on songe aux trois journées de 1830, qui furent une nouvelle révolution de 1789 (trois 1830 neuf 89)

Boll, p. 46, fn. #4

Translation:

We dream of the 3 days of 1830, that were a new "revolution of 1789".

(3 1830 9 89)

(1830 and 1789 are basic dates of the French History)

From: Sylvain Pion

1/Pi : les 3 gloireuses de 1830 ont retourné 89
(rappel $1/\text{Pi} = 0,3183098$)

P. Ar., 277

Les trois jours de 1830 ont renversé 89

From: Paul Gerardin

Les trois journées de 1830 ont renversé 89.

Comment:

The sentence is related with the French revolution and the "contre revolution". There is a pun on the word "renversé".

From: Bernard Philippe

Les 3 journées de 1830 ont renversées celles de 89

Comment:

This is related to the revolution of 1830 in France where king

Charles X was deposed but after replaced by king Louis Philippe and in this sense are in contradiction with the revolution of 1789.

From: Jean-Pierre Crouzeix
