

Digital Vision Launches the Motion Series and its Premier Showreel

Digital Vision's launch of Motion called for a spectacular showreel that would illustrate the versatility and quality of the new moving footage series. Our showreel was created specifically for Digital Vision using a pool of talent including graphic designers, contributing photographers and musicians.

How it was created:

Our artist created this showreel by combining clips from the new Motion footage series with original music from a London-based audio production company. He overlaid the footage by using selected imagery from our still collection and used Adobe After Effects, Photoshop, Premier, Illustrator and Media Cleaner Pro to achieve the effects.

The still images come from the Contexture Series, a collection devoted to abstract and contemporary backgrounds, and the Fusion Series, a 30 title series featuring the best of digital artistry and photography. They are all available to view online.

Where you can purchase:

The still images used are available for purchase from Digital Vision or any of the worldwide authorized distributors. Titles include: Naked and Scared, Infinite Space, Metropolis, Circuit Breaker and Global Graffiti.
