KazClock Information

1) List of files

```
README.WRI          - This file.
KAZCLOCK.EXE        - Windows executable file
KAZCLOCK.HLP        - Windows help file
```

2) Installation

Copy all files listed in Section 1 to a subdirectory. When the program runs for the first time, you will be prompted for your name and company. File KAZCLOCK.EXE will be personalized with this information, so the read-only attribute cannot be set. After the program has run once, the read-only attribute can be set if desired.

3) Network Drives

If the software is installed on a network drive, file KAZCLOCK.EXE must have the shareable attribute set or the installation and registration will fail.

4) License Agreement

This software and documentation is owned and copyrighted by Daniel R. Kaczynski and Kaczynski Software. You may use the demonstration version of the software and documentation for up to fifteen days without cost or obligation. After these fifteen days, you must register the software if you wish to continue using it. After the registration fee has been paid to Kaczynski Software, you are entitled to unlimited use of one copy of the registered version of the software and documentation for the current and any future versions of the software.

5) Disclaimer of Warranty

This software and documentation are provided "as is" and without warranties as to performance, merchantability, fitness for particular purpose, or any other warranties whether expressed or implied. The user assumes the entire risk of using this program. In no event will liability for any damages ever exceed the registration fee paid for the license to use the software, regardless of any form of the claim.

6) Distribution

You may freely distribute the demonstration version of the software and documentation as long as all files listed in Section 1 are included without modification.