No. It is our strict policy not to sell or otherwise give any of our customers' information to third parties!

If I don't give my e-mail address how will I get my registration code?

Are there any other VulcanSoft products on the market?

Yes, there are. Again, please visit our web site for the latest list of VulcanSoft products.

Why are you not charging sales tax from Colorado residents?

What is a Biorhythm?

Everything in nature is influenced by periodic rhythms starting with planets orbiting their respective suns, change of the seasons, the moon phases, day and night, and the natural rhythms of life amongst others. The human body is very receptive to respond to such cyclic changes in its environment.

Scientists have discovered specific body cycles which are now known as biorhythms. They influence strength, mental abilities, moods, ability to learn, logical thinking, immunity to disease, etc. We used the three most commonly used rhythms (mental, physical and emotional) and added an "overall" rhythm which is calculated from the average of the first three on a given day.

Each biorhythm is divided into three sections: a positive (active) phase, the zero level (horizontal line in the middle of the chart), and a negative (passive) phase. A specific rhythm in its active phase indicates that its associated properties (abilities) are enhanced, while these same properties are diminished during its passive phase.

The zero level has a special meaning: when a rhythm crosses this line from active to passive, it is said to be in a critical state. Your abilities are unstable during the critical state and you should take extra precautions during these days. When a rhythm crosses from passive to active, it is said to be in a zero state. See each cycle's associated properties (abilities) below.

Each cycle starts from the zero level at the time of birth and moves into the active phase. Thereafter, you will very seldomly get a similar constellation again since each rhythm has a different cyclic length (see below).

Studies have been conducted which show that 80% of drivers that caused serious car accidents were in a critical phase. However, this does not mean that you will be involved in a car crash during a critical phase of one of your biorhythms. This simply states that the likelihood that such an event might occur is higher than during non-critical phases.

As is the case with most things in life, there are people believing in biorhythms, and there are people not believing in them. However, before you discard this program as nonsense, we encourage you to explore key dates in your life and compare them to your biorhythms. Who knows ...
