

Poing4Rev.html

COLLABORATORS

|               |                                  |                 |                  |
|---------------|----------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
|               | TITLE :Poing4Rev.html |                 |                  |
| ACTION | NAME                      | DATE     | SIGNATURE |
| WRITTEN BY    |                                  | January 2, 2023 |                  |

REVISION HISTORY

| NUMBER | DATE | DESCRIPTION | NAME |
|--------|------|-------------|------|
|        |      |             |      |

Contents

- 1 Poing4Rev.html 1
- 1.1 Poing4Rev.html . . . . . 1

Chapter 1

Poing4Rev.html

1.1 Poing4Rev.html

Title: Poing 4

Type: Breakout style Bat & Ball Game

Author: Paul Van Der Valk

Number Of Disks: 1

Requirements: Any Amiga, Mouse

Hard Disk Installable: Yes

Being a great fan of Poing since the very first version years ago, I knew this would be something good. It is unfortunately, Brilliant! There are a lot of new features in version 4, with new levels, more types of blocks, better graphics and sound, you name it.

The overall aim of the game, of course, has not changed. You still have to frantically wave the mouse up and down to stop the ball escaping, and bounce it off of the blocks.

I like this version as, with other games the bat moves horizontally, but with Poing, it moves vertically. I cannot explain why I prefer it this way, I just do. Maybe in future versions you may be given the choice - who knows.

You may wonder what this style of game has to offer in the way of gameplay. You will think that it gets boring after a while, but as the levels progress, things get VERY difficult. So much is the fun, that you just cannot put that mouse down.

A great game which really does not have any major flaws in it at all.

Worth of space on anyone's Hard Drive.

Stephen Graham

20 July 1997

---