AgendaMaker v2.1

by Kurt Swasing

The ultimate personal organizer! This comprehensive program integrates notebook, task, calendar, alarm, mail, messaging and conferencing functions into one application. Create tasks and assign them to projects — give them priorities and report their status. Contains a sample file to get you started.

Airport IDs v1.21

by Robert Swanson

Take off with this airport identification program. Locate airport codes two ways: by entering the code to get the airport name or enter the airport name to get the code. Contains listings for more than 2,500 airports.

CalcWorks v1.5.0

by John Brochu

This program really adds up! This calculator features a complete set of scientific functions, conversion utilities and more. Calculate in binary, octal, decimal and hexadecimal. Figure time in minutes and seconds. Review a menu with important constants, like Avogadro's number and Planck's Constant. This is the only calculator program you'll ever need.

Desk Calendar v3.4

by John Barber

Create and print calendars with this useful utility. Add comments to any day of the year and even add an alert that reminds you to check your calendar. View the calendar in full screen mode, or as a small calendar placed anywhere on your screen. Print the current month or print the full year on one page.

Digital AddressBook v1.5

by Hannah Archambault

Organize important contacts with this address book. Create categories to organize personal acquaintances, business associates and more. Sort by first name, last name, company and e-mail address. Export to a text file or print in different formats, including phone lists, address lists and labels.

Excalibur v2.2

by Rick Zaccone

Use this online spell checker and you'll never make a spelling mistake again. It checks all text documents — even the contents of the Clipboard. Create your own custom dictionaries. When an error is detected, it offers suggestions for the correct spelling.

MemoCards v1.3

by Umberto Salsi

Create memos and paste them all over your desktop. Minimize the notes to view the first few lines or maximize to view the entire note. It even arranges them on your screen to help keep you organized.

MSK Group v2.1

by Danny Stoll

Schedule your time wisely with this time manager. Great for employers who manage several schedules. Switching between schedules is easy. Search records, set reminders, create to-do lists and print any number of days.
