

DISK MIX

Sharing resources across platforms using an NFS server for Windows NT will result in a big performance hit compared with using native IPX, but it will be worthwhile for some shops with Unix machines.

NFSware did not complete this test with a larger number of clients.

* Reported for comparison.