Please Note Before Proceeding

This game requires Microsoft's DirectX 5.0 or higher to run. Windows 98 comes with DirectX already installed. If you do not have DirectX installed on your Windows 95 computer, you must install it after you finish installing this program.

Game Play

Game play is remarkably simple. Use the mouse to move around, and the left mouse button to fire.

Pass each level by destroying the giant insect that inhabits the planet. Each planet consists of four such levels, and then after an action-packed bonus stage, you fly off to the next planet, receiving vital statistical information before you land.

To pause the game during play, press ESC. This will bring up a menu of options:

Continue- Go back to the current game.

Exit Game- Exit the current game and go back to the Main Menu.

Sound- On/Off

Bonus Items

Sometimes when you destroy a mushroom, a radio will pop out and drift down the screen. Pick it up to be assigned a special mission. Accomplish the special mission before time runs out, and you will receive 500 points and a bonus item.

Bonus Items include:

Bonus Lives

Shields- Let you take one hit without dying

Power Boosts- Increase your rate of fire

Wingmen- Fly alongside, shooting when you do

Bonus Weapons include:

Autocannon

Nuclear Warhead

Neutron Beam

Shotgun

Laser-Guided Missiles

The last five are special weapons, which you fire by clicking on the right mouse button. They come with a limited amount of ammo. Whenever you die, you lose all the power-ups you had, so be careful.

Score Bar

Score- displays the current player's score

Lives- Each ship represents one life remaining

Weapons- Shows current special weapon/ammunition remaining
