Congratulations! The Mega-ROM 3.2 is one of the most useful Macintosh software collections ever assembled on a CD-ROM.

Mega-ROM™ contains a plethora of useful applications, desktop publishing files, utilities, quicktime movies, games, HyperCard stacks, virus protection software, updaters, extensions, control panels, desk accessories, color icons, educational programs and various System 7 enhancements ready to be installed on your computer.

Not Intended For Commercial Use: All files on this disc were collected from public forums; Quantum Leap has no way of knowing the origin of these files and cannot recommend they be used in commercial works. Quantum Leap does not condone the unauthorized use of copyrighted works and no permission is extended to make copies of, or to make use of, these files beyond the expressed consent of the copyright owner.

Please respect the wishes of shareware owners by registering your software as directed by the authors.

Virus Protection

This disc contains the latest version of Disinfectant (2.9) and has been checked and re-checked with same during and after production.

Using the Directories

This disc contains three very large indexes, created with the new Directory Man program. One is in Microsoft Word format, one is in MacWrite II format and the last in generic text, which can be opened by almost any word processor. (TeachText cannot handle files this large). Inside the folder named, "Sub Directories" are two sets of indexes for each main folder, one in Microsoft Word format, the other generic text. To find a font, for example, open the subdirectory named, "Fonts" and search in alphabetical order for the font you are looking for.

Print the List of Files

For your reference, print one of the large indexes, or print one or more of the sub directory indexes. The MSWord version of the main index is 201 pages long; make sure your printer has plenty of paper.

User Upgrades

Quantum Leap offers special prices on upgrades to our CD-ROM products. To be eligible for special upgrade pricing, return the enclosed registration card to Quantum Leap upon purchase.

QLTech does not sell this software, but rather charges a minimal fee for compiling, distributing and marketing this collection.
