Orlando Duo Arrives in New York

From Staff Reports

Two visitors from the Orlando branch of the family arrived in New York for a special visit recently. They arrived at the New York special offices on Tuesday December 23rd, and planned to stay for the holidays, and will eat the New York branch out of house and home until at least the New Year. This is another paragraph of text about this story, which doesn't add much.

The Western Pennsylvania Office of the family operations opened on schedule in July 1927, and remain open today. Occupying the office were the entire family at the time of the opening, although only a few members are there at the moment.
