

Dressing Tables

Dressing tables, sometimes called vanities, are decorative dressers, usually paired with mirrors. They're small drawers are meant for grooming supplies and makeup, not bulky clothes. Vanities fit best in dressing rooms or large master baths, but they're common in bedrooms too.

As with your bathroom mirror, you'll want good, even lighting here. Place wall lamps on either side of the mirror, not above it. If you must use a lamp on the table, make sure it throws light onto your face without creating shadows.
