Solaris Subscription Service for Catalyst Developers

The Solaris™ Subscription Service gives developers a simple, convenient way to automatically receive software, updates, and support for 12 months, at an affordable price. The Solaris Subscription Service provides Early Access and First Customer Ship versions of the Solaris 2 operating environment and Software Developer Kit (SDK) for your SPARC® or x86 application development. Subscribers automatically receive update releases during the 12 month subscription period, can take advantage of SupportPack resources to get answers to code-level development questions, and will also receive their choice of one SPARCompiler™ or ProWorks™ compiler with the initial shipment (compiler updates are not included).

Solaris Subscription Service ($1595) includes:

- ❒ Solaris 2.4 Operating Environment for SPARC or x86
- ❒ Software Developer Kit (SDK) 2.4 for SPARC or x86
- ❒ Online Developer and User Documentation
- ❒ SPARCworks or ProWorks Development Tools and your choice of C, C++, or FORTRAN compiler (initial shipment only - subscription does not include compiler updates)
- ❒ Early Access to the next release of the Solaris Operating Environment and SDK for SPARC or x86
- ❒ 30 Hours of SupportPack developer support (must be used during the 12 month subscription period)

Experienced engineers will assist with porting your Solaris applications to the current release of Solaris 2.x, as well as installation and system admin support. Support engineers are available by telephone, fax and electronic mail and are dedicated to resolving questions within 48 hours. Subscribers automatically receive update releases for Solaris and the SDK during the 12-month subscription period.

Subscription Service is available for INTERACTIVE™ UNIX® System developers as well. The INTERACTIVE UNIX System Subscription Service automatically provides 12 months of INTERACTIVE UNIX System Graphical Solution Early Access and First Customer Ship releases, and INTERACTIVE Software Development System (SDS) bundled with SupportPack technical support.

INTERACTIVE UNIX System Subscription Service ($1695) includes:

- ❒ INTERACTIVE UNIX System Version 4.1 Graphical Solution
- ❒ INTERACTIVE UNIX Software Development System (SDS)
- ❒ 12 months of SupportPack technical support
