

elevision Column

Remember, the more information I receive, the better this publication becomes. Write TimKBear on AOL or Tim.K@vircomm.com on the 'net with any news you might be able to offer.

"V," as far as the original miniseries at least, is out on video. I'm told most video stores are carrying it. The four-hour mini was one of the most successful mini's, especially at the time it came out, for the mini was in a state of decline at the time.

That CBS/QVC merger I was so excited about? Well, it was almost as big a disappointment as "The Shadow!" Other interests started bidding and CBS turned yellow--afraid of a bidding war--and left the merger behind.

X-Files second season started filming July 11th according to Usenet gospel.

NBC Online, BTW, wouldn't give me more information for Earth II without me calling New York, which I have NO intention of doing. If you could help me out in NYC, please give me a hand here and see if we can get some info on Earth II.