Wolly

WELCOME!

Wolly got to play with some great new shareware and freeware this week. Be sure to check out the Shareware Briefs as well as Ed Hoffman's super article on a super program: Clean Up.

AUTHORS: CLEAN UP AFTER YOURSELF!

In the course of looking at about twenty new programs each week, Wolly gets pretty tired of cleaning up his drive of stray leftovers of discarded programs. Some installation programs scatter debris all over his drives, most seldom document what damage they do or give any guidance if you want to remove the tentacles they spread. Once and while you find a responsible author like Dan Baumbach. You might have heard Wolly rave about his Drag and Zip program in the past.

- ⦿ Install Drag And View and Fileman Launcher
- ○ Install Drag And View Without Fileman Launcher
- ○ Install Fileman Launcher
- ○ Remove Drag And View Installation
- ○ Remove Fileman Launcher

This image is from his latest, Drag and View version 1.1 (version 1.0 was reviewed in WOLRS Issue #2). This is what Wolly likes to see. Is it any wonder that this program received an award at the recent shareware authors' convention?
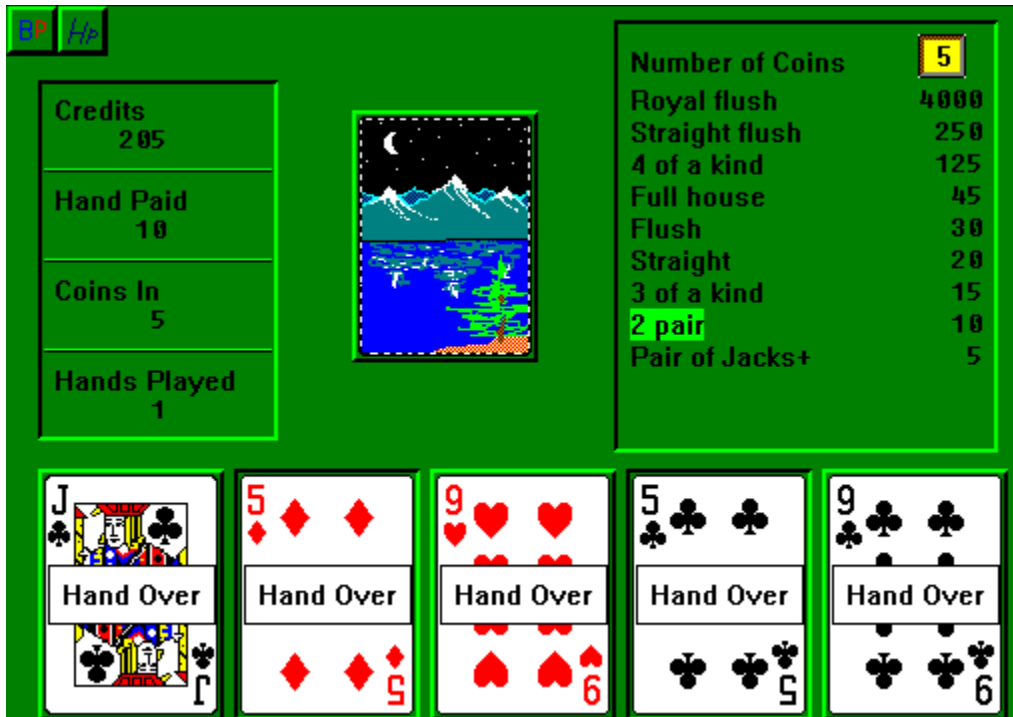

Enjoy the issue !

WINDEXED
It's becoming clear to me now
Kinda cute, with it's rolodex graphic, Windexed has the basics but lacks a few niceties. The extent of its offerings are shown in the graphic, information and dialing. Nice popup for searches for name or company. Quickly click and dial either the home or work number with no muss or fuss. No facilities for file importing or exporting, though you can print a single card or all cards. Separate files are also supported within WINDEXED.ZIP (100K), which can be registered for $12.00.

SUPER VIDEO POKER
Where is the coin port on this PC?

Number of Coins 5

Pair of Jacks+	5

Credits 205

Pretty slick! No need to travel to a resort or to the back room of your favorite seedy bar. Play video poker in the privacy of your own home. Sound effects, selectable card back, the whole enchilada. Drop $15.00 into the mail slot to the author and the payoff is a registered copy of SVPOKE.ZIP (200K), no matter how bad your hand is.

Stop/Pause   Eject   Shuffle

Current Track: +2:18

Wolly got to listen to some of his favorite CDs while preparing the week's column, thanks to CD Audio. It does both a nice job of playing your CDs, with shuffle play and programmable orders available. Your own custom play order can be saved and run each time you insert that disc. There is even a "fit to tape" option if you are making some road music. CDAUD130.ZIP (137K) may be registered for $20.00

SUNNY 2000
It's a beautiful day in the neighborhood

Wake up! Pick a date and specify a location from the database included. Get all the information you need to know regarding sunrises and sunset. View the phase of the moon even on a cloudy night, thanks to the graphical display. SUNNY401.ZIP (73K) is just $8.00 for registration. Better pick up the latest Visual Basic, VBRUN300.DLL, if you want to run this program.

WIN WEATHER
Better than lose weather, but . . .

The midwest is literally up to its ears in water, the east just broke a heavy heat wave, so it's a good time to open a window on the weather using your computer. Win Weather prettily provides seven basic services. Based on your input of wind direction, barometer and its current direction, it will provide a weather forecast, albeit limited. It can calculate wind chill, temperature-humidity index, and dew point, and do conversions of temperature, wind speed and pressure. Wolly thinks it's prettier than it is practically functional. And while the Weather Channel is free (but cable's not) WINWEATH.ZIP (431K) is $25.00 for registration and shipping, not to mention the hefty download which includes lots of fancy setup files and VBRUN200.DLL. Wolly forecasts that there's a bit of a cloud over Win Weather with only a slight chance of continued use and registration today.

FROM SCRATCH
Recipes that compute
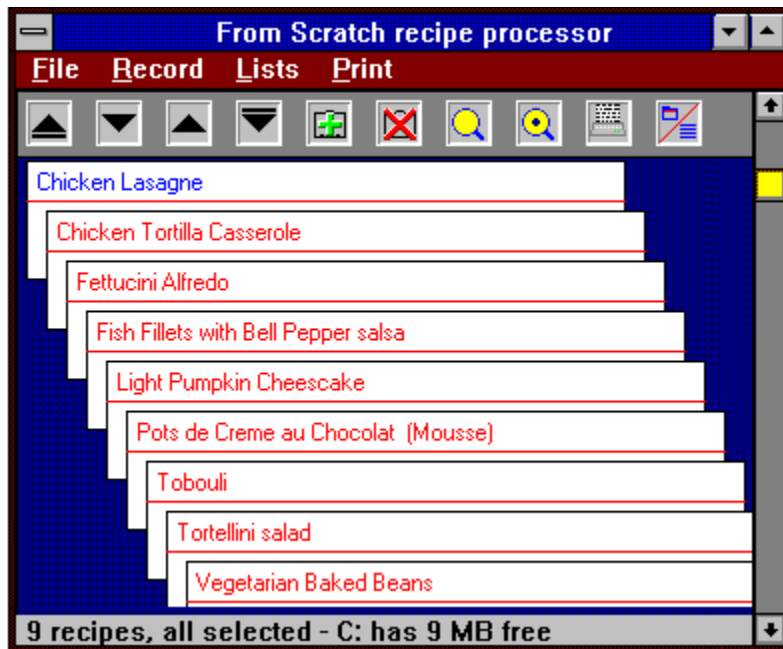

Now let's see, if I run twisted pair to the kitchen and put another PC on the counter next to the microwave . . . and then prepare my meals using From Scratch. It's a recipe processor, essentially a database that can grow as large as your hard drive will allow. The search mechanism is a handy key for those times when the contents of your refrigerator and cupboard are your only source of sustenance. Type in "Cling Peaches" or "Ketchup" and hope for the best! It will also find recipes based on any part of ingredient, keyword, title, Origin, Time to prepare, or nutrition information.

A shopping list manager which sorts by category is included, as well as a measurement conversion (how much is a pinch?) utility and a yield calculator. Not only ingredients, instructions and keywords can occupy your database, but nutritional information as well. And you don't really have to install a new network node in the kitchen; From Scratch will print you a pretty recipe with your choice of fonts complete with a "From the Kitchen of" credit. The convenient button bar accesses most functions most handily. FRSCR21.ZIP (345K) may be registered via an 800 number for $34.95 plus shipping and handling (not specified) and provides 50 recipes, the latest version of the program, other benefits and a key that will continue your registration through future versions. Now all I can suggest is that they add a contingency pushbutton that autodials my modem and orders Chinese take-out.

WORM WORLD
Slither, slither, splat!

Worm World is a pretty neat concept, a bit of a twist on some other games. Your little worm squishes his way through one of the twelve mazes provided, with his objective of exit in mind. He may encounter places to fall from, spikes, falling blocks, mud, and other stuff which may block or kill him. You don't move the worm, but are provided three tools with which to guide him: an anti-gravity switch, a bridge, and a block to turn him around. A level editor is provided for you to create your own Worm World levels to puzzle yourself and friends. WRMWLD.ZIP (117K) is freeware as it is posted, but $10.00 will bring more than the twelve levels provided, the latest version, and additional shareware from the English author.

TOWNS
Win $$$$
Towns is an computer version of a puzzle presented in the usually confounding Games column of the OMNI magazine, this one in the April 1993 issue by Scott Morris. It is based on a more general puzzle from the 1981 "Tournament of the Towns" in the former Soviet Union. You must vacate the six blue squares in the lower left corner of the playing field of any marbles. When a marble is removed a marble must be placed in the square directly above it, and another placed in the square directly to the right. Only one marble can occupy a square. If a marble cannot be removed because either of those adjacent squares are already occupied, it is colored red.   If the marble is free to be removed, then it is colored green. Wolly unfortunately lost all his marbles trying to comprehend this, no less play it.

Scott Morris has offered a $5000 purse to the first person who sends him the correct solution with the fewest finite number of moves and Wolly understands that no solution has yet been found. Check out TOWNS10.ZIP (88K) quick! It's not only freeware (the author does request registration), it's $5000ware if you solve the puzzle, save the princess, and let OMNI Magazine know the solution before anyone else.

DISK INFORMATION PROGRAM
Beauty is only screen deep

This program is an interesting try at providing a database of removable disk contents. The author admits the newness of his programming skills, and this program evidences that to a certain extent. It drops to DOS for disk operations, and is a touch unwieldy. However, it is headed in the right direction and has some potential.   DIP20.ZIP is freeware thanks to author Jim Richardson.

AEROBIC CALC
I get out of breath just clicking on it

Dr. Bruce Powel Douglass brings us this freeware program that computes aerobic points, caloric expenditure, and average speed for running, cycling, swimming, and walking. It's quick and easy to understand. Now download AEROBI10.ZIP (129K) and get moving. The author states that the computations are approximate and take into account the activity, speed, and your weight, but that differences in skill and motor efficiency will produce different true caloric outputs. In other words, your mileage may vary.

TRUE TYPE FONTS
Some of this week's entrants

Becker Medium   NEWTT.ZIP (58K) also includes Blippo

KASTELLAR   KASTE.ZIP (18K)

Mkt Bold   MARKBOLD.ZIP (23K)

Needle Point Sew   NPSEWT.ZIP (14K)

Wolly has been thinking about eliminating this section. What do you think?? Leave me a message and let me know if you'd like to continue to see selections from the True Type fonts that come to Windows OnLine each week.

as told to Bob Gollihur
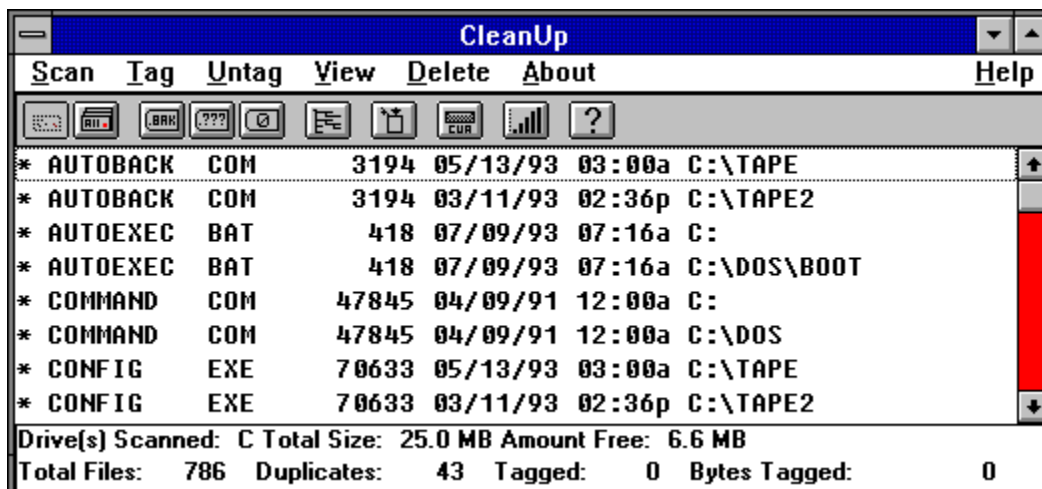

CleanUp

A friend recently told me he was in the market for a new hard drive.   It seems the 100+Mb drive he presently has in his computer was approaching its maximum capacity.   Since I knew this friend didn't use any really big programs, I asked if he had looked at deleting some of the files on his system that he no longer needed.   He told me he had not   thought of that alternative.   So, I recommended that before he undertook massive surgery on the system, that he first look to see if there were any duplicate files he could delete.   When he asked what duplicate files were I knew I was in for a long day.   As it turned out, by eliminating the duplicate files on his system we recovered almost 22Mb of disk space.

Although Windows has a tendency of putting files all over your system, most duplicate files are created by you and I.   Whether its simply a matter of copying, rather than moving files from one directory to another, or keeping a sizable collection of .BAK files, we all have many files on our systems that we really don't need.   One way of finding these unwanted files is with the CleanUp 1.0 program.

      CleanUp is a utility program that should definitely be part of your system.   The main screen of the program shows all the duplicate files on a single drive, or over several drives.   So, for example if you wanted to find the duplicate file on drive C, you could simply click on S̲can, C̲:.   All files with the same name would then be shown in the main window.   After sorting through these files you can then add the duplicate files from your other hard drive by simply clicking on S̲can, D̲: , S̲can, E̲: and so on.   The additional duplicate files are then added to the listing in the main window.   This is a great way to find all those files that you have scattered all over your system.

      The program can also be configured to search for specific types of files.   These might include all backup files with a .BAK, files with a 0 length, or those with specific extensions. Many files on your hard drive may have a 0 length.   While eliminating these files may not add anything to your disk space, it will reduce the numbers of files in your directory listings.   If you, like me, identify files with specific extensions, you might want to search for these files. For example, I often use my initials to identify files I plan to erase later.   While a good idea, I often forget to delete these files once I've finished with them.   The CleanUp program allows me to quickly find these files, no matter where I've hidden them.   All the program options may be accessed through the menu bar or with the series of buttons on the icon bar.
      One other unique feature of the CleanUp program is the Graph option in the View menu. The graph may also be accessed by clicking on the next to last button on the icon bar.   This option graphically shows the distribution and size relationships of the directories on your hard drive.   The available graph options are the 3D bar graph, shown here, a pie chart, horizontal bars, or vertical bars.   You may even select the number of directories that are shown.   So, even though you have 25 directories on a particular hard drive, if you have the CleanUp program set to display 10 directories, then only the 10 largest directories will be listed.

      The CleanUp program is well documented and the User's Manual explains the program very well.   One note of caution.   Since this program is intended to delete files from your system, you must make sure the files you remove are really those you wish to erase.   A complete listing of the total files, duplicate files, number of tagged files, and tagged bytes are shown across the bottom of the screen in both the main and graph viewing windows.   Make sure the number of tagged files and the size of the files correspond to the files your really wish to delete.   Simply reading the screen messages may help prevent you from erasing more than what your really wanted.

So, before your rush out to buy a new hard drive, check to see how many duplicate or unwanted files you have on your system.   With the CleanUp program, this is actually quite an easy task.   Members of Windows OnLine can find CleanUp 1.0 as CLUPW100.ZIP in Directory #35 - (Windows-Accessories A-G).
