

Dutch Doors

These two-part doors let you have it both ways. You get light, air and a view, yet dogs and toddlers stay in or out. Though quaint and inviting, Dutch doors are hard to properly weatherstrip. It's tough to maintain a seal when two moving parts meet. Consider a screen door or pet door to control traffic instead.