Whether on parties, with friends, or home alone - whether at lunchbreak, at work or in your living room: QuizTime is a source for hours of fun and never starts to bore you. More than 1700 questions in 20 categories are to be answered in a hosted game show setting. Well, if that ain't enough for your insatiable heart, then you can download new questions with the regular online update or create your own ones with the editor. Up to four players can join in the fun. The best of the best has the chance to enter his name in the high score list. And once you're in there, why not immortalize yourself and submit your score to the international Top 50 of the week on the internet. Well, and if your boss insists that you better start working or your mom calls you to dinner, then you can just save your current game and get back to it later.

Start a new game

1. Click on , in order to start QuizTime.
2.   Click on the icon New Game in the menu.
3.   Choose how many players (up to four) are to participate in the game with the Number of players option.
4.   Choose one of the many pictures available for all the players in the game by clicking on the arrows, or use one of your own pics alternatively, then click on Own picture and insert a bitmap image from your own files.
5. Enter the names of the players in the boxes under their pictures.
6. Pick your poison and choose the Categories which you want to have included in the game. The minimum is set at   twenty questions per player.
7. Confirm your choices by clicking on OK.

Some suggestions:

- Using own pictures instead of the custom graphics provides additional fun. How about scanning in a photography of you? Just use your photo/paint - shop program and save the pic as a bitmap (bmp). Then use the Own picture function, which will give you the possibility to insert it in the game.

- If you use your own pics during the game, they will be replaced with custom images by the program if they're not available at the time of opening a saved game. If you want to continue one of your saved games on another computer, we advise you to use custom pictures for you convenience.

Save or open games

QuizTime can save your current game, so that you can continue playing at a later time or even on another computer.

To save a game or to open a saved game you ...:

1. Click on the icon for Save Game or Open Game in the menu, depending on which of the two you want to do.
2. Choose the directory under which the game should be saved or the directory from which a saved game shal be retrieved.
3. Enter a name for the file or pick the file you want to open, respectively.
4. Click on Save Game or Open Game.

Hall of Fame

Those players who finish the game with the most money are entered into the Hall of Fame, where the highest scores are recorded. This list, which rates the best 10 players is only the beginning, though. If you want to, you may submit your scores to the international Top50 of the week on the internet and thus compete with other players from all over the world.

Update international Top50

The international Top50 of the week is the high score list of the best QuizTime players from all over the world, showing their names e-mail addresses and scores. In order to submit your scores to the international Top50 of the week and gain access to that list, you have to be in possession of a connection to the internet.

To view the Top50 of the week you...:

1. Click on , in order to start QuizTime.
2. Click on the icon Hall of Fame in the menu and then on the icon Top50 Online.
3. If you access the list for the first time, answer the question you will be asked then with Yes. If you have accessed the list before, click on the button Update Top50.
4. Now click on Proceed. QuizTime will now try to use an existing connection to the internet or to initiate one itself. If this attempt succeeds, the current data is retrieved from the internet.
5. Click on the Close button.

A few suggestions:

- The Top50 is updated immediately once a player submitted his scores. Therefore we advise you to download the list in regular intervals, in order to know the latest news. After 7 days without an update QuizTime will remind you to access the Top50 again, if you have forgotten to do so.

- To view the Top50 also on computers with no connection to the internet, you simply need to copy the file TOPLIST.DAT from the installation directory of QuizTime.

Submit own scores to the Top50

The winners of every game have the opportunity to submit their scores with their names and e-mail addresses to the Top50 of the week on the internet.

Limitations of the demo

The version of QuizTime you have installed on your computer is a demo, which has some limitations compared to the complete version of the game:

- only 60 questions instead of more than 1,850
- limited online updates
- no support for troubleshooting, no Q&A service
-     no possibility to update the program

You may test the demo version gratutiously for thirty days, after which you must register the program or delete it from your computer.
