Elements are the pieces that make up a scene. An element is either a background or a cast member.