

Inside Mac DA.

This is a new version of Inside Mac DA. To use it, you will need to download the old version which contains the Manual. This version contains the ability to have some interfaces with the manager, a program to rebuild the Index File, and is more user-friendly. I've made a new version of the manual, but due to its size (450 Ko now) it would be too long to upload it. This new manual includes all the interfaces, and also Inside Mac IV. To create the interfaces in the manual, you must do as shown above:

\,129

Resources manager interfaces, etc...

The first line must be "\" (except for the first line of the text), this is the separator. After, this is the number of the manager + 128. The next line is the same number, and after is the text you want to see. To edit the text, I use MPW and it works fine, but i think this can also be done with EDIT. When you have finished to edit your file, save it then run Create Index. After, to use the DA, you just need to install it, and to put Manual and MMIndex in your system folder. You can change the name of the managers and the number of managers by editing the STR# which is in the DA. I hope you will enjoy this product, I personally use it often and find it very useful. Please remember, this program is not free, it's sold under the "Mac-Honor system". I would greatly appreciate any comments or suggestions.
