take it out in no time."

"Oh, no. That's not what I meant! I just want you to change the batteries."

Jokes

Haberdasher

An eccentric client had just ordered a bright yellow three-piece suit made when he passed away. Unable to sell it, the tailor told his assistant, "Sell that for me and you can keep half the money."

The assistant took the suit home with him, went to his blind neighbor and was able to convince the man to buy the suit. He called his boss about the good news. But the next morning, the assistant showed up at work all bandaged up. "Good Lord, what happened?" his boss asked.

"The guy liked the suit. But his Seeing Eye dog was pissed!"

Jokes

Hair

Eddie: Name three things you do with your hair each morning?

Mary Lou: I shampoo it, I part it in the middle, and I comb it.

Eddie: Now, what about the hair on your head?

His hair will be white as long as he lives. Her hair will be black as long as she dyes.

Wife: I just set my hair.

Husband: What time does it go off?

Jokes

Heaven

A Sunday School teacher asked, "What do you have to do to get heaven?"
A little boy answered, "Get sick and call for the minister."

The Sunday school teacher asked her class, "How many of you want to go to heaven?" Everyone raised their hands except Larry. She asked him, "Why don't you want to go to heaven?"
"Not if this group of geeks is going!"

The Sunday school teacher asked her class, "How many of you want to go to heaven?" Everyone raised their hands except Kevin. She asked him, "Why don't you want to go to heaven?"
"My mother wants me to go straight home after school!"

Jesus was making his rounds in Heaven when he came upon a desolate white-haired, old man. He asked the sad soul, "Why are so unhappy? This is Heaven, after all."

The old man replied, "I've spent all my time looking for my son and I can't find him anywhere."

"Why don't you tell me more about it. Perhaps I could help you," Jesus offered.

"Okay," the old man agreed, "back on earth, I was a carpenter. A son was given to me through a miracle. But one day he went away. Since then I have never seen nor heard from him. I was really hoping to find him here in Heaven."

His heart pounding wildly, Jesus leaned over the old man and asked softly, "Father?"

The old man looked at Jesus and replied, "Pinocchio?"

Jokes

Hell

A jerk died and went to Hell. To his surprise, he found Hell was just one big enormous place where people were just standing in ankle-deep shit. He asked a man near him, "Is this Hell?"

The man answered, "Yes, this is Hell."

The jerk thought about his fate and said, "Maybe it ain't that bad after all."

Just then, Satan came on the public announcement system and said, "Coffee break is over. Everybody back on your heads."

A very rich and wicked man was dying, so the family sent for the pastor. He told the pastor, "I ain't scared about dying. It is just that I couldn't take my money with me."

Replied the pastor, "Don't worry about it. It will all burn up when you get there anyway."

An evil man died and went to hell. He was led into a cave full of champagne bottles and beautiful women. Smiling to himself, he said, "Heck. This ain't no bad way to spend the rest of eternity."

His devil escort sneered as he locked the gate behind the man. "Don't speak too soon, my boy."

"What do you mean?"

"In hell, all the bottles have holes in the bottom. And the women don't."

Jokes

Hillbilly

It was his first time in Atlantic City and the hillbilly was eager to play. On the way to a casino he saw a parking meter, stopped and put in a quarter. After turning the lever, he looked at the meter and shouted, "I won! I won! I won an hour!"

Heard about the hillbilly who went to Las Vegas for the first time? He came upon a soda machine and inserted some quarters. A soda can came out. So he inserted from quarters. More cans appeared. Soon he had a line of cans at his feet. But he kept on inserting quarters. A passer-by asked, "Don't you have enough! There's enough to last you for a month!"

"Can't stop now, sir. I'm on a roll. Can't tell when I'll be this lucky again!"

A hillbilly came back from his honeymoon and complained to his father, "She's a virgin! That's right, I didn't touch her. If she ain't good enough for her own family, she ain't good enough for me!"

His wife was about to give birth so the hillbilly went to fetch the doctor. Arriving back, the doctor asked the hillbilly to hold the kerosene lamp up close so that he can perform the delivery. Moments later, the cries of a baby filled the room. The doctor looked up and said, "You've got a son." The hillbilly was about to turn off the lamp when the doctor stopped him, "Hold still, another one's coming out." A few minutes later, the cries of another baby filled the room. "You've got another son." The hillbilly was all excited and was jumping up and down. The doctor asked him to hold still and said, "There's another one."

The hillbilly was stunned, "Do you think the light is attracting them?"

A hillbilly took his wagon to town and along the way saw a sign that said, "SPEED LIMIT 30." So he whipped his mule, "C'mon, you can make it."

A hillbilly just got a divorce from his wife. The judge agreed his fourteen year old wife was acting too much like a kid.

Two hillbillies got into a large outhouse. As one of them lowered his pants, a five dollar bill fell out of his pockets into the hole. Nonchalantly, he took out a few ten dollar bills and threw them into the hole. The other guy asked him what he was doing.

"You think I'm going in there just for five lousy bucks?"

A hillbilly decided to expand his house. As the contractor started chopping down the trees to make way, the hillbilly ordered him not to touch an oak tree near the corner of his property.

"Why do you want to save that tree?" asked the contractor.

"That's where I had my first taste of you know what."

The contractor winked and said, "I know what you mean."

"Yeah. To think the whole time her mom was just a few feet away."

The contractor didn't believe what he just heard, "You gotta be kidding! Didn't her mom say anything?"

"Sure did. Baaaaaaa...."

A hillbilly wanted to surprise his wife so he went into town and bought himself a new suit. On the way home, he stopped his wagon by the creek. He got out, took off his clothes, burned them, and jumped into the water to bathe himself. When he was done, he got out of the water, went to his wagon and discovered his new suit had been stolen. He got on the wagon, and said to the horse, "What the heck. We'll surprise her anyway."

Jokes

Honeymoon

Groom to bride, on their honeymoon night, "Dear, am I the first?"
"Why does everyone ask me that question?"

The honeymoon is over when the husband calls home to say he'll be late for dinner and the answering machine says it is in the microwave.

The bride was shy about being a newlywed and asked her husband not to tell anyone as he registered at the honeymoon hotel's front desk. The next morning, she went down to the lobby and noticed everyone was looking at her. She went back to her husband and asked, "I thought I told you not to tell anyone we're newlyweds."

"I didn't. I just told them we're good friends."

The groom had a small penis and was very self-conscious about it. So on their wedding night, he turned off the lights before undressing. Once in bed, he grabbed his bride's hand and put it on his penis.

"Dear, we'll need the light if we are going to write thank-you notes," she said.

On their honeymoon night, the burly groom took off his pants and asked his bride to put them on. The waist alone was twice her body.

She said, "I can't wear your pants."

"That's right," intoned the groom, "And don't you forget it. I'm the one who wears the pants in the family."

The bride took off her panties and asked her husband to try it on.

"No way. I can't get into your pants."

"That's right. And that's the way it will be until you change your attitude."

A depressed man was telling his friend about his honeymoon. "You know, without realizing, I put five ten-dollar bills on the pillow when I got up to change the morning after."

"Don't feel so bad. She probably didn't notice it."

"That's the problem. She was half-asleep when she gave me a five dollar change."

The shy bride on her honeymoon didn't want to let other people notice they were newlyweds, so she ask her husband what could do to hide the fact. He suggested, "From now on, you carry our luggage."

The groom had a small penis and was very self-conscious about it. So on their wedding night, he turned off the lights before undressing. Once in bed, he grabbed his bride's hand and put it on his penis.

"Oh, thanks. But I don't smoke."

The bride was recounting to her friend what happened during her honeymoon. "Imagine, there we were, making love for the first time when someone knocked at the door. He had the nerve to get up and answer it."

"And left you lying there?"

"No, that's just the problem. He took me with him."

Jokes

Horse

Farmer: I got a horse that sometimes walks normal and sometimes limps. What should I do?

Vet: Next time it walks normal, sell him.

A potential buyer inspected the horse that he was interested in and couldn't find anything wrong. He asked the seller, "Why so cheap?"

The owner replied, "He is such a ham, I'm fed up with his antics. He likes to pretend he is someone else. When you take his picture, he would turn his face to the side. When you play music, he would dance. When you sing, he would also sing."

"That's not bad. He's actually cute. I'll buy him."

"You got a deal," the owner said, then turning to the horse, "C'mon, boy, get up and show us your impression of a lame horse."

A man enters a bar, accompanied by a horse. He announced to everyone inside, he is willing to bet five dollars to a hundred no one can make his horse laugh. The other patrons jumped at the chance to make a quick $100 and immediately formed a line to try. Person after person tried, each paying the man $5 for a chance to make the horse laugh. Every single one failed. Finally, a midget came up, gave the man $5, and whispered something into the ears of the horse, who began laughing uncontrollably. Surprised, the man paid up and lost everything he had gained just moments before.

Resolving to gain back the money, he announced he's willing to bet five dollars to a hundred no one can make his horse cry. Again the other patrons decided to try their luck. Again every single one failed. The midget came up again, paid the man $5, went in front of the horse and dropped his pants. The horse promptly began crying. The man paid up again. Curious, he asked the midget how he managed to make the horse laugh and cry. The midget replied, "It was easy. The first time, I told him my penis was bigger than his." The second time, I showed him."

A horse enters a pub and promptly sits down at the bar. The bartender approaches and asks him, "Why the long face?"

A city dweller out on a country drive ran over a horse. So he approached the owner and asked, "How much is your horse?"

The owner replied, "That depends. Are you a tax assessor or did you just killed my horse?"

The minister has been reassigned to an urban city, so he decided to sell his horse to one of his parishioners. He told the new owner, "Keep in mind the horse has been trained by religious people. He won't respond to the usual commands. To make him go, you must tell him, 'Praise the Lord.' To make him stop, just say 'Amen.' "

The new owner took off on his horse and decided to take a shortcut across the woods. Suddenly something startled the horse and caused him to gallop down, headed towards a deep canyon. The new owner kept shouting, "Whoa! Whoa!" as he unsuccessfully tried to rein in the horse. Suddenly he remembered the right command and shouted, "Amen." The horse stopped barely a foot away from the edge of the canyon. The new owner, trembling from the scare, look down at the steep canyon, and said, "Praise the Lord!"

Hospital

As far as the candy striper can recall, the grumpy old patient in Room 512 never smiled. She went out of her way to make the old man feel better but was unsuccessful. All the patient keeps saying is, "I feel miserable. I can't smile, I really feel miserable."

Finally the candy striper said, "Can't you smile even just a bit for your doctor's sake? He's extremely worried about your case."

Two expectant fathers were in the waiting room when a doctor came out and talked to one of them, "Congratulations. You have a baby boy."

The other man stood up and said, "Wait a minute. I was here first."

A doctor making his round was surprised to see an old patient seated on his bed with his tongue out and his middle finger raised high up. He asked the nurse about the old man. She replied, "I told him you were going to examine his sexual organs."

A patient in a hospital room suddenly shouted, "My penis! My penis is on fire!" A doctor rushed in to check. A few seconds later, the doctor was heard reprimanding the nurse, "You need to listen more carefully. You were supposed to prick his boil."

An overendowed young lady checked into the hospital for a breast reduction operation. As she lay in bed waiting for the surgery, a man in a white coat entered her room, lifted the sheet covers and examined her breasts. A few minutes later, another man in a white coat entered the room, did the same thing and turned around to leave.

Her impatience getting the better of her, she called out to the man, "Aren't you going to operate me yet?"

"I dunno," he replied, "We're here to paint the room across the hall."

A man called the hospital, inquiring about a certain patient. The nurse answered, "Oh, Mr. Stein is doing extremely well. I believe he will be going home in a couple of days. Who should I say called?"

There was a pause on the other end of the line, "This is Mr. Stein. I couldn't get my doctor to tell me anything."

"I'm here to see my friend. He is the one who's involved in the bomb explosion."

"Oh, yes. He's in room 320, and 322, and 324."

A plain-looking nurse just came back from a patient's room. She told another nurse, one much prettier than she is, about the patient's penis having a tattoo that read "Unica." Her curiosity piqued, the pretty nurse decided to take a peek. A moments later, she went back to the first nurse and said, "It doesn't say 'Unica.' It says 'United States of America!'"

An expectant father called the hospital, saying, "We need to check in now. My wife's water just broke."

"Okay. Is this her first child?"

"Hell, no. This is her husband!"

Surgeon: Do you prefer a local anesthetic?

Rich patient: Money is no problem. Use an imported one."

The doctor was an extremely busy man. To maximize his time at the hospital, he scribbled abbreviations on the patients' charts. OH stood for open heart surgery. BP for bypass, and so on. He made sure all incoming interns learn about his efficient system. Unfortunately, he was late in briefing a new intern. Catching up with the freshman after surgery, he asked, "So, how did the appendectomy go?"

"Appendectomy? I thought you wanted an autopsy!"

Hunter

Two friends were hunting when one of them was bitten on the penis by a snake. His friend rushed back to their jeep and used the car phone to call his doctor for advise. The doctor said, "Make an incision across the two puncture holes and suck the blood out."

"Can I just squeeze the blood out."

"No, you need to suck it and then spit it out."

"What if I don't suck it?"

"You friend might die."

The friend thanked the doctor and hang up. He rushed back to his friend and said, "I got bad news for you. You're going to die."

"I shot ten ducks."

"Were they wild?"

"No, but their owner was."

Two men were out duck hunting when a mallard flew overhead. One of them took a shot at it and managed to blast it. Turning to his companion, he said, "Great shot, wasn't it?"

"Sure was, but you wasted the shot."

"What do you mean?"

"The fall alone would have killed it."

Two hunters got lost in the woods. The first reassured his friend, "All we have to do is shoot into the air three times, stay put and, someone will find us."

So he shot into the air three times and they waited. An hour passed without anyone coming to rescue them. So they decided to try again. Again, there was no response.

They decided to try one more time. As he prepared to shoot, the hunter muttered, "This better work. We're down to our last three arrows."

Jokes

Inventor

An inventor showed an ordinary looking apple to his boss, saying, "This here is a very special apple. It tastes like pussy."

His boss took a bite and quickly spat it out, "Yuck! It tastes like shit!"

"You must have bitten the wrong side," the inventor replied.

Jokes

IRS

A man received a letter informing him the IRS wants to audit him. In a panic, he called his accountant, who replied, "Don't worry. All your paperwork is in order. Everything is documented. Just one advice. When you show up for the audit, dress like a poor guy. Cheap jacket, patched-up jeans, old shoes, you know. When the auditor sees you, he will pity you and won't come down so hard on you."

Still not pacified, the man called his lawyer. "Don't worry," replied the attorney, "I know your accountant. I'm sure he has the situation under control. One thing I must tell you though --- when you show up, dress well. The auditor will find you respectable and will think you won't cheat on your tax returns."

The man became more confused and went to his minister for further advice. The reverend told him, "It is the same thing with marriages. The mother of the bride wants her to dress conservatively, to be pretty but not seductive. The father of the bride, on the other hand, wants her to dress provocatively, to be seductive. Me, I tell the bride, 'It doesn't matter. Either way, you are going to get screwed.' "

The IRS called the minister about a donation by one of his parishioners. "Did he donate ten thousand dollars last year?"

The minister replied, "Let me check my records and call you back. I'm sure I'll be able to confirm it. If not, after I call him, I'll be able to confirm it."

Jokes

Jail

The condemned prisoner was asked to order his last meal. He ordered a mushroom salad, a mushroom soup, and a mushroom steak. Asked why he ordered so much mushroom, he replied, "All my life I was afraid to eat mushrooms."

The condemned prisoner was told to order his last meal. He ordered two watermelons. Told that it was out of season and won't be available till next year, he replied, "That's okay. I can wait."

The prisoner's wife visited him in jail and sneered at him, "Look at you. You have been convicted of attempted robbery, attempted rape, and attempted murder. You're nothing but a failure!"

Jokes

Jerk

He was so mean, even as a Boy Scout, he would only walk little old ladies half-way across the street.

He was such a jerk, he would throw water at a drowning man.

He was such a jerk, he made obscene calls to telethons.

He was such a jerk, he once put crazy glue on all the toilet bowls in an airplane.

His family celebrates his birthday by going to the zoo and throwing rocks at the stork.

He was so mean, he took in stray cats and fed them to his piranhas.

When he was born, people told his parents they hit the jerkpot.

They have no idea what makes him tick, but they sure hope it's a time bomb.

He is the kind of guy you would not trust even if his life depended on it.

He was so mean, he used to call in fake reprieves to the death chamber.

He is so mean, he is making a career out of being a jerk.

Success didn't change him. He has always been a bastard.

She is the reason why twin beds were invented.

The lifeguard offered her free lessons - drowning lessons, that is.

He said he wanted to express himself. His friends suggested Federal Express.

Jokes

Jewelry

The diamond ring he gave her was perfect. It was too small to have any flaws.

A European royalty was on an official visit to the U.S. One night, as he was busy working on his speech with his interpreter, a band of masked men barged into the room. Their leader demanded, "Tell your boss we want the jewels."

The interpreter translated for his boss, who spoke absolutely no English. The royalty told the interpreter to tell the bad guys that he doesn't have any and that they can go to hell. Naturally, the interpreter politely told them that his highness didn't have any.

With that reply, the leader began shooting at the walls. Then he turned to the interpreter and said, "Tell him I'll count to 3. At the end of 3, if he hasn't told us where they are, I'll kill him."

The shots didn't need any interpretation and the highness, speaking in his native tongue, told the his interpreter, "Tell them the jewels are hidden in the fridge in a ice cube tray."

The interpreter paused a while before he turned to the robbers, "He said he would rather die than tell you where they are."

A man approached another man at a bar and whispered, "Would you like to buy a gold necklace?"

"Can I take a look?"

"Shhh. Not too loud. The guy next to you is still wearing it."

Jokes

Jew

He wasn't always Jewish. As a kid, he went swimming and swam right into a swordfish.

Jokes

Job

He has been working at his job ever since his boss threatened to fire him.

A man desperate for a job got one playing a tiger with the circus. During his first performance, he got the jitters and fell into the lion's cage. Frightened he started to run on his two feet with the lion in hot pursuit. It wasn't long before the lion caught up with him, pinned him down, and roared at him, "Don't be stupid. Do you want both of us to lose our jobs?"

The guy applied for a job where security was extremely important. They told him they were looking for someone who could keep his mouth shut. He told them he could. They said, "Okay, we will see." and hired him for less than minimum wage.

A man was complaining to his friend, "I got fired yesterday from my job at the deli. My boss caught me with my organ in the meat slicer."
"Why would you want to do such a risky thing?"
"She wanted it, too."

Jokes

Judge

Said the judge to the defendant in a paternity suit, "Congratulations. You have just become a father."

A judge was conferring with a colleague on a case concerning a hooker. "What would you give a sixty-year-old, toothless, weather-beaten hooker?"
The colleague replied, "Ten, fifteen bucks, tops."

Judge, presiding over a divorce case, "This court grants this woman $750 week in alimony."
The ex-husband replied, "That's mighty generous of the court, Your Honor."

A defendant, pleading leniency, said, "Your Honor, I'm down and out..."
The judge was unmoved, "You may be down. But you are not out. Ten months."

Judge: "Can't this case be settled out of court?"
Defendant: "Your Honor, that's what we were trying to do when the cops came."

Jokes

Jury

Said the jury foreman, "We, the jury, find the man who stole the $100,000 not guilty."

The jury was well into their seventh day of deliberation without any progress being reported. Finally they returned to the courtroom. The judge asked the foreman if they have reached a verdict. The foreman stood up and replied, "Yes, Your Honor, we have."

"And what is the verdict?"

"We, the jury, find that we no longer want to be involved in this case!"

A prospective juror was being interviewed.

"Married?"

"Married for ten years."

"Formed or expressed an opinion?"

"Not in ten years."

And there was the Korean tourist who had a hard time making out the headline: Felon Avoids Noose. Jury Hung.

The prospective juror, a quiet, reserved woman, stated, "I'd like to be excused because I don't believe in capital punishment."

The defense attorney, liking her stance, said, "This is a rather simple case, madam. A wife is suing her husband because he gambled away the $20,000 he had promised her for the remodeling of their kitchen for their anniversary."

The woman replied, "Well, I guess I'd be wrong about capital punishment, after all."

A prospective juror told the judge she couldn't possibly serve because of her job. The judge replied, "Are you implying that you are indispensable to the company?"

"On the contrary, it will do just fine without me. That's why if my boss finds out, I will be out of a job."

A trial was about to start when one of the jury members asked to speak.

The judge gave her permission. She said, "Your Honor, I am afraid I can not serve as juror. Just by looking at that man I am convinced he is guilty."

The judge sighed and said, "That's the D.A., Ms. Watkins."

Jokes

Juvenile delinquent

A man woke up in the middle of the night to see his neighbor's kid throwing rocks at his picture window. He dressed quickly, ran outside and grabbed the boy, saying, "I'll teach you to throw rocks at my window!"

The kid's eyes widened, "Really? I keep missing."

He was the only kid in his block without a gun, so he got one. A week later, he was the only kid in his block.

Jokes

Kangaroo

A kangaroo at the zoo was particularly playful and keeps getting out of his enclosure. Since it is a well-known fact kangaroos have magnificent jumping abilities, the zookeepers built a ten foot high fence. Yet the next day, the kangaroo was out jumping around. So they increased the fence's height to twenty feet. Still, the kangaroo managed to get out. So they increased it to thirty feet. To their surprise, the next morning the kangaroo was out again. When the fence reached fifty feet high, the giraffe next door asked the kangaroo, "You think they will continue to make it higher?"

"Probably till about a hundred feet. Unless someone remembers to lock the gate at night."

Said one mother kangaroo to another, "I hate rainy days. My kids then have to play inside."

Jokes

Kissing

Kissing a girl sometimes leaves its mark on a man.

A man was making passionate love to his best friend's wife. As she was coming, she said, "Kiss me! Kiss me!"

The man replied, "Kiss you? I shouldn't be doing this in the first place!"

Jokes

Law

Our problem is we have ten million laws to enforce the Ten Commandments.

Legal secretary to date, "Stop and/or I'll slap you."

Jokes

Lawyer

The client have a hopeless case. So when he asked his lawyer how to plead, his lawyer said, "On your knees."

The unscrupulous lawyer stayed up all night trying to break the widow's will.

Then there was the lawyer who got hurt when the ambulance backed up.

Overheard in the hallway of the justice building, "His lawyer is honest, but not enough to hurt him."

Ever wonder why those lengthy documents that fill hundreds of pages are called briefs?

The lawyer finally took time out to talk to his sons about the alleged facts of life.

Talk is cheap except when it is a lawyer doing the talking.

He was so smart he didn't even bother to graduate. He merely settled out of class.

During the initial consultation, a man gave a lawyer a particularly one-sided version of a conflict. The lawyer beamed and assured him the case was airtight. The lawyer suggested they start legal proceedings immediately.

"No way," replied the man, "That was his side of the story."

A defense attorney was cross-examining a witness. "It was nearly midnight. Yet you claim you saw my client clearly when he was stabbing the victim. And you were a good six blocks away! Why, just how far can you see at night?"

"I'm not sure. How far away is the moon?"

A successful lawyer was trying to convince his younger cousin to take up the profession. "Put it this way. I make a minimum of a thousand dollars a day just talking."

"Honest?"

"What's the difference?"

Hit by a car while crossing the street, a pedestrian sued the driver. At the trial, the defense lawyer made the following opening statement, "My client has been driving for thirty-three years. His record is spotless. He has never had an accident. He has never had a moving violation. He doesn't even have a single parking ticket! Need I say more?"

The plaintiff's lawyer retorted, "May I remind the court my client has been walking for sixty years now..."

An out-of-work lawyer told his friend, "I just got my eviction papers. What makes it worse is that I wrote them up myself. I didn't want to do it but I needed the money."

A doctor met a lawyer at a party and asked, "I think we share the same problem. What do you do to stop people from seeking advice when you're out of the office?"

The lawyer replied, "I just give it to them and then I bill them."

Over the next few days, the doctor pondered over the lawyer's reply, feeling a bit guilty about taking such a course of action. Then came the bill from the lawyer.

A news bulletin came on the radio: We have bad news and good news. We are being invaded by aliens from outer space. Good news is that they eat only lawyers and pee gasoline.

One rainy day, a lawyer and a doctor crashed into each other. Both were shaken up quite badly. The lawyer got a flask of whiskey from his glove compartment and offered it to the doctor, who thanked him and gulped down quite a bit. "What about you?" asked the doctor he returned the bottle.

"Oh, don't worry about me. I will, right after the cops show up."

A lawyer was busy perusing through piles of documents in preparation for a trial the following day so he ordered his new receptionist to keep out visitors. He told her, "Whatever they say, just tell them, 'That's what they all say.'"

That afternoon, a woman visitor insisted that she had to see the lawyer. The receptionist refused to let her in. The woman said, "But I'm his wife!"

"That's what they all say."

Overheard at a lawyer's convention: "I finally got even with the lawyer who had me blacklisted in the club. His obnoxious, foul-smelling wife talked to me about divorcing him. I convinced her it is better for her not to."

A lawyer was cross-examining a witness. "And, sir, if I may ask, how you knew it was exactly five minutes?"

"Because I counted the time."

"Well, then, let me give you a test. I'll start my stopwatch. Tell me to stop when exactly five minutes have elapsed," the lawyer said, clicking his stopwatch.

After exactly five minutes have passed, the witness announced, "Time's up!"

The lawyer was impressed and, more importantly, became flustered also. He eventually lost the case.

Coming out of the justice building, the lawyer approached the witness and asked, "Just what's your secret in being able to tell time so precisely?"

"The clock on the wall behind you."

A successful lawyer was telling his colleagues about his beginnings. "I had to borrow $10,000 from my father-in-law to study law. My first case came when my father-in-law sued me for $10,000."

"You did what?" the defendant asked his lawyer.

"I sent the judge a bottle of whiskey," the attorney replied.

"I'm dead now! The judge will surely get me now!"

"Don't worry. I used the other lawyer's name."

The devil offered a lawyer, "Give me your soul. In exchange you will have fame, power, and money."

The lawyer pondered the proposal for a while and replied, "Okay, what is the catch?"

After a particularly heated exchange, the judge called them to his chambers.

The first lawyer said, "Your Honor, it is obvious my colleague here has never heard of the Bill of Rights!"

The second replied, "You're being incredulous. I happen to know it by heart."

"I'll a bet a hundred dollars you can't even recite the first line."

"You're on. I pledge allegiance to the flag..."

The first lawyer paid up.

The defense attorney asked a witness, "Is it not true the defendant talks to himself when he is alone?"

"Can't say for sure. I have never been with him when he's alone by himself."

A lawyer was walking down the street when two cars collided. He rushed over and said, "I am a lawyer. I saw everything. I will take the side of the higher bidder."

A bank teller with financial problems became desperate and stole $50,000 from the bank's vault. On coming home, he came to his senses and quickly called his lawyer. On hearing what happened, the lawyer calmly said, "Tomorrow go and steal $50,000 and then bring everything to me."

The bank teller was surprised but nevertheless, did as he was told. After the teller has brought the money to him, the lawyer sent a fax to the bank, "One of your tellers has stolen $100,000 from the vault. The family is extremely distressed over this matter, but despite their best efforts, have raised only $50,000. They are offering to return it if the bank will not prosecute..."

A couple was visiting the cemetery when they came upon a tombstone that read, "A lawyer and an honest man."

Said the woman, "Look, dear, the family must have been so poor they had to put two in one grave."

A lawyer took a vacation in the countryside and managed to seduced a young local girl. The next year, having enjoyed the previous trip so much, he decided to take a vacation in the same place. When he reached the place, he was surprised to see the young girl with a baby.

"Why didn't you tell you became pregnant? I'd have married you and given my name to the baby!"

"When my parents found out, we had a long discussion. Finally, we decided a bastard in the family is a lot better than a lawyer."

During a court hearing, the young lawyer had a sudden attack of nervousness and couldn't speak smoothly. When he began his opening statement, he stammered badly, "M-m-my un-un-for-for-for-tunate cl-cl-client..." Clearing his throat, he tried a second time, "M-m-my un-un-for-for-for-tunate cl-cl-client..."

The judge, who was not a particularly patient person, interrupted, "Let's proceed with your statement. The court has so far agreed with you."

It was the first day of the trial. The nervous defendant turned and saw the plaintiff with two lawyers. So he asked his, "Why does the other guy have two lawyers."

"Will you just relax? That's very common. One of them does the thinking, the other does the talking."

The defendant pondered over that for a second and then asked, "So, who's doing the thinking for you?"

Greg is a bodybuilder with wide muscular shoulders and biceps that looked like they have big rocks in them. Unfortunately for him, he is being used by a frail, little accountant for assault and battery. On the stand, he admitted he did, indeed, shoved the plaintiff just a little bit.

The accountant's lawyer wanted to show the jury just what kind of an animal Greg is. So he asked Greg, "How much is little? Can you show the jury what you mean by little? Can you do a demonstration on me?"

Greg walked over to the lawyer, slapped him repeatedly, picked him up, slammed him on the table several times, kicked him in the groin again and again, and finally threw him against the wall. He walked back to the stand and said, "About a tenth of that."

Remember that saying "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned." Well, update it to "Hell hath no fury like the lawyer of a woman scorned."

A corrupt client, in hiding, wired his lawyer a query: Results of my case?
The lawyer wired back: Justice has triumphed!
The client wired again: Appeal immediately.

The Lord and Satan got into a messy argument. Finally, in a desperation, the Lord told the devil, "If you are not going to be cooperative about this, we might as well settle it in court."

"Yeah? And where do you think you are going to get a lawyer?"

A man was charged with stealing a car. After a long deliberation, the jury acquitted him. Later that afternoon, he went back to the judge and said,

"Your Honor, I want my lawyer to be arrested."

The judge was naturally surprised. He asked, "Didn't he just win your acquittal? Why do you want him arrested?"

"Your Honor, I didn't have any money to pay him, so he took away the car I stole!"

The defense lawyer asked the twelve men in the jury, "Shall we find this gorgeous, appealing, and very friendly lady guilty and prevent her from going back to her townhouse at 123 Main Street, with the phone number 555-1234?"

A lawyer was explaining to his son the concept of ethics. "For example, a client came to your office for legal advice. You discuss it with him and bill him $100. He decided to pay cash and gives you a $100 bill before leaving. After your client has left, you discover he had given you two $100 bills. Now the ethical question is do you tell your partner about the extra $100 bill?"

A lawyer contracted an electrician to do some repair work. When the electrician presented his bill, the lawyer was shocked. "I don't make this much," he said.

Replied the electrician, "Neither did I when I was a lawyer."

A young girl called her mother and said, "Momma, good news. Adam has passed the bar, so we're getting married tomorrow."

"Tell him congratulations. But don't you think it will be better if the two of you can wait till he has been practicing for a couple of years?"

"No, Momma. We've been practicing."

A contingent fee basically means if your lawyer loses your suit, he gets nothing. If he wins your suit, you get nothing.

The local community fundraising committee chair has been trying to get the town's wealthy lawyer to donate. Finally she was able to corner him during a cocktail party.

She said, "Sir, our computer shows that you made well over a million dollars last year. Don't you think you can afford to contribute something?"

He replied, "Does your computer show that I have an 80-year-old mother who does not have any means of support? Does it show, too, that my sister's husband was killed five years ago and left her with six small kids? Does it show my kid brother was killed in Desert Storm, leaving a widow with five small kids?"

"No, sir."

"Now, how do you expect me to give you something if I don't give anything to them at all?"

A priest, a doctor, and a lawyer die and had to negotiate their eternal fate. The priest asked for and received permission to sit on the Lord's right hand. The doctor got to sit on the left side. The lawyer? He demanded to the Lord, "Get up!"

Three young boys climbed up a neighbor's apple tree and stole all the apples. The neighbor caught them in the act and decided to press charges to teach them a lesson. When the three boys appeared in court, they were accompanied by their parents, who told the judge they have been punished accordingly.

The judge wanted to be lenient, so he asked each of the boys if they have learned from their experience.

The first boy said, "Yes, I have. My mother is a doctor and she told me that if I eat an apple that is not fully ripe, I can get real sick. So I will never do it again."

The second boy said, "Yes, I have. My dad is a professor and he told me I'll never get to college if I have a prison record. So I will never do it again."

The third boy said, "Yes, I have. But my dad's a lawyer and he told me we will sue our neighbor for damages. His tree's branches tore off my pants."

Lawyer to elderly couple who have been consulting with him regarding their wills and were about to sign the documents: Which one of you would like to go first?"

Defense Lawyer: How far away would you say my client was when he allegedly threw the bottle at you?

Plaintiff: He was standing ten feet seven and a half inches away.

D.L.: Well, well...Are you testifying, under oath, may I remind you, that my client was standing exactly ten feet seven and a half inches from you when he threw the bottle?

Plaintiff: Yes, sir.

D.L.: How, then, in the world, can you possibly be that precise?

Plaintiff: I figured some idiot would ask me so I measured the distance.

Then there's this woman who mailed out 10,000 Valentine cards sprayed in perfume and signed "Guess who?" She's a divorce lawyer.

Client: My friend owes me a thousand dollars and I need to collect from him.

Lawyer: Do you have written document to proves he owes you that amount?

Client: No, I trusted him.

Lawyer: Well then, write him a letter telling him you need the $2000 he owes you.

Client: But he owes me only a thousand.

Lawyer: That's right. He will write back to tell you he owes you only a thousand. Then you'll have it in writing.

The son of a very successful lawyer went to law school just so he could still get allowance from his father. The first year he managed to squeak by and passed his classes. But the second year was tougher and the son started to slip. His father, alarmed, gave him an incentive, "Pass this year and I'll give you a $20,000 bonus."

One night, near the end of the schoolyear, the son called his father. "Dad, you'll be very proud of me."

"Tell me about it, son?"

"I just saved you $20,000."

A lawyer presented the bill to his client. "You can opt for the monthly payment plan. $750 down and $334 a month for 48 months."

"That just sounds like buying a new car!" exclaimed the client.

"I am."

Lawyer briefing client, "You are aware that you will have to swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?"

"Yes."

"And suppose you don't tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth." Do you what will happen?"

"Of course. We will win."

Lesbian

"I'm a lesbian."

"Really? How are things in Beirut?"

During a gay parade, a male heckler shouted at a lesbian, "Don't you wish you were a man?"

The lesbian replied, "Don't you?"

Two female colleagues attending an out-to-town convention were inadvertently booked into a room with only one bed. Both were lesbians and but neither knew the other was one. As they prepared for the night, one of them, her heart pounding wildly, said, "Let me be frank---"

The other girl replied coyly, "No, let me be Frank. You can be Johnny."

Jokes

Liar

She sticks to the truth. She just stretches it.

She doesn't lie, she just remembers big.

Interviewer: "Do you drink?"

Donald: "No."

Interviewer: "Do you smoke?"

Donald: "Never."

Interviewer: "How's your health?"

Donald: "Never been sick my whole life!"

Interviewer, leaning back in his chair: "Well, I must say. You do have a spotless background. Tell me frankly, and in complete confidence, can you think of something negative about yourself?"

Donald: "In complete confidence, sir?"

Interviewer: "Of course."

Donald leaned forward and whispered, "Truth is - I love to lie."

"My wife is a big liar."

"Why, what did she do?"

"She did not come home the other night and told me she spent the night at the house of her friend Nancy."

"So, how do you know she was lying?"

"Because I spent the night with Nancy, that's why!"

The minister asked his congregation, "Who among you is familiar with Mark 17?" A number of hands went up. "Good," he continued, "you are just the ones I want to talk to. My sermon today is about the sin of lying. By the way, the book of Mark ends with chapter 16."

The chief of police visited the town prison. He began asking the inmates about their crimes. One after another protested his innocence. One claimed he has been framed, the other a case of mistaken identity, yet another said he was the fall guy. Finally one prisoner admitted his crime. "Yes, sir. I am a burglar. I was tried and found guilty," said the man.

With that, the chief told the warden to release the man, much to the clamor of the other prisoners. "How can you release a criminal who freely confesses his crimes---"

Replied the chief, "I was concerned that the convicted criminal might corrupt all you innocent souls."

Two friends, Sally and Margaret, went to Last Vegas to gamble their woes away. As they walked by the roulette tables, Sally mentioned that she had always wanted to play roulette but never got the chance. Margaret told her now is a time as good as any other so they decided to bet.

"What number do I choose?" asked Sally.

"Well, it's pure luck. Me, I will choose 10 because I was born on October 10," proclaimed Margaret, as she placed a ten dollar chip on number ten. "Who knows, it might be my luck number."

"I don't really have a lucky number," complained Sally.

"What about your age?"

So Margaret placed a hundred dollar worth of chip on number 29.

With that, the croupier closed the bets, spun the wheel and tossed the ball into the circle. Margaret followed the ball intensely as it clacked and bounced around until finally it came to a rest on number 35.

"Oh, well. I guess your age is not your lucky number," Sally said as she turned to Margaret, who then fainted.

The woman seemed to be having some problems using the automatic-teller-card machine at the bank. Apparently her code wasn't being accepted.

"I thought you used your date of birth as your code?" asked her companion.

"I did but I lied about the year. Problem is I forgot which year I used."

Jokes

Life

At the bank, a line grew longer as the only teller open had a difficult time understanding the Spanish-speaking man. In desperation, she went to the back to asked for help. A bilingual colleague came back with her. As she sat down, she sighed with relief and called out, "Next, please."

The next person, a young lady, stepped forward and said, "Bon jour."

Albuquerque

Would you mind spelling it for me?

Listen, if I could spell it, I would send a postcard instead.

Ever wonder why it's a dog's life? Most times, when we can't eat it or screw it, we end up wanting to piss on it.

Jokes

Line

It was the biggest game of the year and the long line around the stadium reflected it. A latecomer tried to push to his way to the front. As he neared the front, a big, muscular fan blocked him. The fan had been waiting for quite a while for the gate to open and was visibly annoyed someone could try to cut in. When the latecomer insisted, the fan threw him some ten yards back.

The latecomer came back and tried again. Again the fan threw him back. The latecomer tried a third time with the same results. Finally he confronted the fan, "Listen, buddy. If you won't stop throwing me back, no one will be getting in. I got the key!"

Jokes

Lion

Two friends, Ken and Dan, went lion-hunting. The first night they bet a thousand dollars on who would bag one first. The next morning, they went their separate ways. Around noon, Ken was approached by a lion, who asked, "Do you have a friend named Dan?"

"Yes?" Ken answered tentatively.

"Well, he owes you a thousand dollars."

A familiar-looking lion was overheard complaining, "Every time I roar, I have to sit through another movie."

The hunter was showing off his den full of hunting trophies. The centerpiece was a stuffed lion. One of his guests asked, "When did you bag him?"

"About a year ago, when I went on a safari with my wife."

"What's he stuffed with."

"My wife."

Girl: "We get married or nothing."

Girl: Don't you know what good clean fun is?
Boy: No, what good is it?

Girl: I never kiss on a first date.
Boy: How about on a last one?

Jokes

Magician

A magician worked aboard a cruise ship. One of his acts consisted of covering his well-trained parrot with a thick cloth, make several things disappear, and then taking off the cloth to show that the parrot has disappeared, too. During one trip, the magician began his performance. Right after he covered the parrot, the ship struck an iceberg and sank rapidly. As the cloth covering the parrot floated away, the bird was awestruck by what he saw. He turned to the magician, who was floating on some debris nearby, "I give up. What did you do with the ship?"

Jokes

Maid

Society matron to her new maid: Did you remember to clean out the refrigerator?

New maid: Yes, ma'am and everything was delicious.

An employer was reprimanding a maid, "Look at this furniture. There's at least a month's worth of dust."

The maid replied, "That's not my fault. I've been here only a week."

The wife of a very successful novelist hired a housemaid to do the chores. Everyday, as she went about her chores, the maid would see the writer in the house doing all sorts of things. Finally, one day, the maid went to the wife and said, "I'm concerned about your ability to pay me. I'm willing to work for less until your husband finds a job."

Two maids were discussing their jobs. The first said, "My problem is all day long it is 'Yes, Ma'am,' 'Yes, Ma'am,' 'Yes, Ma'am.' "

The second said, "My problem is all night long it is 'No, sir,' 'No, sir,' 'No, sir.' "

The lady of the house was chewing out the maid for not dusting properly. The maid lost her temper and replied, "You can say what you want. I'm still a better cook than you. I'm still a better housecleaner than you."

"Who told you that?"

"Your husband did. I'm even a better lover than you."

"My husband told you that?"

"No. The gardener did."

Jokes

Manners

A young woman came home from college pregnant with child. Her father asked her, "Who's the father?"

She replied, "I don't know."

Her mother raised hell and said, "All your life we raised you to have manners, to always be polite. Yet you never even bothered to ask, 'With whom am I having this pleasure?' "

He was so well-mannered, he knocked on each oyster shell before opening it.

Marriage

The husband who makes the mistake of giving his wife an inch, finds that she is the ruler.

Marriage is a souvenir of love.

Their marriage is a partnership. He is the silent partner.

A widower is a man who has angel for a wife.

They are as compatible as a cat and a fish.

A wife will always forgive her husband whenever she's wrong.

A wife's upkeep can be her husband's downfall.

Marriage: the billing after the cooing.

Marriage is the tie that binds.

Whoever said marriage is a 50/50 proposition could have never been married.

Most effective way for a man to remember his wife's birthday is to forget it once.

Marriage is just like taking a bath. Once you've been in for a while, it is not so hot.

The reason he wear his wedding band on the wrong finger is that he married the wrong woman.

Married men do not necessarily live longer than single men. It only seems longer.

Some women are married so often they get rice marks on their faces.

The couple was introduced by a mutual friend, a bellhop.

He was a romantic who died for love: his wife caught him cheating and shot him.

Marriage is just like eating mushroom. By the time you find out it's bad, it's too late.

Marriage is the sole cause of divorce.

Marriage is a banquet in which the dessert is served first.

Marriage is not a word. It is a sentence.

Man is incomplete until he is married, then he is finished.

A man came home and caught his wife sliding up and down the banister. He asked her, "Just what is it you're doing?"
"Heating up your dinner."

After twenty years of marriage, the woman filed for divorce. The judge asked her why. She said, "He doesn't have any table manners."

The judge asked her, "After being married for twenty years, you suddenly decide you want a divorce because he has bad table manners?"

"I just found out last week when I bought Miss Manners' book."

Two childhood friends met after a long period of separation. Asked one, "so, did you end up marrying Peggy Sue or are you still doing your own cooking and laundry?"

"Yes."

Husband: I wish you'd learn how to cook like my mother does.

Wife: It's a deal if you'd learn to make money like my father does.

Over lunch, a father asked his newly-wed son how marriage has been so far.

"Not too well. I must have married a nun. None in the morning, none at night, none during the weekends unless I kneel down and beg."

"That's not too good. Why don't you bring her over tonight and we all have a talk."

"I'm for anything that would help."

"Good. Let me call Mother Superior to let her know."

A husband called his wife. "Dear, you know the new play you have been wanting to see? I just got two front row tickets!"

"That's wonderful! I better start dressing."

"Please do. They are for tomorrow night's show."

A young man was about to get married. The night before, his dad took him aside and said, "Two things you need to remember. First, demand one night a week for you to go out with the boys. Second, don't waste it on the boys."

Wife, "Look at the happily married couple down the street."

Husband, "Don't be too sure. They're probably saying the same thing about us."

Said the counselor to the wife, "Your problem might be that you've been waking up grumpy in the morning."

"Not at all. I always let him sleep."

Her husband has been slipping in and out for a coma for several months yet she stayed by his bedside every single day. When he came to, he motioned for her to come nearer. As she sat by him, he said, "You know what? You have been with me all through the bad times. When I got fired, you were there to support me. When my business fell, you were there. When I got shot, you were by my side. When we lost the house, you gave me support. When my health started failing, you were still by my side. When I think about it now, I think you bring me bad luck."

A man was having trouble shaving with his razor. As he nicked himself for the tenth time, he grumbled, "My razor won't cut."

His wife overheard him and said, "What do you mean it won't cut. I just used it to cut linoleum."

Said the man to his wife, "Drinking makes you beautiful."
His puzzled wife said, "But I don't drink."
He replied, "I do."

Alice's husband was missing so she went with a friend to the police station. There she described him as 6'2", 180 lbs, muscular in build, well-tanned, kind of like Arnold Schwarzenegger.

As they walked out, the friend asked, "Your husband is bald, 70 years old, toothless, and walks with a cane. How are they going to find him?"

"Who wants that one back?"

A husband came home and the first thing his wife said was, "I have bad news for you."

"Shoot!"

"I thought of that, but I think a divorce is better."

Wife: "Dear, I need new clothes. Look at the old clothes I'm wearing. If we have guests for dinner, they would think I was the cook!"

Husband, "Don't worry, dear. They would change their minds if they stayed for dinner."

Ever since they got married, the wife has had a padlocked chest by the foot of their bed. Despite his pleadings from time to time, his wife never revealed the contents to him. Finally, on their silver anniversary, the wife agreed to let him see the contents. He watched steadfastly as she unlocked the chest and opened the lid. Inside were two ears of corn and twenty-five thousand dollars. He looked at the chest and looked at his wife.

His wife said, "It is like this. Every time I cheated on you, I put in an ear of corn."

He was surprised to learn she has been unfaithful. But twice in twenty-five years wasn't that bad, so he smiled and asked, "What about the money?"

"Well, every time I reached a bushel, I sold it."

The wife bragged to her husband, "I just came from the doctor. He said I have the bust of a woman half my age."

Her husband replied, "Yeah? What did he have to say about your sixty year old ass?"

"He never said anything about you."

"Susie, I want to marry you!"

"Have you seen my father?"

"Of course, but you're the one I'd prefer to marry."

A couple had a lavish party for their silver anniversary. Amidst the celebration, the husband was sulking by himself. A family lawyer noticed him and asked what was wrong.

"You were there at the wedding. You know how I hated her then, how I wished she were dead. Remember, I wanted to kill her?"

"Yes."

"But you stopped me. You said I'd get 25 years for the crime."

"I do recall that. But that was a long time ago. So why are you sad then?"

"Because I would have been a free man today."

Wife, to husband, after a sleepless night: I can't believe you. You kept cursing me in your sleep all night long.

Husband: I wasn't sleeping.

Elderly wife: You know, dear, without your glasses you look just like the handsome young chap I married.

Husband: Without my glasses, honey, you still look just as pretty."

A pretty young lady went to her psychiatrist. "Doc, I got a problem. I have been married three times and I'm still a virgin!"

The doctor looked at her and said, "It can't possibly be. I can't imagine why any husband would not want to make love to you."

Doc, my first husband was a professor and he only talked about it. The second was a painter, so he only painted me.

"What about your third husband?"

"He's a gourmet."

The wife visited her husband's office. While waiting for him to return from lunch, she saw a drop-dead gorgeous blonde sashay in.

"I," said the wife, "am waiting for my husband."

"Oh, "I am please to meet you. I am his secretary."

"Oh, were you?"

A couple went to see her doctor as the wife thought she might be pregnant. The doctor asked, "How many times have you missed?"

Without a pause, the husband replied, "Not one night, ever."

"How's the wife?"

"Compared to what?"

A man passed by his neighbor's house and saw his neighbor eating his dinner outside. He asked him why. The neighbor replied, "My chimney's smoking." The man offered to fixed it and his neighbor simply shrugged. The man walked to the door and as he opened it, his neighbor's wife rushed to him with a broom, stopping abruptly when she realized it wasn't her husband. The man retreated and went back to his neighbor and said, "Don't worry about it. My chimney smokes from time to time, too."

"My wife's an angel."

"Mine's still alive."

Tom came home well past midnight after a poker game. As he was tiptoeing around the room, he stumbled. His wife, slightly awakened, asked, "Tom, is that you?"

He paused. "I better be!"

A couple came upon a wishing well. The husband leaned over, made a wish, and threw in a penny. The wife decided to make a wish, too. But she leaned over too much, fell into the well, and drowned. The husband was stunned for a while but then smiled and said, "It really works!"

Said the wife, "If it weren't for my money, this bedroom set wouldn't be here. If it weren't for my money, the living room set wouldn't be there. If it weren't---"

Her husband cut her short, "If it weren't for your money, I wouldn't be here."

The husband was feeling amorous. So he prepared two aspirins and a glass of water. As he and his wife prepared for the night, he handed her the medicine.

"What is this for?"

"For you headache, dear."

"But I don't have a headache."

"Good."

Said the wife to her husband, "I've been good. I haven't been in one store today."

Asked her doubtful husband, "Which one?"

Husband: What do you want for your birthday?

Wife (thinking of Victoria's Secret): Something that will make me look sexy.

So the husband bought her an exercise bike.

For a lot of people, marriage is a three-ring circus. You have the engagement ring, the wedding ring, and the suffering.

A man bought his wife a burial plot. The next year he didn't buy her anything. When she complained, he replied, "You haven't used the present I gave you last year."

The widower was well into his seventies when he decided to marry again. So he gathered his family and announced. "My dear children. It has been many years since your dear mother passed on. My life has been very lonely since then. I want to be enjoy my few remaining years a little bit more. So, I have decided to marry a very fine girl, who is also---"

"Girl?" repeated the first son.

"Papa, did you say 'girl'?" inquired the daughter.

"Yes, dear."

"Papa! How old is this girl?"

"Eighteen."

The room erupted with shock and outrage.

"Papa! How can you---? Aren't you ashamed.?"

The old man waved his hand, "Why should I be. After all, I married you dear mother when she was not even eighteen."

Two lifelong friends were talking about their marital problems. Said one, "What it boils down to is that my wife does not understand me...Does yours?"

"Can't tell you. I have never heard her mention your name.

"Jonathan, how would you like to be a partner in my company?" inquired Jonathan's boss to his star salesman.

"How?"

"All you gotta do is marry one of my daughters....Just open the door a little bit. You'll see Bridget and Linda sitting there....Look them over...Therese, my youngest one, will be here any time soon now. When she comes, you can decide---"

"I'll take Therese."

Wife to Husband: Okay. I admit I love to spend money. But that's it. See if you can name even just one other extravagance of mine. Just one."

Man 1: I've been married nearly 30 years and I'm still in love with the same person.

Man 2: She is a lucky girl.

Man 1: Oh, yeah. As long as my wife does not find out about her.

He has a perfect understanding with his wife. He doesn't try to run her life and he doesn't try to his.

From the start of their marriage, the husband had Friday nights off with the boys. One Friday night, he went out with the boys and didn't come home. Ten years later, he reappeared. His wife was ecstatic and told him, "I'm so happy you finally came home. Let me prepare a special dinner to celebrate."

He told her, "Don't you know today is Friday?"

The husband bought his frigid wife a big tube of K-Y jelly and told her, "This will make you happy." It did. She put it on the bedroom doorknob after he went out.

The boss just introduced his only daughter to his star salesman. "Peter, you know, whoever marries my daughter stands to receive a huge wedding present."

Peter looked at the daughter again.

"Sir, can I look at the gift?"

Jokes

Missionary

A missionary told the tribal chieftain, "You are committing a sin when you have more than one wife. I suggest you tell your three other wives they can no longer consider you their husband."

The chieftain pondered the suggestion for a few seconds and said, "I think I wait here. You go and tell them."

The missionary was deep in the jungle when he came upon a witch doctor pounding away at his drums. "What are you doing?" asked the missionary.

"We do not have water," said the witch doctor.

"I see. So you're praying for rain."

"No. I'm calling the plumber."

The young missionary was attempting to preach to the tribal natives, who gathered around him, stone-faced, "We are all children of God and we must love another..."

The natives replied, "Umbelolo..."

"We are brothers and sisters in Christ, we must live in peace..."

"Umbelolo..."

"We must pray together and ask God for forgiveness..."

"Umbelolo..."

The missionary was amazed at the response. When he had finished, he went to the chief.

"Chief," exclaimed the preacher, "I can't tell you how encouraged I am by the response I got today...I will be back next week..."

"Yes, yes. Go in peace, my son. And when you reach the grazing land, where our cows are, please be careful..."

"Of what, Chief?"

"Not to step into the umbelolo."

A missionary finally was able to convince the natives of abstaining from premarital sex when one of the village girls gave birth to a white baby. The chief was furious and confronted the missionary, "You're the only white man here. You must be the father!"

The missionary replied, "No, no. The baby is not mine, it is an albino. It happens once in a while. Look at the black sheep. It is the only one. All the rest are white."

The chief became pale and said, "Say no more. You don't tell them about sheep. I don't tell them about white baby."

Jokes

Modesty

A pretty young girl went on a country stroll one hot summer day and came upon a wading pond. Seeing that no one else was around, she decided to undress for a swim. As she was enjoying herself, a young man happened by and, unnoticed, stopped to admire the view. After a while, the young girl decided she had enough and got out of the water. Once out, she saw the lad staring at her. Her clothes were too far for her to grab so she looked around, saw an old rusty pan, grabbed it and placed it strategically in front of her. She then glared at her admirer and said, "Don't even dare do whatever you're thinking."

The young man smiled and said, "I'm not thinking of anything. But I know what you're thinking. You're thinking the pan has a bottom to it."

The widow couldn't make up her mind about her dear departed husband's funeral. First, she wanted a white casket, but then decided it was too feminine, and changed that to a beige colored one. Next, she wanted the service to be held at sunset, but then decided it was too late, and changed the time to dawn. The night before the funeral, she looked at her husband lying in his blue suit. She said, "He looks terrible. Change that to a gray one." The director said there wasn't enough time. She replied, "Change it or I'll postpone the funeral." The director didn't have any choice as the schedule was fully booked, so he asked the new assistant mortician to do it.

The next morning, the husband looked radiant in a blue suit. The widow was satisfied and the funeral went on as scheduled. Later that day, the director asked the new guy, "How were you able to do it? There was simply no time to change the suits."

"Sir, there was another client in a gray suit. I simply switched heads."

Moses

Said Moses to God, "The Arabs get the oil and we get to cut off the tips of our what?"

When Moses and his people got to the Red Sea, he asked his press agent, "Where are the boats?"

Replied the guy, "I---I got so busy with the press releases, I forgot to rent them."

"You fool! What do you expect me to do? Ask God to part the Red Sea?" Moses yelled.

The press agent paused for a second and said, "If you can really do that, I can get you into the Old Testament. Two page minimum."

The flock waited impatiently as Moses had been gone far too long. They were getting restless just as Moses reappeared.

"My dear children, I have good news and bad news. The good news is I was able to persuade the Lord to cut down the list to ten."

The crowd roared.

"What is the bad news?" asked someone.

Jokes

Newlyweds

A salad made specially for newlyweds - just lettuce alone.

The new bride was so exhausted on her wedding night that she couldn't stay awake for a second.

The newlywed country couple were spending their first night together. The new bride asked her groom, "When did you first realize you really love me?"

"When I started getting mad at the guys whenever they say you look like a horse."

The groom was already in bed, ready for the climax of their night, so he called out to his bride, so was taking in the view from the balcony of their hotel suite. "Dear, aren't you coming to bed?"

"No, honey. My mom has always told me this will be happiest night of my life, and I sure do not want to miss a single moment of it."

On entering the hotel room, the bride saw twin beds, and started crying. When asked why she was crying, she said, "I thought you said we were going to get a room by ourselves."

While checking into the hotel, the bride was asked by the clerk, "Bridal?"

She replied, flushing, "That's okay. I'll just grab his shoulders till I get the hang of it."

The newlyweds, just barely out of honeymoon, got into a nasty quarrel at breakfast.

"You're not good in bed, either!" yelled the husband as he stormed out to work. Around lunch time, he had cooled off and decided to apologize, so he called home. After several rings, his wife answered.

"What took you so long?" he yelled as his temperate began to rise again.

"I was in bed."

"What were you doing in bed?"

"Getting a second opinion."

The morning after the wedding night, the bride woke up to hear her husband in the bathroom. She asked, "What are you doing, honey?"

Her husband replied, "Oh, I'm just brushing my teeth. I already brushed yours."

A father was curious how his dimwitted son would fare on his wedding night, so he hid a tape recorder under the couple's bed in the hotel room. The next morning, he got hold of the tape and played it. He heard his daughter-in-law moaning "That's happiness. That's happiness!" Just then, he noticed the battery light was on, indicating the batteries are low. So he replaced the batteries and replayed the tape at the correct speed. This time, he heard his daughter-in-law chuckling, "That's a penis? That's a penis?"

On their wedding night, the groom asked his bride, "Tell me, am I the first?"

"No. I'd have recognized you when we first met."

Noah's ark

The skies darkened and the clouds began to move rapidly. As the rain started to pour, Noah looked up and shook his head, "I knew I shouldn't have waxed the Ark this morning."

After the Great Flood receded, Noah lowered the ark's ramp and told the animals to go forth and multiply. Pair by pair, the animals left except for a couple of snakes who stayed behind.

Noah asked them, "Why don't you go forth and multiply?"

"We can't. We're adders."

A student asked his Sunday school teacher, "Did Noah do a lot of fishing while wait for the flood to subside?"

"I would think so."

"With only two worms?"

Notices

A book, Sky Diving for Beginners, contains this insert:

IMPORTANT NOTICE: On page 20, line 8, "rip pull cord" should read "pull rip cord."

A credit collection notice reads:

If we do not receive payment for the enclosed overdue bill by the 15th, we will inform your other creditors that you have paid your bill to us in full and on time.

An announcement over the public-address system of a department store went like this: Will the person who just lost a hundred dollar bill form two lines at the service counter?

Jokes

Nudity

All men are not created equal. If you believe that, try going to a nudist colony.

A two piece outfit in a nudist camp is a pair of socks.

At a wedding ceremony held in a nudist camp, the minister asked the bride-to-be, "Do you take this man?" She looked down at the groom-to-be, glanced around, and said, "If I may, I'll like the man in the far side of the front row."

A nudist stayed in the sun too long and burned his penis. Looking for relief, he went to his room and opened the fridge to look for something cooling. The only thing available was a box of milk. Without a second thought, he dipped his penis in it. Just then his girlfriend came in and saw him. She exclaimed, "So, that's how you refill that thing!"

Jokes

Nun

A nun suddenly stormed out of a doctor's examining room and left the office without paying. The receptionist, startled, asked the doctor when he appeared.

"Well, I told her she was pregnant."

"Doc!" gasped the receptionist. "That's not true."

"Of course not. But I sure cured her hiccups."

Two men knocked at a convent and asked to talk to a midget nun. The nun was surprised, "How did you know we have a midget nun? She is the only one within a thousand miles of the area," she said as she called for her.

The midget nun appeared and one of the men asked her, "Were you, by any chance, out last night?"

"My dear Lord, I stayed in my room all night praying," she answered.

On hearing that, the other man, smacked his own forehead, and said, "I can't believe I spent the whole night dancing with a penguin!"

The novice nun was assigned to take care of the elderly priest who has been bedridden for the last few years. Before she started her task, the Mother Superior took her aside and warned her, "Father Peter's body might be old, but his mind is still young. When you give me his bath, do not touch him below the waist as he is easily aroused."

With that, the young nun went to the priest's room. After a while, she went back to the Mother Superior, crying, "As I was bathing him, my hand slipped below his waist and he became aroused. He told him that I would go to heaven if I let him put his key to St. Peter's gate into my lock. I believed him so I did."

"That s.o.b.," the Mother Superior fumed, "he has been telling it was Gabriel's trumpet!"

Jokes

Nurse

Said the patient to his nurse, "I love you. I'll die without you."
Replied the nurse, "That's possible. Your doctor is my husband."

"How's your patient doing? Any progress?"
"No. He isn't my type."

A patient was complaining to a visitor, "These nurses are certainly very possessive. Every day it is 'How are we today?', if not 'How do we feel today?' "

"What's wrong with that?" asked the visitor.

"Yesterday, I put my hand up a nurse's skirt and she slapped our face."

Office

The new office manager was not only obnoxious, he has a disdain for paper clips. He gathered the staff together and lectured them on the potential disasters whenever paper clips come off. In conclusion, he grabbed several paper clip containers from the supply shelf and, contents and all, threw them into a nearby wastebasket.

Later, a staff member who was not present in the meeting saw the paper clip holders in the trash. He picked them up and returned them to the shelf, thinking there might have been a mistake.

The manager happened to pass by and saw the containers. He flew into a rage, "Which idiot put them back?" and threw them out of the windows.

Minutes later, there was a knock on the office door. "Did you guys lose these?" asked he handed the manager several paper clip containers.

A 44-24-36 applied as a secretary at a company. The boss asked, "Do you touch type?"

She replied, "I have to."

A man woke up with a terrible hangover after an office party. Turning to his wife, he said, "God, I can't remember a single thing from last night!"

His wife replied, "Well, you insulted your boss in front of everyone, so he fired you!"

"He did! Well, fuck him!"

"I did. You go back to work Monday."

Old age

He was so old the hospital told him they no longer make the parts needed for his transplant.

He was so old the Dead Sea was only sick when he was a young kid.

He was so old he can't date women his age because there aren't any.

He and his wife used to be the same age.

They have an age problem - he won't act his and she won't tell hers.

Reporter, to 99-year-old she's interviewing: I'd love to come back and interview you again when you reach a 100.

Old-timer: I don't see why not. You look healthy enough.

Interviewer: Do what do you attribute your old age?

Old-timer: I was born a long time ago.

At a nursing home, George told his roommate Bob, "Know what? I went out with that lovely new nurse last night."

"I see. If you could maybe just control your bladder a bit more, perhaps they'd let you go without one next time."

Bobby was a narcissistic guy who loved his suntanned body. One day while admiring himself in the mirror he noticed that he was bronze all over except for his penis, which was pale. So he went to the beach, stripped naked, and buried himself in the sand except for his penis.

Two little old ladies who were strolling by saw the penis. One of them started to play with it using her cane. The penis sprung to life. The lady then said to her companion, "There is simply no justice in the world.

When I was 10, I was curious about it.

When I was 20, I experimented with it.
When I was 30, I enjoyed it.
When I was 40, I craved for it.
When I was 50, I paid for it.
When I was 60, I prayed for it.
When I was 70, I forgot about it.
Now I'm 80, those damn things are growing wild and I'm too old to squat."

Two old-timers were sitting in the park, enjoying the sunshine. One turned to the other, "You know I can tell how old you are by looking at the lines on your ass."

"You expect me to believe that?"

"Hey, it is the same thing with those rings on the trees, you know."

"Okay, prove it," dared the second, as he dropped his pants.

The first one stooped over and examined his friend's rump, "Ahhh, you must be seventy-eight years old."

"That's really amazing. How can you know my age?"

"Quite simple. You told me yesterday."

To celebrate their golden anniversary, the couple decided to go back to their roots. They drove to the nursery school to where they had first met. Then they went to the nearby elementary school where he had stolen kisses from her. They went to the park where he had carved on a tree a heart with their initials in it. They were elated to find it was still there. Beaming, they started their drive home. Near their home, a money bag fell from the armored car. The couple stopped to retrieve it and discovered there was at least a hundred thousand dollars in there. The scrupulous one, he wanted to return it; she wanted to keep it, so they kept it.

The next day, two investigators knocked on their door. They told the couple they have been going door-to-door asking if anyone has seen the money bag.

"No," the wife said.

"Yes," the husband replied.

The wife glared at her husband and said to the investigators, "You'll have to excuse him. He's senile."

"No, I'm not," the husband protested, "truth is we're driving home from nursery school when---"

The investigators looked at each other and one said, "Next house."

There was an old woman who still had this certain gleam in her eyes. Turns out she kept missing with her toothbrush.

An elderly couple decided to do some sightseeing. The wife said, "Why don't even take a walk around the corner."

The husband replied, "While we are there, we can go into the store and buy some souvenirs."

"Why the rush? Let's not do everything in one day, okay?"

The neighbors were worried about old Mrs. Robinson next door as they haven't seen her for a week. So the mother asked her son, "Please go next door and is how old Mrs. Robinson is."

Her son came back after a few minutes and said, "She's fine but a little pissed off. She said it is none of your business how old she is."

Reporters were all over the 85-year-old man who was competing in his third Ironman Triathlon. He bragged, "Heck, I don't consider myself special. My old man is 105 and he still runs 10 miles a day. And the reason he is not here is he is attending his dad's wedding."

"How old is your grandfather?" a reporter asked.

"129."

"Really. It is kind of hard to imagine anyone wanting to marry at that age."

"Want? No, you don't get it. He has to."

A ninety-year-old man married a twenty-year-old girl and was a bit concerned about the marriage. So he asked the advice of his doctor, who told him to get a boarder. The old man did.

A few months later, the old man went to see his doctor. "My wife is pregnant."

The doctor asked, "Did I made a mistake in advising you to get a boarder?"

"Not at all. But she's pregnant, too."

Jokes

Old maid

An old maid is a woman who has been good for nothing.

Complained the old maid to the police about an obscene phone call, "The guy was saying the dirtiest things for two full hours!"

An old maid caught a burglar hiding under her bed, so she called the police and told them to come over first thing in the morning.

A thirtysomething spinster went to her mother's and told her she has been raped. The mother gave her a lemon and told her to suck on it. "Why, will this prevent me from becoming pregnant?" the spinster asked.

"No, but it will take that silly grin off your face."

Jokes

Opportunist

Pete's daughter came home crying to him. She was pregnant by her lover, a very rich older gent. So Pete confronted the man, who said, "I am a man of honor. If she bears me a daughter, I will give her half a million. If she bears me a son, I'll give her a million dollars."

Pete asked, "Do we get another chance if she happens to lose the baby?"

Jokes

Optimist

An optimist is someone who starts a crossword puzzle with a ball pen.

Jokes

Panhandler

Panhandler: I haven't eaten food for so long I have forgotten what it tastes like.

Man: Don't worry. It still tastes the same.

A panhandler decided to call it a day. He counted his collection and went to the market to buy a peach. After eating it, he still felt hungry, so he bought another. Not yet sated, he bought a third one. Still not full, he bought an apple with his last money. That did it. As he prepared for the night on a park bench, he muttered, "Shit! I should have bought the apple in the first place, then I would have enough left over for a drink."

Two panhandlers met on Broadway of New York. Asked one, "Don't you normally go on Park Avenue?"

"I did. But I got married recently and gave my wife Park Avenue as a gift."

A panhandler approached a man and said, "I hadn't have a bite in two weeks."

So the man bit him.

Jokes

Parenting

The five year-old pestered his father no end to explain to him the birds and the bees. Finally, after some serious research, the father sat down with his kid to explain where babies come from. In summary, he said, "...so that's how the birds have baby birds, how the cat have baby kittens, and how mom and dad had you."

"So," replied the precocious one, "how did Mary had a little lamb?"

Jokes

Parking

An old lady was having difficulty maneuvering her car in a tight parking space. A passerby decided to play Good Samaritan and assisted her. Turn this way, a little more to the left, go right, back up a little bit. The passerby guided her until the car was neatly parked. Before he could leave, the lady rolled down her window and said, "Thank you for your kind help but I was actually trying to leave."

The owner tore down his trendy restaurant in L.A. because he was making so much more money for valet parking, he decided he needed more parking space.

Jokes

Parrot

The parrot in the monastery was a learned animal and amazes visitors no end. When the friar pulls his left leg, it would recite the Lord's Prayer. When the friar pulls his right leg, it would recite Hail Mary. One day, an inquisitive visitor happened to ask, "What would it recite if you pull both legs."

Croaked the parrot, "You stupid old loaf! I'll fall down, of course!"

A man bought a parrot from a pet shop. When he brought it home, the parrot started singing "Easter Parade." The man was quite astonished and pleasantly surprised. On Easter Sunday, he went to church with the parrot. There he told everyone who'd listen that the parrot can sing "Easter Parade." Naturally they didn't believe him and even laughed at him. The man asked them if they are willing to bet on his claim. A lot of people accepted and placed their bets. He then asked the parrot to sing, but the bird remained silent. Sulking, the man paid off everyone.

When they reached home, the parrot once again sang. The man asked, "Why do you sing only now? Why didn't you sing earlier. Do you know you cost me a fortune?"

The parrot replied, "Don't worry. Just think of all the money we'll make this winter with "Silent Night."

A farmer got an order for two dozen chickens. He counted the chickens as he put them at the back of his truck. He came up one short so he threw his old parrot into lot. Driving to his customer, he noticed a commotion behind him. He got out and saw all the chickens walking behind his truck. Then he heard the parrot, perched on the bumper, say, "Well, it is not too late, girls. Change your mind and you can ride up here with me."

A man went into a pet shop and saw a parrot. He asked, "Hey, stupid, can you talk?"

The bird answered back, "Hey, dummy, can you fly?"

A sailor had a parrot that went with him wherever the ship took them. The bird was a fine companion except that it was extremely horny, and therefore, frustrated a lot of times. The sailor felt guilty. As soon as they got home, he went to the pastor for advice. The pastor smiled and said, "You know what? I just happen to have a female parrot who is extremely well-behaved and prays religiously. Perhaps we should get them together. Hopefully, she might provide some influence."

The sailor agreed immediately and went back to get his parrot. The men then put the two birds together and left the room to give their pets some privacy.

A sailor's parrot looked at the smaller female parrot and squawked, "So, you're gonna reform me, eh?"

"Of course not. What do you think I've been praying for all this time?"

A man went into a pet shop to buy something for his mother. The shopkeeper suggested a colorful parrot. The man asked for the price and was surprised to find out the parrot costs so much. The shopkeeper explained, "This is a special parrot. He can speak seven languages and can recite the entire work of Shakespeare in any of the seven languages." The man agreed it was a special bird and bought it for his mother.

The next week he visited his mother for dinner and was aghast to see her serving the parrot. "Mother, that parrot was worth a fortune. It could speak in seven languages and can recite Shakespeare in any of them!"

His mother was indignant. "If it could speak seven languages, why didn't it say something?"

To his owner's dismay, a parrot likes to curse. Finally the owner warns him, "One more time and I'll throw you into the freezer."

The parrot replies, "Damn it!"

So the owner grabs the parrot and dumps him into the freezer. The bird looks around, sees a dressed chicken, and asks, "What the hell did you say?"

The nuns in a convent have a pet parrot that likes to curse. Unable to control him, they finally gave him a warning, "Use one more bad word and we'll shave your top."

To which he replied, "I'll be damned if you will." So they did.

A few days later, a bald-headed friar came visiting. As he passed by, the parrot looked in amazement and said, "Holy shit! You must have cursed the hell out of the nuns."

A man brought a parrot home and tried to teach me to talk. Every morning, he would pass by the parrot and say, "Good morning. How are you?" But the parrot remained silent.

Finally after a month, the man gave up. So when he passed the parrot, he didn't bother with his cheerful greeting. The parrot looked at him quizzically and asked, "My, my. What's wrong with you today?"

Jokes

Personality

A suitor asked her, "Can I come to your home for a visit?"
She replied, "What for?"

A typical day for her would be to yell at her chauffeur for driving too fast, reprimand her secretary for wearing too short a skirt, scolding her staff for not being productivity, throwing out two or more salesmen, threatening delinquent accounts, warning her vendors of poor quality. Yet when her boyfriend said, "Please marry me. I'll be your protector for life," she blushed.

A man met an acquaintance at a fancy club and suggested they have a drink together. The acquaintance declined politely, saying, "I tried it once but I didn't like it."

A server came by with some hors d'oeuvres. The man took one and offered it to his acquaintance. Again, he refused, saying, "I tried it once but I didn't like it."

A few moments passed and a young man joined them. The man noticed the resemblance and asked, "Your son?"

The acquaintance answered in the affirmative and said, "He's an only child, you know."

Jokes

Personals

Mildred was fast becoming what is normally referred to as an old maid. Naturally her mother was concerned. One day, unable to control herself any longer, the mother suggested they put an ad in the singles section of the local classified ads. Mildred refused at first, but the older woman insisted. Finally as a compromise, they decided that no name was to be included, just a box number for reference. An ad was then placed in the singles section of the Sunday paper's classifieds.

A few days later, mother and daughter were still waiting for the first response. Finally, a week later, a reply came through the mail. Mildred eagerly ripped off the envelope, read the letter, and, burst into tears.

"Dear, what's wrong? Tell me," asked the concerned mom.

In a sniffing voice, the daughter cried, "It's from dad."

A woman placed a personal ad for an exceptional lover and was surprised to get a letter from a man who admitted he was not only a dwarf but was armless and legless as well. Curious, the woman agreed to meet.

On the appointed day, the doorbell rang. The woman opened it and saw the dwarf. She asked him, "So what makes you an exceptional lover?"

"I rang the doorbell, didn't I?"

Jokes

Pig

A passerby saw a pig with a wooden leg hobbling around in a farm. He asked the owner about it, who explained, "That pig there is a special one. When our barn caught fire two years ago, he went in and dragged my baby out. When my wife fell into the well last year, he dragged me out of the house and pushed me into the well. I was able to save my wife then. Actually it was the pig who saved her. Then earlier this year, my boat capsized and turned over. I was knocked unconscious. I'd have drowned but the pig dragged me out of the lake and saved me."

"But, sir, you haven't explained about the leg," the passerby said.

Poker

The kibitzer has been particularly annoying all night during a poker game. Finally as the sun started to rise, he exclaims, "That's it for me. Win or lose, I'm going home after this deal."

Four clergymen were playing poker when the cops broke in. "Okay, break it up!" demanded a policeman.

"Break what up?" ask one of the player.

"You know what. You have been playing cards," said another cop, who then turned to look at the priest, "Weren't you, Father?"

"No, son."

The cop turned to the Lutheran minister. "Of course not," he replied.

"How about you?" the cop addressed the rabbi.

"Don't be silly," said the rabbi as he shook his head.

Becoming desperate, the cop turned to the last man, a Baptist minister, and said, "Don't tell me you are going to deny playing cards as well."

"And with whom was I playing?"

It was Dick's turn to host Friday night poker but as luck would have it, his wife had to go on an out-of-town trip, leaving him to babysit their eleven year old son. The kid turned out to be too much of a kibitzer. He would go around the room, reading out each man's hand to every one else. At every deal, Dick would bring his son to another room but no amount of threatening worked, and the kid would be back for the next deal. Things got so bad that one of the players finally got up and dragged the kid with him to the other room. The player came back alone and they resumed playing. Ten, twenty, thirty minutes passed and the kid hasn't returned. Dick was amazed. He asked his friend, "What did you do to my kid?"

"Nothing. I just taught him how to jerk off."

Jokes

Pope

The Pope went on a mission to a Third World country. There he was holding audience to a large crowd when suddenly, without a warning, a flash flood came charging. Somehow, the Pope managed to stay on the makeshift platform.

Soon enough, a rescue boat came to rescue him.

He gently waved them off. "Go rescue the others. I'm the Pope. The Lord will protect me."

One hour later, a torrid rain began pouring down. Soon the water level has risen to his waist. Yet the Pope was confident. So when another boat came to rescue him, he called out, "Go. Save the others first."

Another hour passed by and the rain was still relentless. By now the water level has risen to his chin. Soon a helicopter spotted him and dropped a ladder. "Your Holiness, this is your last chance. Please grab the line," yelled the rescuer.

"Don't worry about me. I'm the Pope. The Lord will--glub, glub, pktgt..." And the holy man sank out of sight.

Moments later, the Pope found himself in Heaven, face to face with the Lord.

"Lord! How could you? I had absolute faith in You. Yet You let me drown---" cried the Pope.

"You idiot. I sent two boats and a helicopter to rescue you and each time you refused. What were you expecting? That I personally went down there to rescue you?" the good Lord boomed.

Pope John Paul II was giving one of his rare interviews. Asked about his pet peeves, he said, "There are only two things. One, I don't like Polish jokes, for obvious reasons. Second, I have stopped eating M & M's."

The reporter asked, "The first is self-explanatory, but why the second?"

"At my age, I no longer have the patience nor the strength to peel off the shells."

To pass the long wait while he is on his missionary trips, the Pope would often work on crossword puzzles. One time, he was stuck on a particular word. So he turned to a cardinal, "What would be a four letter word for woman that ends in U-N-T?"

The cardinal thought about it for a while and answered, "I believe that would be aunt."

The Pope looked at him, then at the puzzle, and back at him and asked, "Would you happen to have an eraser?"

The Pope was working on a crossword puzzle when he came upon a stumper. He asked the cardinal, "What is a four-letter word for intercourse that ends in K?"

The cardinal replied, "Why, that would be talk, of course."

"Where is the eraser?"

Prayer

The army officer was overseas on an extended tour, so his little girl prayed to God: "Dear God, please let my mommy have a baby brother so that we can surprise daddy when he gets home."

Two childhood friends grew up. One was a devout, religious man who prayed everyday. Unfortunately, things didn't work out for him. After forty years of hard work, he has nothing to show for it but a big family that scrapes by. The other was a happy-go-lucky kind of guy who went to Las Vegas and hit the jackpot. For the last forty years, he has been living the good life in his huge mansion with a bevy of bikini-clad girls around him. Needless to say, he has never once set foot inside a church.

The religious man looked around his tiny apartment and prayed, "Lord, what did I do to deserve this fate. I prayed to you faithfully, all the time just asking for small favors. My friend never even talks to you, yet look at him. No other man seems to enjoy life. Lord, what happened?"

The Lord answered, "That's because he has never nag in his entire life. You, on other hand, have been bugging me for the last forty years!"

Pregnancy

The husband promised his wife if she gets pregnant he will buy her a new mini-van. So she did and went through nine months of morning sickness, feelings of bloatiness, back pains, foot swellings, and then a difficult and prolonged labor and delivery. Afterwards, as she lay in the recovery room, she said to the nurse, "This is one hell of a way to get a mini-van!"

A first time mother-to-be started experiencing labor pains so she had her husband call the doctor, who asked, "How far apart are the pains?"
"I'm not sure but I think they are all in the same place."

The doctor said, "Mrs. Taylor, I have good news for you..."
The patient corrected him, "It's Miss Taylor."
"In that case, Miss Taylor, I have bad news for you."

Jokes

President

President Clinton and his wife went back to Arkansas for a visit. Hillary decided to go shopping and told Bill she will be gone only a short a while. She came back four hours later. "Where have you been?" the President demanded.

"I bumped into an old boyfriend of mine and we started talking. You know how it is, dear?"

"So what did you talk about?"

"Well, he was saying how if he hadn't broken up with me, he would have become President of the United States."

If George Washington were alive today, chances are he would never be elected president. Fact is, there is a good chance he will be chased out of town. After all, that's what some people would do to a man in a ruffled silk shirt, tight satin pants, high-heeled boots, and a curly wig.

Heard Ronald Reagan missed several trips on the Air Force One. He couldn't remember the flight number.

Aboard the Air Force One, the president said to an aide, "Maybe I should throw a fifty dollar bill out the window just to make someone happy."

"Sir, why not throw five ten-dollar bills and make five people happy?" the aide replied.

"Why not fifty one-dollar bills and make fifty people happy?" another aide suggested.

Through the public address system, a voice suggested, "Why not just jump out of the window and make everyone happy?"

A young man was strolling by the beach when he saw a figure in the water waving frantically. He rushed to the water and saved the man, who turned out to be Richard Nixon.

Catching his breath, the former president gratefully said, "You saved my life. Do you know who I am?" When the young man nodded affirmatively, Nixon continued, "If ever there's any way I can repay you, just name it."

"Sir, there just might be one thing. I'd like to be buried in the Arlington National Cemetery."

Nixon was taken aback, "You are the picture of health. Why think of dying when you have your whole future ahead of you?"

"Sir, when my parents find out who I just saved, they will kill me."

The warden called the prisoner into his office and said, "I'm afraid clemency is out of the question now. The governor just got indicted!"

Jokes

Proctologist

A proctologist came home and saw his wife in a sheer negligee. Becoming aroused, he crept behind her and grabbed her breasts. His wife turned and angrily said, "For God's sake, you've had your hands up other people's asses the whole day."

They just discovered the reason for the high drop-out rate for proctology students.
It seems the students can't take it in the end.

Jokes

Prostitute

A whore got sick so her doctor ordered her to stay off her back for a week.

She went to the beauty salon and got a poodle cut. It didn't help her looks and she still couldn't do any tricks.

An old-timer approached a streetwalker and asked, "Wanna have fun?"
The girl sneered, "You've had it."
He replied, "How much do I owe you then?"

The stripper was explaining how she makes money: Every time I lift my left leg, I get a tip. Every time I lift my right leg, I get another tip. Between them, I make my living.

A couple fell on hard times and they decided the best way out was for the wife to sell her body. So she went out that night and didn't return until almost sunrise. Her husband asked her, "So, did you make a lot of money?"

"A hundred fifty and fifty cents," she smiled.

"That's good. But who was the cheapskate who gave you fifty cents?"

She looked surprised and said, "Why, all of them."

The cops made their regular sweep of streetwalkers. The next day, the ones who weren't able to avoid the cops appeared in court. The judge asked the first, "Are you a prostitute?"

"No, your honor. I am a secretary. I was just out taking a walk."

The second also claimed she was a secretary. And so did about half a dozen others. Finally the judge asked the last girl.

She answered, "Yes, sir. I am."

"So how's business?"

"If it weren't for those goddamned secretaries, business would be better."

Said one whore to another, "I just had to perform oral sex on the foulest smelling john I've ever had."

"Oh gross!"

"No, it was Brown."

The streetwalker approached a passerby. He replied, "Let me tell you three reasons why I wouldn't. First of all, I got no money. Second,---"

The whore cut him off, "Well, let me tell you what you can do with the other two reasons."

The customer took the lady of the night back to his hotel room. Before undressing, the lady asked for his money. He gave her and she undressed. He told her to lie down across his lap and started spanking her butt. Soon, it started to hurt, so the lady asked, "When are you going to stop?"

"As soon as you give back my money!"

Jokes

Psychiatrist

A man concerned about the diminutive size of his penis went to see a psychiatrist, who told him, "I wouldn't be troubled by a small thing like that."

A couple went to see a psychiatrist for advice on their waning sex life. He suggested that they try spontaneity and variety, and encouraged them to make love as soon as the urge to do so strikes them. The couple agreed to try it.

A week later, they went back and ecstatically told the doctor his suggestion worked. The husband added, "There is only a slight problem."
"And what would that be?" the doctor asked.

"I think we will never be allowed back at any Denny's restaurant."

Two shrinks met. The first one said, "You're fine. How am I?"

Said the psychiatrist, "You don't have an inferiority complex. You are inferior."

The psychiatrist told the schizophrenic, "I'll have to charge each one of you. But I'll give you the discount for group rates."

A patient was relating his problem to the psychiatrist. "Every night I keep dreaming I am marooned in an island with three gorgeous girls."

"So, what's the problem?"

"In my dreams I am also a woman!"

The psychiatrist told his patient, "No, you are not imagining things. A man is following you. He is trying to collect the money you owe me."

A patient pulled out a gun on his doctor, saying, "You have been of great help to me, but now you know too much!"

Patient: Doc, I keep thinking I'm a pack of biscuits.
Doctor: Biscuits? You mean those little square ones?
Patient: Yes.
Doctor: You must be crackers then.

Then there was the psychiatrist's assistant who got fed up and quit. It seemed that whenever she was early for work, he would tell her she has an anxiety problem. Whenever she was late, he would tell her she was being hostile. And whenever she was on time, he would tell her she was being compulsive.

A whore was complaining about her shrink, "I just can't get used to the idea of having to lie down for a guy and having to pay the guy afterwards."

"What do you mean you didn't dream last night?" the psychiatrist asked his patient, "How the hell am I supposed to help you if you don't do your homework?"

A wife brought her husband to see the psychiatrist. She said, "He is behaving like a mad dog."

"How long has this been going on?" asked the doctor.
"Ever since he was a puppy."

Two shrinks met. The first one said, "Good morning!" The second one walked on, wondering aloud, "I wonder what he meant by that?"

A couple went to see their psychiatrist. The man said, "What's-her-face here keeps complaining I don't pay her any attention."

The patient told his psychiatrist about the beautiful women in his nightly dreams. His doctor said there was a cure. He replied, "What cure? I want you to help me get their phone numbers!"

A wife brought her husband to see the psychiatrist. She said, "He thinks he is the Lone Ranger."

"Bring him in. We can cure him," said the doctor.
"I guess that's what we need to do. But Tonto is so good with the kids!"

Two patients of a psychiatrist met in the hallway. Said the neurotic, "I just finished building a castle in the air." Replied the psychotic, "Good. Let me rent it from you."

The patient believed he was Abraham Lincoln. One session, he told his psychiatrist, "My wife is planning to kill me."

"How is that so?"

"She keeps asking me to go to the theater with her."

Patient: "We think we are schizophrenic."

Doctor: "Don't worry. The four of us can handle it."

"Doc, I have a screw on my belly button," complained the patient, "what can I do?"

The doctor replied, "Get a screwdriver. Just before you sleep, unscrew it and throw it away."

The next day, the patient called, "Doc, I did what you said."

"Yes?"

"My butt fell off!"

The psychiatrist treated John for five full years because the John kept on saying he was always on the outside looking in. Then he discovered John was a window washer.

"Doc, my husband thinks he is a refrigerator."

"That's not serious."

"Maybe, but he sleeps with his mouth open and the light bothers me."

A psychiatrist was talking about his most bizarre case. "This guy believed that a rich relative will die and leave him a million dollars. Everyday he would wait at home for the letter to arrive. He didn't want to go out. He never went to work. Neither did he ever dine out or watch a movie. I had to make house calls in his case. He simply stayed in the house. I worked with him for five long years before finally curing him. Then that damned letter came!"

A psychiatrist decided to test his patient for an obsession. He showed him a square and asked, "What does this make you think of?"

"Sex."

Next the doctor flashed a circle and a triangle in succession. Both drew the same reply, "Sex."

Other pictures of varying subject matter produced the same reply, "Sex."

The doctor concluded, "You are obsessed with sex."

The patient screamed, "Me? I'm obsessed with sex? You're the one who's showing all those dirty pictures!"

Patient: No one takes me seriously.

Psychiatrist: No kidding?

"Doc, doc," the patient exclaimed, "I got this feeling I am two persons. Two separate guys. Am I crazy or what? Do I have to undergo treatment---"

"Calm down," replied the psychiatrist, "slow down. Let's start over. One at a time."

Two psychiatrists live in the same floor of a building. One day, they entered the elevator at the same time. The operator, a young man, cheerfully greeted them, "Good morning." The two psychiatrists got out of the elevator and as they started for their cars, one asked the other, "What do you think he meant by that?"

The depressed woman went to see her shrink who promptly suggested a vacation. A week later, the doctor received a postcard: Hi, Doc. Am having a wonderful time. Why?

The psychiatrist told the mother, "You're too stressed out, worrying about your son. I'll prescribe some sedative for you. Take one a day and come back next week."

The mother came back the following week. The doctor asked her, "How's your son?"

"Who cares?"

A man was committed to a mental institution. He took to sitting by the water fountain in front of the building, with a fishing rod in hand. Finally his psychiatrist tried to talk him out of it. "Have you catch anything?" he asked the man.

"Don't be stupid. This is a water fountain."

Rabbit

Two rabbits were attacked by wolves. One asked the other, "Shall we stay here and outnumber them?" The other replied, "I think we better make a run for it. We are brothers."

The two little rabbits were eager to go to school to learn multiplication.

Contrary to popular belief, a rabbit's foot does not always bring good luck. At least, not to the rabbit, that's for sure.

Jokes

Racist

A black man in a small rural Southern town tells of the time he tried to join a white Baptist church. He was pleasantly surprised when they welcomed him like a long lost brother. Then the congregation went down to the river and the minister chanted some words over him and dipped him into the water. Till now, he can't seem to remember what happened next.

A Klan member moved to Alaska and wrote his friends in the South, "I have been alone here for months now. It tends to get to very lonely at sometimes... The only companionship I have had are a few female polar bears. Thank God, they are white!"

Klan women like to attend meetings. They do not have to worry about dressing up or having the same outfit as some other women. They all wear the same outfit.

The racist couple stopped at four babies because they found out one out of every five baby born is Chinese.

As the football team gathered around near the bus, the new white coach announced, "There has been some rumors about my being partial to players of my color. That's simply untrue. For me, there no such thing as black skin or white skin. To me everyone's green. You got that?" The team replied in unison, "Yes, coach," and cheered loudly.

The coach then said, "Okay, let's go. Light green guys in front, dark green guys at the back."

A Klan member died on his way to a cross-burning and his soul went to the part of hell reserved for ghosts. Said the gatekeeper, "Hah! We're getting them already dressed now."

A Klan member's wife divorced him after he came home wearing a different sheet.

Relationship

Suitor: I would like you to be the mother of my children.

Woman: Why, how many do you have?

The middle-aged man was flattered when the very young waitress at the cafe he frequents started to engage in small talk. As they got friendlier, she asked one day, "Are you single?"

"Oh, yes," the man smiled.

"Good. Would you like to meet my mom? She is also single."

Jane's husband was well into his eighties but still enjoyed chasing girls. Her friends were surprised she wasn't the least upset. She replied, "Why should I be? Dogs chase cars even though they can't drive."

Man: Can I have your phone number?

Pretty Woman: It's in the book.

Man: Good! What's your name, then?

Pretty Woman: It's in the book, too.

The wife was dying. Softly she called her husband to her bedside and whispered, "Dear, I have a confession to make. I was unfaithful."

The husband replied, just as softly, "I know, dear. That's why I poisoned you."

Soon after, her doorbell rang. It was her date. He looked at her and said, "I can't believe this! I am two hours late and you're still not ready!"

"...by the way, I also went to see the doctor today."

"Hmmh?"

"Dear, are you listening or are you reading the paper?"

"I'm listening, of course."

"I said, I went to see Dr. Young earlier this afternoon."

"So how is he?" the husband reply as he turned a page.

Wife: When was the last time our son wrote us?

Husband: Let me look at our checkbook.

Religion

The tourist went to the hotel coffee shop and started making passes at Jennifer, a waitress who works here. Finally, he invited her to his room. She became furious until he said, "Oh, please, don't get mad. It is in the Bible." She was placated and agreed to go out with him.

So after her shift, she went to a bar to have some drinks. Again he invited her to his room, explaining, "It's in the Bible." Becoming half-convinced, she relented.

Up in her room, he began undressing her. She resisted half-heartedly. He assured her it is okay because it is in the Bible. Finally, Jennifer asked him, "Where? Where does it say in the Bible?"

The man opened the night stand's drawer, got out the Gideon and showed her the inside cover where someone has scribbled, "Jennifer in the coffee shop puts out."

Albert and Mary were having marital problems of the sexual kind. Both being religious, they decided to pray for help.

The next day, Mary went to see the parish priest. She told him, "Father, I have been so worried that he was losing his desire for me. Not that he wasn't worried. He was, too. That's why we decided to pray. And you know what? Yesterday afternoon, while I was bending over a sack of rice, he grabbed me from behind and made passionate love to me."

The priest joyfully said, "My child, God does answer the faithful's prayers."

That afternoon, Albert went to see the parish priest and told him what the story. "Father, I'm worried because I wasn't able to control myself. I had to make love to her right there and then. Will we be thrown out of church?"

"Of course not. You won't be thrown out because of a simple matter."

"Well, we got thrown out of the supermarket."

The rabbi gingerly asked the richest man in his congregation, "Why do you always fall asleep when I'm delivering my sermon?"

"Would I if I didn't trust you?" replied the rich man.

Asked the minister, "What must we do before God will forgive us our sins?"

A child in the front row replied, "Sin."

A minister had a difficult time finding a parking space. Giving up, he parked in a red zone and placed a message: "I've gone around the block ten times and can't find any parking space. I'm already running late for an important appointment. Forgive us our trespasses."

When he returned to his car, he found a ticket, along with a note: "I've been going around this block for ten years. If I don't give you a ticket, I'll lose my job. Lead us not into temptation."

The minister's phone rang and when he answered it, he heard a man's voice ordering a number of assorted hard liquor. Recognizing the voice, he gently told the caller, "This is your minister."

The voice on the other line paused for a while, then asked, "What are you doing in a liquor store?"

The elders were debating over the town madam's offer of contributing a large amount to the local church. The discussion went on for hours and hours and was often heated and laced with strong words. Finally, one of them spoke, "I think we can accept the money without any guilt. After all, it's ours."

The rabbi was also an avid golfer. One nice, Saturday morning, right after services, he felt a powerful urge to play a few holes. So he begged God for forgiveness for breaking the Sabbath and left for the course. There he made sure no one could see him and then he asked for forgiveness again and then teed off.

Meanwhile, Moses in heaven have been following the rabbi. He jumped up and reported the transgression to the Lord. "Lord, we have to punish the rabbi."

"But, of course," proclaimed the Master. With that, He put His hands over His mouth and just as the rabbi was teeing off for the next hole, His Almighty blew some holy air in the rabbi's direction.

The wind caught the rabbi's ball in mid-flight and carried through two hundred yards, over a water trap, around a tree, straight in the green and into the cup, for an incredible hole-in-one.

Moses was shocked, "Lord, what kind of punishment is that?"

His Holiness smiled gently, "Whom can he tell?"

"What is the color of our pastor's eyes?"

"I don't know. When he prays he closes his eyes. When he preaches, I close my eyes."

An elderly born-again Christian was on the witness stand. The D.A. asked, "How old are you?"

"Thank the Lord, I am, praise be the Lord, eighty-five this year."

"What was that?" asked the judge.

"I said, 'Thank the Lord. I am, praise be the Lord, eighty-five this year.' "

"Just answer the question!" snapped the judge, "Nothing else."

"I'm eight-five," replied the witness, "thank the---"

The judge banged his gavel and demanded, "The witness will answer the question and only the question, without any additional comment, or be held in contempt of court. Is this clear?"

The defense rose, "Your Honor, may I rephrase the question?"

"Please."

The attorney turned and addressed the witness, "Sir, thank the Lord and praise the Lord, how old are you?"

"Eight-five," smiled the old man.

Hakeem, a businessman from Kuwait, had to extend his business trip in China. Not wanting to miss his religious obligations, he asked the hotel clerk if there is a mosque nearby. To his surprise, there was one and it was just a couple of blocks away.

So Hakeem left the hotel and walked to the mosque. On entering, Hakeem found everyone inside to be Chinese. But he was elated to find out it was indeed a mosque. After the prayers, he turned to the person beside him and exclaimed, "You do not know how happy I am to be here!"

The Chinese looked at him and asked, "Excuse me, you a Moslem?"

Hakeem nodded earnestly.

"Funny but you don't look Moslem."

"How do you like our new priest?"

"I'm afraid not too well. His sermons are so long you can't keep awake, but his voice is so loud, you can't fall asleep."

A pastor with very little sexual experience married a young woman with considerable experience. On their wedding night, he went to the bathroom to change. Coming out he was shocked to see his wife lying on the bed, nude as the day she was born, ready for him. He said, "I had expected to you see down on your knees by the bedside."

"Oh, I get the hiccups if I do it in that position."

A minister's wife gave birth to a boy. Both new mom and baby were doing great. So he sent a telegram to his mother that read: "Isaiah 9:6."

His mom got the message and called his dad at work, "Our son's wife have given birth to a boy. They are naming him Isaiah. Isaiah weighs nine pounds and six ounces."

Asked the little boy, "Why do churches have plus signs on top?"

Revenge

The millionaire died and included his mistress in his will. Among others, she was to receive the money to be derived from the sale of his red Ferrari. So his widow sold it for a dollar.

A group of bikers went into a diner and decided to have fun with a frail, studious looking accountant. They called him several things. The man didn't respond. They grabbed the food from his plate. He remained oblivious to them. They started poking him. He looked and smiled at them, then paid for his meal, and walked out. The bikers followed him out. They continued harassing him until he got into his van. Deciding they had enough fun, the bikers went back into the diner.

A few minutes later, a man who saw everything came inside the diner and said, "That guy was just a loser. Not only can't he fight, he can't even drive. You should have seen the way he ran straight over a bunch of bikes."

Bob saw the pretty girl alone by the bar so he approached her. "Hi, can I buy you a drink?"

To his unpleasant surprise, the girl suddenly stood up and shouted, "What kind of a girl do you think I am?"

"I--I just wanted to meet you, that's all?" stammered Bob.

The girl raised her voice even higher, for all others to hear. "I am not for sale. I am not going with you!" And she walked out of the bar, leaving Bob extremely embarrassed.

A week later, Bob saw the girl again at the bar. This time, the girl approached him and smilingly said, "Hi, I'm sorry I embarrassed you last week. Actually, I'm a psychology graduate student and I was researching for a paper on the Reactions of the Masculine Psyche in Adverse Situations."

Bob glared at her, jumped to his feet and shouted, "What? Three hundred dollars? For thirty minutes. You must be out of your mind!" With that, he stormed out.

Robert Henderson was well asleep when his phone suddenly rang in the middle of the night.

"Hello. Is this Mr. Henderson in apartment 401?"

"Yes," he grumbled.

"This is Mrs. Newman in apartment 501. It is 3:45 in the morning and your dog's barking is keeping me awake!" The phone slammed dead.

The next night, at 3:45 in the morning, Mrs. Newman's phone rang. "Hello," she muttered.

"Is this Mrs. Newman in apartment 501?"

"Yes?"

"This is Mr. Henderson in apartment 401. I would like you to know something."

"At 3:45 in the morning? Are you nuts?"

"I don't have a dog."

The guide replied, "Kenya, yes. But we're in Nigeria."

A man, his wife, and her mother joined an African safari. A week into the trip, the wife woke up in the middle of the night and noticed her mother missing. She woke up her husband and forced him to look for her mother.

He got his rifle and they started their search. They soon came to a clearing and saw her mother backed up to a corner with a lion pacing in front of her.

The wife asked her husband, "What are you going to do?"

"Nothing. The lion got himself into this mess. Let him figure how to get out of it."

Jokes

Saint Peter

A millionaire tightwad died and was brought to St. Peter to be judged. St. Peter asked him, "Can you name me a good deed you performed on earth to make you deserving of heaven?"

The man thought long and hard, shook his head, and suddenly smiled, "I remember now. About twenty years ago, I gave a beggar a dime."

St. Peter took a dime out of his pocket, handed it to the man and said, "Here's your dime. You can go to hell!"

A busload of husbands arrived at St. Peter's gate. To expedite processing, he told them to form two lines. "Those of you who wore the pants in your own house, go to the left. Those of you who were henpecked, go to the right. Everyone took their proper places. The line on the right extended past the clouds. A timid-looking bespectacled man stood in front of the left line. St. Peter asked him, "Are you sure you're in the right line?"

"I am sure, but this is where my wife ordered me to stand."

Three heart-attack victims arrived at the gates of St. Peter. He asked the first, "How did you die?"

"My husband caught me with the neighbor in bed," the sexy young woman admitted.

"I'm sorry we can't admit you to heaven," St. Peter replied, then turning to the next in line, he asked, "How did you die?"

"My boss finally discovered I had been embezzling from the company," the accountant confessed.

"I'm sorry we can't admit you, either," the good saint replied. He then turned to the third person and asked the same question.

"I opened my mail and found my lawyer's bill."

"Well, then, you may proceed through the gates."

St. Peter invited St. Paul to a round of golf. After the first nine holes, each had nine holes in one. St. Peter told his friend, "Let's get serious. Forget about miracles and start playing real golf."

A lovely lady, wearing her jet-black hair in a white hairband, approached the gates of St. Peter. After giving her a once over, the saint asked her, "Tell me, are you a virgin?"

"Yes, sir," she replied demurely.

"Well, we need to have you examined then," St. Peter told her. He then motioned an angel to lead her to the examination room.

A few moments later, the angel and the lady came back. The angel told St. Peter, "She's a virgin. But she got seven little dents on her maidenhead."

St. Peter thanked the angel, opened his record book, and said to the lady, "Congratulations. We are accepting you. May I have your name please?"

"Snow White."

Four girlfriends were killed in an accident. Soon they were forming a line to St. Peter's gate. He asked the first, "Have you sinned?"

"I kissed a boy once," replied the first.

"Go and wash your lips in the holy water," replied the saint, then turning to the next girl, "Have you sinned?"

"I once held a boy's penis," replied the second.

"Go and wash your hands in the holy water," replied St. Peter.

Turning, he saw the last two arguing on who goes next. He asked them why.

"It is like this," replied the third, "I figure I should be allowed in first to gargle in the holy water before she has to sit on it."

A cardinal and a U.S. Senator arrived at St. Peter's simultaneously. The religious man was given a key to a small room crowded with three other cardinals. The politician was given a key to the penthouse. The cardinal complained to St. Peter, who replied, "We get cardinals by the dozens, but he is the first senator we ever got."

To stem the flow of people going to Heaven, St. Peter decided to put them to the test and asked them questions about important dates of their faith. Three Christians were next in line. So he asked the first, "What is Easter all about?"

"Uh-uh--it's when we color eggs and---"

"To hell you go!" intoned St. Peter, sending the poor Christian to hell.

A lady came up next. St. Peter asked her the same question, "What is Easter all about?"

"Ummm-let's see, it is about this bunny that---"

"To hell you go!"

An old man was next. Same question.

"I think it is about Jesus being crucified, rising from the dead, and coming out of the cave and---"

St. Peter smiled and said, "Finally, a true Christian who knows his faith!"

"---and when he saw his shadow," the old man continued, "six more weeks of winter followed."

Sister Samantha died but her room in heaven wasn't ready yet, so St. Peter told her to go back to earth and call in a week.

The week passed and she called St. Peter, "St. Peter, this is Sister Samantha. I'm in San Francisco. Everything is okay except I went bar hopping the other night."

The saint replied, "That's nothing. But your room isn't ready yet. Call me in a week."

Another week passed and the nun called heaven again, "St. Peter, this is Sister Samantha. Everything is okay except I went to an alternative club last night."

The saint replied, "It's no big deal. Call me tomorrow regarding your room."

The next day, she called, "Peter, it's Sam. About my room - forget it."

A woman knocked at St. Peter's gate and asked to join her husband, Stan Smith. The saint replied, "We have a million Stan Smiths. Can you be more specific?"

"My Stan is short, bald, and fat. He also told me before he died that if I ever slept with another man he'd surely turn over in his grave."

St. Peter called an angel and said, "Bring her to Spinning Stan."

Jokes

Salesperson

The best salesperson ever is the guy who made a fortune going door-to-door selling signs that say 'No Salespeople Allowed.'

A man entered a store and asked the lovely clerk, "Do you keep stationery?"
She replied, "As long as I can but it gets tiring fast."

In San Francisco's Union Square, a street vendor stopped a tourist and offered, "I have got toothbrushes for five dollars apiece."

"Five dollars apiece. Isn't that too much?"

The vendor offered his other items. "What about homemade cookies for a quarter each?"

Being good-natured, the tourist decided to buy two. He took a bite and suddenly spat it all out.

"What's this? It tastes like shit!"

"It is. Want to buy a toothbrush?"

The salesman saw a boy seated on the front porch of a house, approached him, and asked him, "Is your Momma home?"

"Sure is," answered the boy.

So the salesman knocked on the door but got no answer. He turned to the boy and asked, "I thought you said your Momma's home."

"Sure is. We live three houses down."

The new door-to-door salesman called his boss, "Sir, I'm afraid I'm not doing well."

"Well, how many orders have you gotten?"

"Just three."

"Three? That's fantastic."

"No, sir. You don't understand. Those three orders? They are keep out, get out, and stay out."

School

The student who is voted Most Popular is often hated for it.

Teacher: "Your penmanship is terrible. You need to learn to write better."

Student: "If I did, you'd be correcting my spelling."

It was little Joey's first day at school. His mother eagerly waited by the door as he came home. She hugged and kissed him and asked, "So what did you learn today?"

"I learned to write."

"On the first day? So, what did you write?"

"I don't know. I can't read yet."

Teacher: "Make a sentence with a direct object."

Student: "I think you are beautiful."

Teacher: "Thank you, but what is the object?"

Student: "A passing grade."

A pretty young grade school teacher noticed that one of her pupils has a crush on her and it was affecting his work. She decided to have a heart-to-heart talk with him.

"Stanley, is there something distracting you?"

"Yes, ma'am," the boy replied softly.

"Do you want to talk about it?"

The boy blushed and kept mum.

The teacher continued, "Is it me by any chance?"

The boy nodded and blushed even more.

"Stanley, I'm very flattered. In fact, some day I hope to marry someone...someone who's as cute and nice as you."

"So why not me?" asked the innocent child.

"Well, Stanley. I'm a grown-up and I don't want a child," the teacher replied, smilingly.

Stanley's eyes brightened and said, "But, I can promise I'll be extra careful!"

The seventh grader was made traffic guard and arrived home two hours late. His frantic mom was worried. "What took you so long?"

"Mommy, you know I was made traffic guard today. That means all the kids have to wait for me to stop a car, wait for my signal, before they can cross the street."

"Yes?"

"Do you know how long it took me to finally stop a car?"

"Which month in the year has 28 days?"

"All of them."

Teacher: Use I in a sentence.

Pupil: I is---

Teacher, cutting in: No. You always say, 'I am.'

Pupil: I am the letter before J.

A mom was asking her kid about his first day in school. She asked, "So how was your first day, dear?"

"Okay."

"Did you learn anything?"

"I think not. My teacher wants me back tomorrow."

A young boy came home from school and told his mommy, "We learned how to make babies today!"

His mother gasped and asked, "How?"

"First you drop the y..."

The little students were learning to write the alphabets. One girl wasn't dotting her small i's. So the teacher asked her, "Where are the dots in your i's?"

"They are still inside the pen."

A young graduate was assigned to teach in a rural farming town. During math class, she posed this question, "If I have 10 sheep and four of them jumped over the fence, how many would I have left?"

A young boy replied, "None."

"My dear, you don't know your math."

"Teacher, you don't know your sheep. Where one goes, all go."

During Sunday school, the teacher asked, "Name two things required for baptism?"

A boy answered hesitantly, "Water and a baby?"

"What comes after O?"
"Yeah."

A pupil asked his teacher, "Would you punish me for something I didn't do?"
The teacher replied, "Of course not."
"Good. I didn't do my homework."

Another said, "Could he be on to something?"

Jokes

Seance

The widow missed her recently departed husband so much, she asked a medium to contact him. So the medium called his spirit and soon enough they heard his voice.

"My dear, is that really you?" asked the widow.

"Yes, it's me."

"Tell me, are you happy?"

"I've never been happier."

"Happier than you were with me."

"Much happier."

"Oh, my. You must be in heaven then."

"What makes you think I'm in heaven?"

A widow went to a medium to see if she will ever be reunited with her dear departed husband. The medium said he will check and proceeded to go into a trance. When his eyes reopened in a transfixed gaze, he proclaimed, "Good news. You will be reunited with your husband in heaven where you will live together happily after."

"Oh, that is wonderful---" cried the widow.

"But, wait!" interrupted the seer. "There's bad news."

"How can there possibly be any bad news after such good news?" the lady asked.

"Tonight."

A waiter died. Missing him, some of the regular customers decided to contact him via a medium. They promptly went to one and were seated at a round table, where they were told to hold hands and call out his name. Nothing happened. So they called his name a second time. Still nothing happened. They tried for the third time. Finally the departed appeared above them.

One of his customers said, "It's good to see you. But why did we have to call you three times?"

"This ain't my table, that's why."

She was so happy she learned something today. Her boss just told her the dictionary is arranged alphabetically.

Jokes

Sex

A twin came home late from a hot date and told her sister, "We're not identical anymore."

She thought all men were created equal. Then she attended an orgy.

They made love almost everyday---almost Sunday, almost Monday, almost Tuesday...

The doctor suggested they have sex every other night. So now he and his wife see each other only every other night.

The old-timer went to see his doctor because of a small problem. "Doc. I got a leak in my penis."

The doctor examined him and asked, "When was the last time you had sex?"

"About nine months ago."

"That's it. You're having an orgasm."

The couple was making love when the man asked, "Am I hurting you?"

The woman replied, "No. Why?"

"I thought I felt you move."

How do you know your wife is really hot?

Put your hand inside her panties. If it feels like you're feeding a horse, she's hot.

Lecturer: "Name the human part that swells up to ten times its original size during sexual arousal."

Female student: "I'm embarrassed to name it."

Lecturer: "I'm disappointed you don't know the answer. It is the cornea of the eye. But you, you are in for a lot more disappointment!"

A woman's breasts are like toy electric trains. They are meant for the kids but it is the daddy who ends up playing with them.

Wife no come

A young farmer and his girl were strolling in the field when they came upon a bull mounting a cow. Remarked the guy, "I sure would like to do that."
"Why don't you? She's your cow, anyway."

Tim was making love to his wife but somehow there was no passion at all, so he asked her, "What's your problem? Can't you think of anybody either?"

A tall, muscular Amazonian-type woman stood before a judge. Next to her was a small, frail-looking man half her size.

The judge peered out of his glasses and addressed the woman.
"Madam, let me make sure I get this straight. You are accusing this man of rape?"

"Yes, Your Honor," the Amazon puffed.

"Did he have a weapon at the time?"

"No, Your Honor."

"Did he tie you up?"

"No, sir."

"Well, madam. You stand at least for six feet tall and must weigh at least a hundred and seventy pounds. This man is barely five feet tall and surely does not weight more than a hundred. Neither does he have any weapon. I wonder how rape could possibly---"

"I stooped down a little bit."

A lecturer was discussing the problems of pre-marital sex. In conclusion, he said, "Ask yourself this question: Are you willing to risk your future for an hour of pleasure?"

A young girl asked, "How do you make it last an hour?"

In a darkened movie house, a woman complained to her girlfriend, "The man next to me is jerking off!"

"Just ignore him," said her friend.

"I can't," she moaned, "He's using my hand."

Who enjoys sex more, men or women?

Women. Here's the proof: when your ear itches, you put your finger in and move it around to relieve it. When you take it out, which one feels better, the finger or the ear?

The pregnant woman was nearing her term. Anxious, she asked the doctor what the best birth position is. He answered, "It is just like the position you were in when you conceived your baby."

"You mean with my legs up in the air?"

Philip, at age 70, was still a great lover. He would always make love to his wife by the sound of the bells from the church across the street.

Unfortunately, a firetruck, with a particularly loud siren, passed by and got stuck in traffic on their street.

An old man went for his check-up. After examining him, his doctor began asking him several questions. Finally he asked, "And sex?"

"Infrequently," the old man replied.

"Is that one word or two words?"

A woman wrote to one of those advice columns: My husband is a sex fiend. He won't leave me alone. He makes love to me twenty four hours a day, seven times a week. He comes after me no matter what I am doing, whether I'm cooking, or washing the clothes, or taking a shower. What can I do? P.S. Please excuse the jerky handwriting.

A couple was petting heavily when the girl said, "Dear, could you take off your ring? It is hurting me."

"Ring? That's my watch!" the man snorted.

The couple, in their 80s, went to see a doctor because of his impotence.

"And when did you first notice about his lack of interest and inability to perform?"

"First time was late last night and then again early this morning."

The medical association held a conference on premature ejaculation. It was scheduled for three in the afternoon. It finished at five before three.

Scientists recently discovered a young man who was left in the outback in Australia and was raised by kangaroos. The man was extremely intelligent and quickly absorbed everything the scientists taught him, including English.

Soon he was able to communicate with other people. One day, he confessed he missed sex. The scientists got excited. They have been wondering how extensive the kangaroo's influence on their subject has been. So they booked a hotel room, complete with a prostitute, and brought the man there.

"This room is not big enough," said the man.

"Why not?"

"I've never slept with a female human before. But if she move like a kangaroo, we'll be needing all the space we can get."

A young man picked up a girl at a party and took her to his place where they made love. Afterwards, the man said, "If I had known you were a virgin, I'd have taken my time."

The girl replied, "If I had known you didn't have to rush, I'd have taken off my pantyhose."

The symposium was about sex and how it affects a man's happiness. To prove his point, the speaker asked his audience, "How many of you here make love to your wives every night?" A few hands raised up.

"What about a few times a week?" More hands raised up.

"How about once a month?" Even more hands.

"Once a year?" A man in the last row, stood up and jubilantly proclaimed, "Me!"

Puzzled and concerned his theory was about to be blown to pieces, the speaker asked, "Why are you so happy then?"

"Because tonight's the night!"

A senator was in bed with his wife, who said, "Let's stop talking politics for once.

"Okay," replied the senator, "What shall we talk about?"

"Let's talk about sex."

"Fine. How many times a week do you think the President and his wife do it?"

A horny lady went to the supermarket and got turned on by all the carrots and cucumbers. Getting so hot, she asked the bagger to carry her groceries for her. Halfway across the lot, she grabbed him and said, "I've got an itchy pussy."

The bagger replied, "Sorry, I can't tell one of those Japanese compacts from another."

Jokes

Shopping

Frank was rummaging through his old files when he came across a claim check for a pair of shoes he had brought to the neighborhood shoe shop almost five years ago. Since the shop was still there, he decided to give it a chance.

"I think this is going to surprise you. I got a claim check for a pair of shoes I brought in five years ago," He told the owner.

"Well, let me check..." the owner said as he looked at the crumpled claim check and disappeared into the back. Moments later, he reappeared.

"Your shoe - they were burgundy?"

"I guess."

"They got tassels, right?"

"Yes, yes - I remember them."

"The sole needed work, eh?"

"That's it!"

"They will be ready day after tomorrow."

Lady shopper (holding a very skimpy red negligee) to customer service clerk in department store : "May I bring this back if it does not work?"

The lady sent her nine year old kid to buy four pounds of grapes. When he came back, she weighed the grapes and discovered they were less than 3 pounds. So she gave the grocer a call. "Shame on you! What do you think you're doing?"

The grocer replied, "Madam, don't weigh the grapes; weigh your kid."

A small store owner watched to his horror as two major department stores erected branches on both sides of his store. He sank into desperation as the two giants starting a sale war. The one on his right put up a huge sign saying "Our Biggest Sale in History" and the one on his left countered with a bigger sign that says "We Will Not Be Undersold." Finally, an idea hit him and he put up a sign that says, "Entrance to Sale."

Smuggling

A man driving a fully loaded truck was stopped by the border patrol, who asked, "What do you have in there?"

"Charcoal."

"Open each sack. I need to check them."

The man did and the patrol searched each thoroughly. Not finding anything, he reluctantly let the driver go. The next week, the man showed up again in a truck full of charcoal. The patrol searched him again and found nothing but charcoal. This went on for several months. Then the border patrol quit and left the country. He bumped into the driver at a bar in the neighboring country and asked him, "Tell me, now that both of us are in a free world, just what were you smuggling all this time?"

"Trucks."

Jokes

Son-in-law

Two men were waiting for the bus at the depot. The younger one asked the middle-aged man for the time.

"I won't give it to you."

"Why not?" the young man asked.

"Because if I give it to you and you thank me, I'd admit you have manners. That means we'll most possibly start talking and will continue to talk on the bus all the way to Baltimore. We'll become good friends and I might invite you home for dinner. Then you will get to see my pretty daughter and invite her out. She might fall in love with you and decide to marry you. So I won't tell you the time because I don't want to have a son-in-law who doesn't have a watch!"

Jokes

Spat

The couple just had one of their more heated arguments, so the husband decided to cool off by taking a walk. He came back decidedly cooler and asked his wife, "What are you cooking for dinner?"

The wife, who was still mad, answered, "Poison."

Grabbing his overcoat, the husband headed for the door and said, "Just make for one then. I'll be eating out."

Husband, to wife: Don't you ever raise your voice on me! You might unleash the beast in me!

Wife: I'm not scared of a mouse!

A man told his marriage counselor, "We exchanged heated words last night."

"That's good news. At least now you're talking."

"No, we're not. We threw alphabet soup at each other."

The husband came home late again, so the wife cried, "If you come home late one more time, I'll kill myself."

He sneered, "Promises, promises. All you ever do is promise."

Said the wife, "You're such an idiot, if they held an idiot contest, you'd come in second?"

The husband asked, "Why just second?"

"Because you're an idiot! That's why."

A husband called from work to apologize to his wife for arguing with her over breakfast. "Dear, I'm sorry. I guess what you said was right."

"It's too late. I have changed my mind," came the reply.

"I know. Isn't that wonderful?"

A heavily made-up girl entered a bar and was picked up by a slightly inebriated patron. They went back to his hotel room where they began undressing. Eyeing her underdeveloped body, he asked her, "Just how old are you?"

"Thirteen," replied the girl.

The man promptly grabbed her, told her to get dressed, and showed her the door.

The girl remarked, "My, aren't you superstitious."

"You know that thing about having seven years of bad luck when you break a mirror?"

"Yeah, what about it?"

"Ain't true."

"Why's that?"

"My uncle broke one a long time ago. He didn't have seven years of bad luck."

"Really?"

"He died that same day."

"How so?"

"When I asked you how long it takes for an elephant to come, you told me, 'Just a minute.' "

Mr. Benevides was having trouble getting the operator to understand that he wanted to make a person-to-person call to his wife. Finally he decided to spell it out, "B as in Benevides, E as in Enevides, N as in Nevides, E as in Evides,..."

Mr. Kern was having a great deal of trouble getting the operator to understand he wanted to call his wife. So he decided to spell out his name, "K as in Kentucky, E as in Eagle, R as in Russia, N!"

The operator asked, "N as in what?"

A hero was once overheard yelling into a phone, "It's Zorro! Zorro! Not Sorro! ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ!"

The new janitor was cleaning the an office when he noticed some lines were lit on the switchboard and mentioned it to his supervisor, who said,

"Don't worry about it. They usually leave a couple of customers on hold when they go home."

A little known fact is that the first time Alexander Graham Bell tried out his phone, he didn't get through. He got a busy signal.

Harry picked up the phone and dialed a number. "Hul-lo," a very deep, manly voice answered. Harry hesitated for a brief second and replied, "Uh---I'm trying to reach my home. I hope I have the wrong number!"

The caller said, "It's long distance from New York."
She said, "Yes, it is," and hung up.

A telemarketer was calling on his prospects.

"Hul-loh," answered the high-pitched voice of a kid.

"Hello, can I please talk to your father?"

"He's not here."

"Can I talk to your mother?"

"She is with my daddy."

"Well then, is there someone else I can talk to?"

"Would you like to talk to my sister?"

"Sure. Can you call her?"

"Okay."

There was a long wait. Finally, the kid came back on again.

"Mister?"

"Yes?"

"I can't lift her out of the crib."

A mother called her daughter. "Hello, dear. This is Mommy. How's everything?"

"Oh, mommy. The kids are fighting, the carpet is stained, the car won't start, and Jonathan's bringing his boss home for dinner, and---"

"Hush, dear. Mommy will be right over. Don't worry. I'll pacify the kids, clean up the carpet, let you use my car while I cook dinner for everyone."

"Thank you, Mommy. You're the greatest. By the way, how's daddy?"

"Have you gone mad? Your daddy has been dead five years!"

There was silence on the other end of the line. "Uh---what number were you trying to reach?"

"555-3434."

"Oh my, this is 555-3435."

"Well, I'll be---I'm really sorry."

"Wait! Does this mean you won't be coming over?"

Elizabeth called directory assistance to get her boyfriend's new number. She dialed the number and a woman answered. "Is-is Albert there?" she stammered.

"He's in the shower,"

"Tell him his girlfriend called," Elizabeth said dryly and hung up.

When Albert didn't return her call after an hour, Elizabeth called again. This time a man answered. "This is Albert."

"You're not my boyfriend!" exclaimed Elizabeth.

"I know," he answered, "That's what I have been trying to explain to my wife for the last hour."

Texan

A Texan billionaire wrote a check for an embarrassingly huge amount. The check bounced. Stamped on it was: INSUFFICIENT FUNDS. Following it was written: Ours, not yours.

Things are naturally bigger in Texas. Why, just the other day, they found a mosquito with seven ticks on it.

A commercial flight ran into trouble. The pilot announced that in order for the plane to reach the nearest airport, they needed to lighten the load. They have already dumped all the luggage but that wasn't enough, so now they needed volunteers. A British man came forward, yelled, "God save the Queen!" and jumped. Next, a French came forward, yelled, "Vive la France!" and jumped. Then a Texas cowboy came forward, yelled, "Remember the Alamo!" and pushed off a Mexican.

A Texan was talking about the fish in his lake. He took a picture of one of the smaller ones and the picture weighed ten pounds.

A boastful Texan, on a visit to the Niagara Falls, kept interrupting the guide by comparing the sights with those in his home state. Finally, they came to the main attraction. The guide said, "I'm sure you don't have anything like that back in Texas."

"We sure don't. But I got some plumbers who could fix it."

Then there was this Texan oil millionaire who ordered his lawyer to file for divorce from his new young bride. He had expected exclusive drilling rights and had found out he doesn't.

A Texan was bragging to his English friend about the size of his ranch. "You could board a train at one end and still not be at the other end after twenty-four hours."

The English replied, "I know actually what you mean. We have trains like that back in England."

For a Texan, a car pool is one you can swimming in while you're riding your limo.

Jokes

Theater

A man was spread out over three seats near the front row, moaning and groaning. Finally, after several patrons have complained of his behavior, an usher came over and said, "Sir, your rude behavior is disruptive. If you don't sit up straight and keep quiet, I'll have to ask you to leave."

The man groaned even more.

The usher got mad and said, "What's wrong with you anyway? You don't have any manners at all. Where did you come from?"

The man pointed a finger upwards, and weakly said, "From the balcony."

Jokes

Jokes

Tourist

The tourist was going through customs after a trip from France. Among his luggage was a gallon container. "And what is inside this?" asked the customs official.

"That there is the holy water I got from Lourdes," smiled the tourist.

The official took off the top, sniffed, and took a sip. "This is not water. This is brandy!"

The tourist clasped his hands together, looked up, and said, "Oh, my Lord. Thank you for another miracle!"

Jokes

Train

A man boarded a train in New York bound for Cincinnati. He had a very important meeting there and was concerned he wouldn't wake up in time. So he told the porter, "Here's ten bucks. My stop is Cincinnati. I'll try to get some sleep now. Be sure to wake me up. I should warn you though that I act like an animal when I'm awakened. I'll scream, I'll yell, I'll try to scratch you or even bite you. But make sure I get off." The porter pocketed the money and assured him he will get off in Cincinnati.

The man awoke to find he was in Chicago. He rushed to the porter and began chewing him out. The porter said, "You sure have some temper, mister. But not half as bad as the guy I threw off back in Cincinnati."

A train was about to pull out when a young man came running after it. He managed to reach it and climbed aboard, panting heavily. An old-timer saw him and remarked, "Young man, you ought to be in a lot better shape than that. Look at you, panting and wheezing as if you have ran for a mile."

The young man, still bent over, looked at the old-timer, and said, "I missed the train back at the last station."

In a sleeper car, an old hag in a lower berth was having problems sleeping because of the snoring of the man in the upper berth. Finally, out of frustration, she kicked his mattress. He promptly replied, "Save it, lady. I got a good look at you when you came on board."

Jokes

Traveling salesmen

A traveling salesman's car broke down near a farm late one night. As it was too late for the tow truck, he decided to ask for assistance from the people in the farmhouse. To his pleasant surprise, the door was opened by a very pretty young girl. He told her his situation and she offered him a room in the farm. Later, as he laid in bed thinking about the girl, he heard a knock on his door. It was the girl asking him if he was still awake. He said yes and asked the girl to come in. She opened the door, and as she walked in, he could see her perfect body silhouetted against the light. His heart began beating heavily as the girl asked, "Would you like company tonight?"

The words leaped out of his mouth as he replied, "Yes, I would very much like." She then replied, "Good. Because I have another gentleman whose car broke down."

A snowstorm forced the closure of several roads and a traveling salesman found himself stranded in a small town. He called his boss and asked, "What do I do now?"

The boss replied, "Well, it is up to you. Your two week's vacation starts today."

A traveling salesman stopped by a house with a small handwritten sign that says, "Bobbi's Brothel." Getting excited, he knocked on the door and was promptly welcomed by a vivacious young woman, who told him she was Bobbi.

"Well, Bobbi. I am buying whatever you're selling," the salesman said.

"That will be a hundred dollars."

The salesman eagerly paid Bobbi, who then instructed, "Now just go through the last door on the right down the hallway."

The salesman impatiently rushed through the door, closed it behind him and, turning around, was surprised to find himself outside. On the door was another handwritten sign, "We sincerely hope you enjoyed being screwed by Bobbi. Thanks."

The traveling salesman was welcomed to pass the night in a farmhouse. As he prepared for bed, the farmer's daughter appeared and asked if he wanted anything. He grabbed her and kissed her. She resisted, saying, "Stop or I'll tell my father." But he continued to kiss her and then started caressing her breasts as well. She pulled his hands off, saying, "Stop or I'll tell my father." He continued and began undressing her. She grabbed his hands and said, "Stop or I'll tell my father." He continued and soon overcame her resistance as they joined for pleasure. After a few moments of rest, the daughter asked him for a second round. The salesman willingly obliged her. After another few moments of rest, the daughter asked him for yet another round. The salesman obliged again. When after a few moments, the daughter started to make another request, the salesman cut her off, saying, "Stop or I'll tell your father."

The farmer was most gracious in offering the traveling salesman lodging for the night except that space was limited. "You have a choice. You can sleep with the baby of the family or in the barn."

Wanting a peaceful sleep, he chose the barn.

The following morning, the farmer invited him for breakfast. He went inside the house and saw a very beautiful lady preparing breakfast. He asked her, "Who are you?"

"I'm the baby of the family."

Jokes

Waiter/Waitress

The waiter was reincarnated as a clock. He still has the same complaint, "Please, I only have two hands!"

"Waiter!" yelled the irate customer.

A waiter slowly made his way to the table. "Yes?"

"I've been here twenty minutes, waiting for a waiter! Service here is ridiculously terrible!"

"Sir, how could you know that? You haven't been served yet."

Waiter: "Hi, my name is Reggie, and I'll be your waiter for today."

Diner: "Hi, my name is Peter, and I'll be your customer for today."

Patron: "Do you serve crabs in this dump?"

Waiter: "Yes, sir. And what will you have today?"

Two men entered a restaurant.

One ordered, "Coffee with milk and sugar for me."

The other ordered, "I'll have the same but please make sure my cup is clean."

The waitress came back with their orders and asked, "Who gets the clean cup?"

Customer: Coffee, please.

Waitress: With or without cream.

Customer: Without.

The waitress left and came back.

Waitress: I'm sorry; we are all out of cream.

Customer: What about milk?

Waitress: I'm sure we have.

Customer: Good. Then I'll have coffee without milk.

"Waiter, there's a fly in my soup."

"Wait a minute, sir. Let me get a spider."

"Waiter, there's a fly in my soup."
"I'm sorry. Did you want more?"

"Waiter, there's a fly in my soup."
"Don't worry, the frog will come up and eat the fly."

"Waiter, there's a fly in my soup."
"I'm sorry, do you want more flies?"

"Waiter, your thumb is in my soup."
"Don't worry, it is not hot."

"Waiter, I can't eat this food! Call your manager."
"I'm sorry, sir. He won't eat it, either."

"Waiter, what is this fly doing in my soup?"
"I believe the backstroke, sir."

"Waitress, this food isn't fit for a pig!"
"I'm sorry, I'll bring you one that is."

"Waiter, there's a hair in my soup."
"Is it blonde? One of our waitresses is missing."

The fresh customer said to the waitress, "Where have you been all my life?"
She replied, "Out of it, thank heaven."

Two men, unaccustomed to the finer things in life, went to a fancy restaurant. The server placed finger bowls in front of them. One of the men asked, "What are these for?"

"To wash your hands." replied the server.

The other man then said, "Ask a stupid question, get a stupid answer."

He did very well on Wall Street until a speeding taxi rammed into his pushcart.

He made a killing during the Crash of '87. He killed his broker.

Jokes

War

The air raid sirens came on. As the soldiers helped the civilians into the shelters, an old woman refused to go. She said, "I'm not going anywhere with my teeth."

Replied a soldier, "They are not dropping sandwiches, you know."

Three war prisoners were sentenced to die by firing squad, so they decided to escape. Finally they decided that as they are lined up against the wall, each will distract the squad long enough to climb over and escape.

On the appointed day, the first prisoner was lined up against the wall. He shouted, "Air raid!" As the firing squad turned to where he pointed, he climbed the wall and escaped.

The second prisoner was lined up against the wall. He shouted, "Bomb!" Again the firing squad looked in the direction where he pointed. As they did so, he climbed over and escaped.

The third prisoner was lined up against the wall. He shouted, "Fire!"

During the war, a platoon was trapped deep inside the enemy line. For days they waited for supplies and back-up to arrive. After the fourth day of waiting, the sergeant decided to do something for the sagging morale of his troops. So he gathered them around and announced, "I got good news and bad news. Good news is that you'll get a change of underwear." The men cheered. The sergeant held up a hand, "Bad news is you will be exchanging with the soldier next to you."

Jokes

Watch

A country boy got a wristwatch for his birthday. The watch ran fine for a week and died. So he brought it back to the store where his mom had bought it. The owner opened the watch and saw a tiny dead roach inside. Shaking his head, he told the boy, "We'll need to send it back. Its engineer died."

"A book about watchmaking just came out."
"It's about time."

Jokes

Wedding

The minister's wife asked him, "How did the wedding go?"

"Oh, everything went fine until I asked the bride if she would obey and she replied, 'Do you think I'm nuts?' Then, for the life of him, the groom somehow answered, 'I do.' and things went downhill from there."

The groom ought to be concerned if the bride's family seems overly happy about giving her away on their wedding day.

Jokes

Weight-loss program

A man was extremely overweight, so he went to see his doctor. The doctor put him on a diet, ordering, "Eat as you'd normally for two days then skip a day. Follow this routine for the next two weeks and come back. You'd you have lost at least seven pounds by then.

After two weeks, the man went back to the doctor weighing twenty pounds less.

"That's fantastic. You managed to lose all that just by doing what I told you?"

"Yes, but it was extremely difficult. I almost dropped dead on the third day!"

"From hunger, I suppose."

"No," replied the man, "From skipping."

A man walking down the street saw a sign in a fitness center that read, "Lose 5 pounds in 5 minutes. $20. Guaranteed." Curious, he went inside and signed up. He was led to a room where a shapely girl stood. She was nude except for a small sign on her waist that read, "Catch me and this is yours." An arrow pointed down.

Delighted, he went for the girl immediately. However, after five minutes of frantic action, he wasn't able to grab hold of the girl. But when he was weighed, he was pleased to see he has, indeed, lost five pounds.

He left the center and walked further down the street. He saw another sign in second fitness center. This one guaranteed, "Lose 10 pounds in 5 minutes. $35." Recalling his earlier pleasant experience, he entered and signed up. He was also led into a room. But this one has a giant ogre-looking brute who stood naked with a sign on his waist that read: "I catch you, you get this." An arrow pointed down.

Jokes

Window washer

A man lay in a hospital bed bandaged from head to toe. An old lady, visiting another patient in the room, took pity on him and started talking to him. "What do you do for a living," she asked.

"I used to be a window washer."

"When did you quit?"

"About half-way down."

Jokes

Wisdom

Two bulls, one young, the other old, came upon a pasture where some pretty cows were grazing.

The young bull said, "Why don't we charge over and do one of those cows."

The old one replied, "Why don't we walk over and do all of them."

Jokes

Woodpecker

A man was arrested the other day for shooting a woodpecker. When asked why he did it, he answered, "Because I got tired of asking 'Who's there?' "

A young woodpecker kept on pestering his mom to let me see the world. Finally she gave in. He flew out and quickly looked for a tree. He settled on his choice and started to peck. At that moment, a lightning struck the tree and split it in half. The woodpecker was taken aback as he surveyed the damage, "Well, I'll be. You sure won't know how tough your pecker is until you use it."

Jokes

Women

She walked the straight and narrow path because she was built that way.

A young woman has a figure that speaks for itself. A middle-aged woman has one that ad-libs out of necessity.

True, she has a million-dollar figure but it is padded at the top.

She doesn't like sex in the movies. She tried it once but her legs got stuck when the seat folded up.

Some women don't care for a man's company. Unless he owns it.

Marie died. At her funeral, as she was being buried beside her late husband, a mourner kept on repeating, "At last they're together. At last they're together."

Another mourner whispered, "Why make a big fuss. She was no angel. She was having affairs left and right even while her husband was still alive."

"Oh, I wasn't talking about them. I was referring to her legs. At last, they're together."

The five most important men in a woman's life are the following:

The doctor, who says, "Take off all your clothes."

The dentist, who says, "Open wide."

The milkman, who says, "Do you want it in the front or at the back?"

The interior designer, who says, "Once it is in, you'll love it."

The banker, who says, "If you take it too soon, you'll lose interest."

Jokes

Wrestling

A group of pro wrestlers went on a Challenge-A-Pro wrestling tour around the country. Wherever they went, all of the pros easily beat their amateur challengers. Finally, they came to a small town where a slightly built frail looking, but obviously drunk, young man was the first challenger. No one among the pros was willing to take him on for fear of hurting him. But he wouldn't step off the ring and kept insulting them. Finally they decided the toughest of them would wrestle the drunk. That way, they would get it over quicker.

True enough, the instant the bell rang, the pro had the young man pinned down in a complicated hold. But just as the referee started to count, the pro suddenly went flying. A few moments later, the fight was all over. Astonishingly, the drunk had won.

Naturally, the reporters present interviewed him.

"We all are surprised at the results. Can you tell us just what happened?"

"Well, you know he had me twisted right away in so many directions. I was about to faint when I saw these balls in front of me, so I bit real hard on them."

"You must have bitten them so hard for the pro to go flying like that!"

"Tell me about it. You can't imagine the strength and power you have inside you when you bite your own balls."

Jokes

Zebra

A female zebra spied a brawny young striped one and sauntered over. He said, "I'm not a what you think I am. I'm just a horse who missed the "Wet Paint" sign on a bench."

Jokes

Zoo

A couple was visiting the zoo when the wife leaned over the railing a bit too far and was grabbed by a male gorilla. As the gorilla put her on his shoulder and started walking back to the backside, the wife shouted, "What should I do?"

Her husband replied, "Tell him you have a headache."

Overheard at the zoo near the stork's cage, "Daddy, he doesn't recognize me at all."

Proverbs & Quotations

Angel

Angels can fly because they take themselves lightly.

Proverbs & Quotations

Anger

Never speak in anger.

It is hidden wrath that harms.

Lucius Annaeus Seneca

When angry, count four; when very angry, swear.

Mark Twain

Be patient when you are angry.

Anger punishes itself.

Swallowing angry words is easier than having to eat them.

The greatest remedy for anger is delay.

Lucius Annaeus Seneca

It is very easy not to be angry if the other guy is a lot bigger.

Proverbs & Quotations

Answer

No answer is also an answer.

We often search the world for answers that are to be found in our hearts.

Dr. Lucky Pukimo, Honolulu, HI

He who doubts won't see the answers in front of his eyes.

Curtis Gaines, Oakland, CA

Proverbs & Quotations

Ant

if life were sweeter, then, my dear ants, i'll let you have your share of sweets

Jeffrey U. Kho, Fremont, CA

Proverbs & Quotations

Antique

One man's junk is another man's priceless antique.

An antique is an object your grandparents bought which your parents sold and which you are buying.

Proverbs & Quotations

Appearance

It is difficult to know a man by his looks.

We can know a man's face but not his mind.

Proverbs & Quotations

Argument

A sure way to have the last word is to argue alone.

He who argues louder is usually wrong.

Dr. Lucky Pukimo, Honolulu, HI

Never argue in front of your kids. They will learn to argue with you when they grow up.

There are always two sides to an argument.

A husband who argues with his wife and wins, loses.

Win all your arguments, and you'll end up without friends.

Just because you have silenced a man, it doesn't mean you have convinced him.

When a husband wins an argument, the argument is not over.

There is nothing as annoying as arguing with a person who knows what he is talking about.

Proverbs & Quotations

Arrogance

Arrogance is the humility of the ignorant.

A person who thinks he knows it all will inevitably annoy a person who does.

The problem with most self-made men is that they worship their creator.

People who fall in love with themselves usually do not have any competition.

Proverbs & Quotations

Art

Art is long and time is fleeting.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Proverbs & Quotations

Attitude

Of the things you wear, your expression is the most important.

Strange things are only strange because we regard them as such.

Proverbs & Quotations

Baby

Babies always look like their richest relatives.

People with babies feel sorry for people without. People without babies feel sorry for people with.

Babies are the only additions that become deductions.

Babies in small towns never arrive unexpectedly.

Proverbs & Quotations

Bachelor

Fools rush in where bachelors fear to wed.

A bachelor is simply man who has stopped looking for the right girl and is having the best fun with the rest.

Proverbs & Quotations

Bank

You're really in trouble if the bank repossesses the toaster.

Exercise caution in the bank when the guy ahead of you asks you how to spell "Holdup."

Money does grow on trees because the banks own all the branches.

Proverbs & Quotations

Beauty

A thing of beauty is a joy forever.

The beautiful woman is the enemy of the ugly ones.

What is lovely never dies, but passes into other loveliness.

Thomas Bailey Aldrich

The beauty of a woman does not ensnare men. They ensnare themselves into it.

Beauty is only skin-deep.

A brainless beauty is a toy forever.

Beauty is in the eye of the beholder.

Proverbs & Quotations

Bed

Of all things that are better late than never, going to bed is the best.

Early to bed and early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise.
Benjamin Franklin

Early to bed, early to rise makes a man a father.

Early to bed, early to rise; it's a sign a man is fed up with television.

The best time to put your kids to bed is when you still can.

Proverbs & Quotations

Bee

The smart bee does not sip from a fallen flower.

A busy bee is a good bee.

The bee holds two lessons for mankind: one, not be idle; two, not to get stung.

Proverbs & Quotations

Beggar

Beggars can not be choosers.

Give a beggar a loaf of bread, you feed him for a day. Teach a beggar a skill, you feed him for life.

Proverbs & Quotations

Belief

Seeing is believing.

A man must not swallow more beliefs than he can digest.
Havelock Ellis

Proverbs & Quotations

Bigamy

Two rites makes a wrong.

A bigamist's better half doesn't know how the other half lives.

All women are not created equal. Otherwise we won't have bigamists.

Bigamy is the only crime in which two rites make a wrong.

The real sentence for bigamy is having two mothers-in-law.

Proverbs & Quotations

Bikini

Happiness is finding the owner of a lost bikini.

Proverbs & Quotations

Bird

A bird in hand is worth two in the bush.

Now close the windows and hush all the fields:
If the trees must, let them silently toss;
No bird is singing now, and if there is,
Be it my loss.

Robert Frost

Crows are black the whole world over.

no more than a bird
to weave a pattern perfect on man's high blue dreams

Jeffrey U. Kho, Fremont, CA

A white washed crow will not remain white.

Birds of the same feather flock together.

It is the beautiful bird that we put in a cage.

A smart bird selects its tree.

The early bird catches the worm.

Only a fool will use a cannon to kill a bird.

Proverbs & Quotations

Blessing

Learn how to count your blessings.

A man complained daily about his lack of shoes, until he saw a man without feet.

Proverbs & Quotations

Blind

The blind is quick at hearing.

It doesn't matter whether it is light or dark if you're blind.

Do not ask a blind man for directions.

The blind sees the world differently.

Proverbs & Quotations

Blonde

Blondes have more fun.

Love is often more blonde than blind.

Gentlemen prefer blondes.

Gentlemen prefer blondes because where there is light there is heat.

Many a dumb blonde is actually a smart brunette.

Proverbs & Quotations

Boat

If two men repairs a boat, it will leak.

Proverbs & Quotations

Body

If anything is sacred the human body is sacred.
Walt Whitman

Proverbs & Quotations

Book

Don't judge a book by its cover.

Some books are to be tasted, others to be swallowed, and some few to be chewed and digested.

Francis Bacon

A classic is a book they give you free for joining a club that sells cheap books at high prices.

A dirty book is seldom dusty.

There is no such thing as a moral or immoral book. Books are well written or badly written. That is all.

Oscar Wilde

Proverbs & Quotations

Boredom

Get bored easily.

Harvey Mackay

Proverbs & Quotations

Borrowing

Neither a borrower nor a lender be.

William Shakespeare

Proverbs & Quotations

Boss

If you suspect someone, don't hire him. If you hire him, don't suspect him.

A hundred bosses, a hundred ways.

Hurry men at work, not during their meals.

The real boss of the family holds the TV remote control.

The real boss of the family can spend a few dollars without having to ask permission.

Proverbs & Quotations

Boy

Every boy should have a pet.

You can see the man in a small boy.

Little boys who tell lies travel for half-fare.

Proverbs & Quotations

Breeding

Breeding is not everything, but it sure can be fun.

Proverbs & Quotations

Brevity

Brevity is the soul of wit.

William Shakespeare

You sometimes need to have the time to make your letters short.

Proverbs & Quotations

Bride

It is too late to pierce the bride's ears when she is at the altar.

Brides are given away, though they don't come cheap.

Brides may be given away, though a lot turns out to be expensive.

Brides these days tend to wear their wedding dresses shorter. And oftener.

Proverbs & Quotations

Bridge

Don't burn your bridges.

He who burns his bridges better be a damn good swimmer.
Harvey Mackay

I'll cross the bridge when I come to it.

Never cross a bridge before it's built.

Proverbs & Quotations

Brother

When two brothers disagree, others will take advantage.

Brothers under one roof, different persons out the door.

Proverbs & Quotations

Budget

Two can live cheaply as one.

A budget is something that you stay within if you go without.

A budget is a formula for determining you need additional income.

A budget allows you to live within your means and without everything else.

Proverbs & Quotations

Bull

You can't make a bull bow his head if he doesn't want to drink.

Strong as a bull.

Proverbs & Quotations

Business

Starting a business is easy. Keeping it open is difficult.

It takes money to make money. But it doesn't have to be your money.

A man without a smiling face should never open a store.

Show me a business with great profits and I'll show you a business with great risks.

The greatest assets of any business is its customers.

It isn't what you know but whom you know.

Proverbs & Quotations

Busy

Busy as a bee.

No one is as busy as the person who has nothing to do.

If you are too busy to laugh, you are too busy.

Proverbs & Quotations

Buying

Let the buyer beware.

Never buy anything in a room with a chandelier.
Harvey Mackay

Proverbs & Quotations

Cake

You can't have your cake and eat it too.

Proverbs & Quotations

Candle

A candle lights others while it consumes itself.

The candle that burns the brightest burns the fastest.

Proverbs & Quotations

Cat

When the cat's away, the mice will play.

No matter how a cat falls, it always lands on its feet.

Proverbs & Quotations

Caution

The fish sees the bait, not the hook.

The faster the runner, the harder the fall.

A man who is too cautious will never gain the wisdom to be successful.

Never argue with someone who's shaving you.

Never argue with your waiter before you had have your dinner.

Never argue with the cook before you had have your dinner.

Never argue with the butcher while he is cutting your meat.

Never guarantee another man's debts in public.

He who's bitten by a snake will avoid the grass.

It is best to clean out the drainpipes while the weather is good.

Avoid punishment by fearing it.

Never test the water with two feet.

Caution is looking both ways before crossing a one way street.

Look before you leap.

Be cautious of the man who lets you do all the talking.

Proverbs & Quotations

Chain

The chain is as weak as its weakest link.

Proverbs & Quotations

Chance

Chance is perhaps the pseudonym of God when He did not want to sign.

Anatole France

Proverbs & Quotations

Change

The more things change, the more they stay the same.

Things do not change; we change.

Henry David Thoreau

There is nothing permanent except change.

Proverbs & Quotations

Charity

The door of charity is hard to open. It is also hard to close.

Charity begins at home.

It is better to give than to receive.

Proverbs & Quotations

Chatter

Chatter is when much is spoken but little is said.

Proverbs & Quotations

Cheap

Cheap things are of no value.

Cheap things are not good, good things are not cheap.

You get what you pay for.

Proverbs & Quotations

Cheating

Cheat me once, you ought to be ashamed. Cheat me twice, I ought to be ashamed.

Cheaters never win.

Proverbs & Quotations

Chess

A man is truly superior if he can watch a chess game in silence.

Proverbs & Quotations

Children

One's children are always the best children.

You can see the man in a small boy.

Never lie to a child. It will grow up to be a skeptic.

I do not love him because he is good, but because he's my little child.

Rabindranath Tagore

A spoiled child never loves its mother.

Spoil a child and you have maim it for life.

How sharper than a serpent's tooth it is to have a thankless child!

William Shakespeare

Children are innocent by-products of marriage.

Children should be seen and not had.

Spare the rod. Spoil the child.

The child will never understand its parents' love until it becomes a parent, too.

Seven sons, seven different people.

Children learn by example.

The child is father of the man.

William Wordsworth

The most gifted child resembles the wealthiest relative.

Spank your child every day. If you don't know why, he does.

Proverbs & Quotations

Choice

God offers to every mind its choice between truth and repose.

Ralph Waldo Emerson

Proverbs & Quotations

Christmas

Christmas trees are always cheaper the day after Christmas.

Jolly old Santa has the right idea - visit people once a year.

Only Santa Claus is interested in an empty stocking.

Satan is an anagram for Santa.

The early gift gets the best return.

Proverbs & Quotations

City

Fields and trees teach me nothing, but the people in a city do.

Socrates

Proverbs & Quotations

Clever

Be good, sweet maid, and let who can be clever.

Charles Kingsley

Proverbs & Quotations

Clock

Even a stopped clock is correct twice a day.

Worse than hearing an alarm clock in the morning is not to hear it at all.

Proverbs & Quotations

Clothing

A man may change his clothes, but he is still the same man.

Where's the man could ease a heart
Like a satin gown?

Dorothy Parker

If her husband can not see why she should wear a strapless gown, a woman should not.

A wise man never laughs at his wife's old clothes.

The only men who don't care whether skirts go up or down are the nearsighted.

Fine clothes can not hide the clown.

No one is colder than a woman who has been refused a fur coat.

A man with buttons missing should either get married or get divorced.

The women who model girdles are the ones who do not need them.

Clothes make the man and fake the woman.

Clothes make the man and suits make the lawyer.

Proverbs & Quotations

Cloud

Every cloud has a silver lining.

Proverbs & Quotations

Company

Two is company, three's a crowd.

Proverbs & Quotations

Compliment

Compliments cost nothing.

Proverbs & Quotations

Computer

Computers are useless. They can only give you answers.

To err is human, but to really foul up things require a computer.

Proverbs & Quotations

Conceit

Self-love is the greatest of all flatterers

Francois La Rochefaucauld

He was like the cock who thought the sun had risen to hear him crow.

George Eliot

To love oneself is the beginning of a life-long romance.

Oscar Wilde

Proverbs & Quotations

Confidence

I have great faith in fools; self-confidence my friends call it.
Edgar Allan Poe

Trust yourself. No one else will if you don't.

Believe in yourself, even when no one else does.
Harvey Mackay

Proverbs & Quotations

Conquest

I came, I saw, I conquered.

Julius Caesar

Proverbs & Quotations

Conscience

If you live your life with a clear conscience, you need not fear a knock on the door in the middle of the night.

Conscience is God's presence in man.

Emanuel Swedenborg

Do not mistake a short memory for a clear conscience.

Proverbs & Quotations

Construction

The wood for a house does not come from just one tree.

He who builds according to every advice he gets will have a crooked house.

Proverbs & Quotations

Cook

Too many cooks spoil the food.

The cook was a good cook, as cooks go; and as cooks go she went.
Hector Hugh Munro

Proverbs & Quotations

Country

God made the country and man made the town.
William Cowper

Proverbs & Quotations

Courage

Do not mistake ignorance for courage, though sometimes it will suffice.

No guts, no glory.

I dare do all that may become a man; who dares do more is none.
William Shakespeare

Courage is often caused by fear.

It takes courage to admit you don't have any.

Proverbs & Quotations

Courtship

The way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

To woo a woman with a past, give her a present.

If a woman does not chase a man a little, she does not love him.

Proverbs & Quotations

Coward

Cowards die many times before their deaths;
The valiant never taste of death but once.

William Shakespeare

Proverbs & Quotations

Credit

Money doesn't pay everything. That's why we have credit cards.

Proverbs & Quotations

Crime

Crime does not pay.

Proverbs & Quotations

Criminal

A criminal is one who gets caught.

Proverbs & Quotations

Crisis

These are the times that try men's souls.

Thomas Paine

Proverbs & Quotations

Criticism

Honest criticism is always hard to take.

To avoid criticisms, say nothing, do nothing, and be nothing.

It is a straight line from critical to hypocritical.

Proverbs & Quotations

Critic

Critics are those who can't, so they talk about it.

Success is never without its critics.

Relatives are inherited critics.

Don't be too critical. The person everyone likes usually likes everyone.

A man is judged by his deeds; a woman, by her misdeeds.

A man is judged by his peers.

Proverbs & Quotations

Crown

Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown.

William Shakespeare

Proverbs & Quotations

Cruelty

I must be cruel, only to be kind.

William Shakespeare

Proverbs & Quotations

Curfew

The curfew tolls the knell of parting day.

Thomas Gray

Proverbs & Quotations

Curse

I shall curse you with book and bell and candle.

Thomas Malory

Proverbs & Quotations

Customer

The customer is always right.

Knowing something about your customer is just as important as knowing everything about your product.

Harvey Mackay

Proverbs & Quotations

Cynic

A man who knows the price of everything and the value of nothing.

Oscar Wilde

Proverbs & Quotations

Dancing

Some love to dance, others dance to love.

Proverbs & Quotations

Day

The tender grace of a day that is dead will never come back to me.

Alfred Tennyson

Proverbs & Quotations

Dead

Let the dead bury their dead.

St. Matthew

Dead men tell no tales.

Proverbs & Quotations

Deaf

The deaf is quick at sight.

Proverbs & Quotations

Death

The fear of death says the most of what we think of life.

We are born without bring anything. We die without taking anything.

Golden lads and girls all must, as chimney sweepers, come to dust.
William Shakespeare

For each person Heaven gives birth, Earth gives a grave.

Never say die.

I hope to see my Pilot face to face when I have crossed the bar.
Alfred Tennyson

Drowning in varnish provides the best finish.

Proverbs & Quotations

Decision

Make your decisions with your heart, and what you'll end up with is heart disease.

Harvey Mackay

Proverbs & Quotations

Defense

The best defense is offense.

Proverbs & Quotations

Design

Form follows function.

Simplicity is elegance.

Proverbs & Quotations

Desire

There are two tragedies in life. One is not to get your heart's desire. The other is to get it.

Bernard Shaw

Proverbs & Quotations

Despair

Don't despair, even over the fact that you don't despair.

Proverbs & Quotations

Destination

If you don't have a destination, you'll never get there.

Harvey Mackay

Proverbs & Quotations

Destiny

There are no paved roads. Man makes his own on the way to his fate.

Man is the master of his own destiny.

No man of woman born, coward or brave, can shun his destiny.

Homer

Proverbs & Quotations

Devil

The prince of darkness is a gentleman.

William Shakespeare

Proverbs & Quotations

Dictatorship

The ultimate failures of dictatorship cost humanity far more than any temporary failures of democracy.

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Proverbs & Quotations

Diet

Eat, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow we diet.

Proverbs & Quotations

Dignity

Perhaps the only true dignity of man is his capacity to despise himself.

George Santayana

Proverbs & Quotations

Discontentment

A billionaire who wants more is like a snake who wants to swallow an elephant.

Proverbs & Quotations

Discretion

The better part of valor is discretion.

William Shakespeare

Proverbs & Quotations

Disease

Modern medicine can cure most diseases but never fate.

Diseases are caught through the mouth. Discontent, most appropriately, emanate from the mouth.

Proverbs & Quotations

Divorce

The two most common causes of divorce? Men and women.

Eddie Cantor

Two's company, three's a divorce.

Divorces are made in heaven.

Divorce is a game played by lawyers.

Cary Grant

Proverbs & Quotations

Doctor

A smart doctor never treats himself.

A doctor cures the poor faster.

An apple a day keeps the doctor away.

Proverbs & Quotations

Dog

A dog who avoids the cat will never get into a fight.

It is hard to teach an old dog new tricks.

Don't beat up a dog without finding who its owner is.

A dog's bark is worse than his bite.

A dog starved at his master's gate predicts the ruin of the state.

William Blake

Let a sleeping dog be.

Dogs don't have fleas. They have puppies.

Proverbs & Quotations

Doing

Do as I say, not as I do.

What is done can not be undone.

Whatever you do, do it your best.

Easier said than done.

Proverbs & Quotations

Doubt

When in doubt, duck.

There lives more faith in honest doubt, believe me, than in half the creeds.
Alfred Tennyson

Proverbs & Quotations

Dowry

He who marries for money, earns it.

Proverbs & Quotations

Dream

Dreamer of dreams, born out of my due time,
Why should I strive to set the crooked straight?
William Morris

Proverbs & Quotations

Drinking

If you don't drink, expensive wine will not interest you.

Candy is dandy, but liquor is quicker.

Ogden Nash

Some drink to forget they drink.

Nothing is as frequent as the occasional drink.

Men ages whiskey, whiskey ages men.

Some drink to success, others to excess.

A red-nosed man is not necessarily a drunkard. But he will always be called one.

Drink with a friend and a thousand glasses are too few. Drink with an arguing man, and half a glass is too much.

Never drink on an empty wallet.

One for the road may mean two for the graves.

Proverbs & Quotations

Drowning

A drowning man will catch at a straw.

Proverbs & Quotations

Easy

Easy come, easy go.

Proverbs & Quotations

Eating

Other men live to eat, while I eat to live.

Socrates

Proverbs & Quotations

Education

A bachelor of the arts discusses them, a butcher talks about meat.

Nothing in education is so astonishing as the amount of ignorance it accumulates in the form of inert facts.

Henry Adams

The real objective of education is not knowledge but action.

Proverbs & Quotations

Effort

No pain, no gain.

Rome wasn't built in a day.

Proverbs & Quotations

Ego

He that falls in love with himself, will have no rivals.
Benjamin Franklin

me, I, me
the center of all thee

Jeffrey U. Kho, Fremont, CA

He who is wrapped up in himself makes for a small package.

I find no sweeter fat than sticks to my own bones.
Walt Whitman

Proverbs & Quotations

Election

Vote early and vote often.

Al Capone

Vote for the candidate for promises the least; he'll be the least disappointing.

Proverbs & Quotations

Eloquence

Continued eloquence is tedious.

Proverbs & Quotations

Ending

It ain't over till the fat lady sings.

It ain't over till it is over.

Proverbs & Quotations

Enemy

Man is his own worst enemy.

Love your enemy.

Know thine enemy.

Harvey Mackay

Never estimate your enemy.

Proverbs & Quotations

England

If I should die, think only this of me:
That there's some corner of a foreign field
That is forever England.

Rupert Brooke

This blessed plot, this earth, this realm, this England.
William Shakespeare

Proverbs & Quotations

Enthusiasm

If you are not fired with enthusiasm, you will be fired with enthusiasm.

Enthusiasm is catching. Catch it with enthusiasm.

Proverbs & Quotations

Esteem

So much is a man worth as he esteems himself.

Proverbs & Quotations

Eternity

To hold infinity in the palm of your hand, and eternity in an hour.

William Blake

Proverbs & Quotations

Ethics

There is no one more ethical than the person who has just become ethical.

Ethics is a matter of pride.

What is ethical to you might be unethical to another.

Proverbs & Quotations

Evil

The greatness of man is measured by those who speak evil of him.

The evil that men do lives after them; the good is oft interred with their bones.

William Shakespeare

Ten years of virtue won't atone for a day of evilness.

An hour is too long to learn what is evil. A thousand days is short to learn what is good.

Proverbs & Quotations

Excelling

Everyone excels in something in which another fails.

Latin proverb

Proverbs & Quotations

Exception

There is always an exception to a rule.

Proverbs & Quotations

Exercise

To exercise is human, not to is divine.

Proverbs & Quotations

Existence

Some men live and some men merely exist.

I think therefore I am.

René Descartes

Proverbs & Quotations

Experience

He who has seen little marvels much.

No experience, no wisdom.

You learn from experience what you never learn from experience.

Experience makes you either better or bitter.

Knowing how to do something is different from doing it.

Best way to learn is by experience. Specially other people's.

A wise man who has seen everything is no equal to one who has done one thing.

Experience is the best teacher.

A sadder and wiser man, he rose the morrow morn.

Samuel Taylor Coleridge

Experience is what you learn when you are trying to learn something else.

When a person with money meets a person with experience, the person with the experience winds up with the money and the person with the money winds up with the experience.

Harvey Mackay

Experience is a good school but the fees are high.

Experience is the name everyone gives to their mistakes.

Proverbs & Quotations

Expert

An expert is one who knows more and more about less and less.
Nicholas Murray Butler

Trust the experts...to be wrong.
Harvey Mackay

Proverbs & Quotations

Extravagance

Extravagance is a narrow one-way dead-end street. It leads nowhere, and is hard to back-out from once you're on it.

Proverbs & Quotations

Eyes

Carrots are good for the eyes. You never see a rabbit with glasses.

The light that lies in women's eyes, has been my heart's undoing.
Thomas Moore

20/20 sight is not needed for a 36-24-36 vision.

Proverbs & Quotations

Face

There's no art to find the mind's construction in the face.
William Shakespeare

Proverbs & Quotations

Failure

Shortcuts to success often turn out to be trapdoors to failure.

If at first you don't succeed, forget it.

Nothing fails like failure.

And nothing to look backward to with pride,
And nothing to look forward to with hope.

Robert Frost

A failure is a person who pushes doors labeled "Pull."

Success goes to one's head; failure goes to one's heart.

Proverbs & Quotations

Faith

Without faith, there's no prayer. Without prayer, there's no hope.

Proverbs & Quotations

Fame

Fame is the perfume of heroic deeds.

Socrates

Proverbs & Quotations

Familiarity

Familiarity breeds contempt.

Mark Twain

Proverbs & Quotations

Family

Better to be charitable at home than to be kind to strangers.

There is no such thing as a distant relative.

Proverbs & Quotations

Farewell

Fare thee well! and if for ever, still for ever, fare thee well.
George Gordon Byron

Proverbs & Quotations

Farmer

Sow much, reap much. Sow little, reap little.

Sow early, reap early,

Sow beans, reap beans.

What's bad weather for others, is good weather for the farmer.

Proverbs & Quotations

Fate

It lies not in our power to love or hate, for will in us is overruled by fate.

Christopher Marlowe

I am the master of my fate: I am the captain of my soul.

W. E. Henley

Proverbs & Quotations

Father

Like father, like son.

Father knows best.

Fathering a child and being a father are two different things.

Proverbs & Quotations

Fault

The greatest of faults, I should say, is to be conscious of none.

Thomas Carlyle

Proverbs & Quotations

Favor

The first time is a favor; the second time it a must, after that, it is expected.

Proverbs & Quotations

Fear

The only thing we have to fear is fear itself.

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Fight

There is such a thing as man being too proud to fight.

Woodrow Wilson

Proverbs & Quotations

Fire

Where there's smoke, there's fire.

Out of the frying pan into the fire.

Proverbs & Quotations

Firing

It isn't the people you fire who make your life miserable, it's the people you don't.

Harvey Mackay

Proverbs & Quotations

Fishing

The one that escaped is always a big fish.

There is a day to cast your nets and a day to dry your nets.

Proverbs & Quotations

Flattery

Flatter your enemy. It will drive him nuts.

'Tis an old maxim in the schools, that flattery's the food of fools.
Jonathan Swift

Flatter everyone and you won't have any enemies.

When flatterers meet, the devil goes to dinner.

Proverbs & Quotations

Flesh

The spirit indeed is willing but the flesh is weak.

St. Matthew

Proverbs & Quotations

Flower

Flower growers tend to them for a year. They enjoy the blossoms for but ten days.

Full many a flower is born to blush unseen, and waste its sweetness on the desert air.

Thomas Gray

Proverbs & Quotations

Fog

The fog comes on little cat feet.

Carl Sandburg

Proverbs & Quotations

Food

There is no sincerer love than the love for food.

Proverbs & Quotations

Fool

Anyone can make a mistake. Only a fool will insist on repeating it.

There is no fool like an old fool.

Any fool can make a rule and every fool will mind it.

Henry David Thoreau

There's no fool like a fool who thinks he's fooling you.

Fools rush in where fools have been before.

Fools rush in where angels fear to tread.

Alexander Pope

Proverbs & Quotations

Forgiving

Forgive, O Lord, my little jokes on Thee
And I'll forgive Thy great big one on me.

Robert Frost

Proverbs & Quotations

Fortune

Being lucky is being smart to know when to be there when opportunity knocks.

Fortune never seems so blind as to those upon whom she has bestowed no favors.

Francois La Rochefoucauld

A great fortune is the result of luck; a small fortune, perseverance.

A man who's destined to be happy need not be in such a hurry.

Fortune favors the bold.

Virgil

The best way to make a small fortune is to start with a big one.

Proverbs & Quotations

Freedom

Freedom of the press belongs to those who own one.

Proverbs & Quotations

Friendship

Regard your friendships like your bank account. You can't keep drawing on it without making deposits from time to time.

Quickest way to wipe out a friendship is to sponge it.

He who has a thousand friends has not a friend to spare, and he who has one enemy shall meet him everywhere.

Ralph Waldo Emerson

Time and money separate the best of friends.

For friends who have faith in each other, life and death are of no consequence.

With true friends, even plain water is sweet.

Friendships are built through the years and destroyed in a matter of seconds.

'Tis a lot simpler to visit a friend than to live with one.

A true friend knows all about you and still loves you.

Friends should have a high wall between them.

A friend in need is a friend indeed.

A friend not in need is a friend indeed.

A friend in need is a friend to avoid.

A friend is a gift you give yourself.

Win an argument, lose a friend.

Always treat your friends as though you're meeting them for the first time.
Then when you grow old you won't have any hatred in your heart.

A true friend walks in when the rest walks out.

The best mirror is an old friend.

Some friends are a habit; others are a luxury.

A friend is someone who has the same enemies as you do.

Proverbs & Quotations

Frog

You can not catch two frogs with one hand.

the frog ain't ugly
it just got a weird way of being beautiful

Jeffrey U. Kho, Fremont, CA

A frog trapped in a well can not think of heaven.

Proverbs & Quotations

Fur

Most women get a mink the way a mink gets a mink.

Proverbs & Quotations

Fury

Beware the fury of a patient man.

John Dryden

Proverbs & Quotations

Future

There's no future in saying it can't be done.

Harvey Mackay

The future isn't what it used to be.

I never think of the future. It comes soon enough.

Albert Einstein

Study the past and you will know the future.

Stay sharp by predicting the future.

Harvey Mackay

No one has seen tomorrow.

Proverbs & Quotations

Gambling

Show me a gambler and I'll show you a loser.

The safest bet is the one you didn't make.

No wife is happy with a gambling husband unless he is a consistent winner.

With gambling you often get nothing from something.

He does not win who plays with sin in the secret House of Shame.

Oscar Wilde

Learn how to play poker and you learn how to pray.

An ace in one hand is worth two in the deck.

The best throw of the dice is to throw them away.

Proverbs & Quotations

Game

The game is not worth the candle.

Michel Eyquem de Montaigne

Proverbs & Quotations

Garden

The best place to seek God is in a garden.

Bernard Shaw

Genius

I have nothing to declare except my genius.
Oscar Wilde

A genius is one who can do anything except make a living.
Joey Adams

Genius is one percent inspiration and ninety-nine percent perspiration.
Thomas Alva Edison

Proverbs & Quotations

Gift

Never look a gift horse in the mouth.

The gift without the giver is bare.

James Russell Lowell

Proverbs & Quotations

Girl

A good girl is good but a bad girl is even better.

The most expensive girl is the one who is free for the evening.

Men seldom make passes at girls who wear glasses.

Dorothy Parker

A girl who is easy to get may be hard to take.

Girls who skate on thin ice usually end in hot water.

Proverbs & Quotations

Glass house

Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones.

Those who live in glass houses don't have a sex life.

Proverbs & Quotations

Glory

Glory is fleeting, obscurity is forever.

No guts, no glory.

Proverbs & Quotations

God

God works in mysterious ways.

God is known by a thousand names.

Who does God pray to when He is unsure?

Jeffrey U. Kho, Fremont, CA

Fear the man who does not fear God.

God is truth and light his shadow.

Plato

God gave burdens, as well as, shoulders.

Proverbs & Quotations

Gold

A lost inch of gold can be recovered. A lost inch of time, never.

An inch of gold can not buy an inch of time.

Do not kill the goose that lays the golden eggs.

All that glitters is not gold.

Miguel de Cervantes

Proverbs & Quotations

Gold digger

The practical woman looks for a man who is tall, dark, and has some.

The practical woman looks for a much older man who is physical unfit but fiscally fit.

Proverbs & Quotations

Golden Rule

Do not do to others what you do not want done to you.

The golden rule is that there is no golden rule.
Bernard Shaw

Proverbs & Quotations

Golf

All is fair in love and golf.

Proverbs & Quotations

Good

Be good and you will be lonesome.

Mark Twain

Proverbs & Quotations

Good old days

The good old days are actually the naughty young nights.

The good old days are when you used to plug in the radio and not the toothbrush.

Proverbs & Quotations

Good taste

Good taste is better than bad taste. But bad taste is even better than no taste at all.

Good taste is the worst vice ever invented.

Proverbs & Quotations

Good-bye

In the end the sum of short meetings is in saying good-bye.

Jeffrey U. Kho, Fremont, CA

Proverbs & Quotations

Goodness

Good deeds are not known beyond the people involved. Evil ones are known a thousand miles away.

You see a man perform a good deed and you forget all his faults.

There are only two types of good men - the dead and the unborn.

To talk good is not to be good. To make good is to be good.

Proverbs & Quotations

Gossips

A word whispered into a gossip's ear can be heard a thousand miles.

A gossip can be a secret alive.

What we hear is never as exciting as what we overhear.

Groundless gossip covers more ground faster.

If you want something to be talked about, whisper it.

The tongue can crush a man to death.

A little gossip goes a long way.

A three inch tongue can kill a six foot man.

Whoever gossips to you will gossip of you.

A gossip can turn a little dirt into a mountain.

Don't talk about yourself. They will when you leave.

Funny how we tend to fully believe things we overhear and not things we hear.

Gossip is what you hear; news is what you tell.

Proverbs & Quotations

Government

Government of the people, by the people, for the people.
Abraham Lincoln

The whole of government consists in the art of being honest.
Thomas Jefferson

Proverbs & Quotations

Grass

The grass is greener on the other side.

Proverbs & Quotations

Gratitude

Gratitude is the least deeply felt of all human emotions.

Harvey Mackay

Proverbs & Quotations

Greatness

Lives if great men all remind us we can make our lives sublime, and, departing, leave behind us footprints on the sands of time.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

How very weak the very wise, how very small the very great are!

William Makepeace Thackeray

Proverbs & Quotations

Gun

Live by the gun, die by the gun.

Guns don't kill; people do.

Proverbs & Quotations

Habit

It is easier to prevent bad habits than to break them.

Bad habits are hard to break.

Old habits are hard to break.

Proverbs & Quotations

Hand

You can not clap with only one hand.

Proverbs & Quotations

Hanging

We must all hang together, else we shall all hang separately.
Benjamin Franklin

Proverbs & Quotations

Happiness

Happiness is often just not knowing any better.

The more stupid a person is, the happier that person is.

A happy heart is a smart heart.

Happiness is good health and a bad memory.

The happiest ones are those who are too busy to notice.

You have no more right to consume happiness without producing it than to consume wealth without producing it.

Bernard Shaw

Happiness is not having to set the alarm on Friday nights.

Proverbs & Quotations

Hare

A hare does not eat the grass around his burrow.

Proverbs & Quotations

Haste

Second opinions are useless if it took that long for them to be formed.

Jumping to conclusion is hazardous, specially if there is no safety net.

A man in haste puts wisdom to waste.

She who hurries, cannot walk with dignity.

Do in haste and repent at leisure.

Haste makes waste.

Proverbs & Quotations

Hatred

Hatred is a coward's revenge for being intimidated.

Proverbs & Quotations

Head

Two heads are better than one.

The head is always the dupe of the heart.

Francois La Rochefoucauld

Proverbs & Quotations

Headache

Headaches are all in the mind.

Sex, or the intent to have it, is the main cause of headache.

Proverbs & Quotations

Health

A strong body makes for a strong mind.

Health is wealth.

Proverbs & Quotations

Heart

The heart of the fool is in his mouth, but the mouth of the wise man is in his heart.

Benjamin Franklin

Only the heart can speak words with the softness of silence.

Jeffrey U. Kho, Fremont, CA

The heart has its reasons which reason does not know.

Blaise Pascal

Proverbs & Quotations

Heaven

Man plans a thousand schemes. Heaven, only one.

He who sows in the fields, puts his trust in heaven.

Heaven is the only place we know of where everyone wants to go but no one is hurrying to get there.

Proverbs & Quotations

Hell

Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned.

That's the greatest torture souls feel in hell: In hell, that they must live and cannot die.

John Webster

The road to hell is paved with good intentions.

Honor

When faith is lost, when honor dies, the man is dead!

John Greenleaf Whittier

Proverbs & Quotations

Hope

Hope is eternal. That's why oysters are bestsellers in retirement communities.

Hope springs eternal in the human breast: Man never is, but always to be blest.

Alexander Pope

For the man in waiting, a moment is longer than a year.

Proverbs & Quotations

Horse

Even the fastest horse can not wear two saddles.

A horse! A horse! My kingdom for a horse!
William Shakespeare

A horse is tested by the long road.

Proverbs & Quotations

Hunger

You don't satisfy hunger with pictures of food.

A hungry man is an angry man.

When you're hungry, everything is good food.

The best sauce for food is hunger.

Socrates

A hearty breakfast is never the same as a full supper.

Better to go hungry with a pure mind than to eat well with an evil mind.

Proverbs & Quotations

Hunter

A deer hunter does not pay attention to the hare.

When a man wants to murder a tiger he calls it sports; when a tiger wants to murder him he calls it ferocity.

Bernard Shaw

Proverbs & Quotations

Husband

As the husband is, the wife is.

Some men are born meek; others marry.

He who claims his wife can't take a joke forgets himself.

Husbands are often ideal before marriage and an ordeal afterwards.

Proverbs & Quotations

Hypochondriac

A depressed hypochondriac is someone who can't find anything wrong with himself.

Proverbs & Quotations

Hypocrisy

Hypocrisy is the homage which vice pays to virtue.

Francois La Rochefoucauld

Idea

Ideas won't work unless you do.

Fantasize.

Harvey Mackay

Proverbs & Quotations

Idealist

An idealist is a person who helps other people to be prosperous.

Henry Ford

Proverbs & Quotations

Ignorance

Ignorance is degrading only when found in company with riches.

Arthur Schopenhauer

The heart does not grieve for what the eye can not see.

Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise.

Thomas Gray

Never underestimate the ignorance of a fool.

To be ignorant of one's ignorance is the malady of the ignorant.

Amos Bronson Alcott

I know nothing except the fact of my ignorance.

Socrates

What you don't won't hurt you, but it sure will amuse a lot of people.

Proverbs & Quotations

Imagination

Were it not for imagination, a man would be as happy in the arms of a chambermaid as of a Duchess.

Samuel Johnson

Imagination is more important than knowledge.

Where there is no imagination, there is no creativity.

Jeffrey U. Kho, Fremont, CA

Proverbs & Quotations

Imitation

Imitation is the sincerest form of flattery.

Imitation is suicide.

Ralph Waldo Emerson

Jealousy

Jealousy is fueled by doubt.

Reason and jealousy do not reside in the same heart.

Raymund Chua, Honolulu, HI

Proverbs & Quotations

Journey

The woods are lovely, dark, and deep,
But I have promises to keep,
And miles to go before I sleep,
And miles to go before I sleep.

Robert Frost

The journey of a thousand steps starts with a single step.

Chinese proverb

Two roads diverged in a wood, and I---
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

Robert Frost

Proverbs & Quotations

Joy

Joy comes, grief goes, we know not how.

James Russell Lowell

Proverbs & Quotations

Justice

Justice delayed is justice denied.

I proclaim that might is right, justice the interest of the stronger.

Plato

Proverbs & Quotations

Killing

Each man kills the thing he loves.

Oscar Wilde

Proverbs & Quotations

King

The right divine of kings to govern wrong.

Alexander Pope

There is no king who has not had a slave among his ancestors, and no slave who has not had a king among his.

Helen Keller

Proverbs & Quotations

Kiss

Countless things are known to have started from a kiss.

'Tis better to kiss a miss than to miss a kiss.

People who throw kisses are hopelessly lazy.

The best and the worst of this is that neither is most to blame, if you've forgotten my kisses and I've forgotten your name.

Algernon Charles Swinburne

A kiss is that shortest distance between two.

A woman remembers her first kiss; a man remembers his last.

Never let a fool kiss you or a kiss fool you.

Joey Adams

Proverbs & Quotations

Kissing

Kissing is the sincerest form of flattery.

Proverbs & Quotations

Kitchen

If you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen.

To keep a kitchen spotless, don't cook in it.

Proverbs & Quotations

Kite

How high a kite flies depends on how long the string is.

Proverbs & Quotations

Knowledge

Knowledge is power.

Thomas Hobbes

The more a man knows, the less he speaks.

The best of knowledge comes with time and experience and is never enough to impress the young.

Jeffrey U. Kho, Fremont, CA

The less a man knows, the easier it is to convince him he knows everything.

He that knows little is destined to repeat it often.

The more you know, the less you know.

A little knowledge can be a dangerous thing.

No one is as annoying as the man who thinks he knows it all and does.

Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers.

Alfred Tennyson

He who knows the most, has the most to learn.

The only good is knowledge and the only evil is ignorance.

Proverbs & Quotations

Labor

Labor conquers everything.

Virgil

Proverbs & Quotations

Language

To learn the ways of a people, learn their language.

Music is the universal language.

Proverbs & Quotations

Laughter

He who laughs, lasts.

He laughs best that laughs last.

John Vanbrugh

Laugh, and the world laughs with you.

Proverbs & Quotations

Law

Ignorance of the law is no excuse.

Laws grind the poor, and rich men rule the law.
Oliver Goldsmith

Where there is a will, there is a lawsuit.

Proverbs & Quotations

Lawyer

An incompetent lawyer can delay a trial for months for years. A competent one, even longer.

Necessity has no law; I know some attorneys of the same.

Benjamin Franklin

'Tis better to be a mouse in a cat's mouth than to be a man in a lawyer's hands.

Proverbs & Quotations

Leader

Even the greatest leader returns to dust.

A leader is one who looks where the crowd is going and steps in front.

A leader who establishes position by oppression will lose it by revolution.

Proverbs & Quotations

Leak

Even the smallest leak will eventually fill a bucket.

Proverbs & Quotations

Learning

Learning is not attained by chance.

Learning is like swimming upstream. Stop and you drop back.

A little learning is a dangerous thing.

Alexander Pope

Proverbs & Quotations

Liar

A liar needs a good memory.

Marcus Fabius Quintilianus

Proverbs & Quotations

Lie

A man tells a lie, a hundred others repeat it as truth.

Ask me no questions, and I'll tell you no fibs.

Oliver Goldsmith

The cruelest lies are often told in silence.

Half the truth is half a lie.

A lie in time saves nine.

Proverbs & Quotations

Life

It's not the ups and downs that make life difficult, it is the jerks.

Live your life as if everyday were the last day of your life.

Life may not be what you wish for but it is all that you have.

Live and let live.

I count life just a stuff to try the soul's strength on.

Robert Browning

You will never get out of life alive.

Life is not a spectacle or a feast; it is a predicament.

George Santayana

Life is short.

Life being what it is, one dreams of revenge.

Life is made up of sobs, sniffles, and smiles, with sniffles predominating.

O. Henry

Live and learn.

The richest man cannot buy a thousand years of life.

Life is far too important a thing ever to talk about.

The purpose of life is a life of purpose.

You only live once.

If you are afraid of loneliness, don't marry.

Anton Chekhov

Proverbs & Quotations

Loser

Finders keepers, losers weepers.

Some are good losers; others can't act.

Proverbs & Quotations

Love

In her first passion woman loves her lover; in all the others, all she loves is love.

Lord Byron

Love means never having to say you're sorry.

There will always be corners the wisdom of love dares not touch.

Jeffrey U. Kho, Fremont, CA

Love is the business of the idle, but the idleness of the busy.

Edward George Bulwer-Lytton

Love your neighbor.

There are many people who would never have been in love if they had never heard love spoken of.

Francois La Rochefoucauld

Love your enemies.

But love is blind, and lovers cannot see the pretty follies that themselves commit.

William Shakespeare

Love is the tie that binds.

When my love swears that she is made of truth, I do believe her, though I know she lies.

William Shakespeare

It is better to have love and lost than not to have loved at all.

Love makes the world go round.

Love is a feeling that could only be felt by those who are capable of loving.
Reggie Nolasco, Danville, CA

Euripides

Don't get mad and don't get even, either.

Harvey Mackay

Proverbs & Quotations

Manners

Soup should be seen and not heard.

Proverbs & Quotations

Marriage

Never go to bed mad. Fight it out.

Marriage is give and take.

Where there's marriage without love, there will be love without marriage.
Benjamin Franklin

Don't marry for money. You can borrow it cheaper.

Advice to those about to marry - Don't.
Henry Mayhew

A word to the wife is never sufficient.

Marriage is the greatest adventure of all.

A man chases a woman until she catches him.

A good marriage would be between a blind wife and a deaf husband.
Michel Eyquem de Montaigne

To catch a husband is an art, to hold him is a job.

Marriage is a union that defies management.

Marry in haste, repent at leisure.

If you are afraid of loneliness, don't marry.

Anton Chekhov

A married man is a man who uses two hands to drive.

Marry and you will regret it. Don't marry and you will regret it.

Master

Jack of all trades, master of none.

No man can serve two masters.

St. Matthew

Proverbs & Quotations

Medicine

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Proverbs & Quotations

Mediocre

Only the mediocre are always at their best.

Proverbs & Quotations

Men

To know a man, you must know his past.

Men are but children of a larger growth
John Dryden

No man is an island.

Man is the only animal that blushes. Or needs to.
Mark Twain

A man is weakest when a woman compliments him on his strengths.

May the best man win.

Every man has his price.

A man is known by the silence he keeps.

Men should come with instructions.

Proverbs & Quotations

Middle age

Life begins at forty.

Middle age is when it takes you longer to rest than to get tired.

Middle age is so named because it shows up first in the middle.

Middle age is when you are too tired to work and too poor to quit.

Middle age is when you hold your figure in fond memory.

You can tell you have reached middle age when you meet an old flame and discover the fire has been put out.

Proverbs & Quotations

Money

A billion here, a billion there, pretty soon it adds up to real money.
Everett McKinley Dirksen

There is no such thing as petty cash.

Money is always there, but the pockets change.
Gertrude Stein

Money is the root of all evil.

I cannot afford to waste my time making money.
Jean Louis Rodolphe Agassiz

Lack of money is the root of all evil.

Money isn't everything.

Money is not for poor people.

Money is like an arm or a leg - use it or lose it.
Henry Ford

Money doesn't grow on trees.

Money is what makes the world go around.

A penny saved is a penny earned.

No man is a hero to a bill collector.

Everyone has a price.

There is nothing so habit-forming as money.

A fool and his money are soon parted.

Penny wise and pound foolish.

It takes money to make money. But it doesn't have to be your money.

Money can turn liars into honest men.

Money isn't important as long as you have it.

Money talks.

Money burns a hole in the pocket.

Money can't buy happiness.

Money can't buy everything.

Money can't buy friends.

Making money is not the problem. Passing it is.

Proverbs & Quotations

Objection

There are objections to every proposition, no matter how attractive.
Harvey Mackay

Proverbs & Quotations

Obstacle

A stumbling block and a stepping stone are the same thing. It is how you use them.

You can't cross a chasm in two small jumps.

Proverbs & Quotations

Old age

Don't laugh at old people. If you're lucky, you will get there.

Old age is when it takes you all night to do what you used to do all night long.

The secret to living a long life is to get to be a hundred and then live very carefully.

Old age is when you feel like it is the day after when it is actually the day before.

Crabbed age and youth can not live together.

William Shakespeare

Old age is when you know your way around but don't feel like going anymore.

Old age is when you say "Why bother" instead of "Why not?"

Problem with old age is that by the time you learn to make most of life, most of it is gone.

Proverbs & Quotations

Opportunity

An opportunity of a lifetime knocks but once.

There are two doors to opportunity: push and pull.

Opportunity is hard work disguised.

The successful ones create their own opportunities.

Proverbs & Quotations

Opposite

Opposites attract.

Opposites complement each other.

Proverbs & Quotations

Optimist

The optimist sees the doughnut, the pessimist, the hole.

Optimists have more fun guessing wrong than pessimists guessing right.

The optimist proclaims that we live in the best of all possible worlds; and the pessimist fears this is true.

James Branch Cabell

An optimist is someone who looks forward to marriage. Then he becomes a pessimist.

An optimist thinks an unmatched sock is an extra one.

Proverbs & Quotations

Originality

There is nothing new under the sun.

Jerry Sy, Quezon City, Philippines

Proverbs & Quotations

Politeness

If a person is extremely polite, chances are she wants something from you.

Proverbs & Quotations

Politician

The problem with political jokes is that too many get in.

You can lead a person to Congress but you can't make that person think.

Simply put, a politician is the best person money can buy.

The problem with a lot of politicians is that you have to listen to them so much to find out they have very little to say.

Every politician is a promising politician.

Proverbs & Quotations

Politics

Politics makes estranged bedfellows.

Goodman Ace

The person who named America the Land of Promise probably migrated over during an election year.

Man is a political animal.

Never tell me that not one star of all
That slip from heaven at night and softly fall
Has been picked up with stones to build a wall.
Robert Frost

Proverbs & Quotations

Start

A good beginning is a job half done.

The first step can be the hardest.

Proverbs & Quotations

Strategy

Sleep on what you plan to do so that you don't lose sleep over what you do.

If the first step is in the wrong direction, the next hundred steps in the right direction will not undo it.

Proverbs & Quotations

Success

Success is getting up just once more than you fall.

He who begins too much accomplishes little.

Success has ruined many a man.

The secret of success remains a secret to most.

If you have the itch for success, you gotta scratch it to become successful.

Success is all relative. It brings them to you.

Success is the end of hope.

Success has many friends.

A successful man is one who makes more money than his wife can spend.

A successful woman is one who can find such a man.

Kenneth Kho, Newark. CA

Jeffrey Tan, San Francisco, CA

Proverbs & Quotations

Tact

Some people have tact; others tell the truth.

Proverbs & Quotations

Talk

Words, once out, can never be recalled.

Talk is cheap because the supply always exceeds the demand.

The more a man talks, the more likely he will say something wrong.

A good talker is not necessarily a good listener.

What is said in private is heard in Heaven as thunder.

A single kind word often lasts a lifetime.

The less you think, the more you'll talk.

No amount of talking can undo something that has been done.

A woman's word is never done.

Proverbs & Quotations

Tardiness

Better late than never but better never late.

Time

Time is money.

Keep your eye on your time, not on your watch.
Harvey Mackay

Time and tide wait for no man.

time is best silent in autumn time when it flies without much of a chime when the seconds are measured not with the counting ticks but with the pause of falling leaves

Jeffrey U. Kho, Fremont, CA

Time is relative.

Lose no time; be always employed in something useful.
Benjamin Franklin

Time heals all wounds.

There are certain places on earth where time goes to pause and breathe in the beauty of the moment. And blessed are the places where it chooses not to leave.

Jeffrey U. Kho, Fremont, CA
