

Support and Updates

I am happy to help people with BulkRate. I am very bad at answering snail mail and I don't usually like to be called at home, which is why I recommend that you ask me questions online.

You may post questions in the BulkRate conference available on OneNet, or send me questions at my Internet e-mail addresses:

greg_neagle@kagi.com
greg_neagle@aol.com (I check this less often)

On America Online, my screen name is GregNeagle.

I maintain a WWW site, and an FTP site where you can get the latest info and download the current version of BulkRate:
