

About SpaceLink

NASA SpaceLink is a space informational database provided by the NASA Educational Affairs Division and operated by the Marshall Space Flight Center. SpaceLink is specifically designed for K-12 teachers and students, although people from a wide variety of backgrounds and interests use it.

SpaceLink is completely free of charge and can be reached via modem by dialing 205/895-0028.

NASA SpaceLink does not provide for interaction between callers. However, it does allow for questions and comments from the folks who call.