1.3  Technical Support

Soft-Logik offers several levels of technical support to make getting help easy and accessible. You can choose the technical support option which best suits your needs. Technical support via telephone is available only for customers paying for support.

Before you call for help:

1. Check the Troubleshooting section first to see if your question is already answered.

2. Know the version of PageStream installed. (Check the Navigator.)

3. Know your registration number. (Choose Project/About.)

4. Know which Amiga model you have, and which version of the operating system is installed.

Free Mail Support

Please include your name, address, registration number and full details of your problem when mailing or faxing us questions. We will MAIL you a reply as soon as possible; technical support cannot phone or fax you back. If you are in a hurry, please use a different technical support option.

Questions & Answers

Q. I received a defective disk. How do I get it replaced?

A. Call sales at 1-800-829-8608 (314-256-9595) to request a free replacement.

Q. I just have a quick question. Can I call for free help?

A. No. Soft-Logik does not provide free telephone support. Most of our customers have chosen to use one of the online networks for convenient and affordable support. We highly recommend getting a modem and using our BBS, GEnie, CompuServe or the Internet. The Soft-Logik BBS and GEnie have the largest numbers of PageStream users.

Q. I don't have a modem. What's the next best way to get free support?

A. You should either mail or fax your questions to us. A written reply will be mailed to you as soon as possible.

Q. I think I found a bug. Should I call to report it?

A. No. The best way to report a problem with a Soft-Logik program is to mail or email us a detailed description of the problem.

Q. Can I get technical support for any Soft-Logik product?

A. Technical support is available for current Soft-Logik products.
Support is not available for discontinued products or older versions of some programs. At this time, technical support is available for:

PageStream 2.2 3.1; TypeSmith 2.0 2 .5; Wordworth 3.1; Datastore 1.0; and Digita Organizer 1.0.
