

Animation Cells

When a picture is pasted into a hero or obstacle window, the images are separated into cells or rectangles that completely enclose the separate image. These cells can be arranged into sequences of rectangles or runs using the animator control panel.