Description : Begins in Vietnam. An elite group of Navy Seals has just paradropped into the middle of a remote jungle location. MISSSION: Find and destroy suspected Vietcong fortifications.......... and their inhabitants. Using an old marine camp set up by the last team that came in, (haven't heard back from them since) the Seals begin to search the area for signs of the enemy.

The Vietcong on the other hand have a different objective in mind. MISSION: to delay at all cost the advance of U.S. forward deployed Army and Marine units advancing from the south. Having gained knowledge of the Seals secret mission by a intercepted radio message, the fortified Vietcong now know that America's best are coming for them.

You will need to use nightvision when you can get it. This level isn't real dark but it does help. Also be careful when using RPGs in the jungle, you could find yourself in pieces real quick.
Have fun and happy hunting!
