Dear John,

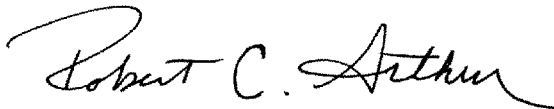

If you're tired of typing a person's name and fax number TWICE—once on the document and again before you fax—you will love FAstFax 4.2. It actually scans your document, finds the recipient's name and fax number, and passes them over to WinFax PRO—automatically filling them out with their correct dialing prefixes and access codes!

The greatest benefit of this is: Once you've entered a person's contact information into your database ONE TIME, you will never have to re-type it again.

For example, thanks to the help of Word 6.0's awesome mail merge features, your name, address, and fax number were automatically filled out on this fax. All I had to do was click the "Next Record" (red arrow >) button, or click the "Find Record" (binoculars) button to find you in my database.

Then, all I had to do was jot down this message and hit Alt-X to send you the fax! That's it! Get yourself a copy of FAstFax 4.2, install it, and hit Alt-X.

Sincerely,

Robert C. Arthur
President
