

Chris White and Lynn Schrameyer-White have a shared fascination with textures that originates from their work as traditional artists and designers, this has been channelled into the digital art resources they produce both on CD and for download from their website.

The textures are generally generated from two sources; scanned photography taken for the purpose and then manipulated or images generated from scratch. They've made textures that will add a period feel to an interior, being atmospheric and natural looking, so you can now tile the floor of a medieval cathedral, design interiors with an imperial flavour or create Moroccan sandalwood chests. Wherever you fancy takes you.

The work on their 'Wraps!' series of CD's can be ordered and downloaded from <<http://www.schrameyer-white.com>>. Each CD features 93 images at 5 x 4 inches at 300 dpi for 30 GBP (thirty pounds sterling) plus shipping or individual textures can be downloaded. All transactions are done through the online brokers Kagi which makes credit card and other transactions extremely easy and which all adds up to a very smooth and efficient service.
