

Thank you for taking the time to try out MacPassword™! Hopefully, you like it well enough to order the Full Working Copy. The following information will let you know why this product is being distributed as Shareware instead of commercially and the details of how you can place an order. A summary of the steps you need to follow to become registered and receive a Full Working Copy of the latest version are...

- Print out this chapter and the chapter titled "Order Form". This is the form you need to fill out with the appropriate information so I know who you are and where to send the latest version to.
- Read the following sections and note the appropriate payment that will have to be enclosed.
- Enclose that payment along with the filled out Order Form and mail to:

MacPassword™ has been released to the shareware market in the hope of capturing some of the goodwill that seems to exist out there. The jury is still out on the profitability of shareware so let's see if we can avoid the hassles of copy protection, fancy packaging and high prices by supporting this industry. If you like MacPassword™ then please print and fill out the information on the Order Form found elsewhere in this package and mail it along with the appropriate funds as detailed below. If you have an electronic address for AppleLink, GENIE, CONNECT or America Online... please make sure to write it on the order form. I will then upgrade people automatically whose electronic address I have on file.

In return for your contribution, I will send a disk to you containing the following:

- The latest version of the MacPassword™ CDEV.
- The latest version of the MacPassword™ Utility Program.
- The latest version of the MacPassword™ Sounds.

The latest version of the MacPassword™ Documentation.

•

The latest version of Disinfectant, a virus scanning utility.

There will also be a file on the disk called "Personalization Keycode" that will contain your personal keycode necessary to unlock MacPassword™ for an unlimited life span and allow you to use the additional functionality not available to users of the "Demo" version.

The personalization keycode will be effective for any version within the same major version number. That is, if you register version 3.0.0, then several weeks later come across version 3.2.4, you will be able to use the same personalization keycode on this newer version. A year later, you come across version 4.0.1 and will find that your personalization keycode code will no longer work. At this time, you may elect to upgrade to the newest major version for a nominal fee that will typically be the difference in price between major versions as well as some amount to cover P&H. I feel this is a fair system that will allow my shareware supporters to only pay for a major upgrade and allow me more time to work on MacPassword™ instead of filling upgrade orders.

With your registration information I will be able to notify you of major version upgrades when they become available by land based mail. For upgrading to incremental versions within the same major version number, you can obtain them from the Networks, User Groups or directly from me (see below for details).

If you provide your electronic address (E-Mail), I can email new incremental versions to you at no cost, thus keeping you updated with the latest version. Likewise, you can communicate with me at very low cost with questions, suggestions, etc. When you register, please fill out the entry related to E-Mail addresses on the Order Form if you have addresses on any of the networks that I communicate on:

AppleLink - SCHUMER.ART

CONNECT - SCHUMER

America Online - ARTSCHUMER

CompuServe - 76004,557

GEnie - GPSART

If you are ordering a single copy of MacPassword™ and your mailing address is within the US, then please enclose $35.00. All other single copy orders out of the US must enclose $40.00.

If you are ordering two or more copies, you qualify for a volume discount. The volume purchase plan I've come up with breaks the registration cost down as indicated in the following chart. Please note this reflects a one time purchase, not cumulative orders. In light of the cost of commercial software costing close to $395.00 each, I feel this is an extremely cost efficient way to add security to your corporate Macintosh systems. MacPassword™ is being recognized as an ideal utility to standardize a company on as evidenced by the extremely large number of requests I've received for volume purchase information.
