

SPACE

The Student Poster and Animation Competition and Exhibition (SPACE) is now in its third year as a SIGGRAPH Education Committee event. Participation in this competition and exhibition continues to grow as well as the quality of the entries. SPACE provides an excellent opportunity for students working with computers to exhibit their creative work. It is open to all students currently attending elementary or secondary schools, colleges or universities. We encourage teachers to have their students enter SPACE either through class projects or individual interest.

The theme for SPACE was "Technological Tides" in the spirit of this year's conference theme of "exploring the next wave of digital technology." The poster jury selected very creative artworks from the record number of submissions. The animation jury reviewed more submissions than ever before and the selections resulted in an outstanding show.

For the past five years, after its initial exhibition at the SIGGRAPH conference, SPACE has traveled nationally for one year to many sites; it will travel again this year. For the first time last year, SPACE was also exhibited in Japan as part of the Lifelong Learning Festivals - Manabi Pia Fukuoka sponsored by the Ministry of Education and Computer Graphic Arts Society. We are excited to report that SPACE also has been invited to Japan in November for exhibition at their conference.

During the next year, the animations may be seen at the Information Age exhibition in the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C. Additionally, SPACE - may be viewed on the SIGGRAPH Education Committee website at <http://www.education.siggraph.org>

For further information about the traveling show, contact Jackie White (jwhite@siggraph.org).
