Manifestation: After formatting DisplayAlert:

Comments       : After  infection  and  if  the  virus  had been active (after  the  6.th  reset) you will get the following 3 different red DisplayAlerts:

1)
                 It has come to my attention that the person using this computer is a LAMER. (*)

                 We  the people, who are responsible forthe "Revenge Of The  LAMER  EXTERMINATOR"  Virus,  believe  that  only intelligent  folk  are  fit  to use the AMIGA Personal Computer

                 Since  you were apparently not smart enough to prevent infection of your computer and software by this virus, (You  should  have used a condom), we must assume that you  are a LAMER (a.k.a LOSER) and therefore we had no alternative but to erase your floppy disk(s), in order to get your attention.

               We are eagerly looking forward to the First Amiga magazine that explains the inner workings of this brilliant (at least we think so) virus.

               However, we are not very confident, since the three versions of the original "LAMER EXTERMINATOR" Virus have never really been properly analysed in any Amiga magazine

               We have made this virus a little bit more aggressive so that more people will recognize it and hopefully will learn something so as to overcome the dreadful disease of LAMERism

               By the way, the A in LAMER is pronounced like the A in DAY. (LAMER people do not know proper English in our experience)

                              Signed:
               Foundation for the Exterminator of LAMERS. (* *)

               (*) You can recognize a LAMER or LOSER as someone who can only use the Ctrl-Amiga-Amiga keys on his Amiga, and might even know how to load X-Copy...

               () Due to the primitive and violent nature of some LAMERS, we have decided against revealing our real identities, so as to prevent unnecessary visits to the hospital on our part !
