

Franklin Mint Precision Models

Each of the Franklin Mint models is rich assembled from more than 100 exciting replicas, our engineers, de-oceans, examined some of the rarest, personally met with legendary

They begin each new project by original vehicles. Some are in museums. Others are owned by wealthy collectors. But once an original is found, it is studied in exhaustive detail.

Months are spent sculpturing an intricate scale model that captures the classic inside and out. This is used to farm all components for the finished piece-which is then hand-assembled, with the same kind of care that created the original.

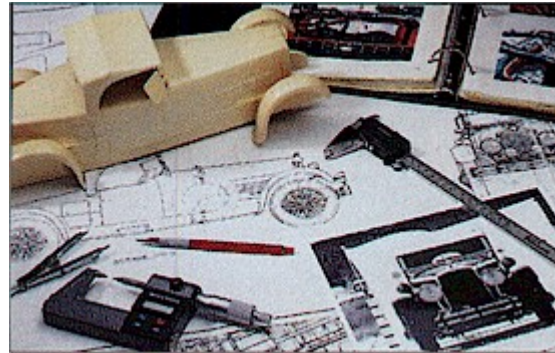

The result: A showpiece to treasure for a lifetime. Authentic down to the door handles. With doors that open, seats that 'give," and operational steering.

Most of the models are available with or with out its own distinctive display case. Other display units are available.
