

Message from the Author of this game:

Hello and thanks for trying out this great multimedia game for Windows!

This game you are trying out right now, was put together with a lot of effort on my part to bring you the very best in Windows Multimedia Arcade Style games!

I hope you will consider to register this game if you like it, if not please pass it to a friend who uses Windows!

As you play this shareware version you will also see messages for registering this game. The reason for this is to support the author of this game so I will continue to create more games to play under Windows.

If you do not support me I will have to stop creating these easy to play games for Windows.

It takes plenty of long hours, weeks and months just to create a bug free game. The more complex the game the more time is involved to create it!

The shareware registration fee is very small and some others do ask for more but I try to be fair in what I ask for.

If you are new to computers and this is your first shareware game, well shareware is the process for authors like me to get our creations out into the market place. These games are not for free when you see the Shareware Version message attached to the game.

Shareware games allow you the user to try out the game and if you like what you see, then you are required to mail in your registration fee to the author and he or she will mail back to you the full working version of that game.

Take a moment now and click on Help from the main menu and look for , "Our Catalog" see what games are current and available to you too register.

Every game I have created uses sound and some use the new ECS which is my method for creating Expanded Continuous Sound effects when playing any of my games under Windows.

I hope you will join in and register this game today like the all the others before have!

No more Shareware or Registering Messages popping up and nagging you to register!

Don't feel that you will get rip off!

This is no fly by night operation!

I have been creating and mailing out all my games to new users for 2.5 years now!

I'm always available online on AOL as "TipStir" or you can use the Internet to reach me as "tipstir@aol.com or by phone.

Please, come on and register today!

There are about 20 or more games online and more will follow, thanks to all of the support I am getting around the US and other countries!

More games will be coming.....

Thanks for your time in this matter.

Enjoy Life! :D
