

THE COBB GROUP

In 1984 The Cobb Group published one journal for a few thousand subscribers. Today the company is the world's leading publisher of software-specific journals. The Cobb Group's 40+ how-to journals provide timesaving tips and techniques for a wide variety of software applications, operating systems and languages, including Microsoft Windows, Lotus 1-2-3, Borlands Paradox, Novell NetWare, WordPerfect, AutoCAD, and more.

The Cobb Group strives to produce publications valued for their simplicity, accuracy and timeliness. Their editors turn often-confusing software jargon and manual information into simple, step-by-step instructions with clear illustrations.

Discover for yourself what hundreds of thousands of subscribers already know -- no one explains software better than The Cobb Group. For a list of publications, call:
