

Sheet1

DRILL,RETERM,C,19	PHRASE1,C,78
50000 0 abalienate	To convey or transfer (as a title, property, or right) to another.
50000 0 accoutrement	Equipment, trappings.
50000 0 acuminate	Tapering to a slender point.
50000 0 adminicular	Providing support or corroboration.
50000 0 aeneous	Resembling brass in color or luster.
50000 0 agglomeration	Collection, heap.
50000 0 amaroidal	Having a bitter taste.
50000 0 ananym	A pseudonym consisting of a real name spelled backwards.
50000 0 andragogy	The art or science of teaching adults.
50000 0 angst	A feeling of anxiety, apprehension, or insecurity.
50000 0 antediluvian	Antiquated, ancient.
50000 0 antipyretic	An agent that allays fever.
50000 0 aphasia	Loss of speech due to injury.
50000 0 apiary	A place where bees are kept.
50000 0 apoplexy	Stroke, loss of consciousness followed by paralysis.
50000 0 apothegm	Pity, compact saying.
50000 0 appurtenance	Subordinate possession.
50000 0 argot	A private vocabulary used by a particular class or group.
50000 0 asperous	Rough to the touch; scabrous.
50000 0 assuage	To make less severe or easier to bear; soothe, ease. To end by satisfying.
50000 0 atomy	Very small creature; very thin or contemptible person; skeleton.
50000 0 audacious	Intrepidly daring; recklessly bold; insolent; marked by originality and verve.
50000 0 autarchic	Economically self-sufficient and independent.
50000 0 aver	State confidently.
50000 0 axiomatic	Relating to an established rule or principle; taken for granted.
50000 0 backwardation	Postponement by seller of delivery of stock; premium paid to buyer for such.
50000 0 balefire	Bonfire; beacon; funeral pyre.
50000 0 banalize	To make insipid or commonplace.
50000 0 belaud	To praise usually to excess.
50000 0 bemuse	To make confused; bewilder; to cause to become lost in thought.
50000 0 besot	To make dull or stupid; to muddle with drunkenness or infatuation.
50000 0 bioethics	Discipline dealing with the ethical implications of medical research.
50000 0 bogey	A disembodied spirit; ghost; a source of fear.
50000 0 braggadocio	Empty boasting.
50000 0 brindled	Tawny or grayish with streaks or spots.
50000 0 bumptious	Presumptuously, insensitively, and often noisily self-assertive.
50000 0 cachexy	Generally unhealthy physical or mental state.
50000 0 campanile	A usually freestanding bell tower.
50000 0 capriole	A playful leap.
50000 0 cartographic	Relating to the art or science or making maps.
50000 0 catenulate	Having a chainlike form.
50000 0 cavil	To raise trivial and frivolous objections: quibble.
50000 0 cenotaph	A monument erected in honor of a person or group whose remains are elsewhere.
50000 0 chaff	To make fun of in a good-natured way.
50000 0 choate	Perfectly or completely formed or formulated.
50000 0 circumvent	To manage to get around especially by ingenuity or stratagem.
50000 0 coadjutant	One who works with another in a subordinate position; assistant.
50000 0 coercive	Serving or intended to compel.
50000 0 coffle	A train of slaves or animals fastened together.
50000 0 comport	To behave in a manner in accordance with what is right, proper, or expected.
50000 0 concomitant	Accompanying in a subordinate or incidental way.
50000 0 conflagration	A large disastrous fire; conflict.

Sheet1

50000	0 conundrum	Riddle, difficult problem.
50000	0 cosmogony	The creation or origin of the world; a theory of the origin of the universe.
50000	0 cynosure	The object of general attention.
50000	0 deflection	A turning aside or off course; deviation.
50000	0 denigrate	Blacken.
50000	0 desiccate	To become dried up; to preserve by drying; to drain of emotional vitality.
50000	0 desipient	Indulging in the relaxed enjoyment of foolish trifles.
50000	0 diadem	Crown.
50000	0 diatribe	Bitter and abusive speech or writing; ironical or satirical criticism.
50000	0 dirge	A song of grief; solemn music.
50000	0 discography	A descriptive list of phonograph records by category, composer, performer.
50000	0 disgruntle	To make ill-humored or discontented.
50000	0 dissidence	Disagreement or contention within a group; dissent.
50000	0 divulgation	The act of making public; disclosure.
50000	0 duenna	Attendant of young female, chaperon.
50000	0 dyslexic	Suffering from a reading disability.
50000	0 ebullience	The ability to express feelings or ideas in a lively way.
50000	0 egregious	Conspicuously bad; flagrant.
50000	0 elench	Fallacious argument.
50000	0 emendation	Correction of errors, improvement.
50000	0 empyreal	Relating to heaven; celestial.
50000	0 enisle	To place apart; isolate.
50000	0 equivocate	To use words with more than one meaning; to avoid committing oneself.
50000	0 ersatz	An artificial and inferior substitute or imitation.
50000	0 eschew	To avoid habitually on moral or practical grounds; shun.
50000	0 eviscerate	Disembowel; to deprive of vital content or force.
50000	0 evocative	Tending or serving to evoke.
50000	0 execrate	Curse, express abhorrence for.
50000	0 exordium	Opening portion of speech or writing.
50000	0 expectorate	To discharge from the throat or lungs by coughing or spitting.
50000	0 expostulation	Remonstrance.
50000	0 extemporaneous	Made up on the spur of the moment; impromptu; makeshift.
50000	0 factotum	Person having many diverse responsibilities; general servant.
50000	0 fecundity	Fertility; fruitfulness.
50000	0 feuilleton	Feature and criticism page of newspaper; serial story.
50000	0 flews	The pendulous lateral parts of a dog's upper lip.
50000	0 floe	Mass of floating ice.
50000	0 foment	To promote the growth or development of; rouse, incite.
50000	0 frigorific	Causing cold; chilling.
50000	0 fruition	The state of bearing fruit; the fulfillment of one's efforts or wishes.
50000	0 fustian	A strong cotton and linen fabric; pretentious and banal writing or speech.
50000	0 gelid	Extremely cold; icy.
50000	0 gingerly	With extreme care.
50000	0 grandiloquent	Pompous, bombastic, using high-sounding language.
50000	0 graticule	The network of lines of latitude and longitude upon which a map is drawn.
50000	0 grimalkin	A cat; an old female cat.
50000	0 habituate	To make accustomed to something; to cause addiction through frequent use.
50000	0 haruspex	Soothsayer who divines by sacrifice's entrails.
50000	0 herpetologist	A person who studies snakes.
50000	0 hyperborean	Situated in extreme north, arctic, cold.
50000	0 illeism	Excessive use of the pronoun 'he' especially in reference to oneself.
50000	0 impavid	Without fear.
50000	0 impuissant	Lacking in strength or resources.

Sheet1

50000	0 inappetence	A lack of desire for food or drink.
50000	0 indigent	Impoverished; totally lacking in something.
50000	0 infernal	Relating to hell or the devil.
50000	0 insouciant	Indifferent, without concern or care.
50000	0 intenerate	To make tender, soften.
50000	0 internecine	Deadly; mutually destructive; involving conflict within a group.
50000	0 irrepressible	Impossible to repress, restrain, or control.
50000	0 jejune	Empty; sterile; dry.
50000	0 juggernaut	A massive inexorable force or object that crushes whatever is in its path.
50000	0 juxtaposition	The act or an instance of placing two or more things side by side.
50000	0 kelt	Salmon after spawning.
50000	0 lachrymose	Producing tears.
50000	0 lagniappe	Trifling present given to a customer.
50000	0 laudation	The act of praising; eulogy.
50000	0 leitmotif	Associated melody or phrase accompanying an idea or person; recurring the
50000	0 lepidopterist	A specialist in moths and butterflies.
50000	0 lilliputian	Extremely small.
50000	0 luculent	Lucid; shining.
50000	0 lycanthrope	One who through witchcraft or magic assumes the form of a wolf; werewolf.
50000	0 mackle	A blur or double impression on a printed sheet.
50000	0 malfeasant	A person guilty of wrongdoing especially while holding public office.
50000	0 manumission	Liberation from slavery.
50000	0 megillah	A long involved story or account.
50000	0 mellifluous	Filled with something that sweetens; having a smooth rich flow.
50000	0 mendicity	The condition of being a beggar; the practice of begging.
50000	0 mere	An expanse of standing water.
50000	0 miasmatic	Having a heavy vaporous atmosphere; foully contagious; noxious.
50000	0 minutia	Minute detail; triviality.
50000	0 misogynist	One who hates women.
50000	0 moiling	Requiring hard work; habitually hardworking; violently agitated.
50000	0 moratorium	A waiting period set by an authority; a suspension of activity.
50000	0 mufti	Ordinary dress that does not denote a calling or station.
50000	0 multiloquent	Given to talking especially at great length; talkative.
50000	0 munificence	Generosity on a particularly lavish scale.
50000	0 narrowcast	To aim a broadcast at a narrowly defined area or audience.
50000	0 nictitation	A quick closing and opening of an eyelid; wink.
50000	0 nihilism	The general rejection of customary beliefs in morality, religion, etc.
50000	0 noxious	Likely to cause harm or injury.
50000	0 nosegay	Fragrant bouquet.
50000	0 nuncupative	Not written, given orally.
50000	0 obfuscate	Darken; to make obscure; confuse.
50000	0 obtusity	A lack of delicate feelings or sensitive understanding.
50000	0 ogress	A woman who inspires fear or dread.
50000	0 omphaloskepsis	The act of mediation while staring at one's navel.
50000	0 onychophagia	The habitual biting of one's fingernails.
50000	0 opprobrium	Something that brings disgrace; disgrace from grossly offensive behavior.
50000	0 osculate	To touch with the lips as a sign of affection; kiss.
50000	0 ostracism	Exclusion by general consent from common privileges or social acceptance.
50000	0 oxymoron	Contradiction of terms.
50000	0 palliatory	Serving to excuse; extenuating.
50000	0 panophobia	A condition of vague nonspecific anxiety; generalized fear.
50000	0 paradigmatic	Serving as an outstandingly clear or typical example.
50000	0 paragnosia	Misunderstanding.

Sheet1

50000	0 parsimony	Careful management of one's money or resources; thrift; stinginess.
50000	0 pathogenesis	Origin or development of disease.
50000	0 peevish	Resentful; unwilling by temperament to accept control or advice.
50000	0 pejorative	Having negative connotations; tending to disparage or belittle; depreciatory.
50000	0 peregrinate	To walk or travel over, traverse.
50000	0 perspicacious	Clear-sighted; having discernment.
50000	0 phaneromania	An obsessive or persistent picking at some growth on the surface of the body
50000	0 philia	Affection for one's friends.
50000	0 philoprogenitive	Tending to produce offspring; relating to love of offspring.
50000	0 piliferous	Bearing or producing hairs.
50000	0 plauditory	Relating to or expressing praise.
50000	0 plebeian	Crude or coarse in manner or style; common.
50000	0 pococurantism	An attitude or affectation of casual indifference or unconcern; nonchalance.
50000	0 polemic	Aggressive refutation of someone's opinions; the art of disputation.
50000	0 polyphagia	Eating of excessive amount, or many different kinds of food.
50000	0 pontifical	Of or relating to a bishop or pope; pretentiously dignified or authoritative.
50000	0 pot-valiant	Bold or courageous while under the influence of liquor.
50000	0 prattle	Trifling or empty talk.
50000	0 precisian	Adherent to a strict religious or moral standard; or to a strict grammar.
50000	0 precursory	Giving warning or notice of the approach of another.
50000	0 prelapsarian	Belonging to the time or state before the biblical fall of man.
50000	0 presageful	Giving a warning or indication of the future; ominous.
50000	0 primogeniture	Seniority by birth.
50000	0 proffer	To present for acceptance, tender, offer.
50000	0 prolixity	Undue lengthiness in speaking or writing.
50000	0 proximo	Occurring in the next month after the present.
50000	0 pule	To make a low plaintive sound; whimper.
50000	0 pundonor	A point of honor.
50000	0 pursy	Short-winded especially because of corpulence.
50000	0 putanism	Lewdness in woman; prostitution.
50000	0 quale	A property such as color considered apart from the thing having the property.
50000	0 querulent	Given to continual complaining and faultfinding; fractious.
50000	0 quintessence	The essence of a thing in its purest form; the most typical example.
50000	0 quodlibetic	Concerned with theories or abstractions and not with practical matters.
50000	0 rankle	To cause anger, irritation, or deep bitterness.
50000	0 recondite	Very difficult or impossible for the average person to understand.
50000	0 resplendent	Shining brilliantly; having a glowing splendor.
50000	0 reviviscence	The act of giving new life; the state of being given new life.
50000	0 risible	Disposed to laugh; funny; associated with laughter.
50000	0 roorback	A defamatory falsehood published for political effect.
50000	0 rue	To feel penitence, remorse, or regret for.
50000	0 saccade	A rapid movement of the eye as it jumps from one focal point to the next.
50000	0 sacrosanct	Most sacred; inviolable.
50000	0 scathe	To do harm to; to burn the surface of; to assail with withering denunciation.
50000	0 scrannel	Weak; thin; harsh-sounding.
50000	0 scuttlebutt	Rumors, gossip, or reports of a personal or sensational nature.
50000	0 senescence	The state of being old; the process of becoming old.
50000	0 shambling	Characterized by slow awkward movement.
50000	0 sidereal	According to stars; measured by stellar motion.
50000	0 skep	A coarse round farm basket; a dome-shaped beehive of straw.
50000	0 somnifacient	Tending to induce sleep.
50000	0 soporose	Marked by or subject to profound sleep or sleepiness.
50000	0 speciesism	Prejudice based on species; discrimination against animals.

Sheet1

50000	0 spile	A small plug used to stop the vent of a cask; bung.
50000	0 squidgy	Being short, stocky, and plump.
50000	0 stultiloquence	Senseless or silly talk.
50000	0 stygian	Gloomy, hellish, deathly.
50000	0 succedaneum	Something that replaces or serves in place of another; substitute.
50000	0 suspiration	A long deep breath, sigh.
50000	0 sybarite	Lover of luxury.
50000	0 synergetic	Working together; cooperating.
50000	0 taphephobia	Fear of being buried alive.
50000	0 tempersome	Quick to anger; hotheaded.
50000	0 tessellated	Inlaid, mosaic.
50000	0 thrall	One held in bondage; one under the control of another; state of absorption.
50000	0 tilak	An ornamental spot worn on the forehead chiefly by Hindus as a sectarian mark.
50000	0 tinnitus	A sensation of noise that is heard only by one suffering an impairment.
50000	0 tribulation	Suffering caused by mistreatment or misfortune; a trying experience.
50000	0 troglodytic	Relating to a cave dwelling; primitive, brutal, or outmoded in appearance.
50000	0 ullage	Lack; deficiency.
50000	0 undulance	A form or movement suggestive of the waves of the sea.
50000	0 uxorial	Relating to, or characteristic of a wife.
50000	0 vanward	Being in the forefront of an action or movement; advanced.
50000	0 verdant	Green; covered with green vegetation.
50000	0 vespertine	Relating to or occurring in the evening; active in the evening.
50000	0 vexillology	The study of flags.
50000	0 virulent	Marked by a rapid, severe, and malignant course; extremely poisonous.
50000	0 vitriolic	Having a virulence of feeling or of speech; having caustic qualities.
50000	0 voluptuary	One whose chief interest is luxury and the gratification of sensual appetites.
50000	0 wamble	To feel nausea; to move unsteadily or with a weaving or rolling motion.
50000	0 wherry	Long rowboat for ferrying passengers about rivers; a racing scull for one.
50000	0 xerostomia	Abnormal dryness of the mouth.

Sheet1

DEVICE,C,78

- (v) The old farmer refused to abalienate the farm to his son without a fight.
- (n) If you're going as a knight, you'll need all the proper accoutrements.
- (adj) He used his acuminate shoes to kick his opponent in the rear.
- (adj) There was little adminicular evidence to indicate he was guilty.
- (adj) Even though aeneous beetles are quite colorful, they're still pests.
- (n) His desk was an agglomeration of notes and memos from months ago.
- (adj) Mother's philosophy was that only amaroidal medicine was any good.
- (n) The cartoonist signed his caricatures of the mayor with an anonym.
- (n) Andragogy is made easier by the fact that adults are often very motivated.
- (n) Being in the hospital without her parents filled the girl with angst.
- (adj) The antediluvian customs had not changed for thousands of years.
- (n) Many old-fashioned remedies are very effective antipyretics.
- (n) After the car accident, Ed had periods of aphasia when he couldn't speak.
- (n) Although he spent many hours daily in the apiary, he was seldom stung.
- (n) He was crippled by an attack of apoplexy.
- (n) Proverbs are apothegms that have become familiar sayings.
- (n) The estate consists of a house and other appurtenances.
- (n) When civil service employees talk, no one else can understand their argot.
- (adj) Her asperous knees were a good indication that she was a tomboy.
- (v) The party's hors d'oeuvres did little to assuage my hunger, so I went out.
- (n) You're just a little atomy and I'm going to squish you.
- (adj) Only an audacious climber would dare challenge that mountain.
- (adj) If a nation imports most of its goods it cannot be autarchic.
- (v) I wish to aver that I am certain of success.
- (adj) In my house it's axiomatic that taking out the garbage is my job.
- (n)The new toys are selling so fast the company is resorting to backwardation.
- (n) The ceremonial balefire could be seen for miles in the night.
- (v) The author refused to banalize his book by turning it into a TV series.
- (v) Some critics belaud a film simply because it was made on a shoestring.
- (v) Seeing the Northern Lights alone at night always bemused him.
- (v) The loud music would besot even the smartest student.
- (n)As science makes abortion easier and easier, bioethics will undergo change.
- (n) At the end of each semester, the bogey of final exams rears its ugly head.
- (n) His braggadocio didn't impress anyone.
- (adj) He was disappointed in the litter because the puppies were brindled.
- (adj) To be a successful reporter you must be bumptious by nature.
- (n) The doctor couldn't isolate her malady further than that she had cachexy.
- (n) At many colleges the campanile is the tallest building on campus.
- (n) After each touchdown, the cheerleaders cut a capriole for the crowd.
- (adj) Cartographic skills flourished during the age when the earth was "flat".
- (adj) She's very good at fixing her long hair in catenulate patterns.
- (v) Let's look at the big picture instead of being so quick to cavil.
- (n) The town erected a cenotaph listing the native sons lost in Vietnam.
- (v)The boy was so sensitive that we couldn't chaff him without making him cry.
- (adj) Ronald Reagan's conservative philosophy became choate early in his life.
- (v) Our little girl tries to circumvent her chores every day.
- (n) It was a great honor to be Dr. Smith's coadjutant on his famous project.
- (adj) To achieve a drug-free school we will have to take coercive actions.
- (n) The cuffle of elephants was the favorite attraction of the circus parade.
- (v) Long ago, tennis players comported themselves with grace and civility.
- (adj) The four band members and their concomitant musicians performed great.
- (n) The fugitive managed to escape during the conflagration and ensuing smoke.

Sheet1

- (n) This is the last childish conundrum I will answer.
- (n) Fundamentalists consider the biblical story of creation as valid cosmogony.
- (n) As soon as the movie star entered, she became the cynosure of all eyes.
- (n) We soon lost our bearing due to the deflection caused by the current.
- (v) The star was denigrated by rumors that he suffered from AIDS.
- (v) The newspaper article desiccated the story into a boring account.
- (adj) After a long day working, I come home to engage in desipient activities.
- (n) The king's diadem was on display at the museum.
- (n) The critic's diatribe on the author's latest work had no effect on sales.
- (n) The dirge the band was playing spoiled the festive party.
- (n) With 10,000 albums in his house, Ron is in great need of a discography.
- (v) The workers are disgruntled with their wages.
- (n) The occasional dissidence grew to such proportion that our group split up.
- (n) Victims of AIDS are terrified of the divulgation of their disease.
- Their romance could not flourish because of the presence of her duenna.
- (adj) Many dyslexics overcome their disability to become great achievers.
- (n) Shy as a child, she became full of ebullience as an adult.
- (adj) An egregious mistake was made when I was charged with the crime.
- (n) I want to know the real reason and not another elench.
- (n) Please initial all the emendations you have made in this contract.
- (adj) The Paris cathedral was filled with empyreal choir music.
- (v) Being single would enisle her from the rest of the PTA school parents.
- (v) It's hard to judge his opinion when he equivocates all the time.
- (adj) Ersatz flour made from potatoes just doesn't taste the same.
- (v) Once she found religion, she began to eschew all her former bad habits.
- (v) The death of his wife eviscerated his drive to succeed.
- (adj) Settings so evocative that they bring tears to the eyes.
- (v) The world execrates the memory of Hitler.
- (n) If the rest of his speech is as boring as his exordium, I'm leaving.
- (v) He had to expectorate to rid himself of the horribly tasting medicine.
- (n) Despite the teacher's scoldings and expostulations, the class was unruly.
- (adj) A great deal of criminal and delinquent behavior is extemporaneous.
- (n) Working as a factotum did not give him much time to enjoy the party.
- (n) The fecundity of his talent is illustrated by his books and paintings.
- (n) In France TV viewers can't wait until the next week's feuilleton.
- (n) The quills in Fido's flews should teach him to stay away from porcupines.
- (n) The ship made slow progress as it battered its way through the ice floes.
- (v) Raising taxes will only further foment the people's dissatisfaction.
- (adj) After swimming all afternoon the wind felt frigorific.
- (n) After much hard work and dedication he brought his plans to fruition.
- (n) This fustian play is full of obscenity-laden, pseudo-hip dialogue.
- (adj) Dr Smith's gelid disposition gets in the way of winning over patients.
- (adv) Gingerly, the cat stepped up to the cage, then jumped up on top of it.
- (adj) The politician could never speak simply, he was always grandiloquent.
- (n) This map won't help us find where we are as it doesn't have a graticule.
- (n) I'm going to have to replace our grimalkin with one that can catch mice.
- (v) I cannot habituate myself to driving 100 miles to work.
- (n) The Indian haruspex could predict the future by looking a goat entrails.
- (n) His love of snakes led him to become a herpetologist.
- (adj) The hyperborean blasts brought snow and ice to the countryside.
- (n) Boys often resort to illeism when placing blame for their misbehavior.
- (adj) Impavid, he decided to face the attackers head on.
- (adj) He ran for office to be the voice of the impuissant members of society.

Sheet1

- (n) The fat boy obviously never suffers from inappetence.
- (adj) She devoted her life to helping the indigent street people.
- (adj) Reverend Jones made it clear that infernal damnation was reward for sin.
- (adj) Insouciant college students are hit by reality when they try to get jobs.
- (v) The years of separation from his son had finally intenerated his attitude.
- (adj) The rock group's internecine behavior eventually split them apart.
- (adj) The irrepressible little old lady finally got her way with the manager.
- (adj) The performance was so jejune, I thought I was watching nuns singing.
- (n) The armored division rolled through the enemy lines like a juggernaut.
- (n) The juxtaposition of these two huge skyscrapers creates a striking effect.
- (n) The kelt were easy prey for the bears on the river bank.
- (adj) His voice has a lachrymose quality that's appropriate at funerals.
- (n) The butcher threw in some bones for the dog as a lagniappe.
- (n) John Lennon's death brought him extravagant laudation from the whole world.
- (n) The musical leitmotif always preceded the appearance of the villain.
- (n) Our teacher looked more like a boxer than a net-wielding lepidopterist.
- (adj) The model was built on a lilliputian scale.
- (adj) The bright lights of my car made the driveway look luculent at night.
- (n) If I believed in lycanthropes I wouldn't go out into the woods at night.
- (n) My copy of the magazine article was marred by a mackle.
- (n) Elections allow the people to trade one set of malfeasants for another.
- (n) Once a year, Jews celebrate the manumission of their ancestors from Egypt.
- (n) Don't mention her ex or you'll have to listen to the megillah of her life.
- (adj) Her mellifluous voice was perfect for singing love songs.
- (n) Mendicity in the city is so bad, you meet beggars on every street corner.
- (n) Many of Scotland's golf courses have natural meres and ponds.
- (adj) The polluted lake gives off a miasmic stench.
- (n) He wouldn't rest until he had planned every minutia of the trip.
- (n) Feminists claim pornography appeals to misogynists and causes violence.
- (adj) The moiling construction workers stop working only during the lunch hour.
- (n) When the drowning occurred, a moratorium was declared on further swimming.
- (n) Father John often walks the street in mufti, the better to blend in.
- (adj) I left when the notoriously multiloquent speaker advanced to the podium.
- (n) His father's munificence prevented him from learning to be independent.
- (v) Shareware narrowcasts programs to IBM users.
- (n) A furtive nictitation from my partner was the signal for us to leave.
- (n) Some college graduate's nihilism gets in their way of finding employment.
- (adj) Alcohol is especially nocuous when mixed with driving.
- (n) The nosegay of the flowers could not hide the odor of the garbage.
- (adj) The chaplain was called to witness the dying man's nuncupative last will.
- (n) His inept explanation only served to obfuscate the difficult topic.
- (n) Some laws seem to be written with deliberate obtusity.
- (n) She plays the soap opera's ogress very convincingly.
- (n) Quit relying on omphaloskepsis and survey what the public really wants.
- (n) Onychophagia, common among young people, is caused by nervousness.
- (n) Kurt Waldheim suffered worldwide opprobrium because of his Nazi past.
- (v) I don't much like to osculate people that I don't even know.
- (n) In high school, the slightest deviation from the norm results in ostracism.
- (n) "Military intelligence" is the original oxymoron.
- (adj) Alcoholism is not a palliatory factor in drunk driving accidents.
- (n) The employee's panophobia soon crystallized into the form of a pink slip.
- (adj) His drunken antics at parties was paradigmatic of social drinkers.
- (n) Most fights have beginnings in mild cases of paragnosia.

Sheet1

- (n) He amassed his fortune through obsessive parsimony.
- (n) The pathogenesis of AIDS is difficult to trace.
- (adj) The more experienced he became, the more peevish he was toward his boss.
- (adj) Pejorative comments will only serve to make her feel more inferior.
- (v) We set off to peregrinate the streets of the Left Bank to see Paris.
- (adj) It's going to take a perspicacious judge to see the truth in this case.
- (n) Nail-biting is one of the worst forms of phaneromania.
- (n) His philia was so large that he would never turn down a friend in trouble.
- (adj) Mary's philoprogenitive instincts drove her to have a huge family.
- (adj) Her upper lip became more piliferous when she started shaving it.
- (adj) Only plauditory remarks can motivate her to practice her piano.
- (adj) This restaurant does not serve anyone in plebeian dress.
- (n) In the 60s, she adopted the pococurantism common to hippies of those days.
- (n) Most lawyers excel in the art of polemics.
- (n) He's so fat that he obviously suffers from polyphagia.
- (adj) We ignored the wine steward's pontifical advice and bought a cheap wine.
- (adj) Liquor's prohibited on the white-water to prevent injury to pot-valiants.
- (n) The prattle of the singles bar scene was not his cup of tea.
- (n) To a precisian, a split infinitive is a felony.
- (adj) Small earthquakes may be precursory signs of The Big One.
- (adj) Many writers come to Hawaii in hopes of finding a prelapsarian Eden.
- (adj) My presageful financial advisor made a fortune predicting Wall Street.
- (n) By virtue of primogeniture, the first-born child has more privileges.
- (v) When he proffered his resignation, he had no idea it would be accepted.
- (n) These essays are full of prolixity, atrocious grammar, and bad spelling.
- (adj) Most mortgage payments are proximo after the date of closing.
- (v) He believes that proponents of gun control are pinkos who pule too much.
- (n) Removing one's shoes in a Japanese house is a pundonor.
- (adj) Huffing and puffing, the pury lady finally made her way to the top.
- (n) Not every woman walking the streets in sexy outfits is guilty of putanism.
- (n) Good parents distinguish between the quale of bad behavior and the child.
- (adj) Every teenager goes through a querulent stage, whining about everything.
- (adj) My wife is the quintessence of the perfect wife and mother.
- (adj) Economists are often accused of dreaming up quodlibetic theories.
- (v) Taking credit for other's work will only rankle your colleagues.
- (adj) Relatively is a recondite theory that only Einstein understood.
- (adj) The knight's armor was resplendent with silver and gold decorations.
- (n) The reviviscence of liberalism seems to occur in cycles.
- (adj) Her risible personality makes her a perfect party hostess.
- (n) The last campaign was so full of roorbacks that voters were turned off.
- (v) The killer never rued his victims until he was caught.
- (n) The saccade caused by reading while riding soon gave him a headache.
- (adj) His privacy is sacrosanct and I suggest that you act accordingly.
- (v) The insults didn't even scathe him.
- (adj) We decided to take the baby to the doctor because of his scrannel cough.
- (n) The scuttlebutt in the office is she's having an affair with the boss.
- (n) The threat of Alzheimer's has made many fearful of their senescence.
- (adj) James Stewart made a career out of shambling performances.
- (adj) Sidereal navigation requires extensive knowledge of astronomy.
- (n) The locals supplement their income by selling skeps to the tourists.
- (adj) Her worry prevents her from sleeping without somnifacient drugs.
- (adj) The gifted teacher was able to reach even soporose students.
- (n) Animal activists accuse researchers of speciesism.

Sheet1

- (n) Once in Germany we couldn't wait to remove our first beer barrel spile.
- (adj) Though modeled by willowy models, most clothes are bought by squalid gals.
- (n) He was too much of an intellectual to enjoy the stultiloquence.
- (adj) They descended into the stygian, half-lit subbasement.
- (n) On camping trips, succedaneums must be improvised for things we forgot.
- (n) Sue's tale of her tribulations was punctuated by frequent suspirations.
- (n) Rich people are not always sybarites, some of them prefer simple things.
- (adj) The leg's hamstrings and quadriceps are synergetic muscles.
- (v) After surviving the San Francisco quake, he developed taphephobia.
- (adj) Teaching pre-school is not for tempersome people.
- (adj) I recall seeing a table with a tessellated top of bits of stone & glass.
- (n) The crowd sat in silent thrall as the Pink Floyd concert began.
- (n) The Indian's tilak indicated that he was a follower of the god Siva.
- (n) Sharon's tinnitus was probably caused by the stress of a new job.
- (n) I had to endure many trials and tribulations to get this diploma.
- (adj) She dumped her troglodytic boyfriend when he ordered her to fetch a beer.
- (n) As the ullage in his glass became larger he got madder at the bartender.
- (n) He was blowing across the tall grass, creating a timeless undulance.
- (adj) She excels at many uxorial activities such as nagging.
- (adj) In the computer industry, only vanward companies can compete.
- (adj) My horse is happy so long as he has a nice verdant pasture to graze in.
- (adj) He gave up his vespertine prowling as soon as she moved in.
- (n) Working at the U.N. enhanced his skills in vexillology.
- (adj) The rattlesnake's venom was so virulent, the victim was dead in an hour.
- (adj) Despite the people around them, she rebuked him with a vitriolic voice.
- (n) Her husband's meager salary could not support her life as a voluptuary.
- (v) He wambled his way to the bar only to be denied any further drinks.
- (n) Every morning he's on the lake practicing in his wherry for the Olympics.
- (n) Due to his xerostomia, he keeps a glass of water handy during speeches.