1.2 Author

Just some dull stuff:

I'm a 22 year old Finnish freelance reporter (and surprisingly concentrating on football ;)). I'm a football/SWOS/Amiga/C64 enthusiast, as you can see.

Anyway I haven't been quite productive on computerside in past years.

Practically this guide and Guide to the World Cup are my only projects that have consumed some time..Take a look at Guide to the Formula 1 Championships too.

The computer setup used to produce this masterpiece:

Hardware:

Amiga 1200T (Infinitiv tower)

Blizzard 603e 200 MHz/68040 25 MHz

66 Mb Ram

3,2 Gb HD

24xCD Rom

14" Multisync Monitor

Software:

CygnusEd v4

1.3 Thanks

Thanks go to...

- Peter Fischer. Naturally. He uploads this and other "Guide to the.." series to Aminet. So without him there wouldn't be any updates available on Aminet to these programs.
- Marcus Strattmann was the first person to find some false info on this guide!

This guide is actually freeware, so you don't have to pay me anything if you don't want to. But of course paying is not prohibited!

1.6 future

Waiting for next European Championships which will be held in both Holland and Belgium in the year 2000... In future I'll be just fixing playerdatas etc.

I don't think there's a lot other things to do for this guide anyway.

Still causing headache,

- Some names with "ø" & "æ" letters might be incorrect. (Mainly Danish player names).

- A LOT of data still missing, it's truly not easy to find EuroChamp-related stuff
