Contacting Creatwal Software

Army Insignia screen saver is being distributed as shareware so you can 'try before you buy'. Most folks today understand what shareware is all about so there is no need in rambling on about it. However, one small point that people sometimes forget is that quality software at reasonable prices cannot be possible if it is not supported by the user. You are encouraged to pass a copy of Army Insignia screen saver along to your friends for evaluation. Please encourage them to register their copy if they find that they can use it. All registered users will receive a customized version of the program. Register your shareware - it's the right thing to do.

Setting Your Preferences

Once Army Insignia screen saver has been installed to your system, you can set it up to suit your preferences and select it as your screen saver from the windows Control Panel. Control Panel is, by default, in the Main option group. Double clicking on the Desktop icon in the Control Panel calls up several framed sections of options, one of these is "Screen Saver". Clicking the Setup button will start Army Insignia screen saver in Configuration mode; here you can set the screen saver options. You can then click the Test button to see the effect of your option settings.

Options:

Movement Speed - Adjust the scroll bar to change the speed that the insignia moves across your screen. The amount of change noticed with each increment depends on the speed of your machine.

Change Frequency - Adjust the scroll bar to cause the insignia to change more or less frequently.

Password Options - Here you can choose to password protect Army Insignia screen saver and set your password. NOTE: The password used is the same as for all windows screen savers on your computer. If you change the password while using any compatible windows screen saver, the password change is used by all other compatible windows screen savers.

Screen Saver Ends On - This is where you decide what actions cancel the screen saver. Check the options that you want (all are checked by default).

Shareware Registration - When you get your custom screen saver and registration code, click this button to enter the code and complete the registration process. This button will no longer appear after registration is complete.

Help - Opens the help file to this topic.

OK or Cancel - Click the OK button to save changes and exit the Configuration screen. Click the Cancel button to exit the Configuration screen without saving changes. NOTE: A new password is effective as soon as you make the change.

Log Errors in AISS.LOG - Check this option to enable error logging. Also see Log File description.

Log File Description

Since popping up error messages during the screen saver defeats the purpose of the saver, and someone may not be around to read and react to them; error messages can be written in the log file and the program will attempt to continue.

The Log File is located in your windows directory as AISS.LOG. If you notice that the screen saver is functioning abnormally, you can enable logging and check the log file for any errors that have occurred and for help correcting the problem.

While the main intent is to track problems, the following are also logged:

- Program Startup/Termination - this will aid in determining a particular error message.
- Incorrect password entries - this will let you know if someone has been attempting to guess your password (and how close they are).

NOTE: After a while, this file can become rather large. There is no need to keep more of it than you find useful. If the file gets too large, just delete anything that you do not wish to keep and save the file. Unless you are experiencing problems, logging should be disabled (this is the default setting).

ALSO NOTE: Since incorrect password entries are logged here, you may wish to immediately delete any entry where YOU mistyped your own password.

Shareware

Shareware distribution gives users a chance to try software before buying it. If you try a Shareware program and continue using it, you are expected to register. Individual programs differ on details -- some request registration while others require it, some specify a maximum trial period. With registration, you get anything from the simple right to continue using the software to an updated program with printed manual.

Copyright laws apply to both Shareware and commercial software, and the copyright holder retains all rights, with a few specific exceptions as stated below. Shareware authors are accomplished programmers, just like commercial authors, and the programs are of comparable quality. (In both cases, there are good programs and bad ones!) The main difference is in the method of distribution. The author specifically grants the right to copy and distribute the software, either to all and sundry or to a specific group. For example, some authors require written permission before a commercial disk vendor may copy their Shareware.

Shareware is a distribution method, not a type of software. The Shareware system makes fitting your needs easier, because you can try before you buy. And because the overhead is low, prices are low also. Shareware has the ultimate money-back guarantee -- if you don't use the product, you don't pay for it.

Registration

What do I get?

Registered users will receive a customized version of the program with up to ten (10) insignia of your choosing.

How do I get mine?

To register by mail, send $15 (US funds payable to Thomas Keith) along with the completed order form, to:

Creatwal Software
99 Mimosa Drive
Chickamauga, GA 30707

CompuServe® members can register online - GO SWREG.
The SWREG ID for Army Insignia screen saver is 8236. If you have never registered shareware this way before, it is very easy and you will get your customized version much quicker (via electronic mail message - sometimes as fast as the same day!). The registration fee of $15 (US) is applied to your next bill from CIS.

After using the SWREG service, send electronic mail to INTERNET:creatwal@fay.infi.net stating which insignia you want in your custom screen saver.

Army Insignia screen saver runs under Windows™ 3.1 and requires that the file VBRUN300.DLL be in the windows\system directory. This file is not part of the distribution disk/archive due to its size and because it is a common file. If you do not have it, you can probably get it from the same place you got Army Insignia screen saver (or most any BBS). This program was tested on computers as slow as a 386sx at 20 MHz and, while it worked ok, faster systems are recommended.

License Agreement

By using of Army Insignia screen saver you indicate your acceptance of the following License Agreement:

1. LICENSE.

a. Army Insignia screen saver is distributed as a "shareware program" and is provided at no charge to the user for evaluation. Feel free to share it with your friends, but do not give it away altered or as part of another system. You may still distribute the unmodified "shareware version" of the program; but, under no circumstances may you distribute your registration code.

2. COPYRIGHT. Army Insignia screen saver software and documentation is the property of Creatwal Software and/or its suppliers and is protected by U.S. copyright laws and international treaty provisions and therefore must be treated like any other copyrighted material (e.g., a book).
